

LEELENAW MEN NOT INHUMANE

Purser Bulger Tells Story Defending His Ship's Officers.

JOHN CURRIER PEOPLE INVITED TO EMBARK

But Currier's Captain Preferred to Await Vessel Going Toward Home—Currier's People Then in No Evident Distress, Purser Avers.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, Oct. 18.—The officers of the steamer Leelenaw deny leaving the wrecked vessel John Currier, her captain, crew and Japanese aboard to their fate in Nelson's lagoon. The Leelenaw has arrived here and is discharging cargo, which she was unable to deliver in Alaska owing to the lateness of the season, storms and untoward conditions. Purser Bulger said:

"The John Currier had gone to pieces and was a total wreck before we arrived off Nelson's lagoon. Then there was a canny where she went ashore, so there was no chance for any great hardship.

"At Valdez on our way north we received instructions to call at Nelson's lagoon and render what assistance we could. We arrived there September 10 and anchored about four miles off shore. Captain Murchison of the John Currier came aboard. His vessel had broken up August 20 and the sea was rolling smoothly over the spot where she had lain. It was a wide, sandy beach, and she had stood no chance in the rough weather.

"Murchison Prepared to Wait. Captain Murchison wanted us to take him and his people back to Dutch Harbor, but this was impossible. We had cargo for Kuskowim river, Kewalik and Deciding on Kotszebue sound, and was so late that every moment was precious. The freight was winter supplies for those far northern points, and it was imperative that we get it through. We offered to take the stranded men on to Nome, but Captain Murchison preferred to wait where he was for a chance steamer going in the direction of Dutch Harbor. He told us he had three weeks' provisions, and gave us the impression that he was in no distress. Shelter had been prepared at the cannery for the men, and there was not a suggestion of their being in any actual privation.

"After lying off Nelson's lagoon four hours, Captain Murchison went ashore and we proceeded on our way.

"While at Kewalik we received instructions to call at Nome for R. Dunsmuir, the owner of the Currier, which we did as we came back. He had two divers with him and wanted us to call at Nelson's lagoon to see if there was not some salvage that might be recovered. We endeavored to put in there, but rough weather prevented, and with the consent of Mr. Dunsmuir we headed for Dutch Harbor.

"The officers stoutly aver that if Captain Murchison and those with him had been suffering extremities they should have accepted the invitation of the Leelenaw to go on to Nome.

FILES SUIT TO RECOVER MACHINERY

Alleging that the Relerson Machine company, acting as agent in Oregon and southern Washington for the Shell Lake Boat company of Shell Lake, Wisconsin, failed to properly display its goods and also accepted the agency for other pleasure craft, in violation of an agreement between them, the Wisconsin concern has begun suit in the circuit court for $1500 damages against the local company. It is claimed that launches, canoes and fittings for river craft to the amount of $2,284.40 were delivered to the Relerson firm during 1906, and that because of the unsatisfactory condition of the agency it was necessary to send a man from Wisconsin to investigate. It is stated that a settlement was reached on October 5, but that the defendant still has in its possession $1,500 worth of property that it refuses to turn over.

NEVADA HAVING BORDER SCENES

Two Constables Killed by Tough Characters They Attempt to Arrest.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Reno, Nev., Oct. 18.—Two Nevada constables were shot and killed Wednesday by gamblers in small Nevada towns. Constable Gilbert of Ely was killed by Charles Sanders, when he attempted to interfere with Sanders, who was cruelly beating his wife. Constable Kennedy of Palisade, was shot and killed by a man named Brooks, whom he was trying to put under arrest. Brooks tried to take a big sum of money away from a woman he had been living with. She refused to give it up and he started to beat her. When Kennedy came on the scene Brooks shot him through the heart. He then turned the revolver to his own head and fired a bullet through his brain.

WORE MAN'S CLOTHES WHILE HUNTING HUBBY

Mrs. Charles Pool of San Francisco Arrested for Masquerading.

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Oct. 18.—It transpires that a woman arrested here Tuesday night for wearing men's clothes in public and who gave her name as Mrs. Dorothy Clarke, is Mrs. Charles Pool from San Francisco and who was married a few months ago when about to commit suicide by jumping into the river here.

There are numerous discrepancies in the stories she tells. One account has it that her parents were Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Clarke of San Francisco and that her mother died when she was 15. Another is that her father was John Clarke, captain of a Pacific coast steamer; that she was born in Alaska, where her mother still lives, and that her father placed her in a Dominican convent in San Francisco to be educated.

She says she is now 35 years old and that when 14 she eloped with Julius Meyer, paying $1000 to get away from her bank, and, after four months, her guardian had the marriage annulled, her father being then dead.

She says she came to New York to look for her husband, who, as Charles Pool, inherited a large estate and deserted her and she wore men's clothes so that she might visit saloons and other places in search of him.

Taft's Speech Well Received by Natives

Newspapers Promptly Call for Government's Policy Toward the Islands.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Manila, Oct. 18.—Secretary Taft was entertained at luncheon yesterday by Major-General Leonard Wood, commander of the military division of the Philippines. In the afternoon he attended a reception at the Jesuit college and in the evening was present at a reception given in his honor by the officers of the army and navy.

The general impression caused among the Filipinos by the secretary's speech at the opening of the assembly yesterday is excellent, but the American papers here call for a prompt announcement of the government's policy toward a clash occurred in the assembly between the president, Sergio Osmena, Nationalist, and Dominado Gomez. During the afternoon session yesterday Gomez delivered an address declaring against bringing politics into executive business and asking the delegates to show their patriotism by forsaking party affiliations and legislating for the benefit of the Filipino people. The president stopped Gomez's speech and announced that he would use his authority as president of the assembly to have it stricken from the records.

The delegates were surprised at this early beginning of the fight between the Nationalists, or Conservatives, and the Radicals.
