At central W. C. T. U., Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Ella G. Himes, delegate to the national convention, was present. She reported great enthusiasm in this convention, and spoke of the remarkable demonstration made. They were royally entertained in the homes of the people of Nashville welcome night. The convention was addressed by the mayor of Nashville. The greatest occasion was the closing night, when over $1,000 was raised. Mrs. Himes gave an interesting account of Mrs. U. N. Stevens, who has been president since Mrs. Willard's death. She spoke of the W. C. T. U., which is the most successful organization given whenever any occasion for rejoicing arose. At the close of the program refreshments were served. Next week Mrs. Lela Baldwin will speak on the work of the Travelers' Aid society.

The Northeast Side Improvement association will meet in the Woodmen of the World hall, on Russell street, tomorrow evening for the purpose of taking up further the plans for a high bridge across the Willamette river below the present site of the steel bridge. The membership campaign is also progressing rapidly. Cards have been distributed among those who are not members, stating the purposes of the organization. When these are signed and turned in to the secretary the signers become active members.

Court Pacific 1247, Independent Order Foresters, at their last regular meeting elected the following officers for 1908: Chief ranger, Frank D. Van Meter, vice-chief ranger, L. E. Finn, H. S. William Adams, F. S. F. Le Grande, treasurer, E. E. Gilmer, orator, C. C. Schumacher, S. W. A. Jones, J. W. H. R. Leech, S. B. D. F. Holt, J. B. O. E. Gullison, court deputy, S. L. Hicks, trustees, J. A. Stone and C. C. Schumacher, court physician, Dr. D. H. Rand.

Another disciple of Gutenberg has closed his last form and gone to eternal rest. James Burke, better known among the printing fraternity as just plain "Jimmy," succumbed to a lengthy illness at St. Vincent's hospital last Monday. The remains are at Erickson's undertaking parlors and arrangements for the funeral are to be made today. Burke was a well-known character in Portland, being one of the oldest printers in the city.

Phil Mettschan Sr., of the Imperial hotel, who is traveling abroad, will arrive at Naples tomorrow. Last month he visited the great Assommoir and has since been enjoying himself along the Nile. Mr. Mettschan will spend the winter in Nice, Italy, where he is employed formerly as a hotelier and tradesman, retired, accompanied by his wife, who is also living temporarily.

The following articles were found on streetcars yesterday: Fifteen umbrellas, one pair eyeglasses, five packages, two small baskets, one child's outfit, two letters, one pair shoes, two small boxes, one watch, one ring, one O. W. P. building first and Alder streets.

Mail & Von Horstel sold the southwest corner of Fourteenth and East Ankeny streets for $5,000. The lot, which has two residences on it, belonged to Edward Schiller. Eliza J. Troupe was the purchaser. The south side lot in East Portland Heights, belonging to Mrs. Kate Stewart, to Mrs. Stahl.

Dr. Robert C. Yennery, secretary of the state board of health, who sustained a broken arm and other painful injuries several weeks ago by falling from his carriage one dark, rainy night, is getting along nicely at St. Vincent's hospital. He will be able to leave the hospital within a few days.

It is reported M. H. Rankin borrowed the $42,000 from the Title Guarantee & Trust Co. and put up as collateral his own stock in the Independent Coal & Ice Co. to the amount of $90,000. This is to correct the statement that the Independent Coal & Ice Co. borrowed this amount.

Commencing Saturday, December 7th, 1907, the Vancouver, Woodlawn, Albion, Russell-Shaver and Broadway cars, will cross the river westerly over Burnside bridge, and easterly over steel bridge, until further notice, owing to repairs on Burnside bridge.

A still alarm was turned in from West Park and Washington streets at 10 o'clock this morning, caused by the burning out of the furnace flue at H. L. Hittcock's residence.

AT THE THEATRES

"All Due to Diana" at the Lyric.

If you haven't laughed with the Allen Stock company at the Lyric this week you have missed one of the best events of the week. "All Due to Diana," is the bill and a funny one was never presented on a local stage. Every member of the company is making good and the audiences are delighted to the highest pitch.

"Yon Yonson" at Empire.

That best Swedish character play, "Yon Yonson," is still doing business at the old stand, the Empire, this week and the announcement that Ben Hendricks is again playing his favorite role of the bland and innocent young Swede who has been enough to fill the cozy theatre nightly. It is a play full of surprises, "Yon Yonson" is.

"The Daughters of Men."

The Baker company never produced a stronger play than the great Klein drama, "The Daughters of Men," which is attracting universal attention all this week from theatre-goers. This is the first production of the play in the west, and great credit is due Manager George L. Baker for the progressive spirit displayed in obtaining it for Portland.

London Girls.

The five Ballatzer sisters are London girls, who they appeared at the Hippodrome in the same act which they use this week at the Grand. They are five of the best trained girl athletes in the world and their feats of agility and daring are marvelous. The girls have made a sensation with their work in Portland. Herbert Brenon and Helen Downing offer a little one-act comedy, "One Christmas Eve."

"James Boys in Missouri."

Breaking records is the story at the Star theatre this week, where "The James Boys in Missouri" is being played by the French stock company. There is not an idle moment in any of the four acts and the situations are all of an exciting or comedy nature. The early life of the outlaws in the home in Missouri is shown.

Sarah Truax Tomorrow Night.

Sarah Truax, in the delightfully engrossing and highly humorous three-act drama from the pen of that gifted author, John Hutchins, comes to the Lyric theatre tomorrow (Friday) evening, for an engagement of four performances, including a special price matinee Saturday. This promise to be one of the most notable offerings of the local theatrical season.

Seat Sale for Fritz Scheff.

The advance seat sale will open tomorrow (Friday) morning for Fritz Scheff at the box office of the Heilig theatre, Fourteenth and Washington streets. This coming queen will present "Moll Modiste" at the above theatre for four nights, beginning next Monday, December 9.

"Said Pasha."

George Kunkel, the comedian of the San Francisco opera company, is having one of the best comedy roles ever assigned him this week in "Said Pasha," the attraction at the Marquam. Kunkel has a role which keeps the audience in convulsions whenever he is on the stage. His local gags, timely hits and interpolated business makes "Said Pasha" even merrier than when it was originally written.
