SPORTS OF THE DAY

GREAT BALL GAME RECALLED TODAY

January 10, 1892 Portland Team Lost Pacific Coast Championship.

If you would ask a Portland baseball fan what great event in the history of the game occurred on this date 16 years ago the chances are 10 to 1 that he couldn't tell you.

Hhere is the answer: This is the date, the year being 1892, upon which the Portland team, then the leaders of the Pacific Northwest league, lost the Pacific coast championship to the San Jose team, pennant winners in the California State league.

It was the nineteenth and deciding match of one of the longest series of baseball games ever played between two teams on the Pacific slope, and the California champions only won after the hardest kind of work.

Portland had an easy time winning the pennant of the Northwest league and at the close of the season a southern trip was promoted. Owing to the length of the series arranged with the California champions, Portland reinforced by taking along a number of the best players from Tacoma and Seattle as substitutes. The teams were so evenly matched that but one game separated them until the series was brought to a close.

Great enthusiasm was manifested by the California baseball followers and big crowds attended every game. Out of those two teams were graduated some of the greatest baseball players that ever romped around the sacks, several of the Portland team attaining enviable places in diamond history.

Homer Davenport Rooted.

One of the spectators who saw the start and finish of every game and rooted hardest for the Portland men was Homer Davenport. Just yesterday Homer, in chatting over the old times with some of his former chums, recalled the great shortfield work done by Jiggs Parrott, and the cartoonist's memory was as clear as if the series had closed but an hour before.

Names of many of the Portland team are still familiar to Portland fans, although the younger generation will possibly not be so well up on their history. Sixteen years is some time and most of the army of Portland enthusiasts were not yet in their teens.

Jiggs and Tom Parrott, of the famous Parrott family, were members of the Portland aggregation which played the late winter series in California, the former playing shortstop and the latter alternating as pitcher. Wadsworth and McNabb were the other twirlers. Lytle played right field and Abbey left field. Parke Wilson was one of the catchers and "Chappy" Graff the other.

Glenalvin, who was the captain and manager, covered the ground around second base in great style. Motz was the initial sackman and Jack Darrah startled the fans who looked down third base line.

Among the substitutes were Jack Fanning, the regular Portland utility man; Win Camp of Seattle, and Oney Patton of Tacoma.

INTERCLASS RELAY IS POSTPONED AT OREGON

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

University of Oregon, Eugene, Or., Jan. 10.—Interclass relay races, which were to have taken place during this month, have been postponed until February 22. The distance will be five miles and the teams will be composed of five men, each man running one mile.

The winning class will be awarded a silver cup and each member of the team will receive a gold medal. The captains of their respective teams are Eberle Kuykendall, '08; Paul Reed, '09; Harry Lowell, '10 and Sam May, '11. The freshmen team is probably the strongest but the other teams will make them work to win the race.

An indoor interclass meet will be held in the Armory, March 6.

BURNS DRAWS LINE EXCEPT FOR JOHNSON

The Heavyweight Champion, However, Does Not Fail to Mention Purse.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Paris Jan. 10,—Tommy Burns has put up the bars that separate the black pasture from the white and is unwilling to take on any colored man excepting Jack Johnson. M. Bariatier, a well-known Parisian sportsman, wired the following message to heavyweight Champion Burns:

"Telegraph immediately if you will accept a meeting with Sam McVey in Paris in one month."

Bariatier received the following:

"Only colored man I will fight is Johnson, but I will meet any white man at your club if purse is satisfactory."

ATTELL OFFERS ANY OLD WEIGHT

Foxy Abe Holds Out Alluring Bait With No Championship Involved.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 10.—Abe Attell came through with a startling offer last night, when he said for publication that he would let Moran in at the weight that would best suit him, provided the contest is scheduled for 20 rounds.

While it would have been far better for Abe to make this concession with Moran in San Francisco rather than while the latter is speaking to Chicago, the offer is one that may possibly be accepted. There is one difficulty in the road. Such a fight would by no means involve the feather weight championship, an honor which Moran is anxious to secure.

Doubtless Abe would have this perfectly understood by the contestants and the public at large and even should he be defeated the Californian would still claim the title.

Attell is still waiting to hear from either Jack Gleason or Alexander Greggains as to a 20-round match with Frankie Neil. As January is well advanced, there is little prospect of a fight taking place in San Francisco until February.

Up to a late hour last night Coffroth had no response to his offer to Billy Papke for a fight on February 22 with Stanley Ketchel.

Johnny Frayne will commence training for his fight with Kid Scaler next Monday at Millet's place.

OREGON TRACK TEAM TOURS WASHINGTON

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

University of Oregon, Eugene, Jan. 10.—At a meeting of the faculty yesterday afternoon Manager Bean of the track team was given permission to complete arrangements with Whitman and Pullman for meets on May 14 and 16. As this trip will require four and one half college days the permission of the faculty was necessary.

These two dates complete the spring schedule, which is as follows: March 6, indoor interclass meet in the Armory at Eugene; April 18, Columbia indoor meet, Portland; May 8, sophomore-freshman meet, Eugene; May 14, Whitman at Walla Walla, Washington; May 16, Washington State college at Pullman, Washington; May 22, O. A. C. at Eugene; May 30, triangular meet, Idaho, Washington and Oregon, at Seattle.

STATE VARSITY AND "AGRICS" TO CLASH

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

University of Oregon, Eugene Or., Jan. 10.—The first intercollegiate basketball game of the season to be played in Eugene will take place at the Armory Saturday night, between the teams of the Oregon Agricultural college and the University of Oregon.

The university boys are in splendid shape and Coach Murphy is confident concerning the outcome of the game.

The squad is now composed of eight men and all are doing brilliant work. Walter Moore, who has been playing at forward, has been changed to guard and is showing up to much better advantage at his new position.

CAPTAINCY TO STOTT; WATCH TO LONERGAN

"Stump" Will Lead Multnomah Team on Gridiron Next Season.

As predicted by The Journal yesterday E. Plowdon Stott, the great player of the Multnomah football team, was the unanimous choice for captain of the team at the annual banquet at the Portland last night, given in honor of the team by the board of club directors. In addition to electing Stott captain, the directors presented Frank Lonergan, the retiring captain, a handsome gold watch appropriately engraved, for his efficient leadership during the season.

An appropriate dinner was served the football heroes and many compliments passed to them along with the refreshments. Brief talks were made by President McMillan, Professor Herdman, Manager Horan, Captain Lonergan, Directors Morgan and Frank, and Messrs. W. S. Duniway, Irving Rohr, J. H. Barbour, Allen, Brigham, Walker, Dunne, W. G. Chandler and Jones.

Various subjects vital to the athletic work of the club were discussed, and it is very probable that as a result some new departures will be made for next year.

Representatives of the press were present as guests of the club. Those partaking in the banquet were:

J. H. Barbour, Robert Lee Ringer, H. E. Kirby, M. J. Gearin, H. H. Herdman Jr., K. Wilder, P. W. Blanchard, Harry Litt, W. A. Eastman, Dr. James C. Zan, I. J. Lonergan, John A. Horan, Irving Rohr, R. The Reliable Specialists

Neglected Special and Blood Diseases Endanger the Health and Vitality of Every Sufferer Therefrom. These Maladies Are Always Aggravated Through Improper Treatment by Incompetent Doctors and Unreliable Specialists.

Nervo-Vital Debility

There is certainly no victim of Nervo-Vital Debility or Male weakness but what hopes to be rejuvenated some time. You should not lose your grip on life because inferior remedies have failed to benefit you. My special treatment for this trouble, varied and modified to suit each individual case, is an unfailing cure to which a vast army of restored men today owe their sturdy health and happy condition in life. Under it all disagreeable symptoms soon disappear, drains of vigor are stopped, prematureness prevented, masculine power thoroughly restored and manhood made complete.

Specific Blood Poison

Prompt and heroic treatment is the only kind that should ever be used in combatting the "King" of bad diseases.

Our special form of treatment for specific or contagious poison in the blood is indorsed by the best physicians in this and foreign countries.

It goes to the very bottom of the disease and forces out every particle of impurity. Soon every sign and symptom disappear completely and forever.

The blood, the tissue, the flesh, the bones and the whole system are cleansed, purified and restored to perfect health, and the patient prepared anew for the duties of life.

Scrotal Varicocele

Varicocele impairs vitality and destroys the elements of manhood. Surgery seldom cures it, but always weakens the parts. I daily demonstrate that Varicocele can be positively cured. Instead of the organs being maimed and mutilated, they are preserved and strengthened, pain ceases entirely and almost instantly, swelling soon subsides, healthy circulation is rapidly reestablished, and every part of the organism affected by the disease is thoroughly restored.

Urethral Stricture

Neglect or badly treated Stricture is progressive, soon involving in its destructive course the whole Genito-Urinary system. Cutting, stretching, tearing or dilating are harsh and savage reminders of old Fogyism. The strictly modern original methods employed by me in the treatment of Stricture are entirely free from the horrors of surgery and are absolutely safe and painless. All abnormal growth is dissolved, leaving the water channel entirely open and absolutely free from obstruction, every unnatural discharge is stopped and all irritation along the walls of the Urethra and in the region of the Prostrate Gland, Bladder and Kidneys is allayed.

BISHOP APPEALS TO FRIENDS OF DIOCESE

Rev. Scadding Says His District Undermanned and Under Equipped.

Right Rev. Charles Scadding, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Oregon, has issued an open letter on "The Church and her missionary opportunities in Oregon," in which he makes an earnest appeal for financial support from the friends of Oregon without the diocese.

Bishop Scadding describes the condition of his diocese as "undermanned and under-equipped," in that it has 65 parishes and missions and but 20 clergy. He also calls attention to the insufficiency of the endowment fund of "Bishopcroft," the bishop's residence, which is now but $30,000.

As a solution of the pressing problems of the diocese, he offers, first, "An increase of the permanent fund of the Episcopate from $30,000 to $100,000, thereby relieving the parishes and missions of a heavy assessment for the bishop's salary and necessary expenses"; second, "By forming an Oregon associate mission fund. Under the associate mission system the many parishes and missions could be grouped around strong centers, and unmarried priests could be sent in pairs to live in these centers and serve five or more outlying missions."

For this purpose, Bishop Scadding says $5,000 per year is needed. With this sum he could place two clergymen in eastern Oregon, two in southern Oregon and two between Portland and the coast.

"Clergymen, priests or deacons, unmarried and preferably under 30 years of age," is declared to be one of the immediate needs of the diocese.

Attention is called to the invigorating, health-giving climate of Oregon, enabling clergymen who cannot stand the climate elsewhere to do good work here; "yet," says Bishop Scadding, "I would not have the diocese regarded as an 'ecclesiastical sanitarium.'"

"I know of no field where the church at large can make more profitable investment of her best clergymen and liberal contributions for religion than in Oregon," declares the bishop. "To me the opportunities seem manifold and magnificent, but I need clergymen of the right kind, Godly, earnest, tactful, zealous, constructive teachers and workers, and also means with which to pay them fair living salaries."

Seattle's War on Rats.

From the Baltimore American.

"We have begun arresting people in Seattle who fail to comply with a recently passed ordinance relating to rats," said Dr. S. J. Fowler of the state of Washington. "Just before I left home two butchers were haled into court for violating the law, in that they failed to keep their premises ratproof.

"After the law was passed the police went about informing all market men, grocers and dealers in food products that they must fortify their houses against the rodents or else be liable to arrest. The purpose was to eut off the rats from their sources of sustenance, and thereby make easier their extermination. The butchers arrested did not try to make their places of business secure against the entrance of the pests, and they will no doubt have to suffer.

"We have slain tens of thousands of the rats since the campaign of destruction began and are beginning to breathe more freely, for at one time it was the fear of our medical men that they might spread the bubonic plague that had appeared in San Francisco and cause a frightful sacrifice of human lives."

PAY ME WHEN I HAVE CURED YOU

I offer not only FREE consultation and advice, but of every case that comes to me I will make a careful examination and diagnosis without charge. No ailing man should neglect this opportunity to get expert opinion about his trouble.

The man who tries to be his own doctor, or who resorts to "cheap" treatments, electric belts, etc., is always the patient that later comes to the specialist with the chronic, stubborn, deep-seated case, which is the hardest kind to cure. I can scarcely hope that all men will accept my statement that the quickest, safest and cheapest cure is had by consulting an expert specialist in men's diseases at once, but the intelligent man will readily be convinced of the value of this advice upon investigation.

The Scientific Treatment of Weakness

Dosing the system with powerful stimulants and tonics in an effort to restore functional vigor can have but one final result: The condition is rendered worse than before. "Weakness" is merely an indication of a low form of inflammation in the prostate gland, and this inflammation is but aggravated by stimulating remedies that excite temporary activity. I employ the only scientific and fully effective treatment for "weakness," which effects a permanent cure by restoring the prostate gland to a sound and healthy state. I obtain complete results in every case I treat.

I also cure to stay cured "weakness," hydrocele, specific blood poison and all men's diseases.

ELEPHANT'S TRUNK FULL OF PEPPER

Union Club of the G. O. P. Riles the Party Pachyderm.

War clouds, dark and dank as the fog of London, are hovering over the cradle of the new-born machine now being nursed by Max G. Cohen under the name of the Union Republican club, and the mist of jealousy threatens to swoop down and strangle the infant of politics.

It is all because the Union club desires to absorb every political organization in sight for the good of the party, while some of the absorbees do not take kindly to the method of assimilation.

Already the Union club, with an eye to the centralization of power, has stretched out its tentacles and absorbed the Eighth Ward club, the Fulton club and a number of other small organizations which have come under the wing of the Union club, where they hang like trembling dewdrops from the frayed-out strands of the political rope nailed to the wall of the Republican party.

Seeking, like Alexander, for more things to gather in, the eye of the Union club and its managers has been lighted for some weeks now with the hope of engulfing the South Portland Republican club, one of the most active organizations in the city.

This latter organization, however, is headed by W. P. Lillis and officered by men who cling to his leadership. These men do not want to be masticated and swallowed for the common good and are raising a storm of protest at the plans being laid by the Union club faction in their ranks.

On the one hand it is proposed by the friends of Cohen to merge with the Union club at the annual meeting to be held in the near future. Lillis and his friends, however, do not see it that way. Accordingly, it is planned by Mr. Lillis and his friends to introduce an amendment to the constitution at the annual meeting providing for the election of officers for two-year terms.

Incidentally it is planned to pack the meeting with Lillis adherents, when the annual meeting is held. Then it will be an easy matter to adopt the constitutional amendment and elect anti-absorption officials.

Taxes from all sides, there is liable to be something doing at the next meeting of the South Portland Club and the easy and smooth operation of the infant machine may be sadly jarred by the slipping of an important cog.

WANT GRAND JURY POWER TAKEN AWAY

E. S. J. McAllister, W. R. McGarry, H. J. Parkison and a number of others are interesting themselves in an initiative petition which has as its object an amendment to the constitution of the state doing away with the power of a district attorney to sit as a grand jury in the determination of a crime charged against a suspected person. The object of the petition is to make it necessary for all indictments to be returned by a grand jury regularly drawn and sworn instead of permitting the district attorney of any district to listen to the evidence, and upon it to file an information.

PENN'S FIRST JAPANESE.

Tosui Imadata Entered the University With the Class of '79.

The first Japanese student at the University of Pennsylvania, writes William Elliot Griffis to Old Penn, the alumni magazine, was Tosui Imadata, who was a member of the class of 1879. He was a Buddhist and a member of a prominent family in Echizen, on the west coast of Japan.

He was a student in a school maintained in Fukui in Echizen by Mr. Griffis and came to this country when his teacher returned to the United States. When he returned to Japan he was appointed professor of chemistry in the Buddhist college in Kioto.

He has held since important places under the government. Mr. Griffis's idea in writing to the alumni paper was to discover if possible what had become of the first Japanese at Pennsylvania.

Took Shadow for Burglar.

A servant girl thought she saw a burglar last night in the basement of a house at 350 Salmon street. A hurry call was despatched to the police station and Detectives Halsey and Inskeep sent out post-haste. Halsey went down to the basement with the girl and she then exclaimed there were two burglars instead of one and they were in the same place where she saw them first. Investigation by the detectives revealed that the light shone in such a way that the girl took her own shadow for a burglar and when Halsey was with her she thought the two shadows were two burglars.

HILLSBORO LINE FINISHED IN 1910

United Railways Must Complete Road to Suburb or Lose Franchise.

There will be few changes made in the franchise of the United Railway company, according to the action taken by the street committee of the city council yesterday, and the measure will go to the council with the recommendation that it be passed very much the same as in the original form in which it was introduced to the council.

The members of the committee took up the franchise section by section and disposed of each particular clause as they came to it. In that way they drew out the best features of the franchises, and best served the city.

For a time there seemed to be likelihood of a clause being inserted to the effect that all persons who could not obtain a seat in the company's cars could ride free. Councilman Concannon was afraid that if such a provision was made the conductors and motormen would not stop their cars at the street crossing when the car was filled.

City Attorney Kavanaugh was present, and explained that the police powers of the city were sufficient to compel the company to bring its cars to a stand at every street crossing in the city. With this opinion from the city attorney it is possible that action may be taken by some of the councilmen in urging the city dads to insist upon seats for everybody or no fare.

Before the company can operate cars in Portland it will have to complete its line to Mount Calvary cemetery, and in order to get a franchise must complete the line to Hillsboro by January 1, 1911. These two important clauses were added in the ordinance by the committee yesterday. It is expected the company will object to the proposition of completing the line to Mount Calvary before being allowed to operate cars in Portland. Herman Wittenberg representing the company, wants to operate cars within the city, and over that part of the company's completed lines as soon as cars can be secured.

Bresnahan Signs for 1908.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Manager McGraw of the New York National league baseball team stopped in Chicago yesterday on his way to California and secured the signature of Roger Bresnahan, the crack backstop of the giants, to a 1908 contract. It had been rumored that Bresnahan would refuse to play with New York next season.

Army Language.

In the army there are expressions peculiar to itself. Heard for the first time by outsiders, they need interpretation.

Among the most common are "hike," for march;" "striker," for a soldier serving as a body servant or houseman for an officer; "C. O.," for "commanding officer;" and "O. D.," for "officer of the day;" "hop" and "hoproom," for "dance" and "dancing room;" "glitz clothes," for "civilian dress;" "commissaries," for "groceries;" "coffee cooler," for an officer who is always looking for an easy job on some staff position; "found," when an officer fails to pass his examinations; "shavetail," for a youngster just out of West Point. Among the soldiers the expressions have multiplied until quite a vocabulary of strange words has been established.

"Bobtail" is a dishonorable discharge. "Orderly bucker" is a soldier who when going on guard duty strives by extra neatness of appearance to be appointed orderly to one of the officers. "Dog robber" is the soldier's contemptuous expression for "striker."

WEAKNESS

If other physicians have treated you for so-called "weakness," you were helped only temporarily, if at all, and the reason is very apparent when the cause of loss of power in men is understood. "Weakness" isn't a weakness at all, but is merely a symptom of chronic inflammation in the prostatic gland, brought on by early dissipation or some contracted disorder. Our system of local treatment removes this inflammation and is the only treatment that has ever restored or ever can permanently restore strength and vigor.

CONTRACTED DISORDERS EVERY CASE

Of contracted disease we treat is thoroughly cured; our patients have no relapses. When we pronounce a case cured there is not a particle of infection or inflammation remaining, and there is not the slightest danger that the disease will return in its original form or work its way into the general system. No contracted disorder is so trivial as to warrant uncertain methods of treatment, and we especially solicit those cases that other doctors have been unable to cure.
