

PEACE PREACHER STOP DRINKING POWER FOR GOOD

For 40 Years George Waters Has Worked to Lift Up His People.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Tappanish, Jan. 22.—Down on the Yakima Indian reservation there lives an old man, an Indian of the Kikokitai tribe, who has, for nearly forty years worked unceasingly for the uplifting of his people, preaching the gospel of the white man's Christ, and like the early apostles of that faith, working without thought of compensation other than what comes from doing good.

Born sixty-seven years ago on the banks of the Columbia river above where now stands Vancouver, Rev. George Waters spent his early life among the tribes of his family. While a young man his mind turned to pious thoughts and he began to preach to his people, not only the white man's religion, but the necessity of living at peace with the white man. Well does he remember, and interesting are the stories he tells, of the turbulent days when the Yakimas were on the warpath.

It was his brother, White Swan, late chief of the Yakima Indians, who was sent to stop the Indians of the upper Columbia river. The Dalles as they were on their way to Vancouver to make war. He succeeded in his mission and eventually the pipe of peace was smoked.

Aided General Grant.
Rev. Mr. Waters knew General Grant well, and though a young man at the time he often aided while general in his diplomatic battles with the Indians. He graduated from the Chemical Training School, located four miles from Yakima, in 1867, and was ordained to the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal church by Bishop Jayne, of Portland, Oregon.

When the Yakima reservation was set aside for the Indians of the different tribes of the northwest he was given an allotment of eighty acres of land, then he has devoted his life to the Indians on the reservation, teaching them their religion. He is a natural born orator, and often delivers discourses in both English and in the native tongue. He is fond of gathering his people together on the white man's holidays. Then he tells them of the life that is best for them, teaching them to shun fire-water and gambling, the two greatest curses of the Indian.

Is a Power for Good.
At the same time, this old man is full of jovial good nature, and encourages all healthy sports that tend to lessen the hardships and drudgeries of life. Absolutely upright and truthful in his life, the Indians all believe in him and today many Christian Indians owe their conversion to his earnest endeavors. He has been instrumental in building two Indian churches on the reservation; one at old Fort Simcoe, the scene of many early military activities, when the subjection of the Yakimas required a large military force and taxed the ingenuity and bravery of such men as Colonel Wright and Governor Stevens. The other little church is about six miles from Tappanish.

Quiet, unobtrusive, the old man is here and there, ministering to the sick in the most miserable tepees or giving spiritual guidance to those who have prospered and have built for themselves handsome houses on the reservation. When asked recently how his work was progressing the old man studied a moment before replying and said:

"The white man has opened a great spring, from which the Indians are drinking freely. I don't know what will come out. Maybe God will, maybe devil. Whiskey, whiskey," and the old man gravely shook his head.

JAPS FLASHING STRANGE SIGNALS

In White River Valley Portentous Signs Alarm White Neighbors.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Seattle, Jan. 22.—Japanese residents of the White River Valley have been showing so much mysterious activity lately that their white neighbors have become alarmed. Nearly every night the little brown men are holding meetings throughout the valley. What the object of the meetings may be is not known, but the White River farmers no longer attempt to conceal the opinion that it is for some purpose which the Japs do not care to divulge, possibly to organize for united action in the event of war between Japan and the United States.

The White River farmers have learned to distinguish a farm conducted by Japs from the American ranches at night, because of the fact that the Japs for the last two months have kept peculiarly shaped lights burning from the tops of their cabins. These lights serve to give notice to other Japanese that a meeting is to be held, and all night long, it is said, the little brown men can be seen tramping back and forth between their homes and the meeting houses. They seem to spring up like magic when the lights are burning away.

A report of the peculiar actions of the Japanese gardeners was brought to Seattle by Robert Bridges, former state commissioner who owns a farm at Orilla. He discussed the situation with Councilman James Conway.

"Bridges told me," said Conway, "that the situation does not look good to him. He is not willing to assert that the Japs are holding the riverside meetings for improper purposes, but he said he certainly looks peculiar."

"He tells me that the Japanese are now overrunning the valley. There are several hundred of them there. The meetings which they hold are attended by men and women, and sixty men," Bridges says it looks to him as if they are trying to obtain absolute control of the valley, possibly with the object of cornering the city's vegetable supply.

"They are getting control of every farm they can," Bridges refused to sell his ranch, and they offered to rent it, and he is willing to pay high rentals, too."

BANG GOES THE LID OVER BELLINGHAM

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Bellingham, Jan. 22.—Bellingham has been experiencing the novelty of a Sunday with the lid on, following the instructions of Prosecuting Attorney Peninger to Sheriff Williams, and the latter's pronouncement issued a few days ago.

This move follows persistent agitation directed primarily against the saloons. However, the order for closing extends to pool and billiard rooms, cigar stands and theaters. The only exceptions are fruit and confectionery stores, drug stores and restaurants. The drug stores have entered into a compact that they will not sell any intoxicants which will be sold without a prescription of current date. This agreement is for the purpose of satisfying saloons that they are not forced to close at a resultant benefit to the pharmacists.

The order for closing is being observed by all classes of business upon which the inhibition rests except the theaters, which have publicly announced that they intended to remain open in order to make a test of the law and they did business as usual. Arrests for violation of the Sunday closing law will doubtless follow, and the matter be carried to the courts.

SALOONMAN ON TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Spokane, Wash., Jan. 22.—F. G. Ragdale, a saloon man of this city, has been placed on trial charged with the involuntary manslaughter of "Dusty" Dean in his saloon October 1. Ragdale struck Dean with his fist, who fell to the floor and never regained consciousness.

The all-round man wants two pairs of trousers to one coat, so we have made a special selection of about 150 pairs of winter weight worsteds and cassimeres and placed them on our bargain counter at $2.35.

They were $3.00, $3.50 and some $4.00.

Your size is here.

CRUIZERS FIND WHERE UNCLE SAM HAS LOST LAND, and State, Taxes.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 21.—Assessor Harry V. Rallsback and Head Cruiser L. E. Duval, in charge of timber land cruising in Pierce county, are gathering evidence that gigantic coal land frauds were perpetrated in this county many years ago. The field notes of the 16 cruising crews in the field show that there is about 15 times more coal land in the county than has been supposed. Instead of a paltry four square miles of coal lands upon which the government has paid more than 50 square miles, untouched save for slight development work, has already been located by the timber cruisers and is now being paid for at half price. All of this newly discovered coal land had preemption claims filed upon it and was proved up years ago with the payment to the government of but a bare $2.50 per acre.

Locators Wise to the Coal.
That is what was known to be coal land at the time, the cruisers are certain from the indisputable evidence of old prospects and trails that show that the coal veins were thoroughly prospected. All this coal land is included in a strip of country 2 1/2 miles long by from three to four miles wide, reaching from the Nisqually river valley across the Big Mashel, Puyallup and Carbon river valleys. The district is well up in the foothills of the westerly slope of the Cascades, and owing to the tremendous depth of the forest and the roughness of the country is accessible only with great difficulty. A trail which looks as if cut 25 years ago runs the entire length of the district.

Filed in Bunches, in a Body.
The land was all taken up by what Cruiser Duval calls "barnyard" filings, in which from 10 to 20 men filed at one time, taking up their claims adjoining one another. All of these original owners soon got rid of their lands, and railroad corporations and coal companies now hold the government deeds. Assessor Rallsback doubts if any prosecution that might be instituted can ever reach the guilty persons, as the tracks of the culprits have been covered, factually by the long lapse of time, combined with their own shrewd maneuvering.

Taxes Will Get a Boost.
He will at once assess all the lands in the strip of coal lands, and this with the assessment for the heavy growth of timber covering it and the land assessment, will give the county a large increase of revenue. The locating of the coal veins and outcroppings disclose the fact that this county is 15 or 20 times richer in its wealth of coal than has commonly been supposed.

The cruising of the county's timber is showing that the Weyerhaeuser and other large timber holding companies have been paying taxes on only about one-fourth of the timber they own.

RECEIVER ONE DAY; SUED BY DEPOSITORS

Edward Le Breton Defendant for Dealings of California Trust Company.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Jan. 21.—Although he has acted but one day as receiver for the California Safe Deposit & Trust company, papers were filed today against Edward Le Breton as representative of the bank asking for a termination of the trust. Furthermore, the complainants, Ella O. Mann, Charles S. Mann and Frederick Mann, ask that the court grant them $231.35, the amount due as quarterly income from stocks and bonds held in trust by the defunct concern.

The complaint alleges that in May, 1905, stocks in the Spring Valley Water company, the Alaska Packers' association, California Wine association, the Hawaiian Commercial Sugar company, Oceanic Steamship company, People's Water company, Sacramento Electric, Gas and Railroad company, and bonds in the Oakland Transit company, Northern Railway of California, Los Angeles Railway company, Ocean Steamship company, Hawaiian Commercial Sugar company and 14 shares of California Safe Deposit stock were given in trust to the bank by the will of Samuel Stillman Mann, the income to be paid to the complainants. In October the bank suspended, and since that time they have received no income from that concern.

PUYALLUP EATING UNDER A TOWN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
McMillan, Wash., Jan. 22.—Two churches, a schoolhouse and fourteen dwelling houses are in danger of being washed into the Puyallup river. The current is slowly cutting into the bank and unless preventive measures are adopted it is only a question of time when the school and churches are also away. A repetition of the flood of November, 1905, would destroy all this property in a few hours.

The last flood made a cut of 300 feet into the bank toward the school. That left a sharp turn in the river, which the current is now cutting into. The water is already within seventeen rods of the McMillan schoolhouse and getting nearer every day. The Presbyterian and Lutheran churches are also in the path of the river. In the neighborhood are fourteen dwellings, with the river cutting ear between them and the encroaching river.

Repeated attempts have been made to check the course of the river, but when the current is cutting on one side it starts on the other. It is believed that the only means of permanently stopping the encroachment of the river is to cut a new channel that will eliminate the sharp turn that is causing the current to eat into the bank. The officers are at present in conference, but unless both sides of the river are bulkheaded for some distance the situation would not be improved.

NO INDIAN GOT LEWIS' JEWELRY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Klamath Falls, Or., Jan. 21.—Investigation shows that the burglary and incendiary job by which County Treasurer Lewis' jewelry stock was the work of an expert, not of an Indian as was first thought. A inventory stock remaining shows that only solid gold and silver articles were taken and plated ware was carefully cut out. It is considered certain that the Indian would be able to discriminate, nor would care to do so he could.

There is no doubt that the robber set the fire.

Mr. Lewis' own private safe and the county safe were not touched.

The Countess' clothing was badly damaged by water and smoke and R. L. Hammond's clothing store was slightly damaged.

The officers are on the alert and it is believed that owing to the condition of the roads the robber cannot get far away without being discovered.

HEALTH REPORT Shows Two Thirds of Office Men Are Victims of Dyspepsia.

Recent official health reports make the surprising revelation that 60 per cent of men employed at office work are afflicted to a greater or less degree with dyspepsia.

Commenting on this, one of the head medical advisers of the department says that if dyspepsia or indigestion is left in its milder forms is allowed to continue it will in short time poison the blood from putrefaction of food in the stomach.

This eventually undermines the whole system and the sufferer is prey to almost any disease, especially affections of the kidneys. In addition, any one with indications of indigestion, such as bloating, belching and headaches, to relieve it promptly. He says this can be most effectively done by using a digestive and gives the following formula which he strongly recommends: "Two ounces Essence of Pepsin; three ounces Syrup of Ginger; one ounce Catarrh Compound. These to be well mixed and used in doses of two or three teaspoonfuls after each meal, also at bedtime for the first week."

This is a very simple home remedy, and is obtainable at any well-stocked drug store. It is pleasant to take and probably is the most effective formula known for relieving the stomach to its normal activity.

SAN FRANCISCO MAN HAS EYE GOUGED OUT

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 21.—Last night James Miller had his right eye gouged out in a scuffle with two footpads. The fight cost him the sight of one eye and may result in his being totally blind.

He was walking on Howard street when two armed men stepped from the shadow of a doorway, commanding him to throw up his hands. He refused to obey. He fought and cried for help, and finally fell unconscious from a blow over the head with a pistol. He regained consciousness some time after he was taken to the hospital, where he was torn from his socket during the fight. The robbers made their escape.

MRS. BIGELOW DIES SUDDENLY

Lucretia R. Bigelow, who had been in Portland but a week, died suddenly at a rooming-house, 414 Fifth street, this morning. Mrs. Bigelow had been ill for several days.

Mrs. Bigelow was a widow about 60 years old and leaves two sons, John Bigelow, of Spokane, and R. H. Bigelow at Goldfield.

Portrait of Late Senator.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Jackson, Miss., Jan. 22.—A handsome oil portrait of the late Senator J. George, father and defender of the constitution of Mississippi, which eliminated the negro as a political factor of the state, was unveiled with interesting exercises today in the hall of representatives of the state capitol. The portrait was presented by the late senator to the state department of archives and history.

DYSPEPSIA-PROOF

How Any Meal Can Be Thoroughly Enjoyed by Any Stomach.

Men, as a rule, are first discovered by their enemies. Their antagonists turn on the searchlight, and the proof of merit will lie in being able to stand the flash.

It was only in this way that Mr. White discovered that dyspepsia was one of Mr. Black's worst enemies. Sitting face to face at a two-by-four table, he handed his afflicted friend the bill of fare:

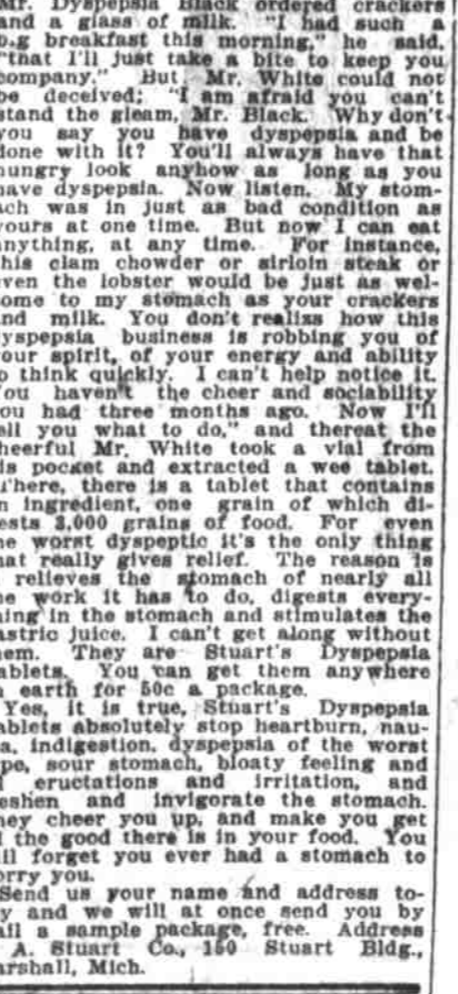

- Oyster Cocktail.
- Stuffed Olives.
- Boston Clam Chowder.
- Strained Gumbo.
- Sirloin Steak with Mushrooms.
- Roast Beef.
- Boiled Ox Tongue with Sauerkraut.
- Lobster à la Newburg.
- Baked Pork and Beans.
- Combination Crab Salad.
- Hot Mince Pie.
- Pineapple Fritters.

Mr. White ordered a "little of each." Black ordered crackers and a glass of milk. White had such a big breakfast this morning," he said, "that I'll just take a bite to keep you company." But Mr. Black could not be deceived: "I am afraid you can't stand the steam, Mr. Black. Why don't you say you have dyspepsia and be done with it? You'll never have that hungry look anyhow as long as you have dyspepsia. Now listen. My stomach was in just as bad condition as yours at one time. But now I can eat anything, at any time. For instance, this clam chowder or sirloin steak or even the lobster would be just as welcome to my stomach as your crackers and milk. You don't realize how this dyspepsia business is robbing you of your spirits, of your energy and ability to think quickly, can't help notice it. You haven't the cheer and sociability you had three months ago. Now I'll tell you what to do, and thereafter the cheerful Mr. White took a vial from his pocket and extracted a wee tablet.

"Here, there is a tablet that contains an ingredient, one grain of which digests 3,000 grains of food. For even the worst dyspeptic it's the only thing that really gives relief. The reason is it relieves the stomach of nearly all the work it has to do, digests everything in the stomach and stimulates the gastric juice, can't get along without them. They are Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. You can get them anywhere on earth for 50c a package.

Yes, it is true, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets absolutely stop heartburn, nausea, indigestion, dyspepsia of the worst type, sour stomach, bloaty feeling and all eruptions and irritations of the stomach and invigorate the stomach. They cheer you up, and make you get all the good there is in your food. You will forgive you ever had a stomach to worry you.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by express, free of charge, a package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Write to F. A. Stuart Co., 160 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

ENGLISHMEN DO NOT LIKE PROHIBITION

(United Press Leased Wire.)
London, Jan. 21.—Denouncing the so-called "temperance" movement as a mischievous attack upon the liberty of the masses and national freedom, the English League today issued its manifesto urging Englishmen to rally, regardless of party, in defense of their rights against the government's effort to reduce some of its hastily made pledges to the Temperance party.

The licensing bill, under which an attempt will be made to lessen the number of saloons to prevent the Sunday sale of intoxicants and which rigidly regulates the weekday management of public houses, will unquestionably be the most bitter thought measure before the coming parliament, which opens January 29.
