George W. Marshall was awarded damages of $22,500 by a jury in Judge Gantenbein's court yesterday afternoon for a tract of land 44x212 feet condemned for the use of the Portland & Seattle railway. The land lies on North Front street, near the yards of the Northern Pacific Terminal company. Marshall asked for $125,000, and the estimate of damage in the testimony of the defendant's case fell from that figure to $55,000. A large part of the claim for damages was based on the threatened deterioration of adjoining property.

The Pastor's Aid society of St. James' English Lutheran church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. George King, 314 East Thirty-third street. A large attendance was present. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. A. L. Anderson; vice-president, Mrs. A. P. Gram; secretary, Mrs. A. B. Holderman; treasurer, Mrs. F. H. Brandes. The ladies are working for the payment of the new pews ordered for the church. They have already raised over $800 for this and other purposes pertaining to the building of the church.

Joint installation of the officers of Multnomah camp, No. 77, and Mount Hood circle, Women of Woodcraft, was held last night in the Woodmen of the World hall, East Sixth and East Alder streets. E. L. Minar was installing officer for the Woodmen and Mrs. Minnie McGregor installed the officers of the circle. A program of music and other entertaining features followed and there was dancing after the program. Multnomah camp is the largest in the state and its ceremonies are imposing.

The Baraca class of the Immanuel Baptist Church Sunday school (corner Second and Meade streets), has been organized with W. E. Whitman as president and J. T. Gunn as teacher. The young men are enthusiastic over the outlook. There has been a steady growth in interest and attendance, 37 being present January 5. The aim of the class is to be of service to young men in any way help may be needed. Any man may be sure of a welcome and a friend. Come on Sunday at 11:45 o'clock.

Special evangelistic services to continue indefinitely will begin tomorrow at the Mississippi Avenue Congregational church, corner of Freemont street, under the leadership of Rev. C. F. Clapp, who for 18 years has had charge of the home mission in Oregon. The services will begin tomorrow morning and continue every evening, except Saturday until the meetings are brought to a close. There will also be other features, consisting of singing by a chorus, accompanied by an orchestra.

The audience room of the Portland chamber of commerce has been completed and is ready for use by various organizations that will be entitled to use it. Public bodies, not conducted for profit or for political parties will have free use of the room. The meetings of the Oregon railway commission, the Oregon and Washington Lumber Manufacturers' association and the Retail Hardware and Implement Dealers' association will hold their meetings and conventions in these rooms.

At the regular meeting of the Froebel association held yesterday afternoon at St. Helens hall, Miss Helen F. Spalding gave an address on the state scholarship fund for young women. Miss Caldwell reported for the juvenile court committee and the publicity committee reported progress in the matter of obtaining the kindergarten as a part of the public school system.

Damages of $175 were awarded to Pulley & Lowe against Fox and Masterson in a suit ended before Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court yesterday. The plaintiff company had asked for $... damages, claiming that the other company, which has a mill above its location on Walker creek, allowed the sawdust to float down and clog its millpond.

David Fisher and Charles Bailey were arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer H. H. Hawley charged with contributing to the delinquency of two girls, aged 15 and 13 years. Fisher is a motorman and Bailey a bartender. Being unable to furnish $500 bail they went to jail to await their arraignment in the circuit court.

In pursuance of an announcement made several weeks ago Councilman W. I. Cottell is preparing an ordinance forbidding bicyclists to use sidewalks. At present there is an ordinance permitting the cyclists the use of the sidewalks from November until May. Dr. Cottel's ordinance will repeal the present measure.

William Moudy, accused of the theft of 29 phonograph records from Walter Spencer of East Taylor street, was acquitted in the circuit court yesterday, the case being tried by a jury before Judge O'Day.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Portland board of trade yesterday afternoon Fred Muller was elected secretary, to succeed J. B. Laber. The board committee expressed sympathy with East Portland Push clubs in their contest to have the Willamette river drawbridges kept closed an hour morning and evening for accommodation of the public, but failed to take any action favoring the closing. The committee adopted a resolution disapproving of closing draws, but urging the county court and the board of engineers to regulate river traffic through the bridges.

The Friday afternoon story hours at the public library this coming year will consist of nature stories. The first one was told yesterday to a large number of children upon the wasp and its nest. Next Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock will be the story of the bees.

City Engineer D. W. Taylor was directed by the city executive board yesterday to proceed with the laying of a cement sidewalk on Morrison street between Tenth and West Park streets. This is in front of the Pennoyer property and has been a source of controversy for several weeks.

Rerouting of cars. Commencing Sunday, January 12, 1908, the Mount Tabor cars will run from Mount Tabor to Sixteenth and Montgomery streets and return, and the Sunnyside cars will run from Sunnyside to Eleventh and Morrison streets and return, until further notice.

Judge Webster announces that hereafter the sessions of the county court will open each day at 9 o'clock, beginning Monday. This early schedule will be continued until further notice, in order to enable the court to keep pace with its business in better fashion.

Carpenters who have been working on the ballroom floor in the National Guard armory will complete their work early next week. The floor is a splendid one and a leap-year party will probably be the opening event in the newly-arranged ballroom.

Uncle Joshua in Town

I like this town o' Portland; say, the city's mighty fine;
But 'tisn't thair relijun t' hang washin' on th' line,
For th' Union Laundry takes yer shirts an' stockins up th' street,
Returnin' 'em nex' morning clean as kittens an' as neat.

An' the funniest thing on earth is here —I seen it yester noon—
It seems like eatin' porrige 'ithout knife er fork er spoon;
It's a telefone 'at telefones 'ithout no one ter 'fone,
Not e'en a girl ter anser er t' make yer message known.

Still th' thing keeps jest a-goin' 'ithout any one t' hear,
An' th' feller at th' other end, HIS voice is loud an' clear;
An' thay do it in a seckund clean frum Portland t' Ugene,
Oh, Liza, it's th' slickest thing mine eyes hav' ever seen.

(It must be like the Union Laundry.)

SECOND WEEK OF EVANGELICAL WORK

There will be no evangelistic services at the First Presbyterian church tonight, but they will be resumed tomorrow night and will continue until next Friday. Fred Butler, the well-known Seattle singer, who appeared at the White Temple last summer, will be here Monday and will sing two or three times nightly next week. Tomorrow night Dr. Foulkes will speak on "The Baptism of Fire." The church quartet and Professor Wilder's chorus will furnish the music at that service.

The sermon last night was on the never failing confidence that Christians have in Christ and rounded out the five points of the gospel which Dr. Foulkes had outlined for the week. Monday he spoke on the depths of the sin of man; Tuesday on the heights of the glory of God; Wednesday on the reconciling cross of Christ which bridges the chasm; Thursday on the Holy Ghost as a companion for man and last night on the confidence, peace and joy the Christian life gives.

Where to Dine.

Merchants' lunch daily, 25c. Sunday dinner, 50c. Kruse's, Park and Morrison.

AT THE THEATRES

"Man of the Hour."

The next dramatic attraction to be seen at the Heilig theatre will be "The Man of the Hour," which comes for a week's stay, commencing tomorrow (Sunday) night with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. It is now in its second year at the Savoy theatre, New York, and marks a new era in the history of the stage.

'Sham" Tonight.

This evening Miss Florence Roberts will close her engagement at the Marquam in "Sham." This is the first comedy Miss Roberts has presented in Portland in several years, and last evening she made a pronounced hit as a comedienne. "Sham" is a clever satire on the society people of New York, and the lines are replete with smart sayings.

"$10,000 Beauty" Tomorrow.

Tomorrow the Lewis and Lake company will open an engagement at the Marquam, beginning with the matinee. The company offers "A $10,000 Beauty," a musical comedy with a number of pretty and lively singing and dancing girls. An added feature will be the startling and sensational act "Doomsday," which has attracted so much attention in eastern cities, and this will be the first time on the coast for this big act.

Baker "Soldiers of Fortune."

The beautiful Richard Harding Davis play, "Soldiers of Fortune," will finish its week's run at the Baker tonight, and it is without doubt one of the best productions in every way that patrons of this popular stock theatre have ever had the pleasure of witnessing.

At the Empire Tonight.

Tonight closes the run of the popular Hal Reid play "At the Old Cross Roads" which has been entertaining large audiences all week at the home of melodramatic road attractions. This play and the company presenting it under the direction of Arthur C. Alsten, is much better than the average popular price attraction.

Last Performance.

Tonight is the last performance of "A Child of the Slums" at the Star theatre. It is the biggest theatrical bargain that the French stock company has given during its long engagement in this city. The play is filled with sensational situations and comedy. There is no play before the public today in the melodramatic class which competes with it.

Grand's Vaudeville.

At the Grand there are always many interesting vaudeville acts and this week Preston Kendall is offering something unique. It is a protean drama, in one act, in which Kendall by means of his ability as a lightning change artist plays seven characters in rapid succession. The Onetti sisters, a girl troupe of athletes; John and Bertha Rich, singers and dancers, and others are on the program.

TRUST TRIES HARD TO KNOCK OUT NEW COAL

Cowlitz County Product Generally Giving Satisfactory Results to Consumers.

R. H. Miller, resident of an east Portland suburb, in a letter to The Journal criticises Cowlitz county coal that is being sold in this city at $7 per ton. He declares he purchased and paid for a ton of the Cowlitz county coal that would not burn in his stove, and that when he went to the local dealers for redress they refused to refund the purchase price and take the coal away.

Floyd A. Swan, from whom the coal was purchased, when seen by a Journal reporter regarding the complaint, said that occasionally some coal was purchased by a person who did not understand its use, and that his firm was backing every pound of the coal sold with a guarantee of $100 if it would not burn. He said:

"When Mr. Miller came to this office and demanded his money back I offered to go with him to his house and show him that the coal would burn satisfactorily, but he refused, and was unreasonable. This coal is a pure lignite, in the first stages of anthracite, and while it is not as easy to start as flash coal, it can be started easily enough, and when burning makes plenty of heat, gives off almost no smoke and leaves but little ash.

"The fuel trust has had this city in its grip a long time, and undertakes to knock and drive out every new fuel that tries to come in at lower prices than the trust coal and wood. We have succeeded in getting sufficient business to consume a carload of the Coast Range Coal company's product daily, and are gradually increasing it."

Further inquiry showed that the coal was being used with satisfactory results by the Oregon Creamery, Pantages theatre and Rosenthal's shoe store.

HOMERS WILL CARRY REPORTS OF POLICE

Automatic Phone Service Will Be Installed for City's Benefit.

Because of the failure of the Home Telephone company to install its police-reporting system within 90 days after commencing operations, investigations are being made by City Attorney Kavanaugh and other city officials with a view of revoking the company's franchise.

That such radical action will be taken is not considered likely, however, and if the company installs the system within a few weeks it is believed the city will overlook the infraction.

According to the franchise, the company was to install the system for the benefit of the city and have it completed and in operation 90 days after the company commenced serving its regular patrons. Inasmuch as the company has been in operation more than six months and inasmuch as the present police reporting system is in woeful condition the city authorities are getting anxious to have the Home company install its system.

Company officials state they will do all in their power to expedite the installation of the system, but that they have been held up in the past by labor troubles and delay in shipment of material from the manufacturers. As soon as Chief Campbell furnishes a list of stations the company will put in the reporting system.

FIRE PACIFIERS ON THEIR WAY TO FRISCO

Special agents of fire insurance companies from Washington and parts of Oregon were at the different hotels this morning, on their way to San Francisco to attend the regular annual meeting of the underwriters' association. The party, including perhaps a dozen Portland men, will leave tonight for the Golden Gate city.

Among those who arrived to join the Portland agents, who will travel in a Pullman of their own, is Samuel H. Nichols, secretary of state of Washington. Mr. Nichols arrived this morning. R. D. Fabj of Seattle is another. Judge H. P. Granger and Lee McKenzie, also of Seattle, also arrived this morning.

Among the Portland special agents who will attend the meeting are W. H. Raymond, Charles R. Thompson, C. D. Gabrielson and J. H. Banks.

J. H. Schively, deputy insurance commissioner of Washington, is another member of the party.

BENEFIT PLAY FOR THEATRICAL FOLKS

The members of traveling companies from all over the United States are either members or indirectly interested in the theatrical mechanical association which will give its grand annual benefit next Tuesday afternoon at the Marquam, and each and every one is going to volunteer his or her services towards the success of the affair. The result will be a program of variety and novelty that is at no other time seen together. Vaudeville, dramatic sketches, beautiful music and singing include the list, and an opportunity will be given for the audience to watch the setting of the stage for a heavy act which is always hidden from public view. Tickets are on sale at all the theatre box offices.
