

WON SECOND PRIZE IN ROSE FESTIVAL DESIGN CONTEST

Colista M. Murray

Colista M. Murray, whose design for the Rose Festival contest won the second prize of $15 offered by The Journal, and a copy of which is shown in today's Journal, is an Oregon artist and is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural college, having received her diploma from that institution in 1898.

After her graduation from the Corvallis school, Miss Murray spent two years studying in the art department of the Drexel institute in Philadelphia. She returned to her home in Portland after finishing her course in Philadelphia and did portrait work for a local engraving house for some time. She is now, however, working independent and devoting herself to the study and practice of art, her studio being at 746 East Yamhill street.

The design of Harold P. Reinhart, the 16-year-old boy, whose design was accorded the first prize by the committee of three, was reproduced in The Journal of yesterday. Reinhart is the son of Jacques Reinhart of 651 Kearney street, and is a student in the West Side High school.

With Miss Murray's design is a key for the colors, it being her idea to have the roses done in pink with green leaves, thus combining the colors of the Portland Rose society, pink and green, with the design of the festival association.

COURT BUSINESS ONLY IS CHECKED

Judge Lowell of Pendleton Says People Take Holidays Too Seriously.

Stephen A. Lowell of Pendleton, who represented the business interests of that city at the business men's convention yesterday, believes that the existing holidays will have to be continued until January 1 in order to protect the banks. Judge Lowell, however, contends that public officials are taking the holidays too seriously, thus hampering the business conditions of the state unnecessarily. He believes that practically all business except the holding of open court may be done.

"It now seems probable that the existing bank holidays, so-called, will continue until the new year," said Judge Lowell.

the people as to the effect of holidays upon business procedure and upon the courts. The chief inconvenience which has resulted, and which will result from the holiday experiment arises from an extreme and uncalled for construction of the holiday statute by public officials. The fact is that there is no legal reason, in my opinion, why the offices of the sheriffs, recorders and county clerks throughout the state should not transact in all respects their ordinary business in the usual way.

"All business can be transacted and all papers filed in holidays as in all other days, except as inhibited by statute."

The only statutory prohibition is upon the courts, the law declaring that courts shall not sit and judicial business shall not be transacted upon holidays. The work of subordinate officials, the filing and recording of papers, and the service thereof when necessary, is in no sense judicial business and can proceed at all times in holidays as in ordinary days.

"If all the county clerks and recorders and sheriffs would realize this, and perform the duties of their offices there would not be great inconvenience. The actual court business, of course, cannot be tried, and orders, judgments and decrees cannot be entered. All other business among the people and in the courts is legal in my opinion."

"The criterion is whether the acts done are judicial in their character." Many Christmas stocks are being displayed and buying is as good as ever.

LOTS OF MONEY AND THE HOLIDAYS HURT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Roseburg, Or., Dec. 2.—The holiday question is causing more disturbance in this city now than the money question. There are many business matters that cannot be settled. In the city council some very important matters are held up. On the other hand, there is more money in the county now than before it came up. People here seem to have plenty of confidence in the situation, and business in every line is as good as usual at this time of year. Many Christmas stocks are being displayed and buying is as good as ever.

ESEPE FIRES JAPS; TAKES BACK WHITES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., Dec. 2.—The Southern Pacific has recognized the petition of the white section hands who were discharged here recently and whose places were taken by Japanese at lower wages, and orders have been received to reinstate them. The men who were laid off circulated a petition among the business men of the city and it was unanimously signed. They will receive $1.50 a day while the Japs were being paid only $1.25 a day.

TRIBUTE PAID TO DEPARTED ONES

Elks' Lodge Holds Memorial Services for Members Who Have Died.

Elks paid tribute to their departed dead yesterday in beautiful memorial services held at the First Presbyterian church. Rev. Andreas Bard, rector of St. Paul's Walla Walla, and chaplain of the Walla Walla lodge of Elks, delivered the address, and Gus C. Moser the eulogy.

Mr. Moser referred with feeling to the deaths in the past year of Frank C. Baker, M. L. Tichner, J. H. Cunningham, T. B. Howes, H. W. Goode, Fred W. Works, W. C. Puffer, A. N. Wright, E. Hogeboom, R. L. Cate and Hamilton E. Brooke. To each the speaker paid tribute.

In his address, Rev. Andreas Bard said: "Our eulogies today have little worth, if they are confined to the dead. From their tomb we should rise with chastened spirits to adorn with flowers the brow of the brother whose presence is still near us, whose hand is clasped in ours, whose ear can yet hear the kindly word, whose heart can cherish the flaming love. It is not yet that we should wait for death to unseal our lips."

"Cheers for the living and tears for the dead! Ease the brow now pressed by the crown of thorns. Bind the wound that bleeds today. The custom of honoring the dead is as old as time; the custom of honoring the living, but little understood. An ante-mortem flower is better than a post-mortem bouquet; a smile on this side of the grave more appreciated than a lengthy eulogy after death. Like people climbing the Alps, we are linked together, not that the falling should drag his brother down, but that those who stand should support the stumbling. Let there be one day in the year set apart for the glory of the living. We shall observe Memorial Sunday in the truest sense if its solemn rights have inspired us with deeper regard for the struggling brother at our side."

"The creed of this order is short, but it is long enough when we try to live up to it. Justice, fidelity, charity, brotherly love."

MUSICIANS GIVE CONCERT IN HONOR OF NOTED COMPOSER

A memorial concert in honor of Edward Hagerup Grieg, the famous Norwegian composer, was given yesterday afternoon in Ellers Music hall under the auspices of the Norwegian Singing society. The auditorium was crowded.

With the exception of the opening march, Marcella Funebre, by Dr. Emil Enna, the entire program was from Grieg's extensive productions. Dr. Enna opened the program with the march he had written in memory of the great composer.

The Norwegian Singing society followed with "Landsighting," one of the Norwegian master's greatest chorus works. Miss Elizabeth Roben sang "I Love Thee," one of his famous love songs.

Dr. Emil Enna delivered the memorial address, in which he spoke of Grieg as one of the greatest and most noble musicians of our day, whose death occurring at the height of his successful career. He described him as the idol, not only of the music-loving people of the world, but of the greatest and most distinguished musicians of all nations.

After the address, the following numbers were rendered: "Butterfly" op. 43, No. 1, played by the composer on the Welton-Mignon; violin solo, "Anne's Death" from "Peer Gynt," by Seth Stury; soprano solo, Lyric piece, op. 15, Dr. Emil Enna; solo and chorus, "The Great White Multitude," Mrs. J. H. Walker and the Norwegian Singing society.

A large painting of Grieg, draped in colors, occupied a prominent position in the auditorium. It is the work of A. Berger, a Norwegian portrait painter, who recently located here.

Grieg was born in Bergen, Norway, June 15, 1843, and died at the same place on the 4th of September, 1907. He was planning a visit to the United States next year.

BUY PRESENTS EARLIER THAN USUAL AND MAKE OTHERS HAPPY

"Buy your presents early—early in the day and in December. That will be your biggest gift of the holidays—to the workers behind the counters and to the delivery wagon drivers."

In the interests of the thousands of shop girls and saleswomen in all parts of the United States a concerted movement has been started by several people of prominence, philanthropically inclined, to lessen the burden for those who have to take care of the holiday trade by selling the little presents and remembrances that go to make so many others happy.

"Buy your presents early" circulars have recently been received in Portland by the tradesmen and others. Such men as Jacob Rills Mark Twain, Edward Bok, of the Ladies' Home Journal, Richard Watson Gilder, and others of equal prominence, are the originators of the idea.

IDAHO SHEEP THIEVES MARKET ENTIRE BAND

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Lewiston, Ida., Dec. 2.—Thomas Graham and Archie Craig, well-known residents of the upper Snake river country, are under arrest on charges of stealing 348 head of sheep owned by Coffin and Hepton and delivering them to the Lewiston stockyards for shipment to coast points. The men were arraigned before Justice of the Peace George E. Erb and their bonds fixed at $500 each for their appearance.

The discovery of the stolen sheep was entirely accidental. Mr. Hepton and a herder who had been in charge of a portion of the sheep during the summer were at the stockyards delivering hogs for shipment when the herder discovered a particular black-faced sheep that had been in his herd. He called Mr. Hepton's attention to it and it was then found that the entire herd bore the Coffin & Hepton brand.

among the American people—to those who are getting ready to commence their annual Christmas shopping. Millions of the letters have been mailed and are now being delivered by old Uncle Sam.

This movement will no doubt assist the merchants in handling greater volumes of business as it will remind the people to buy early during the month of December. It will call the matter to the attention of the many people who through mere thoughtlessness have added to the work of the many shop girls and saleswomen and the others about the various stores who find the holidays a time to be dreaded instead of a time of pleasure.

An Electric Porch Light

A World of Protection at an Atom of Cost

You may go to your club—or attend to your business nights, feeling secure for the loved ones at home—if you'll install an ELECTRIC PORCH LIGHT.

Upon a ring at the doorbell the button may be pushed and the porch lighted up. The person within can readily see who is seeking admittance, and may deny entrance to the caller, if it is desired.

Police Departments throughout the country strongly advocate the use of porch lights, as there is a class of thieves that makes a specialty of entering houses unprotected by the presence of men.

Electric Light is the ideal light for the porch, as the wind cannot blow it out.
