The Lincoln-Griffith Sewing club met with the vice-president, Mrs. Nellie Clapp, Midburn street, Kern Park. Tuesday. The usual amount of sewing was done. There was a good attendance for the first meeting after vacation. A delicious luncheon was served at 1 o'clock by Mrs. Clapp's daughter, Mrs. Eva Hays. A pretty shirtwaist set was presented to her. Mrs. Capell making the presentation speech. Mrs. Hays responded in a few words. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Augusta Clurelle's home, Stewart's station, Mount Scott.

The Sacred Heart Social club gave a very successful whist social on last Wednesday. The spacious and modern new hall, which has been recently erected by the parishioners for holding the socials and parties in, was well filled, and every one present had a good time. These socials are regularly held twice a month. The Sodality held a regular business meeting there last Sunday.

The H. N. society, which has a membership of about 50 men, will hold its regular meeting next Sunday evening. This society has for its object the spiritual and temporal well-being of not only its members, but of the entire community.

The residence of Mrs. A. B. Burger, 427 Second street, was the scene of a very pleasant pre-nuptial gathering, last Wednesday evening, in celebration of the approaching marriage of Miss Ida Schas and Arthur Cantrowith. A musical program was rendered, after which a dainty repast was served. Miss Schas was the pleased recipient of a silver jewel box, and a number of floral offerings. Those present were the Misses Rose Dubois, Katherine O'Brien, Grace Taylor, Jessie Moorehead, Nell Matteson, Jewel Conway, Louise Gates, Katherine Friedman and Stella Burger, Mrs. Friedman and Mrs. Burger.

A reception was given at Waldo hall, the girls' new dormitory at the Agricultural college in Corvallis, Tuesday afternoon, by the young women of the Y. W. C. A. in honor of Miss Maude Ross of Portland, the secretary, who will take charge of the work for one month. There was vocal music by Miss Lulu Spangler, piano music and an address by Miss Ross. The rooms were prettily decorated with clematis and tea and wafers were served. Several hundred visitors called during the reception hours.

A party of Portland young people had an enjoyable trip to St. Helena in an automobile last Sunday afternoon, going down in an hour and a half. While returning they had an exceptionally fine view of the sunset and reached home early in the evening. Members of the party were the Misses Lora Stuart, Beattie Gardner, Amy and Anne George and Claude Kellogg and Frank Schrammer.

Mrs. Jack Light, of Denver, who is visiting Mrs. L. D. Holzman, was the guest of honor at a very pleasant five hundred party given by Mrs. Harry H. Holzman at her home, 431 Davis street, Thursday afternoon. Twenty-one ladies were present. A charming luncheon was served. The first prize was won by Mrs. M. L. Asher, and the second by Miss Florence Rydke.

Mrs. J. G. Peck entertained pleasantly about 20 friends one afternoon last week at her home, 605 Belmont street. The affair was in compliment to Mrs. Bach of Middleton, Wisconsin, and Mrs. Kaplin of Scribner, Nebraska. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. A. B. Burger, of 427 Second street, will leave Monday evening for San Francisco, to attend the wedding of her son Nathan and Miss Lena Caro, of that city, which will take place October 27.

WEDDINGS

An out-of-town wedding of particular interest to Portland because both the bride and the bridegroom are well known here was that of Miss Helen Stelwer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Stelwer of Salem and Elmer T. Connell of Portland. The marriage was celebrated in Salem at the home of the bride's parents, Wednesday evening by Rev. P. S. Knight.

It was a cream wedding, and the bride was handsomely gowned in white and her attendants in cream, and they carried yellow caryanthemums. Six girls, school friends of the bride, formed an aisle for the bridal party. Mrs. Ernest W. Reed of Portland was the matron of honor and Miss Mary Stelwer, a sister attending the state university at Eugene, and Miss Hannah Connell, the bridegroom's sister from Portland. Percy W. Blanchard of Portland was the best man and C. N. McArthur and Edward J. Failing also of this city, were the groomsmen. Two sisters, Lyle and Ruby Stelwer, played the wedding march.

A large part of friends from Portland attended the wedding. Among them were Miss Honeyman, Miss Muriel Williams, Miss Carlotta Parker, Mrs. Harriet K. McArthur, Mrs. Thomas Connell, Clarence Bishop, Fred Stelwer, Arthur Honeyman, Robert Kinney, T. S. McGrath, Dr. and Mrs. Alan Welch Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Barlow, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Connell, Miss Flavel Connell, Miss Kate Fay, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bennett, besides the members of the bridal party. Miss Mabel Withycombe and Miss Julia Cooper of Corvallis, and Leonard Stelwer of the University of Oregon were other out-of-town guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Connell will make their home at Deer Island, where Mr. Connell has been spending the later years. Last winter he was state representative. He is a graduate of Amherst in the class of 1902 and a Chi Psi. His bride is a member of a prominent Oregon family who received her education at the Corvallis college.

The marriage of Miss Annie Margaret Farrell and Frederick William Cookman took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Farrell, 231 West Park street, Wednesday evening. Bishop David H. Moore of the Methodist Episcopal church officiated. Only the family was present at the ceremony, but a large reception followed for about 200 guests.

Mrs. Alexander Muir had charge of the decorations and the rooms were very pretty with autumn leaves and ferns in the reception rooms, and scarlet geraniums in the dining-room. Luther F. Steel played the wedding march. Lionel L. Sargent was the best man and Miss Jessie Farrell the bridemaid. The bride wore white satin trimmed with lace and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Mrs. Farrell received with them and she wore gray silk trimmed with lace. Assisting in receiving were Miss Finley, Mrs. Nelson A. Louisa, and Mrs. Luther Steel. At the punch bowl were Mrs. John William and Miss Eva Kiernan in the dining-room. Mrs. Robert S. Farrell and Mrs. Thomas G. Farrell poured and they were assisted in serving by Miss De Linn, Miss Dupee and Miss Eva Farrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Cookman have gone on a short trip and will be at home at 1071 East Washington street on their return.

At the home of Mrs. T. C. Robinson at St. Helena, her sister, Mrs. Margaret Nettleton, was married to James Warren Eastman of Portland on Monday evening. Rev. Father O'Hara officiating. Miss Lina Stouffer was bride-maid and Warren Quick attended the bridegroom. The bridal party stood under a bower of autumn leaves and flowers. After the ceremony the guests dined with grape vines and clusters of grapes. The table was set in purple and white. After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Eastman left for their new home at 1142 East Morrison street. Miss Anna Quick caught the bride's bouquet. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thomas, George Piper and E. Young of Portland, Mrs. Elizabeth Perry and C. V. Emerson of Houlton, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Warren Day, the Misses Florence George, Alice and Anna Quick of St. Helena, Miss Lina Stouffer of Dallas and Warren Quick.

One of the pretty autumn weddings was that of Miss Nannie Chambers and Jens Sorensen, last Saturday evening. The wedding was celebrated in their own new home. The bride was gowned in white silk with a veil and orange blossoms, and she carried white carnations.

The bridesmaids, Miss Myrtle Bates and Miss Clara Miller, gowned in blue and pink collene carried bouquets of white carnations and sinlax, and wore wreaths of forget-me-nots in their hair. The bridegroom was attended by J. Sorensen, and Carl Prendt. The ring service was read by Rev. Mr. Larsen. Following the ceremony a reception was given after which luncheon was served in the dining room. Those present were: Mrs. Julia Madsen, mother of the bride, Andrew Madsen, Mrs. John Madsen, Mrs. M. J. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Will Zinser, Mr. and Mrs. H. Liebe, Mr. and Mrs. G. Hoffman, Mrs. J. Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. P. Adamson, Mrs. Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. P. Christensen, the Misses May Sullivan, Kate Olsen, Nellie Woodhouse, Leslie Pottage, Mary Olsen, Olga Madsen, Olaf Sorensen, Agnes Christensen, Mildred Madsen, Jenny Johnson and the Johnsons, Ralph Adamson and Raymond Madsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Sorensen will be at home to their friends at 963 Williams avenue.

One of the pretty home weddings of the season took place at the residence of Mrs. A. McDull, 505 Gantenbein avenue, Wednesday, when her only daughter, Ethel was united in marriage to Robert W. Veit of Eddyville, Oregon. The rooms were artistically decorated with Oregon grape, wild ferns, and mistletoe, interwoven with white crepe de chine over white taffeta and carried a bouquet of white carnations. She was attended by Miss Sadie O'Connor who wore a charming gown of blue silk mull and carried a bouquet of carnations. The oldest brother of the bride acted as best man. The wedding march was played by Miss Vesta Gardner, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Bernice Babcock sang.

The marriage of Robert J. Hunley of Tacoma, and Miss Hattie E. Portler of Seattle, was celebrated at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. E. H. Haslam, 1019 Mallory avenue Thursday morning. Rev. Henry A. Harden performed the ceremony. Miss Lucile Drew acted as bridesmaid, and Mrs. J. H. Jones as matron of honor.

A. J. Vaughn of Portland was best man, and little Miss Mayme Haslam was ringbearer. The bride appeared in a rich and beautiful gown of white. The wedding was on the bridegroom's birthday. Mrs. Haslam, the hostess, provided a sumptuous dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Hunley left Portland on the morning train for a wedding trip. They will reside at Tacoma.

The marriage of George Whaley and Miss Mammie Hall, both of Corvallis, was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Hall, Wednesday morning by Rev. G. H. Pease. In the presence of near relatives and intimate friends. The bride wore a dainty gown of white silk and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The bridegroom was dressed in a suit of gray and white. The wedding breakfast was served at 1 o'clock. The bride and groom left for their new home at 1142 East Morrison street. They will reside in Corvallis.

A quiet wedding was celebrated Saturday, a week ago, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. A. C. Catts, 671 East Alder street, when Miss E. Curtis was united in marriage to W. G. Thomson a business man of Oregon City. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Curtis of Forest Grove, and a niece of Dr. Beane, formerly of the Centenary church of this city. After the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. H. A. Staver, Mr. and Mrs. Thomson left for their new home at 902 Seventh street, Oregon City.

A pretty wedding took place at the parsonage of the Third Presbyterian church September 22. The contracting parties were George I. Dove and Miss Maude S. Bradley. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. J. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Ammer were the attendants. After the ceremony a luncheon was served at the residence of the bridegroom's mother, after which they left for a honeymoon trip to Seattle, Tacoma and Victoria, B. C. They will be at home at 63 East Eleventh street, north, after November 1. No cards.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Baker, 868 Gladstone avenue, last Sunday a pretty wedding was celebrated, when Walter Inch and Miss Una Baker were united in marriage. Rev. J. Bowersox performed the ceremony.

Owing to illness in the family, the wedding was a quiet one. After refreshments and automobile took the party to the depot, and they left for Tillamook City, where they will sojourn for a season.

A quiet wedding took place at the residence of Andrew C. Catto, 671 East Alder street, last Saturday night, when William G. Thomson of Oregon City and Miss Eunice E. Curtis of Forest Grove assumed the marriage vows. Rev. Daniel Staver, assistant pastor of the First Congregational church, officiating. A few friends and relatives of the bride and bridegroom were present. Mr. and Mrs. Thomson will reside in Oregon City.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of F. H. Geiger, 1029 Garfield avenue, on the afternoon of October 5, when Edwin Hunter Rupert of Chicago, and Grace Gertrude Blair were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. S. Hollinger of the Highland Congregational church. After several weeks Mr. and Mrs. Rupert will make their home in Vancouver, B. C.

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Burt, Cyrus Hewitt and Miss Elva Burt were married by Rev. J. Bowersox Wednesday. Relatives only were present. Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt have gone to Salem for a few days' visit among friends and relatives. Upon their return they will reside in this city.

Albert White and Miss Lillian Wahlstrom were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents at Sellwood, Wednesday evening. Rev. D. A. Thompson of the Sellwood Presbyterian church officiating. They left on the morning train for a short trip. After a few weeks they will return and make their home at Nashville, Mount Scott.

"Danny U'Ren."

Dean Collins in Dallas Observer. "Why squalls the Bird of Freedom?" said the Public-on-Parade.

"Es lovin' of 'is feathers," the gallant U'Ren said.

For a mighty corporation is a graspin' of 'is tail.

They're makin' 'is pin-feathers fly (on) high the air like 'all.

An' so the big bald eagle raises up a doleful wail.

An' there's surely somethin' doin' in the mornin'.

"What is that sullen, scraggin' sound?" said the Public-on-Parade.

"That's the Pacific Telephone," the gallant U'Ren said.

That's diggin' at the cornerstone of all An' choppin' at the tap-root of Freedom's mighty tree:

They swear that it's all wrong, an' they will sure demolish the structure.

Imitative and Refundum in the mornin'.

"What is that ominous crackin'?" said the Public-on-Parade.

"Our fair State's awarin' to 'is fall," the gallant U'Ren said.

For all these bloomin' plutocrats 'as marshaled their cohorts.

An' will chase the imitative and U'Rendum through the courts.

They swear that they will rout us from the ramparts of our forts.

For we've broke the Constitution in the mornin'.

"Who is that wise appearin' guy?" said the Public-on-Parade.

"That is an expert chemist," the gallant U'Ren said.

The imitative and the U'Rendum 'e 'as tried.

With a s-d, an' 'e says it's full of brass on the inside.

Table Manners.

A Denver man had a friend from a Kansas ranch in the city on a business deal and at noon they went to a downtown restaurant and had luncheon together. The ranchman ate his entire meal with his knife. When he was near the end he discovered he had no fork.

"Say," he said to the Denver man, "that waiter didn't give a fork."

"Well, you don't need one," replied the Denver man, seriously. "The Denver I don't come from the Kansas."

"What am I going to stir my coffee with?"

His Paradise Not Hard to Find.

On a hot day last week the members of a lunch club were gathered together at the little restaurant where they meet. Everybody was listless, owing to the heat. Food charmed them not. One of the party, after sipping soup and waving away flies, put his feelings into words.

"Wouldn't it be pleasant," he said, "if we could just gather around a table on hot days and sit for an hour or two without eating anything? Why don't people ever do that?"

"They do," remarked another member, "in saloons."

Little Miss Fustystoots.

Little Miss Fustystoots, yonder she goes Shrugging her shoulders and tossing her nose:

Little Miss Fustystoots thinks she is fine With dresses that rustle and ribbons that shine.

Dollbaby parties under the tree, And dear little tuncups of weak cambric tea:

Proud as a peacock and wise as an owl, With dear little wrinkles on brows with a cowl.

Taking life serious at half-past six, Quite an old mother—the dear little

With children of china and children of wax, And rag baby children too poor to pay tax.
