Eggs Reaching Lower.

Egg market along Front street today a flat at 21c a dozen, with prices showing a downward tendency. No business from the north is visible at this ime at present prices. Advices relieved from there during the 24 hours flered but 20c a dozen for strictly resh candled stock, so no sales are repried. Receipts along the street are noreasing and the general opinion of the trade is that prices will reach 20c r less before the present downward novement subsides. This was predicted a this report several weeks ago. Eggs Reaching Lower.

this report several weeks ago. Holiday on Street Tomorrow. All the wholesale grocery houses will be closed tomorrow on account of washington's birthday and rose-planting day. The railroads will neither releive nor deliver freight, so no shiping business can be done. However, front street commission houses will be pen most of the day, because of the rrivals of perishable produce by express.

Chickens Are Not So Firm. Not so much firmness is displayed by he local chicken market. Trade is fuller, with duliness gathering on all tides. Receipts continue good. Some of the cealers cut their quotation 1/2 a cound during the past 24 hours in order to unload. Dressed meat arrivals remain smaller han demand and prices continue at the Run of smelt is still rather small in Run of smelt is still rather small in the Columbia and the small arrivals re finding a demand at 7c a pound. Receivers report a slight decrease in the run of salmon in the Columbia, but the supplies are still very liberal and srices look lower. No change today.

Onion Market Not So Firm. While growers are showing no dispo-ition to rush their onions to market ecause of the lower prices, trade along he street continues rather slow and he trade is still of the opinion that ower prices will result. There is a fractional increase in the mount of potato business at the low rice now ruling. At country shipping oning dealers are paying from 40c to dealers are paying from 40c to c per hundred pounds.

Walla Walla Shipping Produce. Walla Walla produce is beginning to ome in this direction. Spinach and feen onions are now being received reen onions are now being received rom the north in fair condition.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—Following the good showing of strength in the market year-torday, there was a very lively trade at the opening of the wheat pit to-day. There was in the yards during the 24 hours, the market retained a good buying demand all through the day, killers seemingly being willing to have yesterday for May and % for July.

Liverpool and other European markets were showing a steady to firm tone in the early trading today. At Liverpool the market price started upward after the opening and May closed at 68 10 % d as compared with 68 9 % d; today's opening and last night's closing figure.

The future of the coast hog market is very much in doubt. Much, if not all will depend upon the attitude of the eastern markets. The price here is close to a par with the east—freight and other charges being considered—and fluctuations there will be eagerly scanned by the killers.

WEATHER REPORT

The north Pacific high pressure area is now central over the northern Rocky mountain states and the west gulf high pressure area has lost its identity. A low pressure area, apparently of little energy, is central north of Lake Huron, and the barometer is relatively low over southern Arlzona. This distribution of pressure has caused fair weather in the north Pacific states, with temperatures generally slightly below normal. In California the weather is unsettled and light rain has fallen at scattered places in the southern portion of the state. East of the Rocky mountains, fair weather generally prevails, except in the lake region, where in a few localities, light snow has Iailen. It is much warmer in the Mississippi valley, and chinook conditions prevail in north central Montana and Alberta. It is colder in New England and the middle Atlantic states. tic states.

The indications are for fair weather in this district tonight and Saturday, with easterly winds.
