Mrs. Sol Hirsch and the Misses Hirsch entertained Thursday afternoon with the largest tea of the season. About 500 invitations were sent out and the handsome new Hirsch home on King Heights was a brilliant scene. Throughout the rooms were beautiful flowers in vases and bowls, with a suggestion of Christmas decorations.
Receiving with Mrs. Hirsch in the drawing room were her daughter, Miss Ella Hirsch, her sister, Mrs. Rose Blum and Mrs. E. Washburn, Gen. and Mrs. S. W. Washburn, Madame Von Bolton and Mrs. C. F. Beebe. In the music room Mrs. J. L. Ladd, Mrs. Marcus Fleischer, Miss Caldwell and Miss Mal Hirsch received and Mrs. I. N. Fleischer and Miss Clementine Hirsch, assisted generally about the rooms.
Mrs. Holt C. Wilson and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, both in elegant costumes, were in the dining room and at the other end of the table Mrs. L. Allen Lewis and Miss May Falling served. To the left of Mrs. Wilson were Mrs. J. L. Ladd, Mrs. James Laddlaw served punch, assisted by Miss Flora Fleischer. Mrs. Laddlaw wore a white fur coat with a pink and white patterned scarf. Mrs. Laddlaw and Mrs. Wilson. In the dining room the girls assisting were Miss Phyllis Mays, Miss Frances Jacobs, Miss Leslie Knapp, Miss Effie Houghton and Miss Claire Houghton.
Mrs. Hirsch was handsomely gowned in a shimmering silk of another hue and wore diamonds. Miss Hirsch wore pink and white marquisette, elaborately trimmed with handsome lace. The Misses Mays and Clementine Hirsch were both in white chiffon. Mrs. Blum wore handsome blue and white costume, with touches of white chiffon. Mrs. Rothchild wore white satin embroidered in Dresden effect; Madame Von Bolton wore white lace over pink silk; Mrs. Beebe wore white chiffon; Mrs. Ladd was charming in white lace with diamonds. Mrs. Allen Lewis wore a dress of lace; Mrs. Laddlaw white lace; Mrs. Teal a pink Dresden gown; Mrs. Lipman white lace; Mrs. Marcus Fleischer black spangled net; and Mrs. I. N. Fleischer, white lace with a chain of pearls.

The visit of the Stanford club last week was the signal for some entertaining. The club members were entertained for the most part at the homes of Stanford boys in town and spent a delightful two days here. Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Rocky entertained some friends of their two sons, Eugene and Paul; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Penton entertained Kenneth Penton's friends; Plowden Stott, a graduate, had some of the boys at his home; Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Coe entertained four of George's friends; Paul Giesy had two at Dr. and Mrs.

THE FIRST WEEK of the year started in auspiciously with several elaborate affairs. The Wilcox dance at Madrak hall was frequent and popular visitor in Portland. The Concordia annual affair eclipsed all previous records for brilliancy and fun. The Woman's club reception at the Portland was a beautifully arranged affair. For the children's set the Coe-Colgate dance was a prominent happening. A great many minor affairs, including many watch parties at private homes, added to the general festive air. The Stanford club's visit was a pleasant variety. The concert and the incident entertaining done for them were hugely enjoyed. Most of the Stanford men and some other college men attended the concert in a body, occupying the front rows at the theatre and keeping the singers and players in a good humor. The Kubelick concert will be the chief musical event patronized by society this week.

green, the holiday colors were the prevailing tints, and garlands of ivy interwoven with red blossoms were festooned overhead. The walls were hung with beautiful oriental rugs; from the balconies hung baskets of scarlet poinsettias, and red lights twinkled among the greens of the decorations. Mrs. Wilcox was handsome in a gown of white chantilly lace trimmed with point lace and touches of pompadour silk and she wore diamonds. Her young daughter, Miss Claire, and her little son, Teddy, were with her.
Following is the invitation list: Mr. and Mrs. John K. Kollock, Misses Effie and Claire Houghton, Thomas Robertson, C. E. B. Webb, Rodney Gillman, Miss Carolyn Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Voorhees, Mrs. David Robertson, Miss Amy Holman, Mr. and Mrs. R. Leas Barnes, Miss Leslie Knapp, Lester Teal Hodson, Elliott R. Corbett, the Misses Crocker, John D. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ayer, Frank Robertson, Dr. and Mrs. K. A. J. Mackenzie, Miss Miriam Strong, Harold Strong, Miss Sifton, Miss Inez Koshler, Mr. and Mrs. George K. Wentworth, Jr., Miss Margaret Catlin, F. W. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilbur, Henry T. ...The annual New Year's eve dance at the Concordia club Tuesday evening was attended by about 250 and was one of the most elaborate affairs. All the young girls appeared as minstrels and gave a laughable vaudeville performance introducing the evening's entertainment. Dancing followed with supper late in the evening. The older women were most elaborately gowned.
Among the handsome costumes noted were Mrs. Marcus Fleischer's of white net and satin with iridescent spangles. Mrs. I. N. Fleischer attracted much attention in a beautiful white lace robe over satin; Mrs. Sol Rosenfeld wore a white spangled net gown; Mrs. Charles Feidenheimer was in white duchesse satin; Mrs. Albert Feidenheimer in a lace gown of a deep amber shade; Mrs. S. Lipman in black net with diamonds; Mrs. Sol Hirsch wore black silk with three strings of pearls. Miss Ella Hirsch wore black lace and pearls; Mrs.

...Giesy's home, and several were at Hill Military academy and some at Elton Court, the guests of Mr. Woods. Sunday evening several were at the University club to get acquainted with the college men, and Monday night after the concert Stanford club of Portland entertained them at the University club with a stag dinner.
The concert was well attended by prominent people and the program was much enjoyed. The patronesses were Mrs. Richard Koehler, Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Raleigh Stott, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. A. J. Giesy, Mrs. I. N. Lipman, Mrs. Herbert Holman, Mrs. E. Rocky, Mrs. J. A. Sladen, Mrs. Theodore B. Wilcox, Mrs. A. Morrison, Mrs. Walter J. Burns, Mrs. Harriet K. McArthur and Mrs. David T. Honeyman.

The largest of the children's parties was given Monday evening at the handsome residence of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Waldo Coe by Wayne and Earl Coe and Jessie and Hoyt Colgate. Dr. and Mrs. Coe and Mrs. Colgate received the guests downstairs. About 80 of the younger Portland academy set attended.
The children made a pretty picture as they formed for the grand march, the smallest in the lead. The girls came from the drawing room on the right and the boys from the parlor on the left. The program given by the young women was most entertaining. Miss May Hirsch was interlocutor and easily won the honors. The program follows:
The Famous Minstrel Trio, Miss Clementine Hirsch, Miss May Hirsch, Miss Gertrude White, Mrs. A. Morrison, Miss Just Because He Couldn't Sing "Love Me and the World is Mine," Flora Fleischer.
Pousse Cafe dance, Miss Sarah Harris, Miss Sophie Beck, Miss Josephina Jacobs, Miss Florence Kohn, Miss Mabel Beck, Miss Frankie Jacobs, Miss Helen Colobent, Miss Elizabeth Rosenblatt, Miss Florence Wolfe.

Mrs. Frederick Eggert entertained with an elaborate reception Friday afternoon at the Portland in honor of the Woman's club. There was a large representation of clubwomen and their friends and the assemblage was a beautifully gowned one. The drawing room was beautifully decorated with green and white, the club colors, predominating. The mantles were banked with Oregon grape, the club flower. Here and there poinsettia and the holiday colors gave relief to the prevailing green and white.
Mrs. Eggert wore a handsome costume of black and white lace with diamond ornaments. Receiving with her were the two vice-presidents, Mrs. Robert Lutke in green crepe, and Mrs. James T. Moffett in champagne crepe de chine. The parlor hostesses were the board members, Mrs. Jay Smith, Mrs. A. J. Stiles, Mrs. W. H. Peas, Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, Mrs. H. S. Gile, Mrs. John E. Miller, and Mrs. S. M. Blomquist, with Mrs. R. M. Tuttle and Mrs. E. F. Weaver. At the table pouring tea and coffee and serving loaves were Mrs. F. J. Mann, Mrs. H. W. Coe, Mrs. Rose H. Hoyt, and Mrs. A. Staiger, all gowned in white. Assisting them were four girls in pretty white frocks, Miss Eleanor Gile, Miss Elizabeth Sharpe, Miss May Flynn, and Miss Zippora Harris. The punch was served by Mrs. C. N. Rankin and Mrs. T. P. Wiles.

Mrs. H. C. Wortman entertained most charmingly about 150 of her calling list Saturday afternoon a week ago with a musicale at her home on King's Heights. The cycle, "In Fairyland," by Orlando Morgan, was sung for the company and was highly appreciated, for the melodies are dainty and captivating and the soloists were capable performers. Mrs. May Dearborne Schwab, soprano; Mrs. W. A. T. Bushong, contralto; C. E. Patterson, tenor, and Dom J. Zan, basso, were the singers and Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, accompanist.

Miss Grace Elliot, in whose honor the affair was given pending her approaching marriage, secured with the hostesses. Others assisting Mrs. Wortman in the care of her guests were Mrs. T. W. B. London, Mrs. B. M. Lombard, Mrs. A. B. Rocky, Mrs. L. H. Tarpley, Mrs. J. P. Faxon, Mrs. R. W. Hoyt, Miss Inez Mays, Miss Northcross and Miss Henrietta Elliot. The Christmas decorations were beautiful. Everywhere were holly with its red berries, scarlet poinsettia and mistletoe. The rooms were all lighted with long white candles in approved Christmas style.

A delightful progressive dinner was given New Year's night by some of the girls of the real young set. There were two divisions of the party, one going to Miss Eva Jones' home, Miss Stella Frohman's home and thence to Miss Dorothy Holbrook's home, and the other being the guests of Miss Maida Hart, Miss Inez Koshler and finally of Mrs. Holbrook, where the whole party spent the evening. The members of the party were Miss Maida Hart, Miss Eva Jones, Miss Inez Koshler, Miss Dorothy Holbrook, Miss Stella Frohman, Miss Lesley Smith, Miss Leslie Wedder, Miss Mary Livingston, Miss Milla

One of the jolliest events of the Christmas season was a house party given by Miss Mildred Morgan at her cottage at Gearhart Park. The party left Portland Friday after Christmas, chaperoned by Mrs. W. L. Morgan. Owing to the pleasant weather the party took many trips, including a walk to the wreck Galena. The evenings were spent about the fireplace with stories and songs. New Year's eve there was a display of fireworks. The party returned last Friday. Those in the party were Miss Clara Marsch, Miss Mildred Morgan, Tadde Holden, Owen G. Summers, Marian and Willie Morgan and Mrs. W. L. Morgan.
