WEATHER REPORT

A severe storm is approaching the mouth of the Columbia river and storm warnings were ordered last night at 5:45 octobek at all coast scaports and extended at 7:30 this morning to inland navigable waters.

The main portion of the western high pressure area has moved to the lower Mississippi valley, but a small part re-mains central over the northern Rocky mountain states and it has caused clear and very cold weather in southeastern Idaho, Wyoming and western Nebraska. The temperatures over the southern portion of the country from the Pacific to the Atlantic coasts the Atlantic coasts are also unusu-

Light rain has fallen in western Oregon and western Washington and light snew continues in the middle Atlactic states. At Portland a light fall of snew preceded the rain.

The indications are for rain and warmen weather in the district tonight.

warmer weather in this district tonight and Friday, with high southerly winds in the interior and a strong southerly gale along the coast. Temp.-
