They have charged Dan and Gane Sullivan with being professionals but their friends claim that it is doubtful if any athletes in the northwest have a better amteur standing or preserve it more carefully, according to the felmical understanding of an amateur. These boys have been charged with being "roving" athletes, but their friends insist that no one has given them the courtesy of listening to their reason for leaving Butte. There are few here for leaving Butte. There are few here in the northwest that know Dan Sullivan was a member of the American team which went to athena Greece, least year and won the championship of the world in the Olympic games.

They have charged Dan and Gane Sullivan with being professionals but the feed of knows:

Explanatory of the telegram sent least that the decision of the management recalling you from the Seattle meet was reached in the interest of the club, rather than because of dislike for you. It is the policy of the new board of trustees to use only bona fide residents of Spokane in interclub matches and also those at this clubhouse. This precludes the use of you or Gene. We are grateful for you if services against Multnomah at Portland, but will have no longer the disposition to continue these relations.

"Should you and Gene desire a letter of knoncary withdrawal we will gladly the world in the Olympic games."

Should you and Gene desire a letter of knoncary withdrawal we will gladly the world in the Olympic games.

Not in years has the advent of two for leaving Butte. There are few here in the northwest that know Dan Sullivan was a member of the American team which went to athena Greece, last year and won the championship of the world in the Olympic games.

Not in years has the advent of two athletes in the northwest caused such comment as that of Dan and Gene Sullivan and most of it has been adverse to the two athletes. Whether or not this disposition to criticise the Sullivans unfavorably is just will probably remain unsettled. They have shown no disposition to defend themselves publicly, because they have not had the opportunity.

alone that he represented America in one of the greatest athletic contests of modern times, commands a hearing regardless of what has been said about him. Sullivan went from Montana to New York and demonstrated his right to represent the stars and stripes in the wrestling and pentathlum at Athens. That he failed to win the wrestling event was no fault of his.

Forced suddenly to adopt a system of wrestling not his own and to meet a man who weighed nearly 30 pounds heavier, he gave one of the greatest wrestling exhibitions ever seen in Greece. For two and one half hours he tugged aid pulled with his big antagonist, Weckmann, but the latter finally was awarded the decision. The cheers of the crowd went to Sullivan and the hisses went to Weckmann for his ungentlemanly tactics. Weekmann afterwards won the world's amateur championship.

Completed at the Lewis and Clark exposition games in 1905, finishing fourth in the all-around championship event:

"Dan Sullivan of Anaconda, who finished fourth, deserves more credit than is given to the average athlete, because he came from a territory where track athletics are practically unknown. He never saw an all-around competition, made his own apparatus, and on more than one occasion he was put down by his fellow men as being in same. That a man would travel hundreds of miles to compete and so well, is surely very creditable.

Confident in Himself.

Dan Sullivan said vesterday that he did not think there was an amateur in the United States or in fact the world who could throw him at his weight. The middleweight division in the London Olympic games will adopt the catch-as-catch-can style and the weight will be 161 pounds. Dan can easily make this.

Dan Sullivan has a very reasonable excuse for leaving Butte. "There are no athletic clubs in Butte," he said, "and I wanted to begin training for the Confident In Eimself.

HOW TO ACQUIRE A GOOD COMPLEXION

The latest style in complexions calls for a skin that is creamy in tone. This cannot be produced by any powders or cosmetics, which are always plainly apparent to every one, although some ladies try to deceive themselves with the idea that they can apply powders without detection. But they themselves are the only ones fooled.

A prominent beauty doctor contributes to our readers the following formula for a tollet preparation that is probably the most effective known to the profession for producing the rose tinted complexion now so desirable and enabling the discontinuance of all cosmetics and powders. The formula is as follows:

Two ounces Rose Water; one ounce Spirits of Cologne; four ounces crystalized Sartoin (skin food). Put the Sartoin into a pint of hot water (not boiling), and when dissolved and cooled, add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirits; then strain through a fine cioth. Any larger bottle or fruit jar will serve as a receptacie, providing it can be closed air-tight.

Olympic games as soon as possible. I started out for the nearest club, intending to secure a position and become a member. Spokane was nearer Seattle than any other city, and my brother Gene and I went there and enrolled. "What Spokane had against us I do not know. Strict amateur. Perhaps there was was more jealousy than anything else at spokane. Pardon me for referring to ourselves, but we were so much better than anything they had there that some of the lesser lights grew jealous.

"We must still have the good will of the Spokane people, as the following letter, which was sent me January 20, by Fred H. Gaston, shows:

Careful of His Standing.

That Dan Sullivan and his brother, Gene, are ambitious is not denied. Dan refused to play football with the Spokane Athletic club because he saw the names of "Dode" Brinker and other well known professionals on the list of opponents. This was because he was afraid to jeopardize his amadisposition to defend themselves put he was arraid to jeopardize his amalicly, because they have not had the copportunity.

Dan Sullivan, from the very fact alone that he represented America in competed at the Lewis and Clark exposed of the greatest athletic contests of modern times, commands a hearing remodern times, commands a hearing refourth in the all-around championship

"SLEEPING BEAUTY" IS HER EPITAPH

Chicago, Jan. 25 .- "There shall be inscribed upon my tomb in German and in large golden letters this epitaph: "Here lies the sleeping beauty." "Here lies the sleeping beauty."

This is one of the odd provisions in the will of Mrs. Alwin Schaeffer, just filed for probate. She was the divorced wife of Henry Schaeffer, a hotel man Mrs. Schaeffer disposes of $30,000, most of it to give festivals for German orphan children.

The will provides that a weeping willow tree be placed above her grave. It is also requested that her poodle dog. "Lottie," be given to "one of the richest families in the city," and that $2 a week be set aside for the dog's maintenance.

CALIFORNIANS ARE NOT FOND OF WILEY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—California's troubles with Dr. Wiley, chief enforcer of the food law, were aired before the interstate commerce commission of the house today. The committee was considering the bill to authorise the secretary of agriculture to appoint a permanent commission to pass on appeals from Wiley's decisions. Representative Knowland of California said that Wiley's ruling on the use of sulphur in dried fruits threatens to destroy the California fruit industry. The committee did not take a vote on the matter but it seemed to be its desire to sit on Wiley.

Christmas Music Repeated.

At the Taylor Street Methodist Episcopal church, 3d and Taylor streets, this morning, the chorus choir and a large orchestra, under the direction of Prof. W. H. Boyer, will give selections from the "Messiah." Dr. Benjamin Toung will preach on the theme of the great oratorio.

At the evening service the chorus will give "By Babylou's Wave," Gounod. In addition, there will be a soprano solo and chorus. Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer and the choir wil render "When Thou Comest" (Inflamatus) from Stabat Mater, Rossini.

most unconscious from pain.

The young woman could only say in broken English that she had no home. Before the policeman could summon assistance the woman gave birth on the sidewalk to a lusty male child.

With the aid of a woman in a house near by, the sufferer was almost dragged into a stable a few feet away, where a second male child was born.

Physicians arrived a few minutes later. The mother and twins were removed to the South Side hospital, and all are out of danger tonight. The woman says she had been walking the streets for hours hoping to locate some friends.

COUNTESS NABBED ON CHARGES OF FRAUD

New York, Jan. 25 .- The fashionable Northwoods section of Nutley, N. J., was invaded by a small army of constables near midnight on Thursday: They came from the sheriff's office in Newark to explode the mystery of the "Countess" Mary de Anderson, of France, San Francisco, Plainfield and other towns of Jersey yet to be heard other towns of Jersey yet to be heard from.

The constables broke into the countess' house, surprised her and her three daughters in their night clothes, and took her, with her two youngest daughters, down to jail in Pewark.

Now the Countess de Anderson is waiting the appearance of a bondsman to supply $1,000 bail on the charges of fraud that have been lodged against her by her landlady and a grocer and butcher of Nutley. The two daughters are in jail with their mother, held as witnesses on $200 ball apiece.
