

BREWERS DO NOT AGREE

Danger of Disruption of the Organization Over Question of Carrying on Warfare Against Prohibitionists in the State.

Brewery interests of the state are at war over what should be done to promote the prosperity of the business and maintain its life, and as a result there is danger of an open split in the ranks of the Oregon Breweries association before many more meetings have been held. There are two factions in the association, one of which desires to make open political war in behalf of the brewing interests, the other being more conservative and fearful of open political agitation.

Yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the association these two factions were in evidence but, so the members of the association say, there was no spirit of that of harmony prevailing over the deliberations of the body.

At the close of the meeting it was announced by the officials and members of the association that very little beyond the general routine had been taken up for consideration. It was stated that the meeting had considered and discussed the request of the National association that all brewers should join in the effort to maintain some lawful conditions prevailing over the saloons supplied by the breweries with beer.

It was decided, according to President Paul Weinger, that the association should join with the national organization in an effort to secure the closer regulation of saloons inclined to close their doors. The Oregon brewers will not countenance a saloon which violates state laws or city ordinances, and at the meeting the propriety of refusing to sell to such saloons was discussed.

In this routine work the convention had an easy time, but the political phase of the question was not so easily solved. It is believed that the association split on the question of a political policy and that for that reason no action was taken. Later the members desire to go out into the field against local option and make every possible effort to win back into the west column those counties and precincts which are dry as well as to prevent those now wet from becoming dry.

The session yesterday was an extended one lasting from 2 o'clock until nearly 6 A. M. and the members would make no statement of what had been done other than to say that the principal action had been the endorsement of the national association's saloon regulation plan.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES

ident weighed heavily upon his majesty. In concluding, the speaker pointed to the assistance lent by the king in works of science and exploration. He had wanted many undertakings in that line, particularly the discovery of the north-east passage in 1897, the north pole expedition of E. J. Norton, the Norwegian Arctic explorer, and the establishment of "Skansen" in Stockholm, where all the national characters in music, song and dance are preserved.

Rev. C. J. Renhard spoke entertainingly upon the Swedish people's relation to its king, having particular stress on the fact that never under the late monarch's rule were causes found for the breeding of anarchy or revolution. No more democratic government ruled than that of Oscar II, and even the United States, he said, could find there matters worthy of particular attention. The speaker closed with a "Long live King Gustav, and may he prove a worthy son of Oscar II."

The services ended with prayer by Rev. C. A. Tolin and singing by the congregation.

WILLIAM WANTS MORE WHISKEY

Introduces Resolutions to Prevent Express Companies Hauling Liquors.

Washington, Dec. 19.—Senator Tillman of South Carolina precipitated a general discussion in the senate yesterday by the introduction of a resolution which seeks to prevent express companies from flooding local option southern states with whiskey, in an original package, marked "O. D." The resolution was as follows:

"That the committee on interstate commerce be instructed to consider and report by bill or otherwise, such legislation is desirable or necessary to enable the states in the exercise of their police powers to control the commerce of liquors and all alcoholic beverages within their borders so as to aid the cause of temperance and to prevent the encouragement by the United States government of illicit dealing in the same.

"The supreme court of the United States has held that such traffic cannot be interfered with because of its interstate character," said Senator Tillman, "and the purpose of this resolution is to define the point at which the police power of the state begins, and determining how far congress can go in limiting the control over interstate traffic in intoxicating beverages."

In the course of the discussion Senator Knox said that the trouble could be remedied through a bill, and at Tillman's suggestion, Knox prepared an amendment to the Wilson law. Tillman withdrew his resolution and offered the Knox amendment, which was referred to the judiciary committee.

The Knox bill provides that all intoxicating liquors transported into any state or territory or remaining therein shall upon arrival within this state and before or after delivery to the consignee be subject to the laws of such state in the same manner as though such liquors had been produced in such state or territory and shall not be exempt therefrom by reason of being introduced in original package or otherwise.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Diego, Cal., Dec. 19.—William F. Walker, wanted in New Britain, Conn., for the murder of a man, was arrested here today. He is charged with the murder of a man in the state of California. He was found in a mining camp called "The Pinkerton" in the state of California. This will be sent to either the president of the United States or to congress and copies will be sent to the commercial bodies of this city and one will probably be addressed to the czar. Rev. Knight Consecrated.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Trenton, N. J., Dec. 19.—The consecration of Rev. Edward Jennings Knight, formerly rector of Christ Episcopal church of this city, as bishop of the missionary district of western Colorado took place at Christ church today with imposing ecclesiastical ceremonial. The event attracted a notable gathering of church dignitaries.

SCOUT WHIRLWIND MAY GO EAST AGAIN

Ancient Aborigine, Tempted to Tour With Lecturer, Loves Heap Big Fire at Home.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendleton, Or., Dec. 19.—After having been banished a tour of the eastern states eight years ago, Charles Whirlwind, or Shap-lash, the aged Umatilla Indian scout and friend of the whites, has again been invited to go on a lecturing tour with E. S. McCombs, the veteran newspaper man of Union, who is planning a trip through Illinois, Iowa and Indiana in January and February. Eight years ago Whirlwind, accompanied McCombs on an extended tour of the eastern states and was a center of attraction wherever the lectures were given. McCombs is planning another such trip for the purpose of lecturing and advertising Oregon and he hopes to secure the consent of Whirlwind to accompany him.

Arayed in many-colored Indian robes, beaded vest, buckskin leggings and mocassins of his tribe, Whirlwind makes a picturesque figure. He is now over 60 years of age and has seen much service as a scout for the government in northwest Indian wars.

When asked if he would go east this winter, he replied: "Heap snow, heap cold, east; Umatilla, same spring time. Me heap like warm fire. Maybe go next summer."

Whirlwind owns a good allotment on the reservation near Thorn Hollow where he has a nest eagle and a big fireplace and hibernates during the winter season.

As chief of Indian scouts Whirlwind was successful in dislodging and capturing the "Sheepstealers" in the Seven Mile country in the Hannock war of 1878 in eastern Oregon and Idaho.

ALBANY WOULD KILL TRACTION FRANCHISE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Albany, Or., Dec. 19.—Mayor Wallace has instructed the city council committee on franchises to take action to have the streetcar franchise carried into the courts on forfeiture proceedings on the grounds of non-compliance with terms. The city attorney will take up the matter at once. The papers have already been prepared, it is reported, and will soon be filed.
