Honey Will Begin Prosecution of John H. Hall et al. Tomorrow on Charge of Conspiring Together to Fence Government Lands.

Oregon's land fraud mill, fresh oiled and overhauled by Francis J. Honey, will begin its slow and ponderous grind before United States District Judge Hunt in the federal court tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The first order for the mill to be fed through on the allegations that they conspired together to fence government lands for their own use and benefit will be the following well-known citizens of the state: Winlock W. Steiwer, H. H. Hendricks, Clarence B. Zachary, A. C. Zachary, Charles A. Watson, Clyde E. Glass, Elmer Hermann, John H. Hall, Edwin Mays, Franklin P. Mays, Clark E. Loomis, R. D. Stratford.

Rio de Janeiro Authorities Want Admiral Evans to Patrol City After Hearing Story of Disturbances at Pernambuco.

Rio de Janeiro, Jan. 11.—Admiral Evans' battleship fleet is expected here any hour. A squadron of Brazilian fighting ships left today to meet the visiting squadron and escort it to an anchorage. A committee is on board a ship of the Brazilian fleet taking the "keys of the city" and official charts of Brazilian waters. On account of stories of an ugly riot by 200 of the American sailors at Pernambuco, the chief of police will ask Admiral Evans to police Rio de Janeiro with a corps of his own marines authorized to make arrests.

Hall Case Last One

Mr. Honey will try the Hall case and will then leave for San Francisco to take up once more the defense which is awaiting him in that city. He states that he may come back to Portland and that conditions are right in the Bay City, but the inference is that whatever land cases remain to be tried will have to be taken up by Judge Hunt on his return. He has been chosen to assume the responsibility of clearing up the last of the land fraud muddle.

Ernest Schmidt, a soldier belonging to the Fourth artillery, U. S. A., will probably lose the sight of one eye as a result of an assault on him which occurred in Blazer's saloon, 248 Burnside street, shortly after 6 o'clock last evening. While Schmidt and a number of companions were drinking in the resort Schmidt made a display of a considerable amount of money. A man who was unknown to the soldiers had been drinking at their expense, and kept insisting that Schmidt go with him to some place where he could get more fun for his money. Schmidt finally voiced an emphatic refusal of the request. This angered the stranger, and he struck Schmidt in the face with a beer glass, breaking the glass and cutting the eye. The stranger then made his escape from the place. Schmidt's companions took him to the office of Dr. Ralph A. Fenton, where the injured eye was dressed. It was found that a piece of the glass had entered the eyeball, cutting a deep furrow in the eye. Dr. Fenton was unable to say whether the sight had been destroyed. The injured man was then taken to the Dewey hotel and put to bed for the night.

MUST SELL PIANOS QUICK

If you can use a fine high-grade piano I will give you a chance to get one for less than half the price that the dealers charge for them. I have two carloads of new upright pianos, pianos now stored at 103 Front street, in the City Transfer & Storage company's warehouse. They are the best my factory has ever made. They are new pianos, and they contain many patented features not found in any other upright pianos. These pianos have been sold right here in Portland by the dealer who formerly held the agency for $450, $500 and $550. I know of dozens of fine homes in this city where my pianos are in daily use. These people paid the above prices, and they know our pianos are well worth the money. These pianos were shipped to a dealer here in Portland, and he told me that he could not take them now. I have offered them to other houses. They won't buy them. The instruments are here, and the freight is paid on them. My instructions are to dispose of them to the best advantage for the seller, and since the dealers will not buy them, I will sell them at the lowest price possible. I am not obliged to get all cash. I will sell on reasonable payments as any reasonable house would take, and I will arrange to keep the pianos in perfect tune after they are delivered. This is a bona fide offer, and if you will act quickly you will secure the piano of your choice. Remember the place is 103 Front street, between Washington and Stark streets. Cash at once between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. every morning and 4 in the afternoon and later, because I have no stock. T. F. Rasmussen, general agent.

Man Who Escaped From Madhouse Will Seek Liberty Among Americans.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Geneva, Jan. 11.—The fire which destroyed the 13-story Parker building, with $6,000,000 loss, last night, caused the worst surface blockage today in the history of the city. More than 100,000 persons were cut off from transportation for four hours in the busiest part of the day.

The burned and twisted steel framework stands directly over the Eighteenth street station and the building department feared it would collapse through the subway roof. After long delay they permitted resumption of service, but all trains passed the wreck at a snail's pace. Tonight, however, acting Fire Chief Blinn notified the police that the structure had collapsed and it would be necessary to put it up to the police to set. Burglar began narrow escapes and, as there was no hope of finding either Fireman George O'Connor or Fire Patrolman John Fallon alive, he would not risk any more lives.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Ontario, Or., Jan. 11.—In the inter-scholastic debate at the opera house in this city last evening between the Ontario and the high school debating teams the judges decided in favor of Ontario.

The speakers for Ontario were Roy Smith, Arthur Moody and Kelso Newman. Edna Larson, Fred Blalock and Adelaide Waldner represented the Boise high school. The judges were Superintendent Turner of Payette, Rev. Leads of Payette and Fred Holmes of Island City, Oregon. One of the judges voted for the affirmative and two for the negative.
