NEW PRECINCT LINES ESTABLISHED IN CITY

County Commissioners and County Clerk Complete Task of Carving Up Districts in Which There Were More Than Three Hundred Voters.

The county commissioners and County Clerk Fields have completed their work in fixing the new precinct lines for the city and county, made necessary by the provision of law that not more than 300 voters shall be left in any one precinct. The top-heavy districts were chopped up and new precincts carved where necessary, necessitating a great deal of figuring and pondering.

The number of precincts in the city under the new arrangement is 88. Formerly there were 66. In the county there have been several changes, but the net result is the addition of only one precinct because of the inclusion of Mount Tabor and Montavilla precincts in the city and the disappearance of Kilgaver precinct, which has been parceled out between Lents and the new precincts of Arleta and Annabel.

In St. Johns there are two precincts instead of one, owing to the growth of population there, and the Bridal Veil precinct has also been cut in two to suit the convenience of voters. The populous section south of Mount Tabor is now divided into five precincts, known as South Mount Tabor, Woodstock, Arleta, Annabel and Lents. Maps of the county precincts have not yet been prepared, so the boundaries decided upon cannot be indicated.

Here Are the New Boundaries.

The precincts of the city have been marked out on the old maps, but in some cases it is difficult to follow the lines, because of the additions made to the city territory and the lack of designation of streets in some of the outlying parts of town. Following are given the boundaries as agreed upon in the city, the boundaries named being in each case, in the following order: north, east, south and west:

Ward 1—Four precincts instead of three. Precinct 1, Willamette river, Twenty-fifth street, Pettygrove street and Cornell road, city boundary; precinct 2, Willamette river, Twenty-second, Savier, Twenty-fifth; precinct 3, Savier on north and east, Willamette, Savier, Twenty-second; precinct 4, Savier, Willamette river, Pettygrove, Twenty-fifth.

Ward 2—Six instead of five. Precinct 5, north and east Willamette river, Everett, Ninth; precinct 6, Pettygrove, Ninth, Irving Seventeenth; precinct 7, Pettygrove, Seventeenth, Irving, Twenty-first; precinct 8, Pettygrove, Twenty-first, Irving, Cornell road; precinct 9, Irving, Ninth, Everett, Seventeenth; precinct 10, Seventeenth, Everett, Cornell road.

Ward Three Gains One.

Ward Three—Six instead of five. Precinct 11, Everett, Willamette river, Burnside, to Fourth, then Couch, Park; precinct 12, Everett, Park, Washington, Twelfth, precinct 13, Everett, Twelfth, Washington, Ella; precinct 14, Cornell road and Everett, Ella, Barnes road and Washington, city boundary; precinct 15, Couch to Fourth, then Burnside, Willamette river, Oak, Park; precinct 16, Polk, Willamette river, Washington, Park.

Ward Four—Nine precincts, as before. Only change is in boundaries of precincts 21 and 22, now numbered 24 and 25, divided at Sixth street instead of Seventh. Precincts 14 to 22 are now 17 to 25.

Ward Five—Eleven instead of nine. Precinct 26, Jefferson, Willamette river, Market, Fourth; precinct 27, Market, Willamette river, Harrison, Fourth; precinct 28, Jefferson, Fourth, Harrison, Seventh; precinct 29, Jefferson, Seventh, Harrison, Eleventh; precinct 30, Jefferson, Eleventh, Harrison, Sixteenth; precinct 31, Jefferson, Sixteenth, Harrison, county road, Twenty-first and Jackson on south, Canyon road; precinct 32, Harrison, Willamette river; Lincoln Fifth; precinct 33, Lincoln, Willamette river, Caruthers, Fifth; precinct 34, Harrison, Fifth, Caruthers, Seventh and Patton road; precinct 35, Harrison, Seventh and Patton road, Patton road on south, Sixteenth street to Spring, then Fourteenth to Clifton, then Sixteenth; precinct 36, Jackson to Twenty-first, then county road and Harrison street on the east Sixteenth to Clifton, Fourteenth to Spring, then Sixteenth, city boundary, on west by city boundary and Canyon road.

Ward Six—Five precincts, as before, numbered 37 to 41 instead of 32 to 36. The only change is the addition of new territory, east half of section 8 to precinct 38.

Three More in Seven.

Ward Seven—Ten instead of seven. Precinct 42, Spokane avenue, east and south by city boundary, Willamette river; precinct 43, Bybee avenue (Locust avenue), city boundary, Spokane avenue, Willamette river; precinct 44, Colgate, Southern Pacific railroad, Bybee avenue, Willamette river; precinct 45, county road, extension of Colgate street, city boundary on east and south southern Pacific railroad; precinct 46, Division, East Sixteenth, Colgate, Willamette river; precinct 47, Division, city boundary county road, extension of Colgate, East Sixteenth; precinct 48, East Harrisan, East Twelfth, Division, Willamette river; precinct 49, Hawthorne avenue, East Twelfth, East Harrison, Willamette river; precinct 50, Hawthorne, First avenue, Division, East Twelfth; precinct 51, extension of Hawthorne avenue, city boundary on east and south, First avenue.

Big Gain in Ward Eight.

Ward Eight—Sixteen instead of nine. Precinct 52, East Stark, East Tenth, Hawthorne, Willamette river; precinct 53, East Stark, East Twentieth, Hawthorne, East Tenth; precinct 54, East Stark, East Twenty-eighth; Hawthorne, East Twentieth; precinct 55, East Stark extension, Base Line road, East Thirty-fifth, Hawthorne, East Twenty-eighth, precinct 56, Base Line road, Aurora avenue, Hawthorne, East Thirty-fifth; precinct 57, East Couch street extension, West avenue, extension of Hawthorne, Aurora avenue extension on west; precinct 58, takes in East Mount Tabor to West avenue on the west; precinct 59, Center addition; precinct 60, South Montavilla; precinct 61, North Montavilla; precinct 62, East Ankeny, East Tenth, East Stark, Willamette river; precinct 63, East Glisan, East Tenth, East Ankeny, Willamette river; precinct 64, East Glisan, East Seventeenth, East Stark, East Tenth, precinct 65, East Glisan and Sandy road, East Twenty-fourth, East Etark, East Seventeenth, precinct 66, East Couch, Aurora avenue, Base Line road, East Twenty-fourth; precinct 67, Sandy road and Halsey, to Center addition precinct line on east, East Couch, East Twenty-fourth.

New Number Is Eleven.

Ward Nine—Eleven instead of seven. Precinct 68, O. R. & N. railroad, Sandy road and East Glisan on east and south, O. R. & N. precinct 69, Halsey, East Ninth, O. R. & N., Willamette river; precinct 70, Halsey, O. R. & N. east and south, East Ninth; precinct 71, Hancock, East First, Halsey, Willamette river; precinct 72, Hancock, East Fifteenth, Halsey, East First; precinct 73, Fremont and extension of same, city boundary, Halsey and O. R. & N. track on south, East Fifteenth; precinct 74, Fremont, Albina avenue, Willamette river, south and west; precinct 75, Fremont, Commercial, Hancock, Albina; precinct 76, Fremont extension, Williams avenue, Hancock, Commercial; precinct 77, Fremont street extension, Union avenue, Hancock, Williams avenue; precinct 78, Fremont, East Fifteenth, Hancock, Union avenue.

NERVY NEWSBOY STOPS TEAM OF RUNAWAY DRAY HORSES

Driverless and hauling a heavy dray, a team of horses became frightened and started south on Fifth street early this morning. The streets were crowded with thousands of human beings hurrying in every direction like bees to reach their respective places of business on time. Faster and faster the horses went. Pedestrians narrowly escaped and watched the runaway horses continue on their mad journey to an unknown destination.

Strong men heard the horses coming and stood still, and saw the dashing steeds pass by. They were astonished. Not one of them made any endeavor to catch the frightened animals. At the corner of Fifth and Washington streets was a newsboy selling his papers to his early morning customers. He heard the runaway approaching and determined to act quickly.

Like a flash he jumped to the center of the street in the very path of the horses. People turned their heads and looked away. The boy grabbed a rein and was raised off the pavement. But he hung onto the line and was dragged along over the rough cobblestones. And then the horses stopped.

Mose Cohn, the newsboy, had proved himself a hero. A second afterward he was again on the corner selling his wares as if nothing had happened.

THREE BRANCHES OF SMITH FAMILY TREE AT SAME HOTEL

The Smiths were well represented at the Hotel Portland today. There was Mrs. James B. Smith, wife of a well-known San Francisco business man; Edmond F. Smith of Chicago, and John Smith of Cincinnati.

Vancouver as the name of a town also is on the register several times. But both are different Vancouvers. William Murray, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce of Vancouver, B. C., is among the guests. So is First Lieutenant G. V. Packer of Vancouver barracks, Washington. Lieutenant Packer is with the First infantry, which is to arrive here next June. He has just come from Plattsburg barracks, New York.

Among other well-known arrivals at the Portland this morning was Charles Sweeny, the millionaire mining man and financier of Seattle. Then there was Jacquest W. Redway, a member of the Royal Geographic society of London, who was a newspaper reporter here 30 years ago.

PORT-WINE JIMMY BECOMES BLAZING BOOZE DEMIJOHN

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—James Hopkins, a resident of the Ocean Shore House at Eleventh and Market streets, known as "Port Wine Jimmie" because of the amount of that spirituous beverage which he has consumed, came near being a blazing demijohn last night at the Russ House bar.

Hopkins sauntered into the barroom, where he was met by the usual jolly bunch. A scheme was immediately placed on foot by the bartender to give Jimmie an alcoholic bath, and before James could protest the brandy had been well poured over his entire body and one of the merry-makers suggested that they ignite the brandy. To suggest was to act with them, and so on James was a living blaze.

His lusty calls for help were met only with a shower of more brandy. Not until his clothing had been almost burned off did his tormentors realize the predicament that Hopkins was placed in. He was taken to the Central Emergency hospital where relief was administered.

GROCERY COMPANY FILES INCORPORATION

Articles of incorporation of the Interior Grocery company have been filed by W. B. Glafke, Fred Glafke Jr. and A. B. Winfree. It is launched with a capital stock of $50,000. The Glafkes are also stockholders of the W. B. Glafke company, which has filed supplementary articles adopted at a meeting of the stockholders yesterday.

WOMAN FEARED LOSING REASON

Mrs. Bradley Told Friend She Was Afraid That She Would Go Mad.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—At this afternoon's session of the Bradley case Samuel King of Salt Lake and Brown's intimate friend, testified that the defendant's reputation for keeping the peace was good.

Colonel M. M. Kaighn of Salt Lake, was recalled by the defense and said that the defendant was strong and healthy in 1898. He said that the defendant rushed into his office one day "declaring that Brown was abusing her and that she would go mad if she did not talk to me."

Kaighn told of the defendant's joy when Brown signed the papers acknowledging the parentage of the child. "On the question of Brown, the defendant was a monomaniac," said the witness.

Albert Barnes, assistant attorney-general of Utah, was on the stand when the court adjourned.

MAN WHO STOLE OWN CLOTHING SET FREE

"Clyde Esterbrook, petit larceny," read the clerk in the justice court this morning.

"That case is continued indefinitely," interposed Deputy District Attorney Bert Haney, and Esterbrook left the courtroom a free man again.

A week ago he found himself with a sick wife and a two-weeks-old almost blind baby on his hands. He had no money save that which came to him from his earnings as a waiter in a Washington street restaurant. His sick wife needed clothing and all they had was locked in their trunk, which was being held for room rent in a house at Seventh and Columbia.

Saturday night Esterbrook broke into the house and carried away a portion of his wife's clothing. He was arrested by detectives White and Batey, but the district attorney decided that he would not prosecute the case, providing Esterbrook keeps on working and supports his wife and child.

LAWYERS COMPLAIN OF LEGAL HOLIDAYS

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 21.—Many complaints are being made by the lawyers throughout the city against the continuance of the legal holidays, it being claimed that great hardship is being worked upon many people, inasmuch as certain of the judicial offices are allowed to ransact business while others are forced to remain closed. To back up this case, Attorney John Burke cited an instance this morning. Burke had a client to whom $11,000 was owing and on account of the legal holidays he was unable to levy an attachment upon the property of the debtor. Every effort was made to do so but the sheriff flatly refused, declaring that it would be illegal for him to do so.

In the meantime the debtor managed to transfer all of his property to a friend of his as the recorders office is allowed to remain open and transact business during the legal holidays. As a result of this Attorney Burke's client lost $11,000.

HORSE THIEF FAILS TO SELL GOOD TEAM

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Astoria, Or., Nov. 21.—About two weeks ago a man who gave the name of George Wright arrived here with two fine black horses and a wagon and tried to sell them cheap. He did not succeed and left them at a local stable and then disappeared.

It has been learned that the outfit belonged to Kelly's Transfer company, at Portland, and had been stolen. The stable will recover the team by paying the costs.

SOCIALISTS IN RACE AT PORT TOWNSEND

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Port Townsend, Wash., Nov. 21.—Socialists, who have not heretofore taken an active interest in politics in Port Townsend, filed with the city clerk a ticket of candidates nominated by them for the December election. The ticket embraces candidates for all administrative places in the city government.

HEARST IS HELD TO GRAND JURY

Chanler Charges Criminal Libel in Connection With the Hitchcock Story.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Nov. 21.—William R. Hearst was today held to the grand jury in the charge of criminal libel preferred against him by William Chanler. Bail was furnished.

Hearst printed a story saying that Chanler was implicated in inviting young girls to Actor Hitchcock's home.

POSSESSED OF DEVILS BUT WOULD LEAVE JAIL

Dusky John Williams Tries to Starve Out Imps but They Will Not Leave.

"I don't think the Lord wants me to stay in here. I know I am possessed all right, but I haven't done harm to anybody, and I want to get out. You know it was not me that caused this trouble, but the devils that possessed me, and it does no good to keep me in here."

John H. Williams, a dusky inmate of the insane ward at the county jail thus explained matters to visiting elders of the Church of God this morning. It was in their place of worship and residence on Hawthorne avenue that Williams became violently insane a few nights ago, or as the elders expressed it, "when he let the devils come back and possess him." Williams, who has rented a room at their place, has been possessed before, they say. They prayed with him and the devils took to their heels, but he has not been persistent in fighting these imps of ill fortune, and they returned.

To help conquer the devils Williams has been refusing food. Deputy Sheriff Bulger, the temporary jailer, apprised the Church of God visitors of that fact, and they advised him to eat. He said he thought he ought to fast. The elders also reminded him that the Apostle Paul when in prison refused to escape from his jailer when an earthquake came and gave him the opportunity.

"But this here is a different case," argued Williams. "I don't believe the Lord wants me to stay in here," and no amount of talk could shake his opinion on that point.

The Church of God people say that Williams is not a member of their flock, but he has sought their help when possessed, and they have prayed with him, as they would for any person who sought comfort from them.

AUSTRALIAN MINERS TO RETURN TO WORK

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—Advices contained in a cablegram received here this morning by J. & A. Brown, owners of a fleet of colliers that ply between here and Newcastle, Australia, report the settlement of the great strike in the coal fields. On Monday next the thousands of miners affected will return to work, with the exception of those formerly employed by the Hebburn colliers. As a direct result of the miners' strike railway and shipping lines were affected and business in the direct vicinity was left at a standstill.

STANDARD TO LOSE TENNESSEE CHARTER

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 21.—Judge Stout of Gallatin, Tennessee, today gave his opinion in the ouster suit against the Standard Oil company, filed by the Indiana Oil company, ordering the Standard's charter in Tennessee revoked.

Andrew Carnegie complains that he has been overtaxed. The picture shows Andrew Carnegie, the Carnegie hall, at the top, Carnegie mansion in the center, and below a map showing location of the Carnegie property on Ninetieth street. Mr. Carnegie declares that the present New York administration is taking advantage of his great wealth by seeking to collect vastly excessive taxes on his real estate holdings in the city. He has asked the court for a writ of certiorari to compel the tax board to reduce his assessments.

YOUNG GIRL HURT BY RUNAWAY TEAM

"Don't let papa know that I'm hurt" were the first words uttered by Miss Louise Collins, daughter of Judge Collins of The Dalles, as she recovered consciousness at St. Vincent's hospital this afternoon. Miss Collins was struck by a wagon tongue at Fourth and Oak streets at noon and was carried in the police ambulance to St. Vincent's.

Her father, who lives in The Dalles, is seriously ill with heart trouble, and the girl feared that the news of her accident would kill him. The doctors at the hospital said that she was not seriously hurt, and she was later removed to the Young Woman's Christian association, where she lives. She was cut slightly in the back of the head and her arm was bruised. Her watch was smashed and she lost the ruby setting from a ring.

Miss Collins and a companion were crossing Fourth street at Oak on their way to the Y. W. C. A. from Lowengart's wholesale millinery shops, where they work, at the time of the accident. A team became frightened at the hoisting engine working at the new building of the chamber of commerce and ran away, knocking Miss Collins down in their flight. The driver, as soon as he saw the girl had been injured, drove away, and his name was not learned.

SCHONIG MAY GO TO STATE ASYLUM

John F. Schonig will not be mayor of Portland though he may fill that exalted position up at Salem where the state puts its voters who have slipped a cog in the upper story. Mr. Schonig is in the county jail with a charge of insanity hanging over his head. It is very possible that he will take an involuntary journey up the valley in a very few days.

Mr. Schonig is the man who lately has announced himself as a candidate for mayor, but who before had come prominently before the people through the police court channel. Some little time ago he gave a banquet, being strong on such things, and after his guests had departed retired to his place of somnolence. In the night, however, a herd of pink rats, velvet-skinned alligators, diamond-toothed hyenas and some other assorted animals invaded the sanctity of his chamber and he arose in wrath and cast forth the remnants of the feast from an upper window.

Below an esteemed member of the Portland police was dreaming of the Emerald Isle when he was rudely aroused by the thumping of carrots, good Irish spuds, roast beef and other delicacies upon his helmet. He pulled Mr. Schonig, the proprietor, and took him to the city bastile. In due course of time he was released by the court after having contributed to the public funds.

A few nights ago Mr. Schonig, confident that he was destined to yet become the mayor of Portland, gave another dinner. Analogous to the old adage many were called but few got there. Some one who was not invited, however, made away with the desert and then telephoned Schonig that they had the thief in the county jail. The host called on the jailer at 1 o'clock in the morning looking for his desert and the thief and kept the guardian of wicked shivering in the open door and his pajamas while the tale of woe was related again.

Because of these little lapses, and others, Mr. Schonig's landlord swore to a complaint charging insanity and Schonig was arrested today while visiting the office of a physician. He will be examined by the county court as soon as possible.

FISH ARE KILLED BY EARTHQUAKE

Bed of Ocean Off Coast of Yucatan Is Changed by Mighty Upheaval.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Mexico City, Mexico, Nov. 21.—Navigators of vessels plying in the gulf trade bring to the capital sensational reports of the effects of a great upheaval in the ocean off the coast of Yucatan, due to submarine volcanic action.

They declare that in the recent upheaval which resulted in the killing of tons of fish on the gulf coast the bed of the ocean was changed and that soundings show great depths where formerly were shallow soundings and vice versa.

The reports also show that a number of small islands were inundated.

Inquiry at the department of war and marine showed that no report has been received showing any such condition and officials had heard nothing beyond the death of large numbers of fish.

TELEGRAPH OPERATOR DROWNS NEAR TACOMA

Fred McDonnell Attempts to Cross in Front of Tug and Loses His Life.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 21.—Fred McDonnell was drowned and Joe Floburg, his companion, narrowly escaped death at 6 o'clock last evening when the two, in a rowboat, were run down by the tug Favorite, owned by the Tacoma Tug & Barge company, in charge of Captain Burley.

The captain saw the boat and shouted a warning to them. Thinking they could cross ahead of the tug, they pulled the harder for shore. The tug struck the boat near the center, splintering it into fragments, throwing the occupants into the water.

Floburg was rescued, but McDonnell, it is believed, was stunned by the force of the collision and sank. McDonnell was a telegraph operator employed by the Western Union Telegraph company. His body has not been recovered.

DR. CARLL ACCEPTS PEOPLE'S NOMINATION

Enough Voters Pledged to Assure His Election Over Any Other Man.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Oregon City, Nov. 21.—Dr. W. E. Carll, who is nominated by a petition of nearly 500 citizens, as an independent candidate for mayor of this city, sends the following letter of acceptance to his host of constituents:

"I hereby accept the nomination for office of mayor of Oregon City and extend my heartfelt thanks to the citizens of Oregon City for the honor extended to me by the petition requesting me to accept the nomination.

"Should I be elected, I promise to use my utmost efforts to give this city a just and economical government without special favors to any person or persons, and a square deal to every citizen and taxpayer.

"W. E. CARLL."

Should another ticket be placed in the field with another candidate for the mayoralty, the preponderance of the voters having signed Dr. Carll's petition, would still make his election an assured fact.

The petitions to place the names of Edward Sheahan on the ticket as candidate for counciman of the second ward, and A. S. Hunt, for same in Third ward are on file with the recorder.

On aSturday, Recorder Dimick will mail to every voter a copy of the proposed excise law, together with all arguments for and against its adoption, and also a copy of the amendments proposed to the city charter.

MARGARET MADDOCKS DIES FROM INJURIES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Oregon City, Nov. 21.—Margaret Maddocks, the 12-year-old girl who was injured last August in a runaway at the head of Seventh street, died from the effect of her injuries at 11 o'clock last night. The little girl was riding on a load of lumber with her father, H. B. Maddock, at the time of her injury. The team had got beyond control, and while the father was holding the lines and the girl the brake, the team tore around into Jackson street, upsetting the lumber and the occupants, the lumber falling over them. The father was fatally injured and died 10 hours afterward. The little girl lingered ever since until death relieved her pain. Her funeral will be held from her mother's residence tomorrow forenoon at 10 o'clock.

GOVERNMENT UNJUST TO PROMINENT MEN

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Investigation of the New Mexico land frauds case has taken a startling change. Attorney-General Bonaparte, upon President Roosevelt's suggestion, sent a solicitor to General Hoyt to take the place of special agents McHard and Gordon. Governor Curry convinced the president that the present investigation is doing an injustice to prominent citizens.

NEW STORE FOR EAST SIDE.

Morgan-Atchley Co. Open Splendid Furniture and Housefurnishing Store.

In step with the remarkable growth of the east side is the newly established furniture house of the Morgan-Atchley company. This big store is truly a fine example, having a frontage of 60 feet, running back 100 feet, and an area of three floors. A particularly attractive feature of the new store is the modern glass front and beautiful show windows. The east side will doubtless feel a sense of pride in such an establishment.

The members of the firm are experienced merchants, with the very best business connections, and it is confidently expected they will at once command an enviable patronage.

DELEGATION WILL BOOST FOR OAKLAND

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 21.—The congressional delegates to the national rivers and harbors congress will leave for Washington tonight, taking the 10 o'clock train from Oakland.

The party will include 16, headed by ex-Governor Pardee. The delegation goes to Washington for the purpose of looking after the interest of Oakland harbor.

SETTLERS FAVORED

Land Board Adopts Rules Making Easy Sailing for Purchasers of Irrigated Land in Deschutes Region.

Changes of vital importance to settlers on irrigated lands under the Carey act have been made by the state land board. Rules drawn some time ago by State Engineer Lewis, and submitted to the board for adoption, have been modified in important details that will make them more favorable to the settler, and aid in attracting homeseekers to irrigated lands in this state.

The most important revision is that of the rule prescribing the requirements for final proof and patent. The original rule that would have required the settler to reside on the land as in the homestead law is changed so that the settler need only prove an actual residence of three months on the land. But he must also prove that he has one-eighth of the total irrigable area under actual cultivation.

The settler will be required to show three months' actual residence, one-eighth under cultivation, and prove up within three years, but he may prove up at any time after the three months' residence, at his option.

On final proof he receives from the land board a certificate which, on release of the construction company's lein, entitles him to a deed. He may transfer his land at any time after receiving his certificate, and give a warranty deed to which title will be finally confirmed by the patent.

Final payment and issuance of patent may be deferred by the settler if he desires for a year after he has proved up and received his certificate, which privilege will be a convenience to many who may have invested all their funds in improvements and have not yet realized from a crop sufficient money to pay the charges.

At an informal hearing given yesterday at Salem by two members of the state land board, Governor Chamberlain and Secretary Benson, these and other changes were agreed upon after an exhaustive showing made by J. O. Stearns and F. S. Stanley of the Deschutes Irrigation & Power company, who submitted evidence to prove that the rules originally proposed by the state engineer would have a disastrous result upon the efforts that are being made to bring settlers into the state and populate the irrigated lands under the Carey act.

The land board will have a meeting next Tuesday, when the revised rules will probably be adopted and immediately go into effect.

NO CRIME TO BREAK LAW IF NOT CAUGHT

Walsh's Lawyers Advance Novel Plea on Behalf of Accused Financier.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Walsh's lawyers offered a novel plea in the defense of Walsh this morning:

That if the king of finance "violates the law and succeeds" he ought not to be punished. They claim that if a banker violates the specific terms of the law intended to protect depositors, to insure the protection, that he observes the spirit, though he ignores the law's letter.

Prosecutor Dobyns characterized the sensational plea as "Napoleonic theory or military expedient, that the success justifies the disobedience."

The defense was based on Moxey's admission that on nearly $1,000,000 of collateral in which Walsh had borrowed from the Chicago National bank he realized the amount this bank advanced.

WORKMEN PLANNING TO BAR AUSTRIANS

Rumored That Movement Is on Foot to Have Foreigners Ousted From Mills.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Oregon City, Nov. 21.—It is rumored about the streets among labor circles that petitions to the Willamette Pulp & Paper and the Crown-Columbia Paper companies requesting the nonemployment of Austrians and other foreigners who have been working in these mills all the summer, is being circulated. The reason alleged to be given for such a step is that these people belong to a cheap labor class.

Many of the millmen say that they will refuse to sign any such petition, as they consider these Austrian workmen desirable people, men who want the same wages as any American citizen requires. They further say that not the Austrians, but Americans, leaving small farms outside of town to winter in the mills, are the cheap labor people, if any such exist here.

Hermann and His Persecutors.

The many friends of Hon. Binger Hermann were glad to greet him on his arrival home. The most sincere expressions of sympathy are extended to him in these days of the nefarious attempts to defame his character by a lot of murderers, perjurers and criminals of deepest shade, and the hope is most earnestly expressed that he will triumph over them as successfully in the future as in the past.

JOURNAL HAS NEW HOME PHONE NUMBER

The Journal office has been equipped with a "central" of the Home telephone system. Persons desiring to call any department of the office may do so by ringing A-6051. When "central" answers you simply ask for the advertising room, the editor, the city editor, sporting editor, society editor, telegraph editor, news editor or whatever person or department you may desire to communicate with.
