

ROSES! ROSES! ROSES! BLOOM IN SLOGANS

Bright, Snappy Epigrams Are Offered as Winners of The Journal's $15 Prize Offering—Contest Will Be Decided Saturday Night by Committee.

Samuel Blythe will have to revise his list of things for which Portland is notable.

Crawfish and roses are all right, but they don't hold a candle to slogans. They have been pouring into The Journal office in an ever-increasing stream, until now there are almost as many slogans as roses.

The more The Journal readers think about the matter, the more slogans they send in. Everyone of them is a boost for Portland and the rose festival. It's too bad that every one of them can't get The Journal's $15—they are all bright, and, better still, all of them show a growing faith and a larger interest in Portland.

Saturday night the committee will look them all over and pick out the best one. Sunday morning the winner's name and the slogan will appear in The Journal, and he will be paid his $15 in gold at The Journal office.

So many slogans are coming in that it would take a whole page of The Journal to give space to them all, but here are some of the ideas.

12—"Portland, rose of the west." "Portland's fine, Portland's great, Watch Portland grow in 1908." "Come to the Rose Show, You can see Portland grow."

13—"Watch Portland bloom; That is the tune." "Everyone goes To see the rose."

14—"Kiddoo your roses To see the rose of Portland." "Come and get wise, Make goo-goo eyes At Portland roses." "Watch Portland bloom."

15—"The same of roses is Portland." "The I. X. L. Portland Rose Carnival."

16—"See Portland fine, trade with Portland great, The Columbia canyon will reduce the rate, Coming or going you pay on freight."

17—"Portland glorious, watch her motion, That Columbia canyon is the key to the ocean." "Portland fine, Portland great; Watch the Columbia canyon carry the freight."

18—"Rose-land, rose-land, greater Portland."

19—"Portland's all right, Portland sees the light." "Portland is on the right trail."

20—"Our roses par excellence." "Roses fragrant, roses rare; Roses, roses everywhere."

21—"Miss June's rose carnival." "Portland hoes her own rose."

22—"Portland, Rose-land, Westward hike! Anyone, everyone, Tom, Dick or Ike."

23—"Portland roses grow." "The Rose City. That's all."

24—"Where? Rose Fiesta. When? 1908. Where? Portland." "The land of lots of pretty girls, carloads of beautiful roses and some good-looking men. Come and see 'em at the Rose Fiesta, Portland, 1908."

25—"Are you coming? Where to? The Rose Fiesta." "There is no last rose in Portland—We have roses all the time."

26—"The Rose Fiesta this year will be so grand and gorgeous that even the blind can see rays of its splendor."

27—"Portland, a rose from the forest, Portland the great. Pride of the state, Rose Fiesta, 1908."

28—"Portland it is, don't forget, You can't hoodwink Portland, She roses sublime."

29—"With roses galore, Portland's to the fore."

30—"Roses bloom in Portland bloom in." "Portland bloom in." "Portland bloom in."

31—"City of roses, pride of the state, Portland's the place that's right up to date."

32—"Pick another rose." "A rose riot." "We'll raise a rose riot in the year of nineteen-eight."

33—"Put your coin and faith in Portland where the roses bloom and the dollars grow."

34—"Hail to the queen—the Portland rose."

35—"Portland is the 24-karat mark on the Golden West."

36—"Portland—the promised land." "If you're not sure of going to heaven."

EASILY PROVEN

There is not the slightest Necessity for Leaving Portland to Look for Proof.

The experience given below by this well-known citizen of Portland is easily proven. The proof he offers for his convictions can safely be left with the reader. It is a difficult matter to describe an aching back or any of the ills caused by disordered kidneys. How to cure the trouble is of much more importance, and the most exacting resident of Portland cannot ask for any better authority on this point than that given by D. D. Coffey, general delivery clerk at the Portland postoffice, and living at 433 East Morrison street, Portland, Oregon, who says: "When I used Doan's Kidney Pills three years ago it was for a disorder that seemed to indicate poisoning of the blood and I believed that it would be a good plan to treat the kidneys, for my physicians had been unable to give me any permanent relief. I found that the use of Doan's Kidney Pills proved my theory, for within a month I felt relief and continued their use until the trouble disappeared. Since then I have been entirely free from it."

see Portland before you die."

34—"Rose City and rose fair increases its splendor Each coming year."

35—"Portland, Portland, Portland fair, Roses, roses, everywhere."

36—"Portland—the progressive, rose-tinted pearl of the Pacific coast."

37—"We give Three cheers when it rains And three when it shows But Three and a tiger For our feisty rose."

38—"Portland, roses and mountains, mountains of roses."

39—"What have we Better than gold and pearls? We have the finest roses And have the sweetest girls."

40—"Portland, rose-land, boast."

41—"Come gather roses."

42—"The roses bloom the around—For which the like is hard to find."

43—"A city full of roses in 1908—Portland, the queen of our state."

44—"Roses and perfection, everywhere."

45—"Good health and prosperity await you in Portland, the rose city."

46—"Come smell a rose, in the city that grows—Portland, 1908."

47—"Prize rose, listen!"

48—"Of all the pretty things for shows, Nothing beats our Portland rose."

49—"Follow Portland, you'll wear roses, Portland, the passport to western success."

50—"Postpone your vacation, All America's coming to the Rose Fiesta, Portland, Oregon, June—1908."

51—"Build in Portland."

52—"Portland blooms, Portland is blooming, Portland is blooming."

53—"A million roses, A million welcomes." "Roses, roses, No thorns. Portland, June 1 to 8, '08."

54—"Portland's growin', keep her goin'."

55—"Portland's roses—they bloom for all."

56—"With roses sweet, And hills so green, No other place Can be named 'Queen'."

57—"See the roses? Haven't yet, but will, you bet Next June, 1908—Portland."

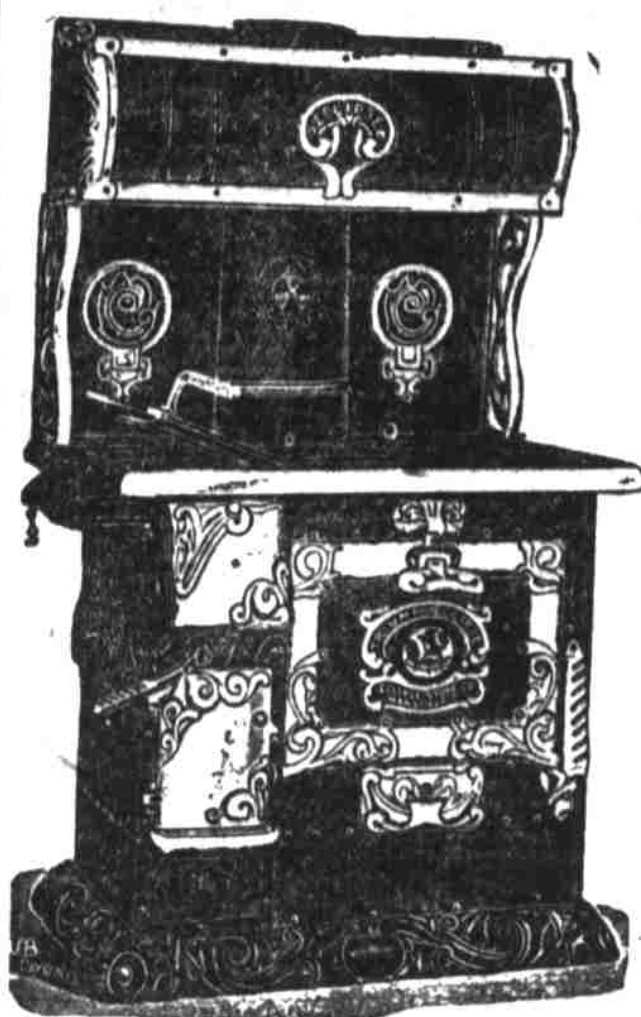

58—"Portland, the city of opportunity."

Hadley Sails for Europe.

New York, Oct. 8.—President Hadley of Yale university sailed for Europe today and will remain abroad until early in March. He goes direct to Berlin, where he is to deliver a series of lectures on "The Industrial Organization in the United States." His lectures are a part of a system of interchange of instructors between American and German universities.

"Eclipse" (His Range)

When some great pianist appears in concert, we are told that he uses such and such a piano—and that he wouldn't play on any other.

The same of the cook—if he's at all famous—you will hear his name connected with the "Eclipse."

In most cities (aside from Portland) there's much argument among the several newspapers as to which has the largest circulation. The Range circulation of Portland is in no dispute. The "Eclipse" having a guaranteed list of 15,000 homes. (Other ranges keep their circulation in the dark—it's good policy).

THE GREAT "ECLIPSE" PRIZE CONTEST

The particulars of this contest have appeared in several issues of late, and Three Valuable Prizes have aroused unusual interest.

Three valuable prizes are to be given for the best, second and third best reasons why "Eclipse" Ranges are superior. There are 15,000 "Eclipse" Ranges in Portland. Take a few minutes time and write us a little letter on the "Eclipse."

The Prizes

First—A Gevurtz "Special" Sewing Machine.
Second—A Beautiful Writing Desk of birdseye maple (value $20).
Third—A pair of choice Hand Paintings (value $15).
Prizes to be awarded November 1.

GENTRY COMING TO PORTLAND TOMORROW

Famous Dog and Pony Show Returns to the Rose City.

The juveniles of Portland, together with the thousands of elders who only go "to take the children," are thoroughly prepared for the coming of "the dog and pony show," formally announced as Gentry Brothers' Famous Shows, United, which are to exhibit in Portland tomorrow, Thursday and Friday. Ever since the first announcement of the show's coming, the parent who happens to hold the purse strings in each family in and about Portland has been looking to such a loosening as would get the small fry under the Gentry caresses at least once while the shows are here.

A Big Little Feature. Added to the superior attractive power of perfectly trained dogs, ponies and monkeys, has been the widely-spread knowledge that the only and original Mrs. General Tom Thumb happily known to three generations of amusement lovers as the cleverest and most entertaining little woman alive, is also with the Gentry shows. It has been announced that the famous little woman is accompanied by her present husband, Count Primo Magri and his brother, Baron Magri, making a group of "diminished thirds" which promises to excite the admiration as well as the curiosity of all ages of circus devotees.

Since no trained animal exhibition is without an elephant, providing such exhibition is properly constituted, the Gentrys have added five performing pachyderms to their collection since last the shows were seen here. And then there will be "Oklahoma," an American born and bred baby camel, a half-dozen baby ponies, some of them barely able to walk, and groups of trained pigs, sheep and geese. Several acrobatic features have also been added to the Gentry shows playing to big audiences which continually voice their approval, a verdict which is rendered in full measure by the press.

Fine Parade Tomorrow. Like all complete and well-regulated tented shows, the Gentry Brothers make much of their mile-long parade in which the miniature horses, miniature cages, miniature chariots and the dogs of all sizes and degrees will traverse the principal streets in what has frequently been pronounced the prettiest circus parade ever produced.

The shows will arrive on their special train from Astoria early tomorrow morning and the parade will leave the show grounds at 10 o'clock. Owing to the waning of the circus season the Gentry shows will undoubtedly be the last seen in this vicinity this summer.

Young Catholics Meet. (United Press Leased Wire.) Elizabeth N. J., Oct. 8.—A number of important matters are to come before the thirty-third annual convention of the Catholic Young Men's National union, which began a two days' session in this city today. The proposed establishment of libraries and technical schools in the principal cities of the country and the organization of a Catholic branch of the Amateur Athletic union are among the matters that will receive attention.
