

PORTLAND DEFENDANTS IN A CONSOLIDATED SUIT

H. L. Pittock and Others to Enter Appearance Monday in New York in United States Circuit Court for Connection in the Alleged Fraudulent Transactions.

Under a mandate from the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York, a long list of Portland defendants entered appearance Monday in the now famous suit of H. Melville Walker against E. H. Harriman, H. L. Pittock, John McCracken and others, charging them with conspiracy and asking for monetary damages in the sum of $500,000; also for appointment of a receiver for the property of the Portland, Nehalem & Tillamook railway, now a part of the Pacific Railroad & Navigation company's line.

Under a mandate from the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York, a long list of Portland defendants entered appearance Monday in the now famous suit of H. Melville Walker against E. H. Harriman, H. L. Pittock, John McCracken and others, charging them with conspiracy and asking for monetary damages in the sum of $500,000; also for appointment of a receiver for the property of the Portland, Nehalem & Tillamook railway, now a part of the Pacific Railroad & Navigation company's line.

Walker asks the court to compel all these parties, and in particular E. H. Harriman, to come into court and answer on oath a list of interrogatories bearing upon the methods employed to wreck the Portland, Nehalem & Tillamook railway project, and the amount of money used and its disposition. Should the court require such answers a complete exposition of Harriman's methods would be secured, it is said, showing how he has for years hindered and obstructed construction of independent lines in the Pacific northwest.

Walker is a Scotch attorney, who has for years been the New York agent of the London Share & Debenture company. A strong financial concern dealing in bonds of railroads and other industrial enterprises. He two years ago entered into a contract with the Portland office of the Portland, Nehalem & Tillamook Railroad company to float its bond issue of $2,500,000, and for his services was to have a commission of 10 per cent on all bonds sold, and 24 per cent of the common stock of the company and a cash payment of $38,000 to cover the expenses of flotation. He alleges that he made journeys to Portland and to London, keeping up a constant telegraphic and cable communication with the Portland office, and brought the transaction in London to a successful issue.

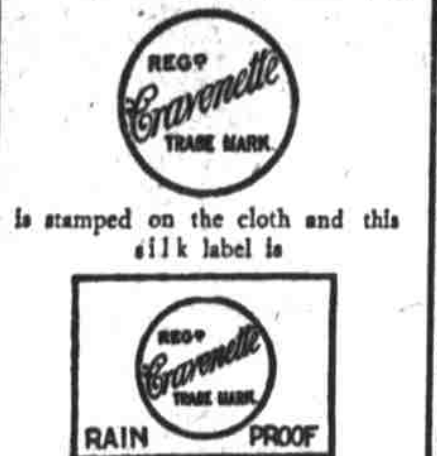

Meantime, the company in Portland had closed a contract with the Atlas Contracting & Supply company, composed of Edward Records and Gustave Peterson of San Francisco for construction of the first 10 miles, and work had been commenced between Hillsboro and Buxton. When Walker was ready to have the bonds signed and delivered by the Portland company he made demand by cable for their delivery. William Reid, secretary of the company, signed the bonds as per arrangement, and submitted them for the signature of the president John McCracken, but the latter refused to sign.

The bonds could not be delivered without McCracken's signature, the Atlas Contracting & Supply company was by the same action deprived of means for proceeding with the work, and the enterprise set to the ground. Events in Portland immediately preceding this calamity form the basis of Walker's charge that the president and executive board of the Portland, Nehalem & Tillamook railway and E. H. Harriman and his agents entered into a conspiracy to wreck the road.

The executive committee, of which Mr. Pittock was a moving spirit, first passed a resolution directing McCracken to sign the bonds and deliver them to Walker. In the face of the fact that its project had been at last financed and money was forthcoming to build the road through Tillamook, the directors suddenly abandoned the enterprise and later turned it over, lock, stock and barrel, to Mr. Lytle, who proceeded to pick up the tangled ends where the Atlas Contracting & Supply company had left off, and who had no trouble in financing the road through the Union Trust company of San Francisco, in which financial concern Mr. Harriman and his friends are said to exercise a strong influence. It is not actual control.

Cravenette Rain Coats

All you really need to know, is how to tell a Cravenette when you see it—and you can do so by observing the following: This circular registered trademark is stamped on the cloth and this silk label is at the collar or elsewhere. Look for the stamp and label and insist upon seeing them for unless they are both there, the garment is not a Genuine Cravenette. We will send booklet telling all about Cravenette Cloths if you write us.

NEW MINES TURNING OUT WONDERFUL ORES

Portland People Heavily Interested—They Are Much Enthusiastic.

Goldfield, Nev., Oct. 9.—Advices from the Morning Star district, nine miles from the Bullfrog & Tonopah, say properties in that district are turning out some great values. The Denny Dulin group of five mines—copper and gold ores—are one of sensations of the district. Assays made on these ores show up far in excess of expectations. The immense body of ores now in sight more than warrants sending this product to the smelter at Grant.

JOSEPHINE'S GOAT RAISERS ORGANIZE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Grants Pass, Or., Oct. 9.—The goat-raisers of Josephine county, inspired by the success of the Oregon goat and stock associations, are preparing to form an organization of their own. It will be located in Grants Pass, the home of two of the best goat raisers there were only a few goats in Josephine county, now there are over 2,000, all of the best Angora breeds. There are several magnificent bucks, imported here from Texas and other famous goat sections. It has been demonstrated that the hills of Josephine county, covered with ample brush and grass feed, together with the mild winter climate of this section, are ideal for goat-raising.

The new goatmen's association will have the three-fold purpose to find the best possible market for their goats, offer a means of cooperation in exchanging and importing breeding animals, and to provide for the protection of county, district and state fairs.

FILING OF EVIDENCE IN REBATE CASES

(United Press Leased Wire.) Los Angeles, Oct. 9.—Filing of evidence by the defense in the rebate case against the Santa Fe railroad was continued through this morning's session. Edward Mendonson, a collector for the railroad, was called to the stand, and testified that the reduction from the regular rate was the result of a complaint by the consignees of the cement. The regular rate places the minimum charge for cement from Arizona at $70 for not less than 40,000 pounds to the car. The consignees of Portland cement had been loaded with 40,000 pounds of cement, but that when weighed at this end they had lost weight and the railroad had been forced to reduce the amount of the freight charges.

UMATILLA DRAWS CHICAGO CAPITAL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendleton, Or., Oct. 9.—F. E. Sladdon, a representative of a Chicago syndicate, has been in Pendleton investigating the resources of Umatilla county. He had been in the vicinity of Spokane, Wash., and various sections of the west but seemed particularly impressed with the great resources of Umatilla. He saw the work on the irrigation projects and in the big wheat farming districts and says the company of capitalists and investors he represents in Chicago will have many families located on these lands in a short time. He represents Cleaver Bros., who were former residents of this section.

POTTER SULLIVAN TENDERS RESIGNATION

(United Press Leased Wire.) Seattle, Wash., Oct. 9.—Potter C. Sullivan, United States district attorney for this state, has notified Senator Piles that he has forwarded his resignation to the authorities at Washington. Senator Piles has not indicated anyone for the position, although the Young Men's Republican club of this city has asked that he choose Elmer E. Wood, who recently resigned as assistant corporation counsel to enter private practice. While Senator Piles will say nothing as to why Mr. Sullivan resigned, it is stated that pressure has been brought to bear upon Mr. Sullivan, who, it is claimed, has been very inattentive to his duties. Sullivan was formerly in a similar position at Nome, Alaska.

CORN FLAKES FLICKER FROM GOLDEN GRAIN GROWN HERE

D. L. Page, formerly of Battle Creek, Michigan, manager of the Oregon Corn Flake company, has erected a plant at St. Johns for the manufacture of breakfast foods and is making an endeavor to interest Portland capitalists in the business so that he may continue the enterprise. More than $5,000 has been expended by Mr. Page for the machinery and putting it in working order. Without financial backing with which to purchase corn, Mr. Page says he is unable to continue his business at the present time.

INDIGNATION FOR EXECUTIVE BOARD

Property Owners on East 28th Street Want Bridge Across Sullivan's Gulch.

Property owners in the vicinity of East Twenty-eighth street on both sides of Sullivan's gulch are indignant because of the refusal of the executive board to advertise for bids for the construction of East Twenty-eighth street bridge. The council voted the improvement last spring but no steps have been taken by the executive board to build the bridge. The bridge is one that the property owners believe should be completed at the earliest possible date. There is no bridge across the gulch above the Grand avenue structure recently completed that is permanent. The traffic would be heavy and the residents on the north side of the gulch need the bridge for fire protection. Taxpayers think they are justified in asking that the bridge be constructed before the construction of the Union avenue bridge since the new Grand avenue bridge will adequately supply all the traffic in the lower section. They assert the street railway company is bringing its pressure to bear in keeping the construction of the East Twenty-eighth street bridge until the Union avenue bridge can be built. The bridge is to be a concrete structure on the first street. The street bridge to be built in the city. On account of the proximity of the Doernbecher furniture factory the bridge must be absolutely fire proof. Engineers state that steel would not withstand the heat should the furniture factory catch fire.

NEW ENTERPRISES SEEKING BAY CITY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Bay City, Or., Oct. 9.—Two practical sawmill men from Clatsop county have taken a 30-day option on one of the free mill sites offered by the Bay City Land company. They visited Bayoccan Park to estimate the amount of lumber which will be used there in buildings next year. They expect to sell a large part of their output, if their mill is started, to the Grand Rondes. Another man is about to put in a black-smith and machine shop here. The annex to the Bay City hotel is practically completed. The travel at Bay City has been so large during the past few weeks that the hotel could hardly accommodate all who registered. A donkey engine is clearing the new county road which will reduce the grade on the hill back of Bay City. Ten residences in addition to Bay City will also be cleared by the engine.

SHEEP ALLOTMENT SEVEN PER CENT LESS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendleton, Or., Oct. 9.—As a result of the deliberations of the sheepmen's advisory board with A. F. Potter, head of the grazing department of the forestry bureau, he has agreed to reduce the number of sheep allowed the eastern division of the Blue mountain reserve to the extent of 22,000. This means a reduction of over 7 per cent in the number allowed last summer. No further cut will be necessary after next spring, as the range will be sufficient to maintain the 13,000 head allowed next summer. Mr. Potter allowed next summer. Mr. Potter allowed next summer. DISCHARGE OFFICIAL, CAR STRIKE RESULTS, COFFEE

(United Press Leased Wire.) Henderson, Ky., Oct. 9.—The entire streetcar system is tied up today as a result of the second strike of the employees within six weeks. The strike was caused by the discharge of Superintendent Cook, the railroad management refusing to reinstate him when the men demanded the same.
