

CHECK BAGGAGE NEW WAY GLASS APPEAL IS POSTPONED

Railroad Passenger Agents Will Consider Plan of Handling Trunks for Passengers at Hotels, Relieving Travelers of All Trouble and Responsibility.

Checking of baggage to and from hotels desired by the traveler is an innovation that will be considered by the general baggage agents of the Harriman railroad, at a session that will open in Portland tomorrow. The plan has been discussed for some years and recently was tried to a limited extent and found to be practicable. It is probable that its adoption on all the lines will follow the Portland meeting.

The general agents of general baggage agents of the Harriman roads will convene in this city tomorrow with a full attendance including the following general baggage agents: W. W. Monroe of the Texas lines of the Southern Pacific, Houston; A. T. Fisher of the Union Pacific, Omaha; E. L. Alley of the Oregon Short Line, Salt Lake; P. J. Davidson of Defendant and Schmitz Appear in Court—Ruef is Absent.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Oct. 14.—On Saturday next the work of perfecting the bill of exceptions to be used in the appeal of the case of Louis Glass, general manager of the Pacific Telephone company, who has been convicted of bribery and sentenced to five years' imprisonment will be taken up over the objection of the attorneys for the defense, who desired the matter taken up immediately. Judge Lawlor set it for the date mentioned.

The remaining cases against Glass, as well as those against Ruef, E. J. Schmitz and the officials of the United Railroads were continued until next Thursday.

Schmitz and Glass were the only defendants to appear in court.

year. The figures included in making up the total are not dealers' prices, but the amounts paid to growers, and show a very satisfactory increase of 53 percent over the value of the crop of 1906.

The heavy plantings of the past few years are coming out to bear and the increase in the value of the crop will be very rapid in the near future.

The phenomenal prices received this year for the fancy fruit will prove the most effective of advertising, and will spread our fame still more widely over the land, and will increase the demand. The Pacific coast is the natural fruit garden of the country and we have advantages of soil and climate unsurpassed by any other section, and it only remains for us to maintain our present high standard of product to step into the front rank and in a short time make fruit growing the greatest source of wealth in the state.

A large number of interesting questions relative to the fruit prospects of the state, Mr. Newell takes up the labor question. His method for solving the problem is a careful and practical one and is in part as follows:

The Labor Question.
"The labor question seems to be a serious one to the fruitgrower, as it is to everyone who employs labor. Many fruitgrowers advocate free importation of Asiatic laborers but it seems to me that this is unwise. Experience has proven that it will surely cause trouble with white laboring men, and it is to the latter that the fruitgrower must look for his market in a large degree. The Asiatic is not such a good helper as we are wont to imagine, now that we cannot get him. Any bright American girl of woman will pack more apples in a day and do it better than any Japanese man that ever came here. I have had one white man pick up as many pruned in a day as two Japanese men working side by side. The white man at $2 and the Japanese at $1.75 each."

"The problem for us is how we may better utilize the labor we have. Let the Asiatic be the Japanese, Chinese or Filipino, and let them do the dirty engine and dynamite must be used to clear the land and labor-saving machinery replace human hands to the fullest possible extent."

"Very large, individual plantings of fruit should be avoided as unprofitable alike to the community and the holder. Plantings should include a long succession of fruits so that the work may be as nearly steady as possible; then if the community will not supply all the help needed at harvest time, the fruitgrower should do as the hopgrower does—arrange for families to come and camp. Provide a pleasant camp ground, wood and water, and pay by the piece. It is generally so that the industrious worker may make a little more than the usual daily wage. With all this pay for help, we still have a wealth of labor in our cities, towns and villages that is not utilized, and that would be vastly benefited by a summer's outing in the berry patches and orchards. "FULGURATION" PROCESS MAKES WONDERFUL CURE

Dr. De Kating Hart Demonstrates Electrical Treatment for Cancer to Eminent Paris Physicians—What Portland Medical Profession Thinks.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Oct. 14.—A cable to the Times from Paris says: Within half an hour a woman suffering from cancer was completely cured at the Broca hospital by an Irish surgeon, Dr. De Kating Hart, who used an electrical treatment known among local surgeons as "fulguration." Hart treated the case at the request of Dr. Pozzo, who expounded treatment by "fulguration" at the surgical congress just concluded. More than 50 surgeons, many of whom had expressed doubt of the efficacy of the new treatment, witnessed the demonstration. They examined the patient before and after treatment, and it is declared, pronounced the cure complete. The woman, who had an advanced cancerous growth internally, was submitted to high frequency sparks for half an hour. At the end of that period, it is declared, all trace of the malignant growth had disappeared. The sparks were created by a current of from 60,000 to 200,000 volts.

Dr. Robert C. Yenny, who is one of the best-known physicians in the city on such matters, said that he had not heard of this particular process, but if it was successful it was probably the first absolute cure of cancer ever effected and would be an invaluable addition to medical science.

VIEW SITES FOR PROPOSED SEA WALLS

Harbormaster Speier Takes Council Party on Investigating Tour.

Harbormaster Speier accompanied by six councilmen spent about three hours on the river Saturday viewing on a sea-wall for both sides of the river. The councilmen who made the trip were Rushlight, Conannon, Driscoll, Kellaher, Cottell and Dunning. All of whom were enthusiastic over the proposed change in the harbor.

Captain Speier's proposal is to construct sea walls at the harbor lines which will give the city an opportunity to have one of the finest harbors in the world. The walls, if constructed, will undoubtedly be of concrete material, which will insure their strength and stability.

The councilmen were shown the present docking facilities, and Captain Speier explained the result of the improvements which he advocates.

VANDERBILT BROTHERS HOLD A LOVE FEAST

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Newport, Oct. 14.—For the first time since the death of their father eight years ago Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt was a guest at the home of his brother Cornelius today.

In addition to this, Mrs. Vanderbilt, the elder, also was a guest at luncheon, and for the first time met her daughter-in-law socially. It is said in Newport that there is a complete reconciliation. Had it come eight years ago Cornelius Vanderbilt and not Alfred Gwynne, his youngest brother, would today be the head of the Vanderbilt family.

The estrangement of the Vanderbilts began eight years ago, when their father, after the marriage of Cornelius Jr. to Miss Wicks, became estranged. Alfred took the place. Cornelius had formerly occupied in his affections, and when the father died it was found that Alfred Gwynne, the second son, had been made the residuary legatee of the vast estate. To Cornelius was given $1,500,000. The share of Alfred was $500,000.

Street Railway Men.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 14.—The annual convention of the American Street and Interurban Railway association to be held here this week has attracted hundreds of delegates from all over the United States and Canada. In conjunction with the convention a great exhibition of street railway supplies and machinery was opened today on the steel pier. Besides the convention of the association proper there will be meetings during the week of the claim agents, engineers, accountants and representatives of other branches of the street railway service.

Massachusetts Labor Federation.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Milford, Mass., Oct. 14.—Three hundred representatives of organized labor in Massachusetts were present today at the opening of the annual convention of the state branch of the American Federation of Labor. The convention will be in session four days for the transaction of routine business and the discussion of various matters affecting the labor interests. A feature of the program will be a big parade tomorrow followed by a public meeting at which speakers will be made by a number of labor leaders of wide prominence.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 14.—The Charlotte fall festival opened today under most favorable auspices. Arriving trains last night and this morning brought many visitors to the city. The festivities will continue through the week and will include many interesting features. Among other things there will be a summer's outing in the berry patches and orchards. With the extra all out hustling to see that their guild is well up on the list of subscribers. The lawyers and doctors are all giving $25 each and the district judges. The florists have agreed to contribute one third as much as they did to the fair.

The big corporations of the city, the railroads and streetcar companies, the steamship companies, the gas, water and light companies and the banks are looking over their statements for the past year and considering what percentage of their earnings it will pay to turn the $100,000 fund. The earnings were large and the contributions are going to be in proportion.

The same interest in the festival that prompted more than 400 people to submit slogans to The Journal for the festival association contest is leading everyone to prepare a rousing welcome for their final rounds tomorrow.

There was little business done by the leading men of the city today excepting that which bore on the success of the festival. Starting in at 8 o'clock and earlier they started automobiles and began the canvass of their districts. Some visited the confectioners, and some the brewers, others the contractors. Those who had automobiles used them for the use of other members of the committee. The whirlwind campaign for the $100,000 was on full blast.

Music to Charm.
One of the offers made the committee this morning was that of Signor De Caprio who last year wrote the Rose Festival March in honor of Portland's festival. He has agreed to place the march in all the music houses throughout the city and as his contribution to the fund give the association one half of the proceeds from the sales. He has also agreed to see Sousa while the great bandmaster is playing here this week and induce him to place the march on the regular Sousa program.

If successful in this the rose festival will be heralded over the country whenever and wherever the Sousa band plays. It is also proposed to have the railroad distribute free copies as an advertisement of the festival.

Manager Hutchins of the festival association has received a letter from Pendleton saying that the Unatilla Indians at that place will be in Portland during festival week and that over 100 braves and squaws will take part in the grand floral parade on Roosevelt day.

Borah in a Big Water Suit.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Boise, Idaho, Oct. 14.—Senator Borah has gone to San Francisco to appear before the United States court of appeals for the defendant in the case of Schodde vs. Twin Falls company. This is action brought because of damages done to plaintiff's ranch in the Twin Falls section by the building of the great dam which stores water for the Twin Falls tract.

INFANT DIES ON WAY TO BUENOS AYRES

A. E. Holcombe is in receipt of a telegram from J. H. Wilson, on the way to Buenos Ayres on the steamer Adriatic, which tells of the death of Mr. Wilson's baby since embarking for the South American port. Mr. Wilson was in charge of the government hatchery on the Clackamas river for a number of years and was recently sent to Buenos Ayres to take charge of a hatchery there. He left a short time ago for the scene of his new labors and at that time his family was in good health. The cause of the death was not stated. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are well known in Oregon City, and Mr. Holcombe requests that the Oregon City papers print the news of his bereavement.
