

BAKER TO BE WOOL CENTER

Eastern Oregon City Secures Low Rate on Shipments to Boston.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Baker City, Or., Feb. 20.—Baker City will become one of the greatest wool markets in Oregon. Shepherds have been in Portland consulting with the O. & N. officials and have secured a rate of 17 1/2 from Baker to Boston. The Sumpter Valley has made a rate of 20 cents from Austin to Baker and the reduction by the two roads means that more than 1,000,000 pounds of wool from Grant and Wheeler counties will be hauled to Austin and then shipped to Baker for baling. Dayville is the present center of the sheep industry in Grant county and the ranchers would much rather haul their wool to Austin because of the two roads they have been paying $2 to have their wool hauled to Shaniko because of the low rate. The shipping of the wool via Baker City will mean that the ranchers buying their supplies at Shaniko they will haul their wool to Austin, leave their teams there and come on to Baker City to secure their warehouse receipts and have their purchase receipts. By this means the rancher will handle his wool at the lowest cost of getting their wool to Austin.

The rate of 17 1/2 insures for Baker City a baler this season. A local firm has already agreed to install a baler, but it is thought that the sheepmen will put in one themselves, as the baling of the 1,000,000 pounds of Grant county wool will pay for the baler. It is also probable that the larger part of the Willamette valley wool will come from Baker to Baker City river where it is expected to come to Baker City, although some may go to Weiser.

TYLER WILL BUILD BOAT AT CORVALLIS

Shallow Draft Steamer to Ply Upper Willamette in Summer.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Corvallis, Or., Feb. 20.—A towing launch or light freight boat of shallow draught, to ply the Willamette and probably connect with the O. C. T. company's boats at Salem during the low water season, is the project which is occupying the time and attention of J. F. Tyler of this city. The ground and work will begin at once.

As proposed, the craft will be 40x11 and a 38-horse-power gas engine will be the propelling force. The speed limit will be 18 miles an hour.

The purpose of the boat will be to tow logs in winter, instead of using a team which is very dangerous, and also to haul freight wherever required. Mr. Tyler hopes to perfect an arrangement with the O. C. T. company where his boat will connect with theirs at Salem, during the season when shallow water prevents them from reaching the city. There is already enough business promised him to convince Mr. Tyler that it will be a profitable enterprise.

It is planned to organize with a capital of $250,000, and the new bank will take over the business of the defunct Capital State bank. It is hoped to open soon and the depositors of the Capital State will be paid in full.

Making Good.

There is no way of making better friends like "Making Good" and Doctor Pierce's medicines will exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not been drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood ailments, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening remedy it is unequalled. It won't sicken the one who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead and when once tried are never afterward in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equalled.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES AT EUGENE

Death Claims Mother of Judge Robert S. Bean of Oregon Supreme Court.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Eugene, Or., Feb. 20.—Mrs. Julia A. Bean, an Oregon pioneer, died at her home in this city yesterday afternoon at the age of 70 years. The funeral will be held Friday. Mrs. Bean, whose maiden name was Sharp, was born near Newmarket, Harrison county, Ohio, February 26, 1838. In 1848, in company with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sharp, she started across the plains for Oregon, but on reaching Missouri they purchased a farm and resided there for three years. In May, 1852, they started for Oregon again, taking the Barlow route. Although they were hampered by sickness on the journey and were snowbound for a time, they arrived safely in Oregon City on November 1, 1852. Spending the winter in the Chehalis valley, they took up a ranch in Washington county in the spring, but the land proved worthless and they came to Lane county in the fall of 1853. The subject of this sketch was married to Obadiah R. Bean in Yamhill county, Oregon, on October 21, 1853, and to them 11 children were born, as follows: Robert S., judge of the supreme court of Oregon; James R., an express messenger running out of Portland; John W., a prominent physician of Tacoma; Mrs. Emma A. Lucas, of Aberdeen, Washington; Joseph H., who died in 1897; Edward A., bookkeeper in the First National bank of Eugene; Louise E., a prominent attorney of Eugene; Frederick, a hardware merchant of Eugene; Mary, who died when a year old; Chester, O., contractor at Aberdeen, Washington; and Miss Estelle A., living at home. Mr. Bean died in the Siuslaw valley in 1890.

HARMONY GRANGE WITH THE PEOPLE

These Farmers in Linn Insist on Principle of Popular Rule Fully.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Lebanon, Or., Feb. 20.—At the last regular meeting of Harmony grange the action taken recently by Blue Mountain range as to Statement No. 1 was unanimously indorsed throughout and the following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That we mutually pledge each other to use all honorable means to defeat any and all candidates for the legislature who refuse to publicly pledge themselves to this proposition or in any manner equivocating by giving a menial pledge which can be construed differently from the broad and simple pledge of supporting the people's choice for United States senator, first, last and all the time. And be it further

"Resolved, That we recommend to our brother patrons over the state that they unite with us in carrying this principle, laid down in the primary election law, into practical effect, to the end that this cherished principle of electing United States senators by a direct vote of the people, which our order has advocated from its foundation, may to all intents and purposes be attained."

A good program was rendered, consisting of seasonal farm topics and all addresses from County Fruit Inspector B. C. Roberts and G. L. Snow, state grange overseer and grange inspector for the district. A number of visiting patrons were present. The lecturer has combined the grange and farmers' institute, and this system is working admirably.

This grange has gone on record as opposed to the proposed single tax amendment.

IT SAVED MY LIFE—WRITERS ECKEMA PATIENT

Bed-Ridden sufferer Completely Cured by Use of D. D. D. External Wash.

One of the most remarkable Eczema cures recently credited to the well known D. D. D. Prescription has just been recorded in Chicago.

Mrs. E. Hoge, 1550 West Madison street, under date of Dec. 9, 1907, writes as follows:

"I suffered three years with Weeping Eczema. It started with a little spot on my knees and spread fast over my whole body. I spent hundreds of dollars and went to every good doctor. I heard of, but kept getting worse. Nothing would stop the awful itch and burning.

"I had to stay in bed from the middle of May to the middle of July. Then I tried D. D. D. Prescription. This is the 9th of December and I am entirely free from the terrible disease. D. D. D. saved my life.

"When I began this treatment, people were afraid of me. I looked so terrible. My husband was the only one who would take care of me. D. D. D. stopped the itch at once so I could sleep, which I had not done before. Then I began to get better fast and now my skin is clear and white, not a spot anywhere.

"Just a few drops of D. D. D. Prescription applied to the skin brings relief—nothing to swallow or drink. We vouch for D. D. D. Prescription, also the cleansing D. D. D. Soap. Skidmore Drug Co., 151 Third St. Get a bottle today if you have any skin disease. Begin your cure at once."

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Corvallis, Or., Feb. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Horton are today celebrating in this city the fifty-third anniversary of their wedding, which occurred at Rockford, Illinois. VIGOR AND VIM IN WASCO POLITICS

Group of Aspirants Around Practically Every County Office.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
The Dalles, Or., Feb. 20.—It is possible that N. Wheldon will again make the race for the state senate. He has served his constituents in that capacity in former years. D. J. Cooper of The Dalles will also be a candidate for state senator. Mr. Cooper has always taken active interest in public affairs, but has never held office.

The four avowed candidates who have declared themselves are J. B. Goff, Frank Angle, Asa Stogsdill and Alex Stewart.

The fight for county judge has taken a new turn. J. L. Kelly, who has been mayor of Dalles City for three terms, was thought to be the only aspirant for that office, but the knowing ones now say that A. E. Lake, the present incumbent, will fight for re-nomination. It was reported that Mr. Lake would be a legislative candidate, but it seems he has given up that ambition.

Candidates are noncommittal on Statement No. 1. Mr. Cooper, who aspires to senatorial honors, favors the election of United States senators by popular vote but he is undecided whether to come out for Statement No. 1.

J. W. Koons and C. L. Schmidt are after the membership and the race will be a spectacular one.

Justus T. Neff, the present incumbent, has announced that he will be a candidate for reelection for superintendent of schools.

FAMOUS OLD HOSTELRY WRECKED BY SNOW

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Baker City, Or., Feb. 20.—The old Delmonico hotel at Sumpter, at one time popular as a home of the fortune-seeker who came west with the belief that gold was obtainable almost for the asking, is a thing of the past so far as usefulness goes. Its roof has fallen in from the weight of deep snow piled above it, and nothing remains but the walls to tell the story of many mining deals transacted in its interior. Like many other buildings in the mountain town it was built when things were moving fast and furious in eastern Oregon; when the malls were loaded with money for the purchase of mining stock, when the grafter grafted and the sucker sucked.

Tradition relates that the Delmonico was opened with a wedding feast, a young couple having decided to change their mode of living and at the manager's request made the occasion a gala one of featuring it with the hotel opening.
