LOOKOUTS SAVE COAL LADEN SHIP

Port Patrick Loses Bearings Steamer Costa Rica Arrives After in Dense Fog Off Mouth of Columbia.

TUG RESPONDS TO SUMMONS FOR HELP

Close Call From Joining Vessels Already Laid Away in Graveyard on Clatsop Spit - Schooner King Cyrus Reports Tedious Voyage.

Lost in a fog while heading for the Columbia river, the British threemaster ship Port Patrick parrowly escaped piling up on the sands of Clatsop spit at an early hour this morning But for the vigilance of the lookests at to Port Canby and North Head the vessel completed. would now be keeping company with the bones of the bark Peter Iredale and the practically intact bark Galena, both the practically intact bark Galena both of which missed the river by several miles about a year ago and ended their days of usefulness on file sands.

The Port Patrick was signifed at day light from the Fort Camby lifesaving station and a message was immediately telephoned to J. J. Kelliher, hookout at the weather bureau station at North Head across the bay, on the Washington adde. Mr. Kelliher was unable to see the vessel because of the dense fog and was also unable to raise Astoria by telegraph to inform the tug people there of the ship's predicament. At a orion a lithough there was subsequent wire which in turn managed to get Astoria although there was subsequent wire trouble. Half an hour later one of the tugs started out and get the vessel in tow and she was brought in safely.

The Port Patrick was make to cargo of alone to consigned to the Independent Coal company and under charter to the Fortland Flouring Mills company to carry a cargo of wheat to Europe. Her loss at this time would have given the fuel people cause for another advance in prices.

The British ship Rajore, which had Europe. Her loss at this time would have given the fuel people cause for an other advance in prices.

The British ship Rajore, which had been outside for a couple of days, crossed in and is now on the way up river in tow of the steamer Ocklahama. She brings a cargo of cement and general freight from London and is also under charter to carry wheat to Europe. The American schooners King Cyrus and Muriel were brought into the harbor this morning by the towboat Harvest Queen, the former herthing at the wharf of the Standard Box company near the east end of the Burnside bridge and the latter going to the mills of the Portland Lumber company.

Captain Rosendal of the King Cyrus reports having made a tedious voyage from San Pedro, but it was a pleasant one from a weather point of view. It took 28 days to complete the run, one calm following another, much to the surprise of those who have spent many Octobers on the Pacific. The King Cyrus will load railroad ties for Redondo.

NEW STEAMERS COMING.

Ormiston and Aker Headed for Ore-tons net register, and the British steamer Ormiston of 3141 tons net register, are reported as having been chartered to come here in the near future, the former with a cargo of coal from Moji, Japan, and the latter from San Francisco or Trancisco in balkast.

There is a great need for vessels bere because of the large amount of wheat coming in and every available graft is being picked up when held at a reasonable figure. If when tentinues to pour out of the country at the rate established this month, the shipping season might be considered over a month or six weeks ahead of the usual time in the spring because there will be no grain left for export.

It is reported that the German steamer Tiberius which is listed. this port will also carry away wheat.

CHINESE GOT EXCITED.

Officers Call Boat Drill on Oriental Liner Alesia.

Boat maneuvers were called on the oriental liner Alesia yesterday aftermoon and instead of two sailors going through the drill, as heretofore, every man on board the big liner had to respond. The result was a great commolion among the Chinese.

Chief Officer Tamm had charge of the tarboard side, while Third Officer Mebesius commanded the port side. The tarboard boats only were lowered, because the dock prevented the port boats from hitting the water, but every boat was manned and every man had something to do. because the Chinese will not be notified in advance, and they will believe that the ship is actually on fire when they hear the big whistle send forth the un-pleasant signals of fire and distress. Even the firemen in the depths of the stokerooms have to respond, and yester-day they attracted a large crowd of passers-by on the Steel bridge.

A HUGE PRIVATE PARK

The broad, generous plan which has been followed in improving Ladd's Addition, the many varieties of trees that have been ordered for setting out on every street this fall, the excellent parking space that has been provided between the curbs and cement sidewalks, the wide asphalted streets and rigid building lines and restrictions that will be enforced, all tend toward the establishment in Ladd's Addition of a district that will ever be regarded more as a private park than a new residence addition. This end has never been dropped from sight during all the time that men have been at work, making this tract of land into an elegant and habitable place to live. It has always been the intention of the Ladd Estate to establish a residence community on "Ladd's Field," when the proper time came, that would outclass anything that has ever been marketed in the northwest in the way of residence property. How well this idea has prevailed is for you to decide after a visit to this ideal manor for fine homes.

The authorities are at a loss to account for the dearth of rats returned to the crematory and can give no satisfactory reason to account for the refusal of persons to bring the little animals to the city. The work is expected to be done chiefly by school boys who will probably do their work Saturday.
