

BIG FILL IN PROGRESS IN TERMINAL YARDS

The most difficult and expensive piece of fill work ever undertaken in Portland is now in progress on Eleventh street north of Hoyt, where the entire street for the full length of the new Portland & Seattle railway freight sheds is being raised about four feet with sand and gravel pumped from the bottom of the Willamette river.

The work is being done by the new Hill road and about three months will be required for its completion. Water, sand and gravel is lifted 32 feet by the powerful pumps on the dredge Columbia, and forced 2,000 feet through a 30-inch steel pipe to where the fill is going on. Work on the fill was begun about two months ago, and it is estimated by the foreman in charge that four weeks of steady pumping will be required to bring the street to the required grade.

A similar fill on the Tenth and Twelfth sides of the freight sheds has already been made, which together with the Eleventh street fill are to be paved by the railway company with Belgian blocks.

KINGAID MUST MAKE ACCOUNT

Former Secretary of State Cited to Appear Before Recorder at Salem.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Jan. 31.—Counsel McMahon secured an order yesterday from Judge Galloway citing Harrison R. Kincaid, ex-secretary of the state of Eugene to appear in person before Recorder W. A. Moore of this city and testify as to the fees received by him during his term of office as secretary of state in the suit of Sears vs. Kincaid. Kincaid is cited to appear and bring all books and records of his office, and answer all questions in accounting for about $50,000 of fees alleged to have been collected in violation of the constitution and statutes of this state. Through his counsel Kincaid asked for a complaint that should be more specific and this summons was the answer of the court.

In Sears vs. Dunbar Judge Galloway took a demurrer under advisement. It was argued on behalf of Dunbar that the attorney-general, instead of the district attorney was the proper party to bring the suit on relation of the governor or secretary of state. The demurrer in the case is to be passed upon by the court Saturday at noon.

TOHL FOUND GUILTY OF SELLING LIQUOR

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Albany, Or., Jan. 31.—William Tohl was found guilty of violation of the local option liquor law, yesterday afternoon by a jury. The defendant is a clerk in the drug store of Fred Dawson and was accused by W. L. Pason and H. D. Mitchell of selling them liquor. Since the wholesale arrests were made, four of the accused have pleaded guilty, two have been convicted and the jury has disagreed on three other cases. These will all be taken up in the near future and retried. The next case is that of Fred Dawson on the same charge.

NO SUSPENSION OF NAVIGATION

Money Intended for Umatilla Rapids Will Be Used Higher Up the River.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Olympia, Wash., Jan. 31.—A desperate situation confronts the settlers in the vicinity of Priest Rapids in this state by the threatened suspension of navigation on the Columbia river between there and Kennewick during the low water period of the next two months. The attorney-general has wired Colonel S. W. Rossler, United States engineer at Portland, that $25,000 intended by the legislature for improvement of Umatilla rapids can be legally expended to relieve the situation higher up the river. Rossler has advised the state officials that the urgency of the case cannot be overestimated, as the river is the sole source of communication for the settlers with the railroad. He will wire the government dredge Wallowa, now at Pasco, to proceed at once to the stretch in question.

CHAUTAUQUA TO MEET ON BEACH AT ASTORIA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Astoria, Or., Jan. 31.—The chamber of commerce this morning received a communication from the Chautauqua association asking that a suitable location for the holding of a regular annual meeting be found if possible somewhere near Astoria. The only requisite is that it shall be convenient to a railroad station, also somewhere on the ocean beach between Fort Stevens and Seaside. The meetings would continue each summer for two weeks or longer. A site of at least 10 acres is necessary. A site at Gearhart Park is one that is mostly desired, as there would be 1,000 or more in camp every year. There are many reasons that a site should be given free.

SECOND SCHOOL FAIR IN BENTON

It Is Proposed to Surpass the Great Success of Last August.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Corvallis, Or., Jan. 31.—A committee composed of J. H. Harris, E. B. Hornung and A. L. Stevenson, appointed at a meeting held Wednesday night, is circulating a subscription list in the interest of a second "All-Benton school fair" that is expected to eclipse even the splendid success of last August. Business men and others disposed to play patrons will be asked to donate prizes for the best pumpkins, onions, "spuds" corn, wheat, cabbage, fruit, bread, preserves, jellies, butter and a thousand other products of farm, garden, kitchen and dairy. The prize list will be issued early next month. The committee on exhibits comprises J. R. Smith, S. L. Henderson and M. M. Long. The arrangements are left to F. L. Miller, J. F. Yates and E. J. Newton. The clerk of each school district in Benton county is also to be a finance committeeman in his locality, while County Superintendent G. W. Denman will be ex-officio chairman of all committees. The plan of erecting a large pavilion for the fair this year is being discussed, as the room afforded in the courthouse is not sufficient. The fair will probably be held early in September.

MARSHALL APPOINTED CHIEF GEOGRAPHER

Head of Pacific Division of Geological Survey Is Given Promotion.

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.)
Washington, Jan. 31.—Robert B. Marshall of the United States geological survey has been appointed to administrative charge of the topographic branch of the survey with the title of chief geographer. Mr. Marshall received his first appointment in the survey in January, 1896, and has been connected with it continuously since that date. In 1902 he was given charge of California work, and two years later his district was enlarged to include Oregon. In the reorganization of the topographic branch in March, 1907, he was made geographer in charge of the Pacific division, which comprises California, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, Utah and Arizona. Thomas G. Gerdine, who has for a number of years had general supervision of topographic work in Alaska, has been placed in charge of the Pacific division to succeed Mr. Marshall.

CASTLEROCK WOMAN HIT BY MOVING TRAIN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Castlerock, Wash., Jan. 31.—Mrs. Oscar Huntington of this place had a narrow escape from serious accident while crossing the Northern Pacific Railway company's tracks here last evening. On her way to town from her home just east of the railroad yard, she had safely crossed several tracks, and was walking northward toward the station. The southbound local freight was running out onto a siding to make room on the main track for eastbound express No. 2, and it was probably due to the noise made by the freight engine that Mrs. Huntington did not hear the express train approaching from behind her. She was walking between the main track and the one just east of it, but dangerously close to the former. The engineer blew a warning whistle and slowed down the train, but she was not moving fast enough to avoid the moving freight train. She was stunned for a few moments, but received no injuries beyond a few severe bruises.

BUILD BIG SHIP TO CARRY SUBMARINES

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 31.—One of the big problems confronting the navy department grows out of the proposition of sending submarines from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean. It has been suggested that the department construct a "mother" ship capable of carrying four submarines for long distances, for picking them up and dropping them conveniently. Naval experts are figuring on such a craft, which will have a fighting radius commensurate with the modern battleship fleet.

CHINESE MILITARY CIRCLES ARE EXCITED

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Peking, Jan. 31.—There is great activity in military circles here. China is rushing war munitions to points where they will be most available in the event of an attempt to invade the center of the inland territory. Troops are also being rushed in a quiet way to strategic points.
