Gas Lowit Seen to Carry Away Great Sack of Yellow Metal From First National After Oregon Trust & Savings Suspended.

That the Golden Eagle department store's revenues, amounting to between $2,000 and $3,000 daily, were diverted during the latter part of its existence under the old management, has often been charged by creditors, but never yet proven.

It appears from the statement of the physician that Lowit, although he had borrowed more than $100,000 and was still owing that sum at the Oregon Trust & Savings bank, kept his personal account with the First National bank.

After the store passed from his management and an attorney was placed in charge, Lowit went east, accompanied by his attorney, and made an extended trip visiting his creditors to accept a percentage settlement.

MISERABLE HOWLER, HOWEVER, WENT FREE

The city is $10 richer because Ed Zimmer shot at a cat last night. Zimmer contributed the amount named in the police court this morning, where he appeared to answer a charge of disturbing the peace. Zimmer, who lives near Sixth and Harrison streets, asserts that the neighborhood in which he lives is so full of hoodlums that he is obliged to combine to make night hideous with their love songs. Last night he took a walk with a cat and a dog. The cat escaped unharmed, but a dog store window in range was shattered beyond repair. Zimmer was arrested in a quick order. When he paid his fine in the police court this morning and gave assurance that he would make good the damage to the drugstore window the incident was considered closed.

INVESTORS CURE A DROD ELEGANT

Growing Tendency Apparent on Part of Many Persons to Own Homes.

Everybody with money now wants to buy a home. The recent financial mix-up has apparently caused many people to think that it would be better for them to be their own landlords. This idea seems to have taken possession of a large portion of Portland's population with the result that those having a few hundred dollars with which to make the initial payment on a cottage or a building site form the majority of buyers. Mechanics with good salaries and men day laborers are investing in small holdings in all parts of the city.

Out of 48 transfers filed for record last Saturday 25 represented purchases of cottages or residence sites in the suburban districts. Victor Smolgin and Jorgi Babich have purchased from Walter E. Hadley two lots on Gay street, between Millon and Benton streets; consideration $200 each. One day laborer has purchased a house and lot at the corner of Kerby and Monroe streets, lower Albina, has been sold to John M. Pittenger for $2,400. The same property has been resold by Pittenger to John Mueller for $100 advance.

Hall a 60x50 foot lot at the corner of Tillamook and East Tenth streets for $1,400. A 10-acre tract on Columbia street has been sold to Joseph Thorpe by Yarnes for $10,000. A fractional lot on the Market-street drive, Portland Heights, has been purchased by William M. Wilder from Argumote Tharlow for $1,000.

COOS BAY PEOPLE FAVOR FIESTA PLANS

Delegation Corrects Erroneous Statement Made Regarding Their Position.

An error in a report from the Rose Festival management published in a morning paper has caused some alarm among the Coos bay delegation that visited the city yesterday. The delegation fears the positive statement accredited to them may implicate them as a guarantee to furnish a float from that part of the country where no authoritative action has in fact been taken.

Peter Loggie and F. H. Brigham of North Bend, and W. H. Lyon, secretary of the Commercial club at Marshfield, formed the delegation from Coos bay which came up Saturday to meet the general assembly. While here they visited Mr. Hutchins of the Rose Festival committee and were most enthusiastic over the plans.

"We want it understood that we have made no address and we are unwilling to antagonize our people by having them think we have acted without authority, but still we desire to see that the Coos bay people will do what we can personally to give it support."
