Managor Bever of the Butte Boy Consolidated Mining company, wired the office this morning that work, suspended for over a week on that property, had been resumed and would property, had been resumed and would be prosecuted day and part of the night—16 hours of the 24. The weather has so moderated that the water tanks no longer freeze and further hindrance is not expected. Mr. Bever speaks in glowing terms, in a letter received today, of the mine's prospects and assures Portland stockholders that they will soon rejoice over their investments. It is believed by the best informed that these shares will jump to 50 cents or $1.00 within a few months, and $10 to $20, when the mine is as old as the Mohawk. This is an enterprise to which no suspicion of mismanagement has ever attached, and looks like it will be one of the greatest of Goldfield's great properties. Its stock is now selling at 10 cents per share, is of the par value of $1.00 and non-assessable.

Detectives Arrest L. G. Fisher Two Hours After He Tapped Till.

By a rapid and clever bit of detective work on the part of Detectives Hawley and Inskeep yesterday afternoon a young man named L. G. Fisher was landed behind the Dars of the city prison within less than two hours after he had robbed a man of $80. Fisher confessed the theft and is facing prosecu-fessed the theft and is facing prosecution for felony.

The victim of the robbery is Edward Byrne, proprietor of a saloon at 155 North Tenth street. Fisher, who is without funds, had been loafing about Byrne's saloon for some time and had been befriended in a small way by the saloonman. Yesterday morning Byrne took about $800 to the saloon, intending to use the money for cashing pay checks of men employed on the north bank road. It so happened that he received word that the men would not receive their pay yesterday, and not wishing to keep so much money in the place deposited $700 of the amount in the bank.

They will visit the workshop of the festival association at the Lewis and Clark fair grounds and will there look over the various floats now in process of construction. They propose having a permanent float built and after using it in the parade, remove it to Hood River and place it near the railroad station as an advertisement for Hood River fruit.

Tonight a meeting of the Rose society will be held in the Chamber of Commerce to arrange awards and prizes for the rose exhibition to be held during the festival.

FINE MAP JUST

What is undoubtedly the clearest railroad map of the northwest ever issued is the new one which General Passenger Agent William McMurray of the O. R. & N. Co. has just compiled. This map, showing the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and portions of British Columbia. Montana, California, Nevada and Utah has been compiled by the passenger department of the O. R. & N. It shows the company's rail lines, water lines, projected and connecting lines and lines under construction.

Stage lines and trails through the forests and the so-called desert lands of the western part of the state are all clearely marked. In addition to this, forest reserves, Carey irrigation act projects and reclamation act projects are shown in various colors.

STEAM RURAL DELIVERY LAUNCH TO SERVE PATRONS ALONG RIVER

WOMAN OWNER OF BARBER SHOP

Portland, in all probability, is soon to have the only rural route in this part of the country to which mail is to be delivered by a steam launch, owned by the government and operated for the especial benefit of people livers. At these probabilities are the same as is done in the country these probabilities. for the especial benefit of people liv-

According to the present plans the launch is to make two trips each day, serving the people living on one side of the river on the upward trip and those on the other side when returning to the city. The route is to extend as far as Sauvie's island and will supply hundreds of persons living near the river banks.

The idea was conceived several months ago and Postal Inspector Fogarty was assigned to make investigations of the feasibility of the plan. While Mr. Foggarty has not as yet made his report it is understood that

If you were a woman;

at interest;

And you had a little money lent out

And you had to foreclose it and take over the barbershop in order to save your investment;

And then a horrid inspector came along and told you that you either had to quit business or take out a license as a barber and demonstrate that you could shave and cut hair and shampoo to his taste:

Wouldn't it make you mad?

That is just what happened to the owner of the Model barbershop at 91 Sixth street. M. E. Lee of 411 Corbett building who was fined $25 for operating the shop when he had no license, says that he doesn't own the shop at all and that the real owner is a woman.

Heretofore it has been the custom of funeral directors to make charges for all incidentals connected with a funeral. The Edward Holman Undertaking company, the leading funeral directors of Portland, have departed from that custom. When casket is furnished by us we make no extra charges for embalming, hearse to cemetery, outside box or any services that may be required of us, except clothing, cemetery and carriages, thus effecting a saving of $25 to $75 on each funeral.

Fisher admits that he knew Byrne placed $500 in the cash drawer, at the saloon, but was not aware that the greater part of this sum was taken to the bank. He says he awaited a moment when Byrne was in a back room, opened the cash drawer, extracted such money as it contained and left the place. The amount of money secured was $80, wrapped up in $20 rolls.

As soon as Byrne discovered his loss he informed the police, giving them an accurate description of Fisher, whom he suspected of taking the money. Detectives Hawley and Inskeep were detailed on the case and within a short time had traced Fisher to the apartment of an acquaintance at 408 Fourth street.
