TEAM TRAINS AT SANTA BARBARA

Manager McCredie Selects California City—Mott, Califf and Moore Sold.

Santa Barbara will be the training place for the Portland Beavers this spring. The above important announcement was made by Manager Walter McCredie this morning, and the head of the Portland team will leave for the south to make arrangements for his men next week. For several weeks the Portland magnates hesitated between Tucson and Santa Barbara, but the latter was finally considered to be the best proposition from every standpoint. That there will be plenty of practice games for the Beavers around Santa Barbara is assured. In addition to the games with the Chicago Americans and the team in the California winter league there will be numerous mixups with the teams from the fleet, which will be resting in Santa Barbara harbor during the time the Beavers are there. From present indications the Beavers will have the best anti-season series of games a northern baseball squad has ever had in the south. The feature of the plans of the McCredie managers well for the position of the team in the Coast league race. From a pecuniary standpoint the selection of Santa Barbara could not be better. The thousands of sailors from the American fleet are enthusiastic fans, especially when their own teams are playing the professionals and will turn out en masse to the game. All of the Beavers who wintered in Portland will go south together and will be joined at Grants Pass by Pernoli, who spent the off season at his home in that place. Manager McCredie, Kenney, Bussey and Casey were the players who spent the winter here.

GOLF STANDING FOUND NEW WAY

Waverly Club Adopts New Method to Determine Who Are Best.

A new system of determining the merits of golf players has been inaugurated at the Waverly golf links, the first play starting last Sunday. Under the new style the membership has been divided into classes, such as A, B, C, D, and so on. Each class has from eight to twelve players, and they will play for positions in their various classes. After the positions have been established the players will work to the head of the list, always challenging the players in the position just above them. For instance, a player who finishes No. 6 in his class may challenge No. 4 in another class, and if he succeeds in beating No. 6, he takes that position, while the man who was No. 4 in that manner it is possible to learn definitely who are the best players in the club, and teams may thus be equitably chosen to defend the club in future contests. The women members of the club have adopted the same method of determining "who is who" and will start off their play about the first of next month. Next Saturday afternoon the annual Washington birthday handicap will be played, and it is attracting much interest from those who frequent the green.

SCOTS AND BRITONS TO CLASH SATURDAY

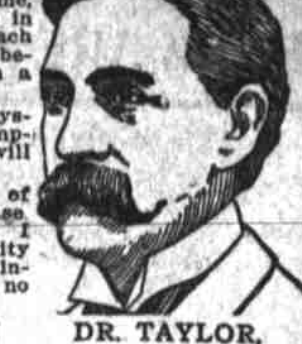

Bagpipers Will Urge on Players Who Were Victorious Last Season.

Stirred on by the music of the bagpipe, the Scottish soccer players, under Captain Colin V. Dymont, will attempt to repeat their victories of last season over the English soccer eleven, captained by Sydney Mills in the series of three games, which will start next Saturday afternoon. Last winter the Scots won the third and deciding games from the Britons after a hard fought contest, and are confident that they can turn the trick again this season. Great interest is being displayed among both nationalities, and a record breaking crowd promises to see the match. The first game will be called Saturday afternoon, Washington's birthday, at 3:30 o'clock, and Referee Mounts, formerly of the California soccer league, will have charge of the players.

TWIN BROTHERS READY TO FIGHT

Jack Arrives to Trim Mike for Battle With Stanley Ketchel.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Feb. 18.—Jack "Twin" Sullivan has arrived at his brother's headquarters, but did not put on the gloves, returning to the city after exchanging fraternal greetings. Jack will take an early boat this morning for San Rafael, and there will be some lively doings between the twins until Mike cuts out the strenuous work which will probably be Thursday. Contrary to earlier expectations, Ketchel will have no difficulty in making the weight agreed upon, as he barely tips the beam at 154 pounds, and will from now on be content to rest with that figure. His ring work will be lightened considerably, but short spins will be taken each morning. Jack Welsh has been selected as referee for the Atwell-Kelly fight, which is scheduled for the latter part of the month before Jack Gleason's club. The date of the encounter has not yet been decided on, but it will probably be the 28th of the month at Dreamland pavilion. Tim McGrath received a wire from Jim Flynn at New Orleans last night, announcing his arrival and stating that he would immediately go into training for his fight with Barry on the 28th of the month. After that fight he will return to Los Angeles to take on Battling Johnson.

No matter if you have been pronounced incurable by any other physician, don't let that account for your failure to come to me for treatment. I have cured hundreds of men who have been told that they were incurable. Remember, that my methods will cure cases that are practically incurable by any other treatment. My methods are original with me, and are the result of many years' experience in medical practice. I affect a cure in every case, because my treatment is adapted to the needs of each patient with scientific precision. I leave nothing to guesswork. I KNOW when I begin treating a patient that I will perform a complete and permanent CURE. Such a cure by my method is just as certain as that two and two make four. I claim that nothing less than complete eradication of the disease from the system is a real cure. I treat to completely remove the disease and not merely the symptoms. I drive out every root and fiber of the ailment and effect a cure that will make you strong and vigorous for a lifetime. The cause of every effect are the result of my thorough knowledge of every phase of the disease I treat and to the fact that I apply individual treatment to each case. In every instance I know the ailment and I know the cure for it. The fact that I agree to wait for my fee until you are cured is proof of my confidence in my ability to cure in every case. Some physicians assert that certain diseases of men are incurable. I deny that, and stand ready to PROVE that by my methods there is no disease peculiar to men that cannot be cured.

You Can Pay Me When You Are Cured

Varicocele
Under my treatment the most agonizing treatment the most agonizing cured in a few days' time. There is no pain, and it is seldom necessary that the patient be confined from his occupation. Normal circulation is at once restored throughout all the organs and their natural processes of waste and repair are again established. If you are afflicted with varicocele consult me at once. Delay can bring on aggravated conditions and nervous complications and involve the general health. No other physician employs a like treatment, and so thorough is my method that there need not be the slightest fear of a relapse into old conditions.

"Weakness"
I am confident that I have cured more cases of so-called "weakness" than any other physician. There may be doctors in the large eastern cities who have treated more cases than I, but they cling to the old and ineffective practice of dosing with quinine, and the result is a permanent symptom of local disorder that requires local treatment. This is a truth that I have discovered and that has fully established my success in effecting permanent cures. My method is original with myself and is employed by no other physician.

Free Consultation
To judge my ability without personal consultation may be an injustice to yourself that will cost a lifetime of suffering. My treatment is confidential and you place yourself in my hands.

STATE FAIR TO PUT UP $5,000 FUTURITY STAKE

A $5,000 futurity stake for foals of 1905 has been put up by the Oregon State Fair association. At the fair at Salem in 1910 and 1911, the championship of the youngsters and the rich purse will go to the fastest colt, both two-year-olds and three-year-olds. Entries will close July 1, and the conditions will be announced later. Races of this kind have been a great success throughout the east and in California, and should likewise prosper in the northwest. Northwestern horsemen will receive this announcement with great glee, as it insures better horses and more interest in horse breeding.

NETHER SIDE OF COURT.

Russian Says the Imperial Kitchens Need a Pure Food Law. A writer who signs himself S. R. G. has contributed to the Revue of Paris some revelations of the nether side of court life in Russia. The Revue says that the writer is a Russian prince and belongs to the suite of the czar. He begins with a reference to the czar's attack of typhus fever in 1906 and the wonder expressed throughout Europe that a potentate whose life was so carefully guarded should have contracted the infectious disease. There could have been no wonder, he says, if the secrets of the imperial kitchens were known. These are managed with incredible disorder and are unsanitary beyond belief. Their unhygienic condition is only equalled by their dishonesty and extravagance. The alleged prince writes that Gen. Tyrtov, brother of a former minister, was called in his doctor one day. He was fearfully ill. "Where have you been dining?" asked the doctor. "I had luncheon with the czar yesterday, and I came right home and went to bed. I was so ill, that the czar's doctor called him for ptomaine poisoning and pulled him through. The czar's table is financed on a scale of enormous extravagance, a single dinner suffices for four or five food courses as a dish, though it may be only five olives or a bunch of grapes. At great state dinners the figuring is still higher. For instance, if there are 500 covers and lobster patties are on the menu the account put in will be for 500 lobsters at four rubles apiece, though one lobster easily suffices for four or five persons. Or if ducks from Rouen are provided 500 ducks are paid for at five rubles apiece, though each duck affords a sufficient quantity of meat for two persons. Withal the lobsters are apt to be of doubtful freshness and the ducks do not come from Rouen. The champagne is of the most inferior quality, except perhaps at the imperial table, is sure to masquerade as the choicest, and the quality of the caviar and the real quality is worse than suspicious. There is a man in St. Petersburg who is invited to the czar's dinners and his wife, as he is not wealthy his friends wonder how he does it. One day the writer solved the mystery. He was sitting in a cafe with the dinner giver when a servant in court livery popped his head in at a rear door and handed the czar's cook a signal was for him, but the dinner giver put in with a dry laugh: "Never mind. That's my purveyor general. He has something for me. We'll have good wine to drink his majesty's health in tonight." They went out into a rear corridor, where they found the servant had a big basket. It contained 20 bottles of the finest wines, which the dinner giver handed to the czar's cook to a public bottle and then sent them to his palace by a public porter. It was far from a unique case. A regular traffic in choice delicacies, including fruit, poultry and confectionery, is constantly going on between the czar's pantry and the back door of the palace of the capital, some of whom are well able to pay for their supplies at market prices but who have the ingredients at a very low cost. The tableware is also taken out of the palace and sold by kitchen servants and waiters. The reign of Alexander and his successor, the czar, was a reign of a beautiful Sevres plate, mentioned by the imperial czar in a monogram, in a junk shop. He bought it for a trifle and then the dealer said: "If you care for it, I'll sell it for 100 rubles." "Do by all means," said Bogoluboff. In a few weeks he had accumulated several dozen specimens of fine china and glassware, all stolen from Tsarskoe-Selo. One day he asked the czar to come and see his new collection. The czar was not at home, but the minister was explained to him. There was considerable clearing out of servants, and the palace was searched for the stolen goods. Then Alexander devised a plan to prevent further looting. He ordered that a catalogue of every article in the palace be prepared so that the imperial property could be checked up at intervals. In Russia there is always a way to carry out a reform in appearance and beat it in effect. The palace officials selected a nice learned old man to make the catalogue, and the name was Gregorowicz. He is dead and the czar is dead and Bogoluboff is dead, but the catalogue is still unfinished. One day the writer saw a painting with the imperial stamp of the Hermitage museum on it for sale for five rubles in a second-hand furniture store. He made some discreet inquiries and the guardians of the museum told him that it was very hard to keep the czar's grand dukes and court officials and ministers had a habit of borrowing pictures for the decoration of their houses on special occasions, and they very seldom came back.

W. A. Orton, the editor, announces in the current number the monthly receipts turned into the M. A. A. C. treasury last year $296.83.

CLAUDE SWANN'S CRACK ALASKAN BASKETBALL TEAM DISBANDED.

Corvallis, Or., Feb. 18.—The Alaskan Brotherhood Basketball team, coached by Claude Swann, the little wonder of Oregon Agricultural college fame, disbanded in Chicago a few days ago, having made the tour from Seattle via Los Angeles, San Francisco, Salt Lake, Denver and St. Louis to Chicago, playing all the best teams enroute and meeting defeat only eight times out of the 42 games played. Swann and five of his men are now playing a week's schedule in Wisconsin, prior to starting on the return trip. The eight games which they lost and the scores were as follows: Dallas college, Oregon, 39 to 23; Los Angeles, 27 to 19; Salt Lake Y. M. C. A., 23 to 31; Baker university, Kansas, 31 to 27; Kansas City Athletic club, 42 to 41; William Jewell college, 35 to 33; Chicago Crescents, 39 to 36; Chicago Centrals, 40 to 35. The Centrals are considered the strongest team in that city, while the Crescents have a great reputation throughout the United States. In many of the games the Alaskans have defeated their opponents by a larger number of points in a single game than the total number rolled up against them in their eight defeats. The record of Coach Swann is one to which he can justly point with pride and old O. A. C. is certainly proud of what he has done on this eastern tour. He is expected home in a week or 10 days.
