Good Supplies and Average Quotations Are Ruling in Portland Market.

Front street features: Fish for Lenten season. Twenty-five cars onlons left. Shipping demand for seed spuds. Higher prices on celery. Egg market is steady at 18c. Poultry supplies still small. Orange market is not favorable.

Fish for Lenten Season

Lent begins next Wednesday, March, and the fish trade is prepared for the season much better than in recent, wars. Stocks of fish are generally good, ithough a scarcity may be shown in the or two unimportant lines. There is although a scarcity may be shown in the or two unimportant lines. There is blenty of fresh fish in sight at this lime to go well into the Lenten season, and from present prospects there will be some lowering of values. Whole-salers report good stocks of mackerel; herring, Alaska and Holland; smoked bloaters, Finnan haddles, codfish, and bovies and salmon in all forms and tyles. Prices generally ruling in this market are:

Higher Frices on Celery.

Higher values are being shown in selery owing to the recent damage to he crop in California and the smaller supplies available for outside ship-ment. The car which arrived from the outh late yesterday afternoon was in ne condition and is being sold at $4.75

Egg Market Is Steady.

There is a steady tone ruling in the gg market at the moment. While suplies are still liberal the trade has tught its breath and consumption is madually increasing. Along the street aught its breath and consumption is fradually increasing. Along the street oday the general market for selected anch stock was 18c, while in some in-tances a fractional advance over this gure was obtained. The outlook for he market today is better than it has en for some days, although no ad-nce in price is likely at the moment. Poultry Supplies Still Small.

Supplies of poultry in the local mar-t are small in comparison with the mand and late prices have been genmand and late prices have been gen-ally advanced, especially for the ordi-ary run, which have not heretofore seeived the upward price. Present respects look favorable for the chicken rivals, especially for the condition of the fruit Mr. Holaday is sending.

Artichokes are in more liberal arivals and the market is ruling between 75c and $1, according to size.

A small shipment of asparagus is reorted from the south. Supply too mall to quote.

Would Protect Salmon.

Astoria, Or., Feb. 29.—Nick Hanson, superintendent of the Chinook hatchery, is firmly advocating the establishment of nursery ponds on the lower Columbia river and is of the opinion that if the fishery authorities of the states of Oregon and Washington will retain their salmon fry in well-kept ponds near the mouth of the river instead of on the upper river, until they reach a sufficient age so that they will be able to protect themselves from the natural enemies in the river, the salmon pack on the Cothe river, the salmon pack on the Co-lumbia will in a short time be ma-terially increased.

Portland Union Stockyards, Feb. 29.

—A rather mixed tone is displayed by the livestock market at the moment.
Hogs are firm in the local yards because of the small arrivals and the late cause of the small arrivals and the late strength in the east, but killers continue to try the'r depressing methods. That there has been no decline in current values is due to the very light arrivals here of late. Shippers and sellers expect an advance, and they are regulating the supplies here to a nicety with the sid of the improvement in the east. Conditions generally tend toward an advance. advance.

For a Saturday there was a fair run of sheep in the yards today, but the market was firm at top figures, killers taking arrivals even before they were unloaded.

Upward Movement in Chicago Is Help.

There was anther advance of ic a bushel in the local wheat market today because of the great advance in Chicago. Buyers here seem to be anticipating the Liverpool market for next week to some extent because there was nothing in today's market there to force prices higher here. The close at Liv-erpool was at a net loss from yester-day because Chicago showed little change during Friday's session. Export agents report a lack of or-ders but all seem to be quoting the ad-vanced values. There is quite a fair amount of local flour business but millers say there is nothing doing in an export way.

My case was a hard one. I could not eat any holid food, as it would not lay on my stomach. I was reduced in weight and strength. Everything had failed me, and I thought my time had come. It was a mere accident that I learned about Cell Food. I secured some and it helped me from the start. I am a hearty, well man ever since.

PAY LIGHT BILL

Roseburg Company Threatens to Sue for Six Months' Service.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Roseburg, Or., Feb. 29 .- S. A. Kendall, one of the owners of the Roseburg water and light system, has brought up the very important alternaing. He had hanged himself with a rope suspended from a beam, and when found his knees were within half an inch of the floor.

Rogers had been suffering for some time with a brain trouble brought on by an attack of spinal meningitis when he was 6 years old, which destroyed his hearing. He had recently been under the care of a nerve specialist. Thursday morning he left home, telling his mother that he would return in an hour or so but nothing had been seen of him. The matter will be brought up against at the regular session of the council says it is not willing to pay for the lights until the matter will be brought up against the regular session of the council says it is not willing to pay for the lights until the matter will be brought up against the regular session of the council says it is not willing to pay for the lights until the matter will be brought up against the regular session of the council says it is not willing to pay for the lights until the matter will be brought up against the regular session of the council says it is not willing to pay for the city, lights or stand a lawsuit, before the city council. The city has refused to pay the bill for the last six months on account of poor service. This, Mr. Kendall says, cuts no figure. He maintains that unless the regular bill will be allowed. most of the payments have been in small sums.

Many taxpayers continue to send in checks attached to their tax statements after figuring their rebate of 3 percent. This rebate will be granted until March 15, after which date taxes must be paid in full. Those who have not yet requested statements will thus have little more time in which to save 3 percent on their taxes. The total amount collected to date is approximately $490,000.
