M'KINLEY TO BE TRIED APRIL 13 FOR PERJURY

Judge Wolverton Will Hear Evidence Against Famous 7-11 Operator—Heney Asks Dismissal of Indictment Holding Lord and Hayes—Information Against Latter Too Hasty, He Says

Horace G. McKinley, Beau Brummel of the minor Oregon land thieves, faro dealer in China, soldier of fortune and affinity of Little Egypt, will step into the lime light of land fraud publicity once more Monday, April 13, when he will face Judge Wolverton in the United States federal court to be tried by Judge Tracey C. Becker for the crime of forgery. The court has so decreed.

McKinley is now supposed to be on the trackless wastes of the great Pacific speeding to Portland in charge of a guard to answer for his having run away from the merciful clutch of Mr. Heney and Mr. Burns and thus avoiding his trial on several pending indictments. It is supposed that he will be in Portland safely tucked away in the county jail by the time the April term of court opens and for this reason Mr. Heney yesterday afternoon asked that his case be placed first on the docket of the pending cases.

Lord's Indictment Dismissed.

Yesterday afternoon Charles F. Lord, who has been clamoring for retribution for so long, was presented with a dismissal by Mr. Heney, as also was Charles E. Hayes, indicted with Claude Thayer and many others for conspiracy to rob the government of public lands.

In asking for the dismissal of the indictment against Lord, Mr. Heney said that he did so upon the advise of reputable physicians in the city to the effect that Mr. Lord has been suffering of late from mental aberration and that the government, on this account, did not desire to press the charges against him.

Hayes, Mr. Heney said, had been indicted in a hurry, and under misapprehension. At the time he was indicted the charges were prepared by Special Agent Greene in great haste as there was but one day remaining before the statute of limitations would run on the offense.

At the time it was supposed that Hayes had entered into an agreement to dismiss the contests he had filed on the 88 claims fraudulently entered by Thayer and his associates as fast as Thayer sold the claims, Hayes to share in the proceeds. Subsequent investigation had convinced him, Mr. Heney said, that Hayes had not been connected with the Thayer conspiracy, but had been a friend of the government throughout and had done what he could to bring the conspirators to justice. For that reason he desired to have the indictment dismissed as to Hayes. Judge Wolverton granted both requests.

May Prosecute Hermann.

It is possible that Mr. Heney will return to Oregon to take part in one more land case, the trial of Binger Hermann. This case has been set down with the others for April 13, but will not be tried until several other cases have been disposed of. If it is possible for him to do so Mr. Heney says he will return to Portland to take charge of the Hermann case, but if this is not possible the case will be tried by Judge Becker.

The Williamson case, remanded back by the United States supreme court for a new trial, will also be taken up as soon as possible, but has not been set down. It is possible that Mr. Heney may desire to take a hand in the retrial of this case, should it be possible for him to come to Oregon when it comes up before the court.

Sentence on all land fraud defendants who have been convicted, but whose sentences have been passed over pending the trial of other cases in which some of these defendants were to be government witnesses, was again passed until April 13, upon the motion of Mr. Heney yesterday afternoon. Mr. Heney explained that it was thought best for the interests of the government that sentence in these cases be deferred on account of their being witnesses in some of the remaining trials. This order was also made by Judge Wolverton.

Becker to Conduct Trials.

Judge Wolverton will begin the trial of the remaining Oregon cases on April 13. Judge Becker will conduct the prosecution. There are some of the cases which Judge Wolverton will not preside over, among them being the Williamson cases, this including the Hermann case.

For these cases it is probable that Judge Hunt will be once more assigned to the Portland bench, though it is also possible that Judge Gilbert may see fit to send some other member of the district bench in the event that Judge Hunt cannot find it possible to return to Portland at the time it is desired to try the cases.

With the conclusion of the Hall case there have been 22 land fraud cases tried in the Portland court since the beginning of the Puter 11-7 case three years ago.

Altogether there have been 46 indictments returned in the land fraud list up to this time. In addition there have been four informations filed in the same connection, making the total number of complaints having to do with the land frauds of the state foot up to 50.

In this list there have been 169 persons indicted. There have been 22 cases tried, 5 cases dismissed (7 with Lord and Hayes). There are yet remaining for trial 24 cases. Five of the cases tried are pending on appeal, the Williamson case by its reversion at the hands of the supreme court taking its place in the list of those waiting.

Thirty-five defendants have been convicted, the last one being John H. Hall. One defendant has ben acquitted. Twenty-five defendants have been sentenced and a total of $26,373.43 fines have been collected.

Arrange Future Calendar.

Upon motion of Mr. Heney the pending cases were set down for trial yesterday afternoon for April 13, the first day of the April term of the United States court. The cases to be tried in the order set down by Mr. Heney were as follows:

THE SUREST METHOD FOR IMPROVING THE COMPLEXION

Many women subject themselves to most heroic treatments in order to restore the fresh blooming complexions of youth. Most frequently these efforts are in vain and bring bitter chagrin at the failure.

For the benefit of all desiring what is probably the most effective complexion restorative known to science, the following formula is published, being contributed by one of the best known specialists in the country. The formula is as follows:

Two ounces of rose water, one ounce spirits of cologne, four ounces crystalized Sartoin (skin food); put the Sartoin in a pint of hot water (not boiling); when dissolved and cooled, add the rose water and cologne spirits, and strain through a fine cloth.

Any large bottle or a fruit jar will answer for a receptacle, if it can be closed air tight. This mixture is to be used daily and massaged well into the skin of the face, arms and neck. After a short time the most gratifying results can be looked for, although the treatment should be kept up for quite a while, until the ruddy glow to the complexion becomes permanent.

The above formula will make enough of the mixture for a month's treatment. The ingredients can be obtained from a well stocked pharmacy and the mixing is easily done.

PLOT TO KILL RUSSIAN RULER

Czarina Finds Warning in Bed Which Leads to Discovery of Bombs.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

London, Feb. 8.—The Paris correspondent of the Central News in a dispatch tonight says word has reached the French capital of the discovery by the empress of Russia of a terrorist warning in their czarevitch's bed, stating the czar and czarevitch have been sentenced to death. Secret police found a network of electric wires connected with seventeen powerful bombs placed at distant points in the palace. A single operator would have been able to blow up the entire palace.

The discovery of the plot, it is said, has greatly frightened the czar. He is again in an exceedingly nervous state. It is now generally credited that there are several revolutionists among the servants in the palace.

O. N. G. AT EUGENE MAKES FINE SHOWING

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Eugene, Or., Feb. 8.—General Jackson, inspector of the Oregon National Guard, inspected company A, Fourth regiment, of this city, last night at annual inspection and muster. The company, which was the crack organization in the state last year, having received the highest marking at the last annual inspection, had an attendance of 100 per cent and showed up perhaps as well as last year in drill and condition of equipment. The general expressed himself as being highly pleased with the appearance of the company. Raymond Babb is captain and W. G. White and W. W. Branstetter first and second lieutenants. They were appointed only a few weeks ago on account of the advancement of the old officers to positions on Colonel Yoran's staff.

Tonight company C was inspected. This organization also made a splendid showing.

IRISH QUEEN SAID TO BE NEAR DEATH

New York, Feb. 8.—Maggie Cline, popularly known as the "Irish Queen" on the vaudeville stage, is seriously ill at her home, Redbank, New Jersey, and it was reported in play circles and on Broadway that she was at the point of death.

"Some" Coal Mined.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 8.—The total production of the bituminous coal in the seventh Pennsylvania district broke all previous records last year, according to the report of Inspector John I. Pratt made yesterday. During the year ending December 31 there were 8,045,186 tons of coal brought out of the 55 mines in active operation.

WOMAN STARTS PANIC BY CRY

Negress Mistakes Cloud of Steam for Smoke at Blackwell's Island.

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.)

New York, Feb. 8.—The raising of a false alarm of fire in the Blackwell Island penitentiary caused a panic tonight in which 500 women prisoners fled wildly to the courts, where they continued to shout hysterically and run about for half an hour.

Immediately after the alarm was sounded Warden Fox pulled a lever which opened the cell doors in the women's ward and the inmates started pell-mell down the winding stairs to the doors of the ward. In the mad rush several were thrown over the banisters, but none seriously hurt. The signal for the fire drill in the men's ward was given and the prisoners, accustomed to night fire drills, marched into the outer court in perfect order.

Investigation showed that a negress in the lower tier of cells saw a cloud of steam escaping from a section of pipe and screamed "fire." The cry was taken up by the other prisoners in the ward and this started the scramble for safety. The firemen of the island were preparing to load apparatus when word was received that a false alarm had caused the trouble. After the women prisoners were locked in their cells again the men prisoners were ordered back and locked up without further excitement.

PITTSBURG GETS DUKE'S MIXTURE

Son of "Alleged Tobacco" King Spends Money in Town of Notoriety.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 8.—Scattering $5 and $10 tips like water Brodie Lawrence Duke, son of the millionaire tobacco king, gave Pittsburg a taste of what the iron, steel and coal kings do in Gotham when fetters are torn loose and they are liberated on the great White Way, says the Pittsburg Leader today. Continuing the article says:

"Duke, who is on his way to China, spent a few hours here Friday and gave an elaborate dinner at a local hotel to a few friends, following it up with an automobile party. The dinner, his friends claim, cost $1,500. The hotel waiter was given a $50 tip. The leader of the hotel orchestra was given two $20 bills for playing "Dixie." Bell boys and waiters were given tips ranging from $5 to $20. Mr. Duke left Friday for New York and will leave the latter part of next week for China."

PICTURE WORSE THAN HIS ROAST

Reuterdahl the Muckraker Proved to Be Anything but an "Expert."

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, Feb. 8.—The navy department's absolute refutation of the Reuterdahl charges that American battleships are seriously defective went to the president this evening. Rear Admiral Converse, president of the board of construction, signed it. The report may be summed up thus:

Heavy armor plate is not below the water line, but on it.

Russo-Japanese naval battles showed that high placed guns were ineffective.

Space about the turret guns is ten square feet instead of ten feet square.

Unofficially, it may be added that Reuterdahl recently drew a "battleship" picture for a weekly newspaper that has been the subject of much merriment among seafaring men. If the battleships of the United States fleet were one-twentieth as much out of form as this particular picture there certainly would be cause for criticism.

WANT THE SEASON CLOSED TO SAVE ELK

Audubon Society Sees in Measure the Only Way to Prevent Extermination.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Oregon Audubon Society was held at the rooms in the City Hall last night. The report of the secretary, Dr. Welty, showed that the past year has been the most active in the history of the organization. Considerable effort has been made to spread knowledge as to the economic value of bird life, especially in educational work.

Besides the illustrated bird lectures that have been given under the auspices of the O. A. C. in various towns throughout the state, many educational leaflets of common birds have been distributed.

At the suggestion of the Oregon Audubon Society, the manual training department of the city schools are actively interested in the making of bird houses to be placed about the city at the opening of spring. An exhibit of these will be made about the time of the next monthly meeting.

It was decided that the Oregon Audubon society during the coming year would do all possible to secure better game laws and more careful obedience to these. A resolution was passed favoring a law which would close the hunting season entirely for elk for a number of years. This is deemed necessary to save this species from extermination.

The best efforts of the society during the coming year will be extended toward securing some territory that may be set aside, either through the state or national government, as a protected breeding ground for water fowl. The national association of Audubon societies has been advocating this for several years as the fundamental movement in bird and animal protection. Up to date, over a dozen wild bird reservations have been secured in various parts of the United States. Last October President Roosevelt set aside the first reservation of the Pacific coast at Netarts, for the protection of sea birds.

The Oregon Audubon society is now engaged in raising the necessary funds to send two of its representatives, Mr. Bohlman and Mr. Finley, into the lake region of southern Oregon for the purpose of hunting out the best available places that will serve as permanent and protected breeding reserves for water fowl.

BANKER WEEPING TELLS OF RUIN

Haines Tells Forest Grove He Was Done for $20,000 —Sensational Charges.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Forest Grove, Or., Feb. 8—At a meeting of the depositors of the defunct Haines bank held this afternoon, Senator E. W. Haines made the sensational charge that he had been robbed of $20,000 a few years ago and this was the reason for his financial downfall.

He gave the history of the bank, which was organized 10 years ago.

F. T. Kane, who was cashier and bookkeeper, was let go by Haines and W. B. Haines hired, who was in turn dismissed.

These men, said E. W. Haines, were dismissed on the discovery that their showing as to the bank's liabilities and resources was wrong. This Haines kept a secret, only telling the Merchants National bank of Portland, which encouraged him to continue.

Bad luck with the electric power plant of which he is owner added to his burden.

Haines took a hot shot at R. M. Dooley, president of the First National of this city, passing the lie to him and charging him with deceiving the people in regard to the Haines bank.

Haines wept bitterly time and again, and the audience that packed Verts' hall seemed in sympathy with him.

He said the bank's resources were about $105,000 and its liabilities $75,000.

W. B. Haines made a speech in his own defense.

A committee composed of E. W. Haines, W. K. Newell, H. J. Goff, W. H. Holda, C. F. Clapp, B. H. Laughlin, S. G. Hughes, Charles Roe and L. J. Corl was elected by the depositors to make a settlement.

ELECTRIC LINE TO BAY CITY

New Western Pacific Extension to Use "Juice" for Its Motive Power.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Feb. 8.—President E. T. Jeffrey, of the Rio Grande railroad, today confirmed the report that the Western Pacific railroad, now being built by the Gould interests from Salt Lake City to San Francisco is to use electricity for motive power.

"We have discussed electricity for the Western Pacific," he said, "from time to time for a year and a half. The probability is that when we open the railroad we shall have steam power but we will continue our studies of the uses and merits of electricity with a view to its adoption in the future."

PRIZES PUT UP MAY BE EASILY SECURED

Journal "Jingle" Contest Arouses a Great Deal of Interest.

The opportunity is presented every reader of The Journal today to win a prize by writing some poetry for the "Jingle" pages of The Journal next Sunday. Many of the advertisers on the "Jingle" pages today have offered special prizes as an inducement to stimulate more people to take part in the friendly contest.

Those who feel inclined to try for a prize should sit down at once and write out their ideas and mail their rhyming communication to the "Jingle" editor, care of The Journal. There is no reason why one person should not win more than a single prize. Write as many "jingles" as you wish, and there is no telling which advertiser will be mostly likely to win for you a prize. Doubtless many will send a "jingle" about each of the 26 advertisers. As the contest does not close until next Thursday, February 13, there will be plenty of time for people in outside towns to send in their poetic effusions.

The names of the winners and the prize "jingles" will be published next Sunday occupying two full pages similar to the pages making the initial announcement today.
