CALLS TEDDY LAWBREAKER

Senator Rayner of Maryland Denounces Reform Methods as Applied by President and Fears Another Volcano in White House.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12—Using the Aldrich financial bill as a weapon, Senator Rayner of Maryland on the floor of the senate today unmercifully denounced President Roosevelt and his policies.

The Maryland statesman declared that the present business depression was caused by the "unlawful character" of the president's reform methods, coupled with a general fear that some "new volcanic disturbance from the White House would further paralyze the business of the entire country."

"On account of the violent fervor of his utterances," Senator Rayner shouted, "there is an idea running through the public mind that the president has come to the conclusion that every man engaged in large business enterprises is a malefactor and that he should spend a term in the penitentiary.

Respects President.

"Although I greatly respect President Roosevelt and the great office he holds, he has unconsciously contributed with best intentions to the causes that have led to business depression. I heartily indorse the president in the warfare he is waging against violators of the law and the oppressors of the people. Malefactors should receive penal punishment, but a whole generation of innocent people should not suffer for the sins of oppressors. One day's imprisonment may do the work quicker and better than all the fines that could be levied upon the institutions they represent."

Aldrich Bill Temporary.

Turning his attention to the Aldrich financial bill which was introduced in the senate the other day Senator Rayner said that he based his only approval of the measure on the fact that it simply afforded temporary relief. His chief objection to it was that it failed to deal with the subject of bank reserves. He insisted that there never will be any permanent relief until there is a system of reforms in the interests of the American people against all special interests which, under the present laws, exercise a controlling influence over the banks and treasury department.

PLUM NOW HANGS

light as a candidate for the appointment, seems to have assumed such proportions that there is no hope of his being appointed. This opposition has practically eliminated him as a candidate and the protests which have been sent to Washington, so the story goes, have turned the attention of the delegation from him to the name of Judge Burnett.

Judge Burnett, so far as qualifications for the office are concerned, is regarded as at the top of the list of all those who have been presented or talked of so far. He has been on the bench of the Third circuit of the state court continuously since 1894, when he was first elected. He was again elected in 1900 and the third time in 1906, his third term not expiring until 1910. Prior to Judge Burnett's election he was a well-known attorney and had gained prominence in the practice of his profession. He is a man learned in the law and one who has a reputation for fairness and integrity.

Judge Burnett has gained the reputation of being an autocrat upon the bench because of his strict insistence upon the observance of the unbending dignity of his court. Because of his practice of holding the members of the bar who practice before him so closely to the rules of his court, he has been often times criticised by those whom he has called to book, but even those who have thus taken sides against him have had no criticism of his honesty, integrity or his fairness to all who come before him. Off the bench Judge Burnett is an affable courteous and dignified man and holds the regard and friendship of all those with whom he comes in contact.

Governor Recommends Him.

As an official of the court Judge Burnett has the reputation of being a sound and logical interpreter of the law and the record of his cases before the supreme court shows but few reversals. In speaking of the candidacy of Judge Burnett and his qualifications Governor Chamberlain said:

"Judge Burnett would make an exceedingly able prosecutor. He is an excellent man for the place of United States attorney."

The judge himself will not discuss his possible appointment, declining to make any statement regarding the matter at all, as is shown by the following dispatch received from Salem this morning:

Salem, Or., Feb. 12.—When seen in regard to his being a possible appointee for the vacant district attorneyship George H. Burnett declined to make any statement. His friends believe he will accept the place if tendered him, and that he would be an absolutely independent official who would work with Prosecutor Heney if he agreed with him.

If Burnett is appointed, Governor Chamberlain will probably appoint a Republican to fill the vacant judgeship in this district.

Because of his long service in the circuit bench Judge Burnett has no political ties to bind him and has not been affiliated to any marked degree with any of the various factions of the Republican party. By association and friendship he perhaps could have been classed in the past as being friendly at least with the Dolph and Mitchell wing of the Republican party.

Supporter of Fulton.

He is also a close friend both of Judge Thomas A. McBride and of ex-Senator George W. McBride and in all probability could be counted as secure in the support of Senator Fulton. Being a fellow townsman of Congressman Hawley he could naturally look forward to the support of that member of the delegation while his friendship with the members of the Mitchell faction would cause Congressman Ellis to look upon him with favor. He, therefore, would appear to be secure in the support of all members of the delegation.

The recommendation of Mr. Heney, which went to President Roosevelt and the attorney-general will, it is believed, smooth the way for the new candidate, once his name passes the delegation and gets into the hands of the president for recommendation.

It is believed that in the event Judge Burnett is appointed and thus creates a vacancy on the third circuit, Governor Chamberlain will appoint John H. McNary, present prosecuting attorney at Salem, to the place. Judge Galloway, the other member of the bench, is a Democrat and it would be in furtherance of the governor's policy to appoint a Republican to the place left vacant by Judge Burnett. Mr. McNary has always been friendly to the governor and it is the consensus of opinion in Salem that he would be the man chosen to fill out the unexpired term.

BANDITS MAKE SECOND HAUL

Willard Robbers Steal $25,000 From Rich Hill Bank.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Rich Hill, Mo., Feb. 12.—Bandits made a rich haul at midnight last night after blowing open the safe in the Farmers' and Manufacturers' bank. They escaped with booty to the amount of nearly $25,000 in currency, leaving the floor of the bank littered with silver. Two charges of dynamite were used to blow open the strong box. Hundreds of citizens who were sleeping in their homes near the bank were awakened by the explosions, but by the time they realized that bandits were operating in their midst the criminals had fled.

Vice-President J. T. Moore of the bank today estimated that fully $25,000 was carried away. The bank, which is one of the oldest in the state, has $400,000 in deposits and is well protected by burglary insurance.

It is thought by the police authorities that the crime was committed by the same men who blew the safe in the bank at Willard, Missouri, 80 miles from Rich Hill, Monday night, and secured $10,000.

SANTA FE MOB MAY LYNCH TWO MEXICANS

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Santa Fe, N. M., Feb. 12.—While on her way home Tuesday Margaret Carling, employed as night operator at Las Vegas, was assaulted by two men, who later were arrested and identified by their victim. The men are Felipe Garcia, a Mexican ,and Frank Brown, a half breed Mexican. They were placed in the county jail under heavy guard, and last night a crowd surrounded the building.

It is believed the prisoners will be lynched unless they are spirited away. To prevent lynching steps are being taken to call out the militia. The victim is in a precarious condition.

ANDERSON JURY LACKS ONE MAN

Task of Selecting Jurors to Hear Murder Evidence Difficult One.

Eleven jurors for the trial of Joseph Anderson on the charge of murdering Harry M. Logan had been secured when the time for noon adjournment came in Judge Bronaugh's court today. The task of securing 12 men of unbiased mind was more difficult than anticipated. Many had read newspaper accounts of the killing of Logan and the subsequent developments, including the reported confessions of the prisoner, and said they would enter the jury box with an opinion or with prejudice. Others declared that they would hesitate to find a man guilty of murder in the first degree on circumstantial evidence.

Twenty-five men have been rejected by one side or the other or excused by the court for cause, the majority being in the latter class. As soon as the twelfth man is secured, Deputy District Attorney Adams, who has charge of the prosecution, will begin the presentation of his evidence.

J. A. Jeffrey, who is associated with W. G. Hale in the defense, has conducted the examination of talesmen and has been particularly careful to inquire into the class of literature read by the prospective jurors. The object of this, apparently, was to exclude those who give particular attention to accounts of murder cases in the press. On the other hand, magazine readers seem to be favored by the defense.

Following are the 11 jurors secured at the noon hour:

R. M. Cannon, Thomas H. Smith, W. W. Church, John E. Schmeer, W. H. Colgate, J. O. Gibson, James Shaw, John Cronquist, E. G. Gooding, H. A. Smith, E. Schwedler.

ST. JOHNS COUNCIL APPROVES EXTENSION

Project to Enlarge City's Borders Will Be Voted Upon in June.

The petition for the incorporation of additional territory in the city of St. Johns was approved at the meeting of the St. Johns city council last night and will be voted upon at the polls April 6.

The offer of Peterson & Smith, owners of the St. Johns ferry, to sell their property to the city for $18,975 was made public, but no action was taken pending the negotiations with the county commissioners in regard to operating expenses.

The Indiana Road Machine company, through its representative, who was present at the meeting, lay before the council plans and specifications for a rock crusher and road machine. An ordinance to improve Polk street was passed.

The license of Sherman Cochran was renewed, and a new license was granted to Hermann Spurling for a saloon at the corner of Tacoma and Jersey streets.

The council passed an ordinance forbidding all women in saloons. Routine matters including the approval of small bills aggregating $300 occupied the council until 12:30 a. m.

More Expo Rink Doings.

Fun fairly hums this week at the Expo, as there is something doing all the time. Tonight there will be amateur races of a very lively character. Thursday night an exhibition game of basketball, at popular prices, will be given, and Friday night will be ladies' night; but the grand circus will not be reached until Saturday night when a grand masquerade will be given and then the fun will begin in earnest. Plan your costume now and win a prize.

PRINTERS FINED FOR IGNORING INJUNCTION

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Feb. 12.—Three out of five members of Typographical union No. 6 punished for violating an injunction have been sentenced by Justice Bishoff to pay $250 in fines each and spend 20 days in jail. The other two members were fined $100 each.

Patrick McCormick, former president of the union, and George Jackson and Vincent J. Costello, organizers, the three men sentenced to jail, are members of the "Big Six" local of the union. After a strike for a closed shop and an eight-hour day had been declared last fall by "Big Six," the employers secured an injunction restraining the unionists from interfering with non-union men. They called the court's attention to the fact that the injunction was violated, and the fines just imposed are the result of an investigation by the court.

New Lodge at La Grande.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

La Grande, Or., Feb. 12.—The already long list of orders and lodges in the Grand Ronde valley is to be increased when the Fraternal Brotherhood of Los Angeles will be organized in the city this week. State Deputy Supreme Priest F. E. Taylor and two deputies, George T. Pickett and M. J. Chappel, all of Portland, are here for the purpose of organizing the lodge.

Orders are to be organized at North Powder, Haines, Union, Elgin and La Grande, this completing a strong chain in Union county. There are orders of this name in Baker City and Pendleton.

PIONEER STOCKMAN DIES AT MONUMENT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Monument, Or., Feb. 12.—George H. Beck, the pioneer stockman, who died here Monday, was one of the first settlers in this part of the interior of Oregon and endured many hardships in the early settlement of Grant county and passed through some thrilling experiences in his 40 years' residence here.

He was the first settler in Fox valley and was in the sheep business at the time of the Bannock and Piute Indian war in 1878.
