

EAST SIDE WILL FIGHT FOR NEW ALBINA BRIDGE

Business Associations, Backed by Property Owners, Determined to Secure Another Highway Across Willamette—Tunnel Not Thought Feasible.

"Bridges that were built 17 years ago to accommodate the population of Portland at that time, which was less than 60,000, are pressed into service today for a city of more than 100,000 inhabitants and the people are complaining because the transit across the bridges is inadequate." Says Judge M. G. Muniz, president of the Northwest Side Improvement association. "A retrospective view of statistics of population and values is enlightening on this bridge question."

"In 1887, the first Morrison street bridge was built by a private corporation. It was afterward taken over by the city. In 1888 the steel bridge was constructed by the Oregon Railway & Navigation company and by an arrangement compelled through charter rights the railway company added the upper deck about as good as a second, but which is the entrance to the city of one fourth its population. In 1893 the Madison street bridge was built by private parties and the city built the Burnside bridge in 1891. It will be noted that all these bridges were built primarily for the population of East Portland and none for what was then Albina."

"The population of Portland in 1890 was 67,447, of East Portland, 17,762. It was for this population three bridges were thrown across the river above the steel bridge. The population of the city of Albina was 2,284. Since Albina has been admitted to the city the municipality has maintained for us a free ferry."

"Since 1889 when the steel bridge was built the changes have been incredible. The population of Portland has increased to more than 200,000 and the growth north of Sullivan's gulch has been greater than any other portion of the city. It is best determined by the tax rolls. The assessed valuation of the whole city in 1890 was about $25,000,000. The assessed valuation of the east side alone is now $16,850,305. It is safe to say the selling value of east side property is $20,000,000."

"Now the assessed valuation of property north of Sullivan's gulch is $57,331 more than the assessed valuation of the property on the east side, south of Sullivan's gulch, which gives some idea of the growth of the north portion since 1890, when its population was only 6,000 compared with 11,000 of the south portion, including St. Johns with a population of 4,000 and property values assessed at nearly $2,500,000. "We believe, therefore, that a high bridge is needed across the river from perhaps Hancock street to the terminal grounds on the west side. We intend to frame a petition to be placed before the voters at the next city election asking for an appropriation large enough to build such a bridge that will cross the river in such a manner that no draw will be needed to permit the passage of the largest boats."

"We have investigated the proposal to tunnel beneath the river and have found that it would be impracticable as well as undesirable. A tunnel could be driven anywhere on the east side, with a practicable grade, nearer the river than Union avenue. That thoroughfare is 153 feet above the water level at the river at a medium stage."

"The river in some places is nearly 100 feet deep and a depth at which a tunnel could be placed would be nearly 300 feet, making a grade absolutely too great either for teams or streetcars. The loose, gravelly composition of the river bed would also make it very expensive for tunneling."

"On the other hand a bridge from, say, Hank street could be constructed at a minimum of expense. There would be practically no approach on the east side. The bridge would be built on a level with the high bluff above Montgomery slough. There would be no property to be damaged because no property would be damaged."

"In many cases, in fact every case where a bridge is built, the property between the two ends of the bridge and the river is damaged. The bridge converts first stories to basements. In this case there is no property on the east side that would be affected and the landing on the west side would be in the terminal yards where no property would be affected. We have received much encouragement from Mayor Lane and Manager O'Brien of the Harriman lines and feel that we can accomplish our object of a high bridge from Hancock to Park streets within the next three or four years. It will take perseverance, but we are determined."

"We understand, are expecting to become deputies under Mr. Moser, should the latter be elected district attorney in June next. Mr. Fitzgerald has the same aspiration should Judge Cameron be the lucky man."

"According to the rumored coalition between Mr. Moser and Judge Cameron, by which Moser is to run for the office and Cameron is to be his chief deputy, both splitting up the salaries equally, this appointment of deputies would make Mr. Moser's list full, as it would give Judge Cameron the deputy places to Mr. Upton and Mr. Boys. Both of these latter gentlemen have said that they have been promised the places."

"Should the coalition be switched and Judge Cameron enter the race as leader, about the same coalition could exist, since Mr. Moser would be the chief deputy, Mr. Fitzgerald one of the others, and Mr. Upton and Mr. Boys would remain as deputies. According to the conference of the two chiefs, all of this arrangement, however, is dependent upon the election of either Mr. Moser or Judge Cameron at the election following the primaries."

AT THE THEATRES

Last Time "Royal Chef" Tonight.
Tonight at 8:15 o'clock the last performance of the famous musical comedy success, "The Royal Chef," will be given at the Hellig theatre, Fourteenth and Washington streets. Pretty girls, catchy music and an abundance of laughs are the predominant features. If you want to enjoy a good laugh see "The Royal Chef." Seats are selling at theatre.

"College Widow" Tomorrow Night.
Henry W. Savage's production of George Ade's comedy, "The College Widow," will be the attraction at the Hellig theatre, Fourteenth and Washington streets, tomorrow, Sunday, and Monday nights. Seats are now selling at theatre.

"The Rollicking Girl" at Hellig.
The musical comedy success, "The Rollicking Girl," will be the attraction at the Hellig theatre, Fourteenth and Washington streets, next Tuesday and Wednesday nights, November 27 and 28. The comedienne, Edith Edwards, will bring with this merry company. Seats are selling at theatre.

"Johnny" Leaves Tonight.
Tonight will be the last opportunity to see the San Francisco opera company at the Marquam in "When Johnny Comes Marching Home." There has been no other light opera this season which has given more genuine satisfaction than this particular attraction.

"The Pit" Closes Tonight.
There is only one more chance to see "The Pit" at Baker theatre, and that will be tonight. The well-nigh perfect production of this great modern piece has done much towards educating many people up to the fact that Portland has a stock company of the highest class.

Last Performance.
The last performance of "The Dangers of a Working Girl" will be given at the Star theatre tonight by the French stock company. The plot concerns a gang of conspirators who are interested in the white slave traffic, the gang being run to earth and punished by a clever detective.

"A Stranger" Matinee.
There will be another chance to see that funny show "A Stranger in a Strange Land" at the Lyric this afternoon. The Lyric company is the best former records for the manufacture of laughs.

Sunday at the Grand.
An interesting and entertaining matinee program is being given at the Grand. This bill will continue on tomorrow night, with the usual Sunday performances. The headliner is Mlle. Orietta, the international clairvoyant, whose mind reading feats have mystified everyone.

"A Wife's Secret" Tonight.
Tonight will close the run of the famous melodrama, "A Wife's Secret," at the Empire. This is the fourth successful season of the play through the east, but it's first visit to Portland. It will leave record for being one of the best of its kind that has visited the city for a long time.

Klamath Steamer Made Over.
(Special Dispatch to the Journal.)
Klamath Falls, Or., Nov. 22.—The steamer Winema, on upper Klamath lake, is to be thoroughly overhauled, and a heavy season next year in preparation for passengers, carrying. The Winema was a violent wind storm last summer and was raised and put in commission again.

DAIRYMEN PLAN OPPOSITE LINE OF FRUIT STEAMERS

Will Advertise Products Which Amounted to $17,000,000 This Year. Mexican-Pacific Company's Vessels Direct to Portland From Tropics.

The great interest that has been manifested in Oregon fruit fairs and displays has aroused the men throughout the state who are interested in the development of the dairy industry, and the convention to be held in this city December 12 and 13 will be the most important meeting of the kind ever held in the Pacific northwest.

Two floors of the Woodmen's hall, corner Eleventh and Alder, have been engaged to accommodate this convention. The basement will be used for an exhibit of the products of the dairy and creamery, and also to give machinery dealers devoted to this particular trade a chance to exhibit. The second floor will be used as the convention hall. Exhibits will be put in place Wednesday, December 11, and all participants expected to have their displays in applicable order by 9 o'clock Thursday morning. All delegates are asked to attend this hour, where they will be given handsome badges which have been ordered for the occasion. The program proper will begin promptly at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

President Judd is making a special trip over the state in behalf of the convention and reports the business interest everywhere. Secretary Kent is actively at work on the preliminary details that mean success for the meeting. The fact that the fruit crop of Oregon, which has received thousands of columns of press notices, amounted this year to $5,000,000, while the dairy products of the state this year represented a value of $17,000,000 with but little sold outside the magnitude of the industry, will be discussed at the convention.

A feature not mentioned in the program is the reception to be tendered delegates at the Portland Commercial club on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. There will be music, refreshments, and perhaps informal addresses by some of the business men of Portland and the state, who have a cordial invitation to attend this reception.

At the conclusion of the convention its proceedings will be gotten out in an elaborate form for circulation all over the United States. The awards offered for exhibits are undoubtedly the most attractive ever offered in a similar event.

PUBLIC EXITS MUST ALL SWING OUTWARD

City Attorney to Draft New Ordinance Regulating Door Movement.

City Attorney Kavanaugh was instructed by the committee on police and health of the city council today to draft an ordinance requiring doors and exits of churches, theatres, stores and other public buildings to open outwardly. The action of the committee was taken in pursuance to a communication from the Oregon Republican Civic League calling the committee's attention to the necessity of such an ordinance to safeguard the public in case of fires or riots.

It is probable that the committee will insert the ordinance into the new building ordinance which is nearly ready to be reported to the council for passage.

Marie Cahill Coming.

For the first time in her career Marie Cahill, long New York's favorite comedienne, will visit the Pacific coast in her "smart" musical play, "Marrying Mary." She will be seen at the Hellig December 1.

COMPROMISES SUIT AGAINST COMPANY

A compromise in the case of B. A. Garner against the Wind River Lumber company for $2,000 damages, was reached in the United States district court yesterday. The plaintiff settled for $2,000. The compromise also includes a suit filed against the same concern by the father of young Garner at The Dalles for $500. Garner's hand was severely injured while working in a sawmill operated by the lumber company.

Marvelous Invention Cures Weak Men

Patent Granted by the United States Government.

A new and scientific appliance invented by L. B. Hawley, M. D., will produce full manly power at first application. The effects are immediate and startling to a high degree. Develops, strengthens and cures lost vigor. Positively no failures. Physicians endorse and use it in their practice. If you are the least skeptical as to the value of this remarkable treatment, send for illustrated circulars, take them to your family physician and get his opinion. This is the first time any one has requested you to take his circulars to your family physician. Why? Simply because he knows your physician will not recommend his treatment. Not so with this appliance. Your doctor will immediately grasp the idea, and when he does he will recommend it. Nothing like it has ever been sold before. It works the same on every individual. Send today for free descriptive circular of this wonderful instrument. The moment you see it you will realize its possibilities. No C. O. D. or free trial schemes to catch the unwary. This is a plain business proposition that will appeal to you as the greatest opportunity ever offered to those who are weak. Address L. B. Hawley, M. D., 1020C, Wisner building, Rochester, N. Y.

Arrangements to run a regular line of fruit steamers between Portland, Puget sound and Mexico have materialized to such an extent that soon after the first of the year George L. Campbell, of this city, vice president of the Mexican-Pacific company, and the other officers of the concern which is to operate the boats, will leave for the month to inspect their new properties and the progress that is being made in building docks at Acapulco harbor. Thousands of acres of planting land have been secured by the company along the western coast of Mexico. This soil is to be cultivated extensively and the products shipped by the company's own line of steamships to San Francisco, Portland and the cities on Puget sound. These are the present plans of the Mexican-Pacific company.

Whether new boats will be purchased for this service or whether several vessels have been leased for the time being has not yet been decided by the fruit concern. The number of boats that will be necessary to handle the business has not been decided upon definitely.

For this purpose Mr. Campbell of Portland, Moritz Thomsen of Seattle, who is president of the company, and the other officers will make a trip to Mexico in January. They will visit the possessions of the company, Acapulco harbor and other interests that they have recently acquired.

The Mexican-Pacific company is capitalized at $5,000,000. It was organized more than a year ago. During the last few weeks, however, business interests at Victoria and Vancouver, British Columbia, have been combined with those of the Americans and several wealthy men of Mexico city, Mexico.

Luis Barra, an attorney of Mexico city who is at the Hotel Portland on his way home, has been spending several weeks in British Columbia and Seattle consulting the Canadian interests together with those of the Seattle and Portland men and those interests of Mexico city which he represents.

Some of the finest land in Mexico is said to be under the ownership of the Mexican-Pacific people. In addition to the cultivating of citrus fruits of various kinds the company will buy extensively, shipping all of its produce to the coast via the Pacific.

According to the present arrangements of the officers the vessels will make visits to those ports every few weeks. The vessels will be of great quantities of fruit, but passengers and other freight as well.

HELMAR FUNERAL HELD AT CREMATORY

Funeral services over the remains of Frederick Helmar, a prominent business man of Portland, who died Wednesday at St. Vincent's hospital, were held at the crematorium yesterday.

Mr. Helmar was a German, but had made his home in Oregon for the last 35 years. He represented in Portland Lindenberg & Co., a packing firm of Berlin, and was also employed by the Friedman Packing company in this city.

EASILY MADE TRAP FOR CODLIN MOTHS

W. J. Van Dammé of this city, who lived in Clackamas county 30 years ago, made a discovery for the extermination of codlin moths, so destructive to the fruit raisers, which he says if put into use early in the spring of each year will work wonders in catching millions of these little pests.

Mr. Van Dammé's system is as follows: Take a sackcloth and saturate it well with sweet cider. Then hang the sack in the orchard with one end open. At night place a lantern five or six feet away, the light of which will attract the moths. In the morning the sack will contain all the moths in the neighborhood. The time to put this trap into working order is just at the time the fruit trees begin to blossom.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

The Well Informed of the World.
A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtlessly it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

BROOM WILL SWEEP OVER WHOLE CITY

Portland is going to have such a cleaning up one of these days as was never heard of before in the city's history all because of the fact the city council will be asked to pass an ordinance compelling the cleaning up of basements, garages, depositories and other places where rats can find a harbor for safety and food.

Rats will be the object of pursuit in a grim war that will be waged for the purpose of exterminating the carriers of fleas and bubonic plague. Docks, warehouses, restaurants, groceries, hotels and all other places where a rat can get a square meal will be compelled to clean up their places so that the rats will be unable to get at the food supplies lying about.

This was decided upon at a meeting of the police and health committee of the city council yesterday when the members instructed City Health Officer Esther C. Pohl to draw up an ordinance compelling property owners to keep their property clean and free from rats. The ordinance will be drawn in time to be presented to the city council for passage next week.

Jay Upton and John Edward Boys, both well known in Portland, are planning their hopes of future officialdom upon the election of Gus C. Moser to the office of district attorney. J. J. Fitzgerald, deputy city attorney, is doing the same thing, only George J. Cameron is his sole competitor.

DR. N. J. FULTON, Naturopath.

Never Give Up

If you have suffered and vainly tried all kinds of remedies, and have almost saturated yourself with patents and drugs, don't give up all hope.

But Come to Me

I am curing just such diseases as yours without a morsel of medicine—without a drug of any kind—but by the naturopathic method only, which means according to nature.

I Heal the Sick

Permanently and effectually, and there are no drug bills to pay, and no drug poisons left in the system.

I Have Cured Rheumatism

That has tortured the patients for years, and stomach troubles that have baffled the skill of the most renowned of drug physicians, also nervous afflictions, female diseases, irritabilities, lame backs, neuralgic affections, sick headaches, and many other diseases to which the human family is subject.

To Inquiring Ones

I will gladly give the names and addresses of scores of persons whom I have cured, and these will just as gladly tell the story of their restoration.
