

FUNERAL OF PUMPKINS KING CARLOS AT $1 EACH

Ceremony Over Remains of Ruler of Portugal and the Crown Prince Held Today—Bodies Will Lie in State for Three Days.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Lisbon, Feb. 8.—Funeral services were held today over the remains of King Carlos and the crown prince in St. Vincent's cathedral with all the imposing ceremony of the Catholic church. Weeping throngs lined the streets leading to the cathedral and double rows of guards were on duty to suppress any disturbances that might be started while the funeral cortege was passing.

The widow of the king and Manuel, the youthful king of Portugal, remained away in accordance with the Portuguese custom. It is unusual for widows and the children of the dead to attend funerals in this country. The bodies will lie in state three days before burial.

The ceremony began at 10 o'clock this morning. In the presence of a great gathering of ambassadors, officers of the palace and state and other distinguished men the caskets were carried from the chapel at the Necessidades palace, where they have reposed since February 1 by servants of the house of Braganza to carriages. The high dignitaries of the church marched in front of the coffins carrying crosses, and they were followed by the royal, civil and military households and the ministers, peers and deputies.

As the funeral moved in the direction of the church of St. Vincente de Fora it was heavily guarded by troops. A military band played dirges at the head of the procession. The funeral cortege followed the band, each carriage being drawn by eight horses. Then came other carriages containing suites of the ambassadors, officers of the regiments of the late king and the crown prince, the major domo of the palace and other officials. In one of the carriages was the imperial crown of the dead king draped with crepe and surrounded by flowers and the following vehicle was the sword and helmet of King Carlos. Well back in the procession was the carriage bearing the remains of the king. The coffin could barely be seen because of the great number of wreaths around it. The carriage with the remains of the crown prince followed immediately behind.

The bodies were received at the church by the bishop of Misericordia and by all the bishops and the archbishops of Portugal. In front of the altar was the catafalque, draped in gold and black, and upon it rested the caskets of the king and crown prince during the services.

On either side of the catafalque sat the members of the royal household, and to the left was the throne of Cardinal Patriarch, who conducted the ceremonies.

After lying in state for three days in the church at Vincente the bodies will be carried through the cloisters to the royal pantheon, where the remains of princes of the house rest. Afterward the major domo will swear the remains are those of the king and prince, then the caskets will be placed in the niches prepared for them. Later the infantry outside the pantheon will fire volleys. A salute of 191 guns from the forts will also be fired.

Schooner Laden With Coal for Seattle Is Out Nearly Year and Captain Forced to Pay High Price to Prevent Scurvy in Crew.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Feb. 8.—Pumpkins at $1 apiece, purchased at Pitcairn island from the descendants of the bounty frontiers is all that saved the crew of the American schooner William Nottingham from having the horrors of scurvy added to their already heavy weight of woe. The William Nottingham, out nearly a year from New York, leaking and short of provisions, quoted for insurance at 50 per cent, given up by many as lost, put in here Thursday in distress. The Nottingham's destination is Seattle, and this is the schooner's third stopping place since passing out through Hell Gate.

The Nottingham left New York March 3 with over 1,500 tons of anthracite coal for Seattle. The schooner sailed in a snowstorm. During the heavy weather, which lasted until the end of the month, the iron bands on the foremast were carried away and the rudderhead smashed. The Nottingham went into Bermuda April 6 for repairs and sailed again April 12.

After leaving Bermuda the Nottingham began to shed sails. The ship left a trail of rags from Bermuda to the Cape of Good Hope and August 28 put into Melbourne for new sails, provisions and repairs.

The voyage resumed October 8, and the next day in a southwesterly gale the vessel was struck on the starboard quarter by a sea which started the schooner listing at the rate of four inches an hour. For two hours out of every four from that time until the Nottingham entered the Golden Gate the schooner's pump was kept going.

Foul of bottom the vessel made slow progress and the fresh fruit petered out. To save his crew from scurvy Captain Lowery called at Pitcairn island, where he bought a supply of fresh fruit and vegetables. He bought in addition to more perishable stuff, pumpkins at $1 apiece. By careful use they lasted until a few days ago and saved all hands from the disease sailors most dread.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the weak and emaciated system. It is a powerful agent in controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe catarrh, acute, chronic, cough, bronchitis, and hysterical troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-over coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine:

"It is a most excellent purgative. Holding a fixed position of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon constipated, diseased stomachs, especially if there is ulceration of catarrhal gastritis (inflammation of stomach). It is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of constipation (especially in children) and excessive gastric acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, etc.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.

HUNGER DRIVES MAN TO DEATH

Failure to Secure Work in Old Age Causes Suicide of Isaac Doland.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Feb. 8.—Crippled from years of labor, weakened by old age, hungry and alone, with no friend or relative to cheer the evening of his life, Isaac Doland, nearly three score and ten, drank carbolic acid last night and was found dead in his little room this morning. This note was found on the dresser:

"I can't get any work. I have no money, so must end my life. I have been hungry for several days and have no room. I will be 70 years old on February 25. I tried to hold out until my birthday, but find it is too hard for me. The folks have been hard on me. I have a brother, B. E. Doland, Wayville, Saratoga county, New York."
"Signed" ISAAC DOLAND.

WEDS WITNESS TO STOP TRIAL

Marion Grey Prevents Prosecution for Conducting Affinity Bureau.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Feb. 8.—William Grable, who hails from Dearborn, Missouri, and his bride, formerly Marion Grey, are chuckling merrily over a good joke they have played on the federal authorities. For, instead of taking the stand in the federal court to break revenge upon the young man, as the government had expected, he will testify as her newly made husband.

Miss Marion Grey fell into the hands of the federal authorities a short time ago because, in trying to make "affinity matches," she used the mail to defraud witnesses against her. He testified against her before the grand jury and the government depended upon him to give the strongest evidence at the coming trial. But now it is different. After careful consideration Grable came to the conclusion that Miss Grey was his now they are one.

Grable is about the federal building today introducing his bride.

THOMAS V. MCCARTHY, PIONEER IN COWLITZ

Dies, a Lone Old Man, but With Warm Friends Attending in His Last Hours.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Kalama, Wash., Feb. 8.—Thomas V. McCarthy, a pioneer of Cowlitz county, 75 years old, died here yesterday of grip. He was a native of Bavaria, Ireland. He came to America about 45 years ago and settled in Kalama in 1870. He was an industrious and valuable citizen. His physician, his priest and a number of devoted friends were present at the closing scene.

During the territorial days he was an enthusiastic worker in politics and was probate judge in Cowlitz county for a number of years. He was an ardent Catholic and was instrumental in building a church of that faith in Kalama. He had no relatives in America. The body will be removed to Vancouver tomorrow and will be buried in the Catholic cemetery at that place, beside his wife, who died about nine years ago. He had erected a monument there to his wife and, with a suitable inscription now to be made, the same shaft will serve as his own visible memorial.

WATER FIGHT IN SUPREME COURT

California Cattle Kings in Contest With Farmers of Lake County.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Feb. 8.—After four years' litigation, the fight between the Chewaucan Land & Cattle company, a subsidiary to the firm of Miller and Lux, California cattle kings, and a half hundred settlers of the rich farming and grazing lands along Silver creek in Lake county for water rights, was argued at length before the supreme court here yesterday.

The suit for the water rights was originally begun before Judge H. Benson in the circuit court of Lake county. After a year and a half of stubborn fighting for the control of the river, Judge Benson rendered a decision in favor of a majority of the settlers against the Chewaucan company and the remaining settlers. The case was then appealed to the supreme court, before whom it has since been pending. It is the contention of the Chewaucan company, which owns a vast area of land around the Pauline marsh, into which Silver creek empties, that the settlers along the river use up the water before it reaches the marsh, thereby leaving their lands in an arid and unproductive condition.

Attorney E. P. Watson of Portland represented the Chewaucan company, which is one of the defendants and appellants, while J. C. Rutledge appeared as attorney for the plaintiffs and respondents. The supreme court will probably decide the case within the next month.

CANIS LATRANS FARMER'S ALLY

But for Him Voracious Mr. Lepus Campestris Would Sweep the Earth.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pendleton, Or., Feb. 8.—One of the surprising results of the active coyote killing campaign conducted in eastern Oregon for the past month by the Woolgrowers' association has been to bring out bitter protests from prominent farmers in every interior county against the slaughter of these pests. While the sheepmen wish to kill off the coyotes to save their flock, the farmers desire to have more coyotes in the country, as they kill off rabbits and squirrels and thus protect the crops of the farmer. Farmers claim that were it not for coyotes in the dry districts of the interior where rabbits are so plentiful, it would be impossible to raise crops.

GIRL FALLS TO DEATH FROM FIRE ESCAPE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, Feb. 8.—Margaret Langdon, aged 22, was instantly killed yesterday by falling from a fire escape on the fifth floor of a burning apartment house at Columbus avenue and Seventh street. The unfortunate young woman had been standing on the fire escape awaiting the arrival of the firemen when she slipped on the icy grating and fell to her death.

The fire started in the laundry, and spread with great rapidity, the water pressure being low. A number of the inmates were overcome by smoke. The monetary loss is $25,000.
