WANT BRIDGE AT HANCOCK

Peninsula Clubs United to Have Structure Erected as Far North as Possible—Object to Building It South of Steel Bridge.

United action on behalf of the clubs on the peninsula is certain now that the Albina high bridge is almost assured, to bring the east approach at some point much farther north than at Hancock street or even Albina avenue, as has been proposed. The subject has been brought up and discussed in all the peninsula improvement associations and a big effort will be made to swing the east approach as far north as possible.

At a recent meeting of the University Park board of trade the delegates of that organization were instructed to vote against any proposition for a high bridge across the river below the steel bridge that provided for an approach south of Killingsworth avenue. It is not thought that the plans for the bridge will be seriously delayed because of this action of the peninsula clubs, since the petition of both approaches to the engineers.

However, a united effort is being made by the peninsula clubs to swing the approach north and it is very likely that it will succeed. The clubs united on the proposition are the Piedmont Push club, the North Albina improvement association, St. John commercial club, the Arbor Lodge Push club, the Willamette Push club, the Peninsula Push club, the University Park board of trade and the Woodlawn Push club.

A House Divided Against Itself

Civil War in the Stomach Spells Ruin Victory Belongs to You, if You Will. Costs Nothing to Try.

The greatest foe to the progress of nations has been internal strife, civil war. Equally so is the greatest enemy of health in the human system civil war. This is just what occurs in dyspepsia. SOMETHING DOING IN KENILWORTH

Improvement Association Holds Important Meeting to Push Street Work.

The Kenilworth Improvement association held its semi-monthly meeting Monday evening at the store of A. J. Van Wassenhove, and was largely attended. This body of men are exceedingly zealous for the improvement of that high and slightly suburb, and from the tenor of their speeches last evening it is evident that there will be something doing in that neighborhood this year.

After almost a year's effort on the part of the people of Kenilworth, grading has at last begun on Gladstone avenue, the first two blocks from Twenty-sixth street east being almost completed. The grading of Francis avenue is soon to begin, and the improvement association will ask the water board to lay a water main on that street before the work is done. The association will also ask that the main on Gladstone avenue be continued from Thirty-second street east, and other necessary extensions made.

To File Complaint. A complaint is to be filed with the city engineer reciting that the street at the new apartment house recently completed by Professor Rickard on Francis avenue is in a dangerous condition, and the necessary betterment will be requested.

Desiring to be on more friendly terms and enjoy more intimate relations with sister clubs and associations of the neighborhood, the Kenilworth association named J. R. Tomlinson a delegate to attend the next meeting of the Brooklyn club, and E. F. Moldenhauer the Richmond club. Other members will be selected to visit these clubs at future meetings, the idea being to have a Kenilworth man attend every meeting of these associations, and they will be requested to send representatives to meet with the Kenilworth hustlers.

Joker Gets Busy. J. R. Tomlinson reported that the Barrett brothers are negotiating with the Evans brothers for the platting and sale of the ground known as the Kenilworth vegetable gardens, and it seems probable that this will be accomplished and the question of this alleged nuisance be met with the Kenilworth hustlers.

MANY VISITORS AT NEW LIBRARY

Large Throng Inspects East Portland's Structure—Opened Yesterday.

At the opening of the new east side branch of the public library yesterday afternoon and evening, just completed, at the corner of East Alder and East Eleventh streets, throngs of visitors were received by the librarian, Miss Elizabeth Clark, and her assistant, Miss Wills. Mary Frances Isom of the Portland library was also present to help entertain the visitors, including many school children.

It is estimated that more than 500 school children visited the building at the school children's hour, 4 o'clock, and listened to the story told by Miss Milard. In the evening a program was presented to the old folk, Rev. T. L. Eliot presiding. Rev. Eliot made an interesting address of welcome, in which he reviewed the history of the Portland Library association and its growth. He said he looked forward to the time when the small, hastily-constructed building would be replaced by a magnificent stone structure for the importance of the branch would demand such a building within a few years.

LENDS THREATENED WITH LARGE FIRE

Flames in Butcher Shop Discovered in Time to Save Pretty Suburb.

Fire broke out in the smoke house at the rear of Duke Bros' meat market at Lents about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and for a short time threatened the little town with a serious conflagration. The Lents Volunteer Fire company extinguished the flames before they had gained much headway.

The building in which the fire broke out is in the midst of the business district where the wooden buildings are close together. Water is scarce and if the blaze had once gotten under way the whole town would have been destroyed. A spark from an open fire in the smoke house where bacon was being cured set fire to the tinder-like roof. Luckily it was at once discovered and extinguished with little difficulty.

SELLWOOD SEWER PROBLEM SOLVED

City Engineer Taylor Plans to Build Septic Tank to Receive Drainage.

It is thought that City Engineer Taylor has solved the sewer difficulty for Sellwood. Instead of draining the east slope of the suburb into the Willamette river by way of Johnson creek to Milwaukie at a great expense to the property owners, Mr. Taylor believes that it would be feasible to construct a septic tank large enough to receive all the sewerage from this section of the suburb for a number of years. Because of the geography of Sellwood it has been found necessary to build two distinct sewer systems to drain the suburb satisfactorily. One part of the suburb slopes eastward and the other westward. The westward side is easily drained into the Willamette river, but the eastward slope can only be drained to the river through to Milwaukie, a distance of several miles. The people of the eastward slope are willing to share the burden of building the sewer on the eastward slope so when the plans are submitted both systems will go through as one and the cost be divided evenly among the property owners of both slopes.
