RESORT GIRLS CLEAN AS SNOW

Council Committee Winks at Evidence and Applies Whitewash Brush.

Whitewash a foot thick was applied to the Frits saloon and theatre, Second and Burnside streets, yesterday afternoon by the liquor license committee of the city council and then Frits was told to go and sign no more. The members of the committee showed no regard for the testimony of the police department in which acts of indecency, violations of the law and contempt for the authority of the police were told and retold, and still the committee voted to dismiss the case against Frits.

When the hearings against saloonkeepers were started several weeks ago the committee asked Captain Bruin if he had any more cases than those already cited. Captain Bruin said he had, but would bring them before the committee until he saw what action would be taken by the committee in those he had pending.

The committee members at once assured Bruin that if he brought the evidence to them they would revoke the licenses, the evidence has been produced in every case in which the police appeared, and yet the committee has so far voted to recommend the revocation of but two licenses. In other cases the committee allowed the licenses to be transferred to other persons or else reopened the cases and dismissed the charges.

Girls who work for their living are especially exposed to the dangers of organic feminine disorders. Standing all day, or sitting in cramped positions; walking to and from their places of employment in bad weather, all tend to break down their delicate feminine organism.

No class of women are in need of greater assistance, and thousands of letters like the following demonstrate the fact that restores the feminine system to a strong, healthy, normal condition.

Miss Abby F. Barrows, of Nelsonville, Ohio, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was very sick, had dull headaches, pain in my back, and a feminine weakness. I had been to several doctors and they did me no good. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, and I can do most any kind of work. I am in better health than I ever was, and it is all due to your medicine."

Miss Lillian Ross, of 530 E. 84th St., New York, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I had a female trouble, nervous headaches, and was tired all the time, and could not sleep. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me feel so much better that I hope every woman who suffers as I did will try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for feminine ills, and has positively cured thousands of women. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice.

Two Councilmen Stand Pat.

Councilman Driscoll appeared at all times in the role of first aid to the defendant, while Councilman Wallace ably seconded him. Throughout the proceedings Councilman Wallace took the stand that the committee had no right to act in a judicial capacity and voted with Driscoll on every license. Driscoll voted to revoke the license of Baker & Larson; also that of Ed Johnson.

At yesterday morning's session of the committee, Councilman Rushlight promised to make a motion when the Baker & Larson case would be reopened, which would reveal the motives of one of the licenstmen in voting to revoke the Baker & Larson license. When the Baker & Larson case came up Councilman Rushlight left the council chamber and did not return to hear the proceedings.

Dr. Cottle, chairman of the committee, arose at the conclusion of the hearing of the Frits case and said that he and Councilman Rushlight had visited Frits' place during the noon hour and that in his estimation the saloon was very bad and a menace to the morals of the city. To make sure, Dr. Cottle reiterated this statement several times and then sat down after urging that Frits be allowed to retain his license if he would promise to behave in the future.

Councilman Vaughn, who has appeared as an earnest advocate in behalf of the city's interests in every case brought before the committee, forgot his policy of consistency long enough to make a motion asking that the charges against Frits be dismissed.

Captain Bruin, Captain Silver and Patrolman Van Overn, who spent many hours in gathering testimony to show the committee that Frits would go as far as he could to violate the law without being caught and hailed before the council, sat back in amazement while Councilman Wallace reiterated for about the twentieth time that he did not believe the committee had a right to sit in a judicial capacity, although there is an ordinance which says that the committee shall decide whether or not a saloonkeeper is entitled to retain his license.

Councilman Willis is the only member of the committee who has allowed his decisions to be made along the lines of the testimony offered.

Summed up briefly, the result of the weeks of hearing which the committee has devoted to the Frits case, amounted to three transfers and the revocation of two licenses. Even these latter two may be transferred before the council finally decides the question.

John Conrad secured a transfer of license after the committee discovered that he ran a saloon in a building which he had bought from Attorney General Bonaparte, but that Assistant Attorney General Becker sent to Portland to get the records necessary to prosecute was not ready, but was on his way back to his capital.

With the establishment of poultry farms all over the Pacific coast with headquarters at Portland, Swift & Co. will likewise be in a position to dominate the egg business. Every year there have been increasing arrivals from Oregon and the other coast states do not raise more than half enough to fill the wants of the population. A few years ago it was impossible to sell eastern eggs in the Portland market because at that time Oregon produced all the eggs needed. Now with poultry increasing at a very rapid rate, the production of eggs is no greater and this forces local merchants to send elsewhere for the bulk of their supplies.

EARLY ACTION IN LAND GRAB CASE

Hawley Says He Has Promise That Government Will Soon Sue Harriman.

Salem, Feb. 11.—Congressman Hawley arrived here last night to register and file his petition for renomination as Republican candidate for congress. He will leave to return tomorrow and will be absent from his post of duty for about three weeks.

While a majority of the Republican members of the rivers and harbors committee want a bill brought in at this session, Speaker Cannon and the committee on rivers and harbors ground that $80,000,000 was appropriated last session. The next congress will take care of all appropriations, as the plan will be adopted of at least $10,000,000 per annum and continuing appropriations on all work undertaken by the government.

Asked about the prospects of securing cancellation of the Oregon and California land grants he said he had a strong belief in the success of the bill. General Bonaparte, but that Assistant Attorney General Becker sent to Portland to get the records necessary to prosecute was not ready, but was on his way back to his capital.

SPECIAL LOAN FUND FOR THE UNIVERSITY

R. A. Booth of Eugene Provides $500, for Use in Addition to General Loan Fund.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) University of Oregon, Eugene, Feb. 11.—R. A. Booth of Eugene, has just given to the student loan fund of the University of Oregon a check for $500 to be used as an irreducible educational loan fund for students. The fund will be known as the "Booth unit" and will be kept separate from the general loan fund, which at present is in the hands of the state treasurer. The $500 is to be used to establish a loan fund for students, which will be available to complete the college course who could not otherwise have done so. The university hopes to establish during the present year a loan fund of at least $5,000 to be loaned under the direction of President Campbell or some one designated by him, to boys and girls all over Oregon who wish to complete their education but who cannot do so without assistance. It is believed that a loan of approximately $100 a year at a low rate of interest, to be paid in two years after graduation, is preferable to an outright gift in the form of a scholarship. The fund will be guaranteed by 16 men against loss. Two signatures will be required on each note and a small amount of life insurance will be taken out to insure against loss by death.

The present loan fund amounts to approximately $1,000.

ROSEBURG DADS WILL STUDY EUGENE PAVING

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Roseburg, Or., Feb. 11.—Roseburg's city council seeks to profit by Eugene's experience in paving and will visit Eugene in a body to gather information. At a meeting of the committee of taxpayers with the street committee of the city council yesterday afternoon they came to the following agreement, after having discussed the matter thoroughly: "Sense of assembly that Roseburg should proceed at once toward work of paving her streets." "Decided upon a taxpayers' excursion to Eugene, February 15, to seek information and excursion to be in charge of C. B. Cannon, H. T. McClellan, F. E. Alley, W. H. Fisher and N. Rice. Sense of assembly that city council should have a survey made of all the streets in the city so as to secure such needed uniformity of grades. Indorsed the project for a new bridge over Deer creek. Recommended that city bear one-half the expense of street paving, if such improvement is to be made. Adjourned February 10, at 3 p. m."

Several enthusiastic in favor of extensive paving were mentioned by some of the most prominent business men at the meeting.

TWO AT EUGENE ON HORSE-THIEF CHARGE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., Feb. 11.—Chief of Police Farrington yesterday arrested two men from the jail at Colfax, Washington, about two months ago, and he is now in jail here awaiting the arrival of an officer from Colfax. Starkey, who is about 21 years old, is charged with the theft of a horse and buggy. Chief Farrington had been notified to look out for him. Starkey admitted that he was the man wanted.

Ellis Wilhelm, a youth aged about 17, is in the county jail and will be taken to Lakeview for trial. Wilhelm's home is on the upper Willamette river in Lane county. He crossed the mountains into eastern Oregon last fall and came home recently with horse which he said he bought. The officers of Lake county learned Wilhelm had returned from Lakeview today to take him back.

Cheyenne's Mayor and City Engineer After Tour of West Say Rose City's Water Plant Surpasses All—Visitors Notice Streets.

F. E. Cook, mayor of Cheyenne, accompanied by City Engineer Carlisle, is making a tour of western cities to study the water works question, and the two men have just completed an inspection of Portland's Bull Run water system. Mayor Cook said today this was the best water system they had ever seen, and that Portland was the best city in the Pacific northwest.

They have inspected the water systems of Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane, Boise, Salt Lake and Denver. The Bull Run water is pronounced to be the finest water, and Portland's gravity system the most economical and efficient service plan. The reservoirs provided by the Portland system are highly indorsed by the visitors.

Victory Blush for Streets.

"I am immensely pleased with Portland in no other city have we seen the immense wholesale district that you have here, and nowhere else have we found so many 'attractively' features. Your city is a great deal larger than I expected to see, and is bound to be a great city. Lack of paved streets is the worst feature of the city. The sidewalks and the additional railroads under construction are giving Portland a big lead. It is most regrettable that the Northern Pacific and Burlington railroads cannot be cancelled, and these railroads forced to operate independently. If they could be priced apart it would be a good thing for the north-west country."

"The cost of the Portland water system," said Cook in comparison with systems of other similar cities, has been very small, and this city can easily afford to spend another million dollars for additional pipe-line and still have a very low-cost water system."

He criticized some of the features of the water rates and the practices of extension of mains at the cost of the general taxpayer. He said the extension of mains should be paid for by the property that was to be served, and that the hydrants should be paid for by the city, at a low rate, a sinking fund could be provided and the water department should not be out of money. He thought that if cities with private ownership of waterworks pay a minimum of $10 per year for hydrants, the city under municipal ownership should pay about half price for its hydrants.

Successful Dry Farming.

The dry farming methods practiced in Wyoming were discussed at length. The mayor said central and southeastern Oregon will become immensely prosperous under the dry farming system. Around Cheyenne dry farming is followed successfully, with the methods demonstrated by Cook. In Wyoming an Oregon man who was employed by the Cheyenne Industrial club to go to Wyoming and experiment with the soil and climate.

He has made a complete success of the work, and dry farming is rapidly becoming general.

The lands on which dry farming is made successful are at an altitude of 4,000 feet, and are arid lands, with sage brush or wild grass, almost identical with the lands of interior Oregon. The finest potatoes are raised, and vast quantities of field peas and onions. The most valuable stock raised is wheat by the dry farming method is producing $0 to 40 bushels to the acre, and is the hard- wheat known. It grows at an altitude of 4,000 feet.

"There need be no fear about the success of dry farming in the interior of Oregon with 4,000 to 5,000 feet altitude," Mayor Cook said. "The method will be a complete success there, and the men who inaugurate it will make fortunes. The two main things necessary are sufficient land to enable the farmer to cultivate one half his lands every alternate year, and the necessary knowledge and industry to plow, seed and harrow at the proper time of the year."

Power company, when a tour of the system was made in a special car.

During his trip about the city and its suburbs the plans for extending the line of the present railway to Swiftville, as announced in yesterday's Journal, were discussed.

Mr. Swift, Mr. Donovan and other executives of the company leave Portland tonight for Seattle. After a visit of a day the party will return to Chicago.

TO DEAL IN POULTRY.

Swift & Co. Will Establish Chicken Ranches in Eastern Oregon.

Not only will Swift & Co. come to Portland with one of the finest equipped packing houses in the country but they will establish a large number of ranches for the raising and shipping of poultry.

This action is said to have been pending for some years but it is now stated that the company has already secured much land in eastern Oregon for the purpose of raising poultry. This is in line with the firm's plans for the next year. A short time ago it invaded the Petaluma district in California and is now said to be practically in control of the poultry business in California.

The company likewise is interested in a flour mill at Echo and in this way will be able to produce flour practically in its own country. It is expected that the company will pay for all the by-products of the mills.

About two years ago there was a report that Swift & Co. intended to take control of the poultry business of the Pacific coast by putting in modern yards at Portland, but this was afterwards denied by a representative of the concern.

At that time the statement was made that the company intended to quit the poultry business altogether but this statement was proven an error because since that time Swift & Co. have done a larger poultry business in Portland than ever and are making every attempt to secure practical control of the business.

According to easterners this is one of the most inviting fields to establish here. The various kinds of poultry are not only easy to raise but prices are high and the demand and con-

Various attempts have been made in a small way here to place poultry and eggs in storage but the operations always proved unsuccessful because the houses were not built with that purpose and therefore did not do the work as well as those in the case. This is one reason why there is always such a small demand for local storage even while for eastern the sales are liberal.

GREAT ENROLLMENT GAIN AT U. OF O.

Nearly One Fourth More Than in 1906—Reports of President, Steward and Registrar Out.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) University of Oregon, Eugene, Feb. 11.—The annual report of the president of the University of Oregon for 1907, with the reports of the steward and registrar, have just been issued. The president's report shows the university has made a gain of 23 per cent in enrollment this year over that of last year. The funds have fallen short $15,000 of meeting the current expenses of the year, and to avoid a deficiency the faculty served three months without pay. The work of the summer school and the correspondence school is discussed, and a recommendation is made for a bureau of research in economics, politics and sociology. An outline of the plan of the school of education for training high school teachers and principals is given, and attention is called to the gift to the university of a building and land by the citizens of North Bend, Oregon, for the establishment of a marine biological laboratory, for which Coos Bay offers exceptional advantages.

The total registration as shown by the registrar's report is 975 students, distributed as follows: Liberal Arts, 299; engineering, 101; school of law, 67; school of medicine, 89; school of music, 126; correspondence school, 251; summer school, 25.

The steward's report gives a complete statement of the university's finances for the year.

STATE COMMISSIONERS TO SUE PORTLANDERS

Salem, Or., Feb. 11.—Labor Commissioner O. P. Hoff is preparing to file suits against three manufacturing concerns in Portland, who are violating the law. For the present Hoff does not care to make public the names of the violators, but states that it will be but a very short time before they are haled into court. When the name of one of the companies is given out Hoff claims it will create quite a stir, being one of the largest corporations in the state.

Hoff returned from Portland on Saturday night, where he had been carrying on an investigation among the factories and into general labor conditions for three days. The complaints he has against the concerns mentioned above is that they do not safeguard their employees sufficiently.
