Shepherd Squirts Dill Juice at Council and City—Makes Remarkable Statement That Public Graft Is as Bad as Private.

Former Councilman George S. Shepherd, representing the Inman-Poulsen lumber company, which is petitioning the city to vacate certain east side streets for the benefit of the company, compared the councilmen and the people of Portland to Schmitts, Ruff and other San Francisco grafters at yesterday's council meeting for wanting the company to give the city something in return for the use of the streets. Only Councilman Rufflight had the temerity to retort to Shepherd in terms of his own choosing.

Action on the petition will be definitely taken at the meeting of the council on February 26. In the meantime the people will have an opportunity to appear before the street committee and state their objections. Mr. Shepherd objected strongly to having the hearing set later than the next council meeting, or of having it go to the street committee, but Councilman Rufflight insisted that the time be extended, saying, "I don't like to see things railroaded through."

Shepherd blows his horn. Shepherd contends that the city does not own the streets and therefore cannot demand a return for their use. He said that in the original plan the streets were not dedicated to the city.

"Then why do you come asking the city to vacate something which it does not own?" asked Councilman Rufflight. "I beg to correct you, Mr. Shepherd," said Mr. Shepherd, "but you have no such letter. What I said in my letter was that the city should show us by what right they are occupying city streets and property."

"Well, I go into the effect of things," replied Mr. Shepherd, "I am not so polite as Mayor Lane."

Speaks of graft. Then Mr. Shepherd went into an explanation of the lumber company's stand in the matter. He said that it desired the streets for its milling plant and urged that inasmuch as the city does not own the streets it was demanding something for nothing.

"It would be just the same thing," he declared, "for Schmitts to go before the license committee and hold up the license of the restaurants until he received a consideration as for the city to hold up the vacation of these streets until reimbursed by the company."

"When did you come to that conclusion?" asked Councilman Kellaker, and a laugh went around the room at the recollection of Mr. Shepherd's former membership in the council.

"You have said that we are like Schmitts and the rest of the San Francisco grafters," said Councilman Rufflight, endeavoring to hide his anger, "but I want to say that we are here to protect the people in this matter. You say that you are ready to give up a piece of property in exchange for the streets which we may use as a duck pond or for a crematory, or anything else we see fit. I want to say now that I will oppose a crematory there unless it is to be used for the purpose of cremating some of the old mossbacks who have exerted all the influence at their command in holding up city improvements."

Mixed his feet. In reference to the exchange of property between the lumber company and the city, Mr. Shepherd was taken to mean the company's property on East Sixth street, on which there is an assessment of $2100 for Mr. Hill. Then Mr. Shepherd made his reference to exchanging property for so many "square feet" which has been figured out so exactly and its value estimated for us.

"You mean exchanging cubic feet for square feet, don't you, Mr. Shepherd?" he asked Councilman Rufflight, while a laugh went up at the lemon which the company tried to hand the city.

After the exchange of courtesies, Councilman Rufflight asked to have the matter referred to the street committee, stating that the people were entitled to a hearing before action was taken by the council.

"There is a lot of horse sense in this city that is not in the city charter," said Rufflight when Mr. Shepherd referred to a provision which stated that all such matters should be decided by the council.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Astoria, Or., Jan. 23.—Turis Nordstrom, who cashed a forged check on the First National bank of Chicago for $12,000 did not go to Europe, as was believed. When he cashed the draft he took $2,500 in cash and the balance in drafts on different European cities. At the time he used the name C. A. Cole and had a letter of introduction, forged, that he was the junior member of the firm of P. A. Cole, Son & Co., wholesale grocers of Astoria. From Chicago he went to New York and there cashed his foreign drafts. He doubled on his tracks and on December 15 was at San Francisco, where he was arrested. There may be 25,000 or several times that number, in the great moving herd.

AND THE ACTRESS KEEPS THE RING

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., Jan. 23.—The police have learned that Edward Fitzpatrick, a wealthy married man of Spokane, Washington, who swore out a warrant for the arrest of Hazel Hedington, a variety actress, for alleged failure to return a $300 diamond ring he had loaned her, really bought the ring and gave it to her. The warrant was not served. It was alleged that the loan was made the night before the variety shows were closed by the recent lid movement. The girl was playing "The Millionaire's Daughter." She refused to return the ring on demand and has claimed all the time that Fitzpatrick gave her the ring.

he had to resort to the initiative and referendum to do so. Mayor Lane asked Mr. Shepherd if his company would be willing to accept a permit to use the streets for term of years. Shepherd replied that his company would accept any proposition that would be made after further discussion the council decided to hear the petition for the vacation of the streets February 26.

FRISCO DAIRIES SELL BAD MILK

Dr. A. R. Ward Says Large Percentage of Cows Are Disease Infected.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 23.—"There is not a single dairy in San Francisco or any outside dairy supplying milk to San Francisco, the milk of which is really pure, and free from bacilli." This statement was made by Dr. A. R. Ward, director of the state hygienic laboratory at Berkeley, at the opening conference of the crusade for pure milk instituted by the California club and a number of medical and civic societies which met at the California club.

"There is not a single dairy in San Francisco that cows of which, to a very large per cent, varying from 80 to as much as 90 per cent are not disease infected, more or less," he continued. "There is no sure method of preventing the tuberculosis into the blood of human beings, particularly into the blood of babies, than by the transmission of bovine tuberculosis through ordinary milk and cream."

"In all San Francisco there is no way of obtaining medically pure milk for infants or for young mothers at the maternity hospitals or otherwise still under the care of maternity physicians."

(United Press Leased Wire.) St. Louis, Jan. 23.—Jacob Riis, who is the one man who can walk into Roosevelt's sanctum without knocking, would like to see the president elected mayor of New York after his present term in the White House.

Riis lectured here last evening, advocating municipal betterment. During an interview just before the lecture he remarked that he told President Roosevelt that it would be his dearest desire to see him sweep the big stick over New York in an effort to bring about better conditions in the municipal affairs of the metropolis.

Riis refused to say, however, that Roosevelt had originally inspired the suggestion, but remarked that the proposition rather appealed to him. Riis expressed the belief that the president would run for the office, adding, "He is just dignified and energetic enough to set such a precedent."

Bennett will probably be re-elected grand scribe.

HIGHEST PRAISE.

Some Portland Citizens Grow Enthusiastic on the Subject. The praise of the public is merit's just reward. Nothing in modern times has received the praise accorded "The Little Conqueror."

Of some kinds of praise we are skeptical. We doubt the praise of strangers. The highest praise for Portland public is hearty expression from Portland people.

Doan's Kidney Pills are indorsed in Portland. No better proof of merit can be had. Here's a case of it. We have plenty more like it.

Mrs. J. O. Stearns of 1641 Base Line road, Portland, Oregon, living on West avenue, says: "I have highly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills for several years. I still do so, believing that any sufferer from backache or kidney trouble will find this remedy all that is claimed for it. My own experience proved that Doan's Kidney Pills promptly relieve backache and other noticeable symptoms of kidney complaint."

This woman says that sick women should not fail to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she did. Mrs. A. Gregory, of 2355 Lawrence St., Denver, Col., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was practically an invalid for six years, on account of female troubles. I underwent an operation by the doctor's advice, but in a few months I was worse than before. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to perfect health, such as I have not enjoyed in many years. Any woman suffering as I did with backache, bearing-down pains, and periodic pains, should not fail to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

SAYS HIS WIFE CHEWS TOBACCO

Los Angeles Man Wants Divorce From Woman Who Masticates Weed.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 23.—Society women who smoke cigarettes are now confronted by a rival in the person of a wife who chews tobacco. Mary C. McCormick, of Los Angeles, whose husband has left San Francisco to take his child to a place unknown to the mother, is the first woman to face the bar of justice with a chew of tobacco in her mouth.

Throughout the entire year of 1906, probably when he saw her last, William McCormick says Mary C. chewed tobacco. That is one of the main allegations set forth in a complaint charging cruelty through which William seeks to become the former husband of Mary C. McCormick objected to seeing his wife consume a pipe after roasts of that twisted semi-plug that has made Virginia famous; he positively hates the sight of his helpmate cutting the corners from those delicious plugs that are made of raw tobacco leaf, subjected to great hydraulic pressure in the naughty city of Chicago.

He prays for a decree of absolute divorce and it is through his humble efforts that the lowly chew has forced its way from the secret to the public notoriety that no cigarette has ever gained, for no one ever heard of a cigarette being named in a complaint for divorce.

The McCormicks were married in 1903 and Mrs. Mary C. McCormick now lives at 117 E. Market street, Los Angeles. McCormick, who is living here, took his three-year-old child, Jessie, into the country yesterday where she is to remain until after the courts take action.

DAWSON HALLS OF TERPSICHORE CLOSE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Dawson, Jan. 23.—The last of Dawson dance halls closed Saturday night. Not even temperance drinks made the dance halls profitable. Murray Ead's Florida was the last to close. This marks the end of the most spectacular phase of Klondike life since the early days. The first girls in the camp came in 1897 from the Yukon. They were carried over the Skagway river and the White pass on the backs of men. The dance halls of Dawson have been the exchange places of millions of dollars. The new law providing for the sale of liquor in dance halls rendered the business unprofitable, killing the resorts.

BIG LOANS MADE BY STANFORD TRUSTEES

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 23.—Within the past week or two the trustees of Stanford university have made two large sums of money. They were nearly $1,000,000, and the financiers are saying that it is much easier to secure large sums of money than it is to get the loans made from the Stanford funds was $450,000 to the Sloss and Grouse estates and the other of an equal amount was to the Boyd estate. It is said that the loans will net the university seven per cent interest.

CUTTER TO ASTORIA DESPITE PROTESTS

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, Jan. 23.—The revenue cutter McCullough sailed today from San Francisco to Astoria, but had difficulty in getting away. When the cutter was ordered to the Columbia river every civic organization at San Francisco telegraphed a protest. More than 50 were received here, claiming the vessel was built on Senator Perkins' bill and belonged there. Against all protests the McCullough was positively ordered to sail today.

"There's a Reason"

SUSPECTED THUG WOULD DIE GAME

Wounded, He Goes on Operating Table Without a Word to Anyone.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Spokane, Wash., Jan. 23.—"I feel that I'm going to die. I have no word for anyone, only that I intend to die game. Let her go, Gallagher!"

These were the last words uttered by Frank Evans, or Hogan, the suspected holdup, whose pal shot him supposedly in a quarrel, last night, in the division of $1.80 booty, before he went under the operator to submit to an operation, which the doctors declare is the only hope of saving his life.

Shortly before the shooting occurred, last night, a pedestrian was held up and robbed of $1.80. Within a few minutes, in the same locality, the shooting occurred on the street. The police believe Evans and his pal got into a dispute over the division of the booty and that the former sustained the wound that will probably result in his death.

A mask was found in his coat, when he was found on the street. He has been positively identified by the victim of the holdup as one of the thugs who robbed him. Evans will tell little of himself and nothing of the shooting. He says he came here this week from Seattle, and that his home is at Newark, New Jersey.

IDAHO SALOON MEN FORM ASSOCIATION

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Wallace, Ida., Jan. 23.—It has been learned that the meeting of saloonmen held in this city yesterday was for the purpose of organizing the Shoshone County Liquor Dealers' association, which is to be part of a state organization. The meeting yesterday was the third one held. A short time ago representatives were sent to this city to interest saloonmen of this county in a state organization and it is the intention to organize in every county in the state for protection of their business interests, more especially with reference to the Sunday rest law. While the organization is primarily for liquor men, other branches of business are not barred, and one or two cigar men have joined.

"We are willing to close our saloons any reasonable hours," said a local saloonman today. "We might close during church services or some such hours as are agreed upon, but we do not favor the present law that compels us to close fully 24 hours on Sunday."
