DR. WIN. BENEATH SWITCH ENGINE

Matthew White of Vancouver Fatally Injured—Tried to Catch Ride.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Vancouver, Wash., Jan. 28.—Matthew White, a well-known resident of this city, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon by falling beneath a switch engine in the Northern Pacific yards.

White made his home with his parents at 1215 Third and Jefferson streets. Leaving home after dinner yesterday he intended to go to the business section of the city. He attempted to board a switch engine but lost his footing and fell beneath the pilot. His left leg was horribly crushed, the flesh being torn away to the bone to the greater part of the way from the thigh to the ankle. The engine crew at once took the helpless man in charge and called an ambulance. He was hurriedly taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where, following the amputation of the injured limb, he gradually sank until death came shortly after midnight.

White had been in ill health for some time and when he met his death was on his way to see a friend with whom he was planning to make a stay at Collins' springs.

Deceased was the son of S. P. White, an old resident of Vancouver. He survived by his father and mother and six sisters and two brothers. He was 27 years old. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Luke's Episcopal church. Until the funeral the body will be held at Knapp Bros. chapel.

An investigation made by Sheriff Sappington this morning indicates beyond doubt that the crew were not to blame for the fatal accident. It appears that the engine was not under guard and that the man had lost his footing as he boarded the engine, he fell and clung to the upper part of the engine. It was not until his foot caught in the open guard rail of the track that he was drawn under the engine. The engineer in charge was C. G. Giesler, the fireman was Victor Matern and the brakemen were V. Clegg and Phil Gay.

Manning suggested tomorrow afternoon as the time for argument. McCamant said he thought it would be possible to argue only a portion of the matter in one afternoon. The points are of great importance, he said, and one afternoon would not be sufficient in which to argue all of the points.

Manning said he thought one feature could be disposed of in 20 minutes. Judge Gantenbein, who was sitting in place of Presiding Judge Cleland, who is ill at his home, then started to speak, but the district attorney broke in and almost drowned the voice of the judge.

"If the court please, I wanted to say," he was saying, when Judge Gantenbein sharply cut in.

"The court is speaking now," he said, "and you will not interrupt. Mr. Manning, while the court is speaking."

The district attorney subsided and Judge Gantenbein proceeded to say that he had great hesitation in assigning matters which have been handled by Judge Cleland. He said that as the presiding judge has heard all matters pertaining to the Title Guarantee & Trust cases, he would list the matters arising as they are. Judge Cleland can pass on them.

Once more Manning started to speak, and Judge Gantenbein said:

"The court has already passed upon this matter. Mr. Manning, if this is what you desire to speak about."

Mr. Manning said he desired to correct the court in one particular, and gained the floor long enough to say that the demurrers raise new points, not passed on by Judge Cleland.

Judge Gantenbein remarked that the demurrers related to the same indictment, and that the points were not changed. That closed the incident.

Unless Judge Cleland is able to resume the bench and show that he can make some other order, it seems likely that the argument of the demurrers of Ross and his co-defendants will go over until February 10 or later, as Mr. McCamant does not expect to be back before that time. Mr. Manning may make an effort to have a hearing on the demurrers of the demurrers of Ross and his co-defendants, but the court will probably not be held until after that time.

She limited the number of carriages to two, as she declared that she living need all the money that can be saved in making the funeral simple.

THE COME AND SEE SIGN TO FORCE BROWN TO BANKRUPTCY

Bank Depositors Ask Court to Declare Frenzied Financier "Broke."

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Jan. 28.—A petition was filed this morning with Federal Judge De Haven by Frieda R. Major, Maud R. Halston and Kate O'Connell asking that J. Dalsell Brown, former manager of the California Trust company, be declared a bankrupt.

This sign is permanently attached to the front of the main building of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

What Does This Sign Mean? It means that public inspection of the Laboratory and methods of doing business is honestly desired. It means that there is nothing about the business which is not "open and above-board."

It means that a permanent invitation is extended to anyone to come and verify any and all statements made in the advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Is it a purely vegetable compound made from roots and herbs—without drugs? Come and See.

Do the women of America continually use as much of it as we are told? Come and See.

Was there ever such a person as Lydia E. Pinkham, and is there any woman asked to write? Come and See.

Is the vast private correspondence with sick women conducted by women only, and are the letters kept strictly confidential? Come and See.

Have they really got letters from over one million, one hundred thousand women correspondents? Come and See.

Have they proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured thousands of these women? Come and See.

Is this advertisement is only for doubters. The great army of women who know from their own personal experience that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female ills will still go on using and being benefited by it; but the poor doubting, suffering woman must, for her own sake, be taught confidence, for she also might just as well regain her health.

BLACK FISH GOBBLE POOR LITTLE SMELT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 28.—For half the day Sunday the bay here was lashed into a froth of foam in many places by schools of blackfish which were probably never seen in such numbers in the waters around the city before. There were five schools. The first appeared in the early forenoon and was quickly followed by another, both coming up Admiralty inlet. An hour later two other schools swam into the bay from the West Passage and still later a school came around East Point from The Narrows. Fishermen say the fish were in pursuit of smelt and herring, which were running in the bay in great schools.

CONRAD STEHL SHOT BY UNKNOWN ENEMY

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Jan. 28.—That Conrad Stehl, whose body was found on the university campus Sunday morning with a bullet in his head, was murdered, is believed by Coroner F. M. Carroll. A post-mortem examination of the body was held by Dr. Cummings and it was shown that the bullet had entered from the forehead and had struck the spinal cord.

Death must have been instantaneous, said Dr. Carroll. "It must have been impossible for Mr. Stehl to have taken more than one step. It is my belief that the theory of suicide or that death was caused by a stray bullet cannot be entertained. On Mr. Stehl's face were powder marks which indicate that the shot had been fired from close range. The inability of the police to find the revolver which caused his death and the apparent lack of motive for suicide tends to support the belief that murder was committed."

Salem, Or., Jan. 28.—Salem drug stores have been put under the ban of the state board of pharmacy by a visit of Secretary Blakeley, who is authority for the statement that they are not complying with the law which provides that drug prescription business shall be in the care of a registered pharmacist. Secretary Blakeley will visit the Willamette valley cities in quest of the law violators.

WOMAN MURDERED BY OAKLAND HUNGARIAN

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Oakland, Cal., Jan. 28.—While on her way to her home at the corner of Putnam and Wheeler streets, in Fruitvale, the night in company with her young sons, Frederick and Theodore, Mrs. Frederick Kosch, aged 32, was shot down and it is thought that she would have been killed had it not been for the intervention of Louis Machalla, a Hungarian housewife, who was infatuated with the woman. Three shots were fired, one on the bullet striking Mrs. Kosch in the base of the skull, midway between the left ear and the middle line of the head. After the shooting Machalla fled.

Friends of Machalla say that he has threatened repeatedly to commit suicide and frequently weeps. Kosch, "When I decide to go I am going to take somebody else with me."

CUBS' FOOD They Thrive On Grape-Nuts.

Healthy babies don't cry and the well-nourished baby that is fed on Grape-Nuts is never a crying baby. Many babies who cannot take any other food relish the perfect food, Grape-Nuts, and get well.

"My little baby was given up by three doctors who said that the condensed milk on which he was fed had ruined the child's stomach. One of the doctors told me that the only thing to do would be to try Grape-Nuts, so I got some and prepared it as follows: I soaked 1 1/2 tablespoons in one pint of cold water for half an hour, then I strained off the liquid and mixed 12 teaspoons of this strained Grape-Nuts juice with six teaspoons of rich milk, put in a pinch of salt and a little sugar, warmed it and gave it to baby every two hours.

"In this simple, easy way I saved baby's life and have built her up to a strong healthy child, rosy and laughing. The food must certainly be perfect to have such a wonderful effect as this. I can truthfully say I think it is the best food in the world to raise delicate babies on and also a delicious and healthful food for grown-ups as we have discovered in our family."

Grape-Nuts is equally valuable to the strong healthy man or woman. It stands for the true theory of health. There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Well-being" in this issue.

Taft Supporters.

On the other hand, the remaining supporters of Taft argue that the die has been cast; that Taft must lose or win as the follower of Roosevelt, and that to change the attitude now would be to trade horses while crossing the stream, a course which was condemned by the great Lincoln as very bad politics.

It is realized that the danger to that party is that the mixup now present in the Republican camp may result in the nomination of a reactionary candidate. And it is admitted by most men who will talk national politics that a reactionary Republican or Democratic candidate will stand exactly as much chance for election in 1908 as Parker, the reactionary, did as the Democratic candidate in 1904.
