Republican Deputy District Attorney Resigns to Enter Race for Boss's Job—Very Naughty Thing to Do, Say Manning's Supporters.

Gov. C. Moser, for nearly four years the Republican deputy in the Democratic district attorney's office, yesterday afternoon tendered his resignation in order to enter the race for the office which John Manning now holds.

Mr. Moser was very frank in his letter of resignation sent to Mr. Manning yesterday afternoon. In it he says plainly that he is about to enter the race for the district attorneyship and that he is resigning his deputyship in order to save embarrassment to Mr. Manning.

"I am about to announce to the public my candidacy for the Republican nomination for district attorney at the coming primary election," Mr. Moser says in his letter, "and not wishing to embarrass you with your Democratic friends by conducting a campaign while holding a deputyship under you, I hereby tender you my resignation as deputy district attorney for the Fourth judicial district of the state of Oregon, such resignation to become effective with the ending of the 31st day of December, 1907."

Mr. Moser's resignation will be accepted. It has been anticipated for some time, ever since Mr. Moser began his active work preparatory to the announcement of his candidacy. By friends of Manning Moser's action is looked upon with unkind eyes. It is argued that Moser is not showing the right brand of political gratitude by entering the race while Manning is in the field in view of the fact that Manning picked him out of the Republican ranks and made him his deputy while there were scores of Democrats clamoring for the place.

The supposition that Mr. Manning is to be in the race for reelection brings no surprise, for he has been looked upon as a definite candidate for some time. He has been considered the logical candidate for the Democratic side of the field by many of the party leaders who have been urging him insistently to come out and announce himself a candidate.

Up to this time, however, Mr. Manning has held back, coyly saying that he did not know whether he would be a candidate or not or would retire quietly to private life.

The possible entrance of Mr. Manning into the race opens the entry list with one candidate on each side of the political fence. In addition L. A. McNary, former city attorney, J. J. Urdahl, present deputy district attorney, Ralph Moody and Municipal Judge Cameron have all been mentioned as possible candidates. According to reports neither Moody, McNary nor Cameron intend to become candidates so that it seems probable that Mr. Moser will have but one or two men against him for the primary nomination.

Kidney Cure Tea

Not true, for sale by W. J. Van Damme, 154 Morrison street, next to Pap's coffee house. Following are the testimonials of a few of those who have been cured of kidney troubles through the use of this tea:

A. B. Gates, from Gresham, Or., tells about his kidney trouble and his wonderful cure: "My trouble was a terrible one. I thought that I was affected by rheumatism. In course of time I found out that my kidneys were affected. I went to different doctors and tried all kinds of medicine, but got little or no results. After suffering for more than 19 years and spending considerable money, Mr. Van Damme gave me a tea made from a leaf he called a Lady Tea. I drank a glass a week and was totally cured. I have drunk the tea off and on for three months. It is now six months that I have not drunk any and my cure is perfect and recommended to the suffering public."

Mrs. M. E. Butler, 268 14th st., says: "I have suffered a long time with kidney trouble, nothing doing me any good. Three cups of this tea and I was cured. I am so completely that I recommend it to all ladies who are affected with sore back."

Miss Carrie Niclaus, 154 1/2 Morrison st., says: "I have suffered for years with kidney trouble. It was a terrible one, with pain and suffering. After partaking of Mr. Van Damme's tea for a week, my kidneys were cured and I am now a happy girl and have not suffered any for the past three months since I first used the tea."

After suffering for 12 years from kidney trouble I was cured of my ailment by the use of my tea. In last December when my health was restored I concluded to come to Portland. I had heard and heard of the worth of poultry liver. I offered for sale before leaving. A Mr. Strange appeared at my house and told me he would like to buy my tea. I then asked him to come in and see how I felt. He then asked me to take a few drops of my tea. He said, "I have drunk all kind of patent medicines, consulted many doctors, and I am tired of all that. My only salvation is in an operation." I told him, "Now I will drink a cup myself and if you don't want to drink a cup you shall never move in this house. I will not sell to you." He drank a cup and continued to drink the tea for three days, after which he had no more pain and was doing his work again and in a week was perfectly cured.

I sell my Kidney Cure Tea (a tea, no medicine), on the condition of "no cure, money refunded." The tea is put up in glass and 112 bottles. A trial will convince.

LOUD GUESTS WITH INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL WATERWORKS

Usually when there is a sprinkle there is also a downpour.

Yesterday was a busy day in the liquid line at the Hotel Perkins. The liquid was in the form of guests.

Among the first who registered was Irving S. Bath of Bandon. No one paid any attention to Mr. Bath until Mr. Sprinkle arrived. He is Charles E. Sprinkle of Chinook, Montana. While Mr. Bath was parking around the lobby who should walk in and register but Robert R. Lo-raine of Seattle.

Mr. Lo-raine went to his room, thumped down the stairs like lightning. He had heard of the arrival of Melvin D. Beer, of Washouville, by-the-way, is a temperance man.

After the arrivals of Messrs. Lo-raine, Beer, Bath and Sprinkle, the clerks began to grow suspicious. They thought that some practical joker was at work. But say not so. Each guest registered, paid for his room and went about his own business. None of the liquid-suggesting arrivals apparently knew anything about the others of the names suggesting something watery.

BATTERY A BREAKS RECORD FOR RECRUITING HARD TACK EATERS

By adding 25 men to its roll by enlisting in one evening battery A of field artillery of the Oregon National Guard last Friday night broke the recruiting record in national guard circles in this state.

The result of a vigorous campaign that has been waged by the members of the battery since orders were received early in November that the ranks must be recruited to the full complement of 133 men by January 1.

At that time there were only 50 men on the muster rolls, but from week to week new enlistments were made. One week ago 25 out of the 53 vacancies had been filled, and Friday night the ranks were closed as required by the orders from Washington. Four extra volunteers, and there is no longer a shortage of any sort in the number of men in the battery.

Regular quarterly inspection was held Friday evening, captain H. U. Welch putting his command through a lively drill with the heavy field pieces. The battery executed its movements with an ease and action that was commendable, the volley firing being especially good. Battery A has lately been fully equipped with the latest field pieces and side arms, and is the only organization of its kind on the Pacific coast.

That Japanese in the vicinity of Astoria have been very active of late, carefully going over the beaches and the coast near the mouth of the Columbia and between Tillamook and Astoria, is the statement of B. H. Welch, a real estate man of Astoria.

A number of Japanese have been seen traveling up and down the coast line carefully inspecting every bit of the shore. Mr. Welch, "One man declared that he was the paymaster of the Japanese and showed $2,000 in cash, which, he told several people, had been sent him to pay off his men. The Japanese apparently had no work other than that of inspecting the coast and its contour."

BIG BOND ISSUE RECOMMENDED TO TOAST ADMEN

Extensive arrangements are in preparation for the entertainment of the Portland Ad club by the East Side Business Men's club next Thursday evening, January 2. The occasion is the annual gathering and celebration of the permanent organization of the East Side Business Men's club. The program and entertainment will take place at the quarters of the club in the Healy block, 222 Morrison street, Grand avenue.

There will be refreshments and a smoker. A program will be arranged, including boxing and other athletics, supplied by the East Side Athletic club. The East Side high school glee club will also contribute to the entertainment and speakers to be chosen will address the meeting, both from the east side organization and from the Ad club. A short business session and election of officers will be held.

All the business men on the east side have been invited to attend by C. A. Bigelow, secretary of the East Side club. The object of the meeting is to exchange views on advertising and other cooperative methods. The business men are willing to accept any advertising scheme that the admen will propose, as advertising the east side is the main work of the east side business men.

The club will also host the annual show of the Oregon State Poultry association, which will be held this winter in the building on the corner of East Alder street and Grand avenue, vacated recently by Markell & Co. The show will be held from January 8 to 14.

The people from the west who are here think that the presidential influence will be well directed—if it is, then no grafter nor friend of grafters will get the appointment.

FEE IS OUT OF IT.

Not Candidate Under Any Circumstances—McCourt Mentioned. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendleton, Or., Dec. 28—Mayor James A. Fee today positively declined to be a candidate for the office of United States district attorney for Oregon under any circumstances. City Attorney John McCourt is being urged by Pendleton friends as a candidate.

violations of the code of both departments in many tenements. These violations generally cost a landlord money, and the appearance on the east side of inspectors armed with specific complaints of rooms not ventilated and plumbing out of order and fire escapes other than approved character, it is said by the strikers has set the landlords to thinking.

committees have been appointed in Brooklyn to take up the war against the landlords. There is every evidence that the rent strikes will spread to Newark on Monday. A general mass meeting will be held tomorrow at No. 224 Court street for the purpose of organizing a series of rent strikes to be carried on under the auspices of the Newark branch of the Workmen's club.

NESTS WILL ALL TURN OUT OWLS

Grand Executive H. L. Leavitt of the Brotherhood of Owls, has notified the local nest, Portland No. 4, that present indications are that one of the most important fraternal gatherings ever held in the Rose City will be the forthcoming convention to be held here four days, January 15, 16, 17 and 18. Assurances from a sufficient number of local nests, not only in northwestern, middle west, but also eastern states, have been received to presage a rousing session of the grand nest, the first one ever held, the order being but little more than a year old. Leavitt is now on an inspection tour of some of the newly formed nests, but promises to be in Portland again within the next 10 days to assist in the preliminary arrangements for the convention.

Locally arrangements are in the hands of Gus C. Moser, executive of Portland No. 4, Jay H. Upton, secretary and

RAILROAD MEN ELECT OFFICERS

The Railway Investment company of Oregon, composed of employees of the Harriman lines in Oregon, held its first annual meeting last evening at the Hotel Imperial. This company was organized just one year ago, and since then has been dealing exclusively in Portland real estate. The business for the first year was reported to have been most encouraging.

Officers for 1908 were elected as follows: L. C. McCoy, president; L. J. Urdahl, vice-president; J. J. Tucker, secretary and treasurer; J. F. Cusick, C. Edward Murray, W. A. Gilder, and L. Duffield and W. F. Haller, board of directors.
