Governor Gillette Will Not Call Legislature to Aid in Settling Financial Situation—Believes End of Panic Is Near.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Sacramento, Nov. 7.—While he has no definite decision in the matter and will have no consultation with the bankers committee until he reaches San Francisco tomorrow, Governor Gillette stated today that he was opposed to calling an extra session of the legislature unless absolutely necessary. And he does not believe it necessary. Gillette said this morning that the financial conditions as far as tax payments are concerned can be easily adjusted in San Francisco, where the only pressing need in this regard seems to have arisen. The collector, he says, can accept secured paper if he chooses. If he does not want to take any such chance, the governor suggests that the bankers agree to deposit securities with the collector, thus doubly guaranteeing the payer. The governor looks, however, for an

ALWAYS WAS SICK.

When a man says he always was sick—troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say—he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Such a man exists.
Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado, writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." Sold by all druggists.

Early solution of the financial question with the quieting of affairs in the east. He declares that the great prosperity of California cannot admit of any continued financial stringency.

An important feature of Governor Gillette's visit to San Francisco tomorrow will be a meeting in regard to the health situation. Gillette declares that San Francisco has done her share in the matter of expense and now that the plague is so well in hand, the government should take complete control and stand the further expense.

SOCIETY'S BIG EVENT

15 hands 2 inches and over and those under 15 hands 2 inches, while there are not more than seven or eight teams available for the show. Some of the fanciest horses to be exhibited are those of H. W. Treat, J. W. Condit and J. D. Farrell of Seattle, notably a very handsome four-in-hand team of Mr. Treat's. It is said that the United Carriage company of Portland will also make an entry in the four-in-hand class. They have been trying out a good-looking four in the oval for the past day or two. The show will continue until Saturday evening, and from the successful character of the first performance will be a gratifying success.

Attorney George Phelps Loses Mind From Overwork in Fighting Oil Trust—Gives Hat to Governor and Creates Scene.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Columbus, Nov. 7.—His mind wrecked by the stress of combat with the Standard Oil company, George H. Phelps, a prominent Findlay lawyer, created a scene in the supreme court today. Following the incident he rushed to the governor's office and insisted that his hat belonged to Governor Harris, leaving the executive chambers headed. Phelps had been associated with Prosecutor David in prosecuting the Standard Oil company at Findlay until recently. This morning he appeared in the supreme court to argue the case of the Amity Oil company against E. V. Wisbrod and others involving $20,000. While addressing the court he suddenly seized his hat and Assistant Attorney General Miller, embraced him and rushed to the bench, where he shook hands with Justice David. The unfortunate man was returned to Findlay where the probate court will be asked to take charge of him.

GRILL IS HANGED AT SAN QUENTIN

Murderer of Pearce on Verge of Collapse When Led to the Gallows.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Quentin Prison, Cal., Nov. 7.—A. J. Grill, a Sonoma county murderer, was hanged here at 11 o'clock this morning. The condemned man was on the verge of collapse when the trap was sprung, and had the execution been delayed a few moments it would have been necessary to hold him up. He maintained his innocence to the last. Grill was pronounced dead 14 minutes after the drop fell. The condemned man was accompanied to the gallows by two priests and the death watch. Immediately after the reading of the death warrant Grill's arms were pinioned and he was led to the gallows, the priest preceding him, reciting prayers for the dying. The moment Grill stepped on the trap he began to sway, but the work of strapping his legs was quickly completed and the trap was sprung as Grill seemed about to topple over. The crime for which Grill was executed was the murder of W. S. Pearce in his cabin on a lonely ranch in Alexander valley, in northern Sonoma county, in July 1905. Grill was found guilty of murder, with sentence of life imprisonment, at the first trial, but appealed and secured a new trial from the supreme court. The second trial resulted in a verdict with the death penalty, and a second appeal proved fruitless. The evidence at the trials of the case went to show that Grill was in love with the 15-year-old daughter of Pearce, and believing she was not treated properly by her father, he shot him in the back as he lay asleep, robbed him of what money he had, taking the girl, went to Geyserville, where he used the money in purchasing wearing apparel for her. The girl heard the shot fired, and when she asked him what he had shot he said he had killed a skunk. Grill claimed that the girl went off accidentally as he entered the room, and that he did not know Pearce had been struck until he had been arrested.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Portland women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fall make life a burden. Backache, hip pain, headache, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all of which kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders. Here's proof of it in a Portland woman's words: "Mrs. A. S. Cummings of 244 Clackamas street, Portland, Oregon, says: 'Kidney complaint and backache have clung to me for a long time and often I suffered severe attacks of it. Sometimes it was a dull, heavy aching over the kidneys and again sharp, acute pain in the small of the back. The kidney secretions passed too frequently and often with pain. I had tried several remedies with poor results and was finally induced to use Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me very quickly and, continuing their use, I soon found relief from the aches and pains and the action of the kidney secretions was also strengthened to a great extent. I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills in our papers three years ago. I am always pleased to say a good word for this remedy and am glad of this opportunity to confirm my former testimony. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember, the name—Doan's—and take no other.'

PLAN STRUCTURE FOR YUKON FAIR

Oregon Building Will Be Completed in Every Detail Opening Day.

Work on the Oregon building at the Alaskan-Yukon-Pacific exposition is to be commenced early next week. The state commission plans to have the building complete in every detail and the exhibits all in readiness when the fair opens in the spring of 1909. Another distinct feature of Oregon's display at the exposition is to be a moving picture show picturing an interesting scenery from this state as well as the principal industries and other equally interesting details. These features of the display of the Alaskan-Yukon-Pacific exposition have been decided upon by the Oregon fair commission which has just returned to the state after accepting the site for the Oregon building offered it by the exposition company last December. Oregon is to have one of the most prominent and highest points on the grounds. On one side will be the California building, and on the other will be that of the state of Washington. Owing to this arrangement the three Pacific coast states will be represented by state buildings, which will be situated geographically correct. Plans Change. In order to bring about the location of the state exhibits in the order that the three states will be shown as on the map, it was necessary for the Oregon commission to request that the Alaskan-Yukon-Pacific exposition company change the location of the Washington building. The commission which has approved of these plans is meeting today at the C. Lewis, the architect who is to design Oregon's building. The commission is composed of the following members: W. H. Wehrung of Hillsboro, president; E. W. Rowe of Portland, vice-president; M. D. Windom of Portland, secretary; Thomas Wright of Union and J. O. South of Grants Pass. Oregon's building is to cost approximately $300,000. It will be 75 by 125 feet in area, and will come in the middle. In the center of the building will be a court covered with glass. All of the exhibits of the state, including agricultural, mining, educational and numerous other displays, are to be collected and shown in Oregon's building. During the afternoon and evening moving picture exhibits lasting about half an hour are to be given. The time is to be short, so that the people will not become tired and the managers to accommodate more people. Ready on Opening Day. From the site of the Oregon building one of the finest views of the grounds may be had. Mr. Wehrung said this morning. "The front of the building will face the famous Lake Washington. On one side will be the Washington building, and on the other side of California. Then in the distance may be seen Puget sound. "The grounds to be occupied by Oregon's exhibits will cover plot of ground which is about equal to that of the city blocks of Portland. We are to have the building about February first of next year. When the exposition is opened to the public we will have everything ready and the smallest detail, all ready for inspection. Oregon intends to make a record at the Seattle fair. "While in Portland the commission will decide upon the design of the building and agree on the material for construction."

SPANIARDS LOSE LIVES IN QUAKE

Scores of Houses at Torre Laribera Are Demolished by Violent Shaking.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Madrid, Nov. 7.—Many lives were lost and scores of houses demolished by a violent earthquake at Torre Laribera, in the province of Huesca. The earth opened, leaving great fissures. The disturbance was accompanied by subterranean rumblings, causing a panic. Huesca has an area of 5,872 square miles and a population of 211,000. It is in the northern part of Aragon and is bounded on the north by France and on the east by the province of Lerida.

OPERATORS DECIDE TO ANNUL STRIKE

Action of New York and Chicago Men Forces Balance of Organization.

At a meeting held at strike headquarters last night the striking commercial telegraphers of the Portland local voted to call the strike off at 8 o'clock this morning. About 20 operators were present at last night's meeting out of a total of 65 who left their desks on the night of August 12, nearly three months ago. This action of the local telegraphers was brought about by the decision yesterday of the New York and Chicago strikers to return to work, and the fact that during the past few days the strikers in many western and southern cities had voted to return to work, thereby greatly weakening the strike organization. It is estimated by Walter Branin, president of the Portland local, that not less than 40 of the original strikers have returned to work. The strikers have maintained throughout the trouble that the business of the telegraph companies and the Associated press was greatly reduced and
