Rev. W. H. Heppe, pastor of Grace Methodist church, spoke yesterday on the text "I, Yet Not L" He said in part:

"A Christian, defined in terms of life, is a man possessed, ruled and used, by Christ. In the Christian 'life personality is preserved. It is still I, That which constitutes distinction of person, that peculiar something known as my individuality, is not destroyed. It is still Paul or Peter or John, each with his own characteristic mental makeup, his own peculiar temperament. These men have not been unmade, but remade. A new power has come into their life: a new motive has been enthroned; a new pictor new becknas the apple apple

a new power has been enthroned; a new wision now beckons the soul onward. "God has need for varied tempera-ments and talents to successfully carry on the work of the kingdom. The his-tory of the church is replete with illus-trations. All types of mind and diapo-sition have been utilized in building the temple of Christianity in the world-the intellectual, impulsive, adminis-tration of one, two or five talents, but of talents put to use. Vice-President Miller Murdock and Samuel Connell of the Municipal asso-ciation addressed the congregation at the Hassalo Street Congregation at the Hassalo Street Congregation at the Hassalo Street Congregation at the ist night. Mr. Murdock com-mended the direct primary for the rea-son that it renders it difficult for the politician to .chieve his ends, and he also called attention to the effort to take from the people their power by an attack on Statement No. 1. Mr. Murdock likewise gave warning against the proposed measure to give cities independence in legislation. On this line he said: "The bill amounts to this. The city can ordinarily be controlled by the vicious element. The country cannot. The vested interests are willing to turn in and help elect men who will be sat-isfactory to the vicious element, that they may use these men. The combined forces of the vested interests are look-ing for special privileges from the city. They can usually carry the state, especially on such questions as whether factors shall be permitted, whether theatres shall run on Sunday and whether the dance halls and saloons may run together. If that law was in force they would get into the city coun-cul and have an ordinance passed to run the town wild open." On the subject of the direct primary Mr. Murdock was equally clear, saying: "The direct primary politician be-cause he cannot manipulate matters as formerly, although I see they are going to try it here in Portland. Under the direct primary law any good man may be nominated to office. One result of their refusing to be nominated is that solons granted licenses recently are violating the law every day. That is the kick we have coming against church pople." "The direct with as Statement No. 1 is an issue which will come up at the

The action was taken following the morning services after a sermon by the new pastor. At the conclusion of the sermon and after Dr. Bollinger had left for his home, the congregation convened to con-sider the election of a pastor, and by a unanimous vote decided to offer the pastorate to Rev. Bollinger for an in-definite time, it being agreed that his services should at any time be con-cluded by mutual agreement between the pastor and the congregation. Luther R. Scobee, Herbert E. De Young and Carlos A. Mann were appointed as a committee to call upon Mr. Bollinger and inform him of the action of the congregation. Dr. Bollinger accepted the call and thanked the congregation for the support, which had been given him during the year past while he had been serving as the acting pastor of the church.

Against Moral Turpitude. Declaring that the time has arrived when the public conscience should be quickened to bring about the suppres-sion of evil medical practices, Dr. J. Whiteomb Brougher in his sermon at the White Temple last night outlined the plans for purifying the social fabric that have been formulated. He said that the task will be an unpleasant one, for the vicious elements will fight back and use any method of slander and villi-fication, but he asserted that the man who believes in the triumph of right-eousness cannot hesitate in opening the fight.

"Our city has been somewhat aroused by the murder of a young woman under distressing circumstances," said the

UNANSWERED PRAYER.

Rev. Green Says Law of Successful Prayer Is Not Understood.

Rev. Green Says Law of Successful Prayer Is Not Understood. Rev. P. J. Green spoke to an appre-ciative audience last evening in Ringler hall on "The Cause of Answered and Unanswered Prayer." Rev. Green said in vart that he believes that not more that one fourth of the prayers offered are ever answered. He says that the law of successful prayer is not under-stood even by many of the preachers. There is in every person a selfish self and an unselfish self. The first is the carnal mind and is at enmity with God, or contrary to the universal good of all. In James 4:ili we read, Ye ask. . . . that ye may consume it upon your lusts. Such praying is from the selfish self and is "asking amiss." This selfish mind, or self, receives, not because its asking is not actuated by brotherly love, but desires for self, even at the cost of injury to another. Any prayer offered with a tinge of selfish-ness is unChristlike and will not be answered. Three fourths of the pray-ing is done by this selfish self or is tinged with self is the Christ-mind, or divine mind, and knows how and what to ask for. It never asks for anything at the cost of injury to an-other, but like Christ seeks the good of all mankind unselfishly and without the thought of merited reward from an-other. This mind desires the good and upliftment of all souls and is therefore in harmony with the father-mind. Such unselfish prayer turns the key to God's invisible, but ever-present supply house and he who prays thus receives what-ever he asks for. Unselfish prayers offered by the Christ-mind are always short and do not plead for 101 things, but are rifle-like in their aim, one thing at a time. Every prayer that does not spring from vital desire, is but sounding bravers ers and ministers have been prepared for work among the mountaineers.

KNOCKERS OF FUND ARE KNOCKED BY BOOSTERS

Knockers of the state university appropriation were in turn knocked by the forty-fifth precinct Republican club at a meeting held Saturday night. Alan R. Joy called the attention of the club to the fact that the referendum had been invoked on the appropriation granted by the legislature and after some dis-cussion the club went on record not only as favoring the appropriation as passed but of enlarging it at the next session of the legislature. Ben Riesland presided at the meet-ing and it was decided to take up the various measures now before the people under the referendum for discussion at subsequent meetings.

Then true prayer must be mixed with a posi-tive active faith that claims the answer subject of a discussion by George S. Shepherd before the People's Forum yesterday afternoon. Jesus said: "What things soever ye desire when ye pray believe that ye receive and ye shall have." The speaker pointed as illustrations to the countries where the postal banks were maintained and argued that such depositories would furnish a safe place for the deposits of the small earnings of thrifty people and would thus tend for the deposits of the small earnings of thrifty people and would thus tend to promote thrift among the people. Reference was made to the banking system of Scotland where all the stock-nolders were made personally liable for the deposits in their institutions with the result that within 200 years there had been but two failures. Freedman's Aid. The work of the Freedmen's Aid de-partment of the Colored Methodist church was discussed yesterday during a Lincoin's birthday service at the Trin-ity Methodist church, at which Rev. L. F. Smith delivered the address. Mr. Smith toid of the work of the depart-ment through which help had been given to thousands of negroes throughout the country. Under it, schools and col-leges were maintained and directed, the department being a part of the board of education of the Methodist church. Today there are 46 institutions with lands and buildings valued at $1,991,569, with 648 teachers and 12,200 students. There have been nearly 300,000 pupils in these institutions and over 12,000 egro teachers and 30,000 ministers have been prepared for Christian work among their own people. In most part schools for the whites are in east Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama, and 2,300 teach-ers and ministers have been prepared for work among the moundingers.
