SUMMER DIVERSIONS AT GRANTS PASS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Grants Pass, Or., Jan. 22.—Preparations are being made for outdoor entertainments next summer. Besides the improvement of the city park on the river, and of Railroad park in the center of town, a corner band of four-piece is under training by Professor Milton Rowell. The two large arches built over Sixth street during the fruit fair and festival last fall will be made permanent. They have been equipped with several hundred electric lights, which will be lighted on special occasions during the summer.

STANFORD WHITE'S RAIL

New York Reformer Watched Architect's Rooms in Attempt to Secure Evidence Upon Which He Could Prosecute Him for Mistreating Women.

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Jan. 22.—Mrs. Francis E. Pierce, the first witness called to the stand this morning in the trial of Harry Thaw for the murder of Stanford White, identified Thaw's signature to his will, which was made on the evening of his marriage to Evelyn Nesbit.

District Attorney Jerome objected to the witness giving testimony along this line. He insisted that she would be unable to swear that the document was in the same condition and that it read the same as it did on the night it was signed.

Justice Dowling finally ruled that the document should be admitted. The defense made an offer to admit the will in evidence and then temporarily withdrew it.

Anthony Comstock was the next witness for the defense. He said Thaw called at his office in February, 1904, by appointment, and told him that a well-known New Yorker had acquired a habit of ruining young girls by drug-getting.

Thaw's Mother on Stand. Mrs. William Thaw, mother of the defendant, was recalled to the stand by the defense.

PAY TERRIBLE PRICE. Clara Morris Gives Her Impressions of the Second Thaw Trial.

New York, Jan. 22.—"It is to laugh!" He was a big fellow, with a very red face, a droll twist of the lips, and a great and immediate need of clothes, who spoke to me with that familiarity that only comes from long acquaintance.

Mr. Jerome was successfully blocking the insanity defense in the Thaw trial when suddenly my neighbor, twisting his lips in a droll effort to check a laugh, said to me: "I was here the other time, but—well, it is to laugh!"

And like a flash a memory came to me that but for the presence of that man with a face like a yellow waxen mask, the Thaw trial would have been a different affair.

How well it must be remembered that day when the prosecuting attorney suddenly abandoned satire, sarcasm and the bitter venom that he had poured into the friend and benefactor of this defendant, crying out hotly against the cruelty of his counsel, who thus placed the Thaw trial on a new basis.

TO SEE COAST NAVAL DEFENSE

House Committee Will Visit Pacific Coast to Investigate Conditions.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Representative Smith has been informed that probably the entire house committee on naval affairs will visit the Pacific coast early next summer and that they will include the site of the proposed navy yard at San Diego on their route.

Because of the inclination of congress toward economy this year it may not be possible to secure an appropriation for the San Diego project, but Smith expects to have the trouble in securing at least an authorization for an investigation of a site south of San Francisco, which will mean San Diego.

DICKSON HOUSE AT PENDLETON BURNED

Pendleton, Or., Jan. 22.—Fire totally destroyed the old Dickson house on the north side of the river, recently purchased by the Oldenbergs of La Grande at 10 o'clock this morning. It was occupied by James Johns, a real estate dealer, who was visiting the Oldenbergs from some unknown cause. Mrs. Johns and her baby barely escaped with their lives. The house was valued at $6,000, and was insured for the loss of $2,500. As it was outside the city limits the house had no fire protection.

TALK MACHINES GOING FAST NO MORE DELAY FOR RUEF

Close-Out Sale of East Side Phonograph Co.'s Stock at Eilers Rapidly Progressing.

When modern talking machines and high-grade record cabinets are offered at retail for less than manufacturer's cost, it is most surely time to buy. The pleasure and entertainment afforded by a talking machine is practically limitless and once installed in the home will prove the most popular feature of home amusement in this great closing-out sale of the East Side Phonograph Co.'s stock.

San Francisco, Jan. 22.—Abraham Ruef pleaded for further delay this morning when his case came up before Judge Lawlor. Through his attorney, George Keane, he begged the court to give him additional time in which to secure counsel. Judge Lawlor granting him until Friday afternoon to secure counsel, plainly told him that he must have counsel at that time and that he must not again seek to delay his impending trial upon that ground.

When the cases were called this morning, through a misunderstanding the United Railroad defendants were not reported by counsel and the matter was immediately taken up by the court.

Attorney Keane, in behalf of his client, made the following plea to Judge Lawlor: "We have been canvassing many attorneys in the hope of securing counsel for Ruef and the result is that one attorney has agreed to take the case under certain conditions. He insists that an associate counsel be provided. He is to try a case in Los Angeles, which begins on Friday, and will take about a week to try. We therefore ask that the matter be continued for a couple of weeks."

The court understands the right of a defendant to choose his own counsel, but the defendant should bear in mind that the time of the court is also to be taken into consideration. It is not to be engaged by counsel who cannot take up the trial within a reasonable time," replied Judge Lawlor.

Defendants intimated to the court that it might be possible for this attorney to have his case in Los Angeles continued, and Judge Lawlor thereupon continued the case until Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The cases of Schmitts and the United Railroad defendants were continued till the same time.

FEELING RISES AGAINST NEAL

There Is Gloom in Homes of the Frugal Poor of Idaho Capital.

Boise, Jan. 22.—Walter S. Bruce, who was appointed receiver of the Capital State bank, which suspended yesterday, took charge today. It is still maintained by the directors and the receiver that depositors will be paid in full, but much uneasiness is manifested and many ugly stories are afloat.

The failure has cast a gloom over the city, because of the large number of poor people who had all their earnings in this bank.

Feeling against Cashier H. E. Neal, who left the city before the crash came, is strong in some quarters.

SHE FOUND RELIEF IN PE-RU-NA.

"Last Winter Our Doctor Gave Us a Copy of the Pe-ru-na Almanac. I Found Help."

Severe Cold and Cough. Mrs. Lydia H. Josselyn, 501 Westminister street, Providence, R. I., is treasurer of the Editors' League of Rhode Island, chartered in Providence. She writes:

"My experience with Peruna has been most gratifying. Last winter I contracted a severe cold, and for several days coughed until my voice failed me. When other remedies did me no good, I decided to try Peruna, and within four days the cold was broken up and the cough abated.

"Within another week an increase in my usual strength and vitality told me that Peruna was doing all that it promised, and more.

"I also consider it very superior for relief, worn out mothers, and have advised several to try it, and have seen most gratifying results from its use. "I give it highest praise."

Systemic Catarrh. Mrs. J. L. Hommedieu, 150 Calver St., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I gave up in despair of relief. It has effected a wonderful cure in my case."

"I was taken very bad with catarrh. It affected me all over. My head ached so it could not sit up all day. I was treated by my physician without the least bit of relief.

"I commenced to take Peruna. Within less than a week I felt better, and now I have finished taking two bottles, and I consider myself well.

"I speak in favor of Peruna to all I know. It is wonderful what it did for me. I wish everybody would try it."

Mrs. Adelia Rush, R. D. 8, Cambridge, Ohio, writes: "I feel that I owe you many thanks for the help I received through your advice and the use of your medicine."

"I had suffered with my stomach and inward trouble for a long time, and did not know what ailed me, but last winter our doctor gave us a copy of your almanac and I read it and found my symptoms, and I concluded to try it, and I found help in the first bottle. Now I feel myself again.

"I will not forget to praise Peruna always."

Throat and Nose. Mrs. W. K. Good, Broadway, Va., writes: "When I was 15 years old I had catarrhal fever, and for nine years I have had catarrh of the head. Through neglect it went to my throat and nose."

"After consulting you I used Peruna for four months as directed, and I am entirely well and have my natural health.

"I cannot praise Peruna too highly. It will do all that it is recommended to do."

Catarrh for Many Years. Mrs. Joseph Vittur, 5709 Erie street, Austin Sta., Chicago, Ill., writes: "Four medicines Peruna was of great benefit to me. I suffered with catarrh of the nose and head for many years."

names, such witnesses as are not named, if any, cannot be called in the trial of the case.

The court said that the presence of Judge Pipes during the examination of witnesses had not been proved, and if it were it is not a ground on which defendants could reply to set aside the information.

As to the examination of witnesses in vacation time, the court said that this also is not a ground for quashing the proceedings in the pending case.

The holiday season, so far as its effect is concerned, prevented the opening of court and the regular administration of justice in the courts, but among the things which may be carried on, among others, are "proceedings of a criminal nature."

This clause, said the court, covers the proceedings in the pending case. There is no limitation on the power of the district attorney in examining witnesses. He may gain his information how, when and where he chooses, and is only restricted in that if he fails to indorse the names of witnesses questioned on the information he cannot call them at the trial.

J. Thorburn Ross was the only one of the defendants present in court this morning. While no motions to quash were presented in the case of George H. Hill, it has been agreed that the procedure in his case shall follow the others.
