WEATHER REPORT

A new disturbance has made its appearance over western Washington and the Montana low pressure area has disappeared. The barometer is relatively low over New Mexico. A large high pressure area overlies the Atlantic states. No precipitation of consequence has fallen anywhere in the United States. It is slightly warmer than usual in the Pacific states and in the Missouri and middle Mississippi valleys. The temperatures are below normal in the lake region and the Atlantic states and decidedly so in New England, New York, Pennsylvania, and the District of Columbia.

The indications are for rain tonight and Sunday in western Oregon and western Washington and for rain or snow tonight and Sunday in eastern Oregon, eastern Washington, and Idaho. It will be warmer tonight in southwestern Oregon and southeastern Idaho.

"Speculative Folly"

That's the cause of last fall's panic, explains President Roosevelt in his special message to congress.

Speculation is not only an unwise but an unnecessary evil. Not one in a thousand escapes its undertow, that pulls one down to financial destruction.

There are plenty of highly profitable yet safe and secure investments offered through the Real Estate and "Business Opportunity" columns of The Sunday Journal. What these "offers" don't disclose a little "Want" Ad in The Sunday Journal will find.
