

WORLD WILL OREGON FOR BEEF CATTLE Experts Say Climatic and Feeding Conditions Here Superior to Every Place but England Where Highest Breeds Originated.

A revolution in export trade from this port is scheduled to follow the development of packing plant and livestock industries. Meat products are expected to take precedence over breadstuffs in value of annual exports from Portland.

"The day of broad-back steers has come for Oregon," says Dr. Wisdom. "No longer can the razor-back formerly produced in Texas be tolerated if the Pacific northwest is to keep up with the procession under packing-house leaders in the improved beef cattle should be the watchword of the northwest, for we cannot afford to let Texas and the middle west get the better of us in the history of the middle west and Texas is to be repeated in Oregon."

"Hence it is apparent that the livestock and packing industry is the most important factor in giving to the people of the United States the advantages of a balance of trade with foreign countries. Portland and the Pacific northwest are about to step into one of the most important positions in this trade."

"The farmers of Oregon will be the first to feel its stimulus. They will also be called upon to shoulder the obligation of supplying a higher grade of livestock and more of it. Competition with the world's livestock markets means that we must have a certain amount of the best of the best."

"The packing industry has also made progress in economics. In 1880 beef steers sold for 15 cents per pound on the hoof, while the dressed carcass brought $1.50 per 100. Today there is less than $1.50 difference between the price on the hoof and the dressed beef."

CLAIRVOYANT SAYS TWO YEARS; HEARS FROM HUSBAND NEXT DAY Mrs. Don S. Wright of Vancouver, Washington, whose husband has been missing several weeks and who has turned up at Goldfield, Nevada, in a hospital, was in Portland Saturday and Sunday in search of some trace of the missing man. While here Mrs. Wright received a clairvoyant at 100 Broadway, who informed that Mr. Wright had gone away with a man and a woman. Mrs. Wright stayed at the Hotel Parkins. Mrs. Wright left home several days before Christmas. He had been complaining of severe pains in the head, and Mrs. Wright came to the conclusion that he had wandered away from home.

WHEAT MAGNATES TO GOON JACKET Inland Empire Excursion Train Is Crowded to the Limit.

The inland empire excursion from Spokane and Walla Walla via Portland to Los Angeles, starting February 7, will be the most remarkable event of that kind in the history of the northwest. The O. R. & N. company has reduced the limit of train capacity and stopped the sale of tickets. More than 200 people will go. Its success is taken as a sure proof of the inland empire's prosperity.

The excursion party is made up of farmers and merchants who are dependent on the farming community for their business. Among the excursionists are many men who came to the northwest a few years ago with little or no money and today are millionaires. Their wealth has been gained in the wheat business and related industries.

Wherever there is an up-to-date packing plant there is sure to be found the best types of beef cattle. This combination has built up the American packer's great export trade. While England, a beef-eating nation, has money raisers, and the utilizers of farm waste; that livestock constitutes the principal element of agricultural prosperity and the foundation of general prosperity in keeping up prices of farm products, and that those states and sections where fine stockraising is carried on have prospered and shown the greatest advance in wealth, population and education."
