New York Governor May Outline Platform in After-Dinner Speech.

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, Jan. 31.—Republican politicians are inclined to attach much importance to the appearance of Governor Hughes at the Republican club dinner tonight. Official announcement has been made that the governor will make an address and it is further understood that he will speak on national issues. Whether his address will be full outline of the platform on which he intends to contest for the Republican presidential nomination is not certain. Some of the politicians incline to the belief that Governor Hughes will, in his address tonight, make plain his position with regard to the leading issues that are expected to figure in the national campaign. Others are of the opinion, however, that his speech at the Republican club will be merely a preface to a more important address to be delivered later, probably at the banquet of the Brown Alumni association to be held in Boston early in March, and which Governor Hughes has already consented to attend. Close friends of the governor here say that he has been much gratified by the endorsements of his candidacy that he is receiving daily from all parts of the country.

WAREHOUSE BURNS WITH HEAVY LOSS

(United Press Leased Wire.) Walla Walla, Wash., Jan. 31.—Cotton & Buffum's warehouse with contents burned yesterday afternoon with a loss of about $7,000. The building was valued at $5,000 and the contents, which consisted of produce at $2,000. A defective flue was the cause. Fire last evening destroyed the residence of L. F. Clarke, president of the Trades Council. The loss was $2,000.

POPE TEMPORARILY LOSES HIS VOICE

(United Press Leased Wire.) Rome, Jan. 31.—Dr. Petacci, the pope's physician, declared today that for the time being his holiness has lost the use of his voice, owing to a sore throat and a cold. The conference that the pope was to have held today with representatives of the American colleges in Rome has been postponed. The pope's condition has been greatly weakened by gout.

DEAL FOR CEMENT DEPOSIT AT CLIFFS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Cliffs, Wash., Jan. 31.—Negotiations are pending for the sale by James H. Beeks of his cement deposit, located near Cliffs. Tacoma capitalists are said to be at the other end of the deal. They have had the formation experted and are said to be satisfied with his report. The deposit is said to be an eight-foot blanket ledge.

GENERAL DAVIS ON ARMY RETIRED LIST

Brigadier-General Frederick Funston May Be Promoted During Year.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—The first retirement of the year among high-ranking officers of the army took place today, when Brigadier-General J. M. K. Davis was removed from the active list by operation of the age limit. General Davis' latest command was that of the Department of the Gulf. He is a native of the District of Columbia and graduated from West Point just at the close of the Civil war. In his early army career he saw much active service on the Indian frontier, and was steadily promoted until he reached the grade of brigadier-general last May. The next retirement among general officers will be that of Major-General A. W. Greely, formerly chief signal officer and now in command of the department of Dakota, in March. This will leave a vacancy in the grade of major-general and permit the promotion of a brigadier-general, with a consequent vacancy in that grade. The other brigadier to retire will be General Charles B. Hill, in August, now in command of the post-graduate school at Fort Leavenworth, one of the most important billets in the military establishment. Brigadier-General Mackenzie, chief of engineers, will retire in May. The principal phase of interest to army officers in these retirements is that there is one chance during the year of the advancement of Brigadier-General Frederick Funston, now the senior officer of his grade.

FRANCO RUNS KINGDOM TO SUIT HIMSELF

(United Press Leased Wire.) Lisbon, Jan. 31.—Magazines and firearms in great numbers have been found and confiscated by the police and several additional arrests of persons accused of conspiring against the government have been made. Judging from present indications, Premier Franco seems to have the upper hand again and night.

(IMPORTANT) Beginning tomorrow we will deliver to Portland Heights twice daily, 9:30 and 2:30, also Whittaker st., South Portland, and Failing st., East Side north
