Yesterday was a great day at the First Christian church. There were 429 present in the Bible school and an offering of $30.36. It was Eureka day in the school. The Eureka class is a Bible class of women taught by Mrs. Muckley. There were 93 in the class yesterday with an offering of over $16. It was also Decision day in the school for the revival meetings at the close of the school. Evangelist Allen Wilson made an appeal, and eight came forward. Evangelist Wilson preached two of his best sermons yesterday. In the morning he spoke on “Why So Many People Are Not Christians,” and in the evening on “The Only Thing That Can Keep Me Out of Heaven.” There were 20 came during the day to take their stand with the church. Dr. Wilson will be at the First Christian church this week, preaching every night except tonight.

The congregation of Hawthorne Park Presbyterian church yesterday celebrated the fifth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. E. Nelson Allen. The morning sermon was appropriate to the occasion, and at night representatives of the various branches of the church's work made brief addresses. Those who spoke were W. D. Deavor Mrs. H. L. Chapin, S. A. Starr, Miss Florence, O. M. Scott and R. R. Steele. The church now has more than 300 members and owns property worth $20,000. Since Mr. Nelson became pastor, in 1903, a $4,300 manse has been erected.

A mass meeting of the Evangelical, United Evangelical and the United Brethren churches will be held at the First United Evangelical church, East Fifteenth and East Morrison streets, at 3 o'clock next Sunday afternoon. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the different men's clubs and alliances of the various churches. Rev. A. A. Winter has been delegated to deliver the principal address. The movement has been started in order to secure cooperation among the men of the different churches.

Owing to illness, Rev. G. A. Blair, founder and pastor of Vernon Presbyterian church, tendered his resignation to his congregation yesterday morning to take effect April 1. Rev. Blair asked to be relieved from active duty at once. He founded Vernon church 16 months ago when there was no church building and leaves his pastorate after erecting a $5,000 structure. He also founded Cumberland Presbyterian church in 1894. His resignation was accepted yesterday with great regret and after a complete rest he will resume active services in his chosen field.

The “Why I Believe” series of talks which Dr. Benjamin Youngs of the Taylor Street M. E. church is giving at the Y. W. C. A. rooms on Wednesdays, is creating much enthusiasm among the many young business women of the city who have been in attendance. The subject for this week is “Why I Believe in the Gospels.” These talks are given during the noon hour, from 12:35 to 12:50 on Wednesdays, and everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Rev. Tracy B. Griswold, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Albany, has been appointed Sunday school missionary for the Portland Presbytery, to take the place of Rev. John Ferguson, who recently tendered his resignation. Mr. Griswold will assume his new duties April 1. He comes to Portland highly recommended by the clergy of southern Oregon, and the local Presbyterian churches are pleased with the appointment.

Mrs. S. E. A. Smith will give a talk on Bible study at the Young Women's Christian association Tuesday evening, followed by several short talks from representative girls. Frau Bekker will sing “The Holy City” in German—her own translation. Miss Maud Angell will give “The Only Way,” cuttings from Dicken's “Tale of Two Cities.” The public is invited.

O. M. Scott, chairman of the library committee on the east side, has called a meeting of the committee for this evening. The members are all requested to be present at the Sargent hotel, Hawthorne and Grand avenues, at 8 o'clock. The task of raising the funds with which to pay for the new library building will be resumed.

President J. T. Wilson of the Sunnyside Push club has called a meeting of that organization for Wednesday night to take place in the Sunnyside school building. A report from the committee on constitution and by-laws will be heard and standing committees appointed.

J. H. Fletcher, formerly governor of South Dakota, will address the citizens of St. Johns on “Good Government” in Bickner's hall tomorrow evening. Mr. Fletcher is president of the good government league in St. Johns and the meeting will be held under the auspices of that organization.

The second meeting of the municipal study class will be held this evening at the Third Presbyterian church, East Pine and East Thirteenth streets. The study is proving interesting to those who have joined.

Following is the registration by wards on the west side: Ward 1, 530; ward 2, 1,017; ward 3, 746; ward 4, 1,266; ward 5, 1,494; ward 6, 637; total, 5,690.

The east side wards show the following figures: Ward 7, 1,649; ward 8, 2,661; ward 9, 1,971; ward 10, 1,871; total, 8,152.

AITCHISON STANDS ON PAST RECORD

Clyde B. Aitchison has announced himself a candidate for reelection as a member of the railroad commission of the state. Mr. Aitchison was appointed a member of the commission following the enactment of the railroad commission law by the last legislature, he being the choice of State Treasurer George A. Steel for the position.

In announcing his candidacy Mr. Aitchison says:

“My opportunities to prepare myself, and my experience along this line has been such as to qualify me for greater future usefulness, and are, I believe, of value to the state. For more than a year I was clerk of the commission to draft a new tax code for the state, and procured, checked and analyzed complete financial and traffic reports from all the railroads in Oregon for a period of seven years, in order to estimate their commercial value. Following this, with other counsel, I spent much time and labor preparing the railroad commission bill which the legislature later adopted. When this commission was created I was made a member, and ever since have devoted my whole time and energies to the organization and prosecution of the commission's business, as the only lawyer on the board. I feel that I know the duties of the office better, understand the pending work more intimately and can render more efficient future service than others whose experiences, if any, have been less recent and vigorous.

“The general public sentiment, I believe, is that the commission has ‘made good;’ that its members have been energetic and independent, and that a change in membership at this time would be a needless experiment, which would simply put the work back that much. If this is your judgment, may I earnestly request you to bring these facts home to the attention of your friends? May I count upon your assistance?”

Fancy skating, such as two-stepping and waltzing, taught free afternoons and evenings at the Oaks rink this week. Twenty-five skate tickets in book form for $5, for sale at the ticket office. The story of the drama is laid in the old days of Rome's pomp and glory, and the action concerns the testing of the early Christians and the triumph of their faith. The cast of characters will be as follows:

Valerian, emperor of Rome, Agnes Harvas; Rowena, niece of the emperor, Mary Cardiff; Emilus, Rowena's little son, Elias Lahaie; Maida, Hedwig Kasper; Cornelia, Maria Meagher; Bertole, Patience Whiteaker; Corella, Mary Sabel; Erita, Lucy Ledoux; Anna, Bertha Lahaie; Alba, Beatrice Cowan, Marta, Teresa Weber; Odilla, Barbara Twitchell; Lucia, Josephine Woltring; Clara, Katherine Barrett.

AMUSEMENTS

Kelcey and Shannon Tonight.

The attraction at the Heilig theatre, Fourteenth and Washington streets, tonight, tomorrow and Wednesday nights, will be the celebrated co-stars, Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon, together with an excellent supporting company in the much-talked-of society drama, “The Walls of Jericho.” Last night's rousing reception must have made them feel they were indeed welcome.

“Virginian” Seat Sale Tomorrow.

The advance seat sale will open tomorrow, Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock at the boxoffice the Heilig theatre, Fourteenth and Washington streets, for the famous western drama, “The Virginian.” This favorite play will be the attraction at the Heilig theatre for three nights beginning next Thursday, March 5, with a special-price matinee Saturday. W. S. Hart will be seen as “The Virginian” and Frank Campeau as “Trampas.”

Chance to See “Zaza.”

Those who see “Zaza” at the Baker this week, will see the real “Zaza,” for not the slightest detail is lacking in the beautiful production of this wonderful emotional drama, and Miss Izetta Jewel's portrayal of the famous star role is a living, breathing thing—a woman of strange moods and powers. Only Matinee Saturday.

Empire Matinee Wednesday.

“No Mother to Guide Her,” Lillian Mortimer's latest great success is being presented in Portland for the first time this week, and made an immense hit at the opening performances yesterday. The immense success of this play everywhere proves that this style of clean, wholesome melodrama is in demand with the best class of theatregoers. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

“By Right of Sword” Tonight.

This is the night which will be signalized by the opening performance of Ralph Stuart's great play “By Right of Sword” by the Allen company at the Lyric. It is one of the finest types of the romantic drama and has proved one of the finest successes of the present day stage. Rupert Drum will be seen in Mr. Stuart's role and the remaining numbers of the company, including Verna Felton, will also have important parts.

Grand's Good Vaudeville.

There is nothing the matter with the program which the Grand is offering this week. The headliners are nature's born comedians, Crimmins and Gore, in a lively comedy melange. The special added attraction consists of the noted comedy musical act by the four Brown brothers and Doc Kealey. Mr. and Mrs. Danny Mann appear in their pastoral classic, “Mandy Hawkins.”

“Way Out West.”

The French Stock company, at the Star theatre, is giving a play this week which will bring the discriminating theatre-goers to the house. It is “Way Out West,” a quiet, dignified, legitimate drama which has one of the best plots imaginable. There is nothing of the lurid melodrama about “Way Out West.” Matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

SAYS HE WILL FORCE HEYMANS TO RETURN

If Necessary, Manning Declares He Will Extradite X-Radium Manager.

Ernest Heymans, wanted in Portland by the district attorney's office for having been implicated in illegal medical practices while the proprietor of the X-Radium institute, is about to be brought back, according to the information coming from the district attorney. Mr. Manning says he is in communication with the attorneys for Heymans, and it is probable that they will return their client to Portland within a short time. Manning is understood to be willing to allow Heymans to go without prosecution provided he tells all he knows of the illegal practices carried on in his place. Heymans is not a doctor, but he assisted doctors in illegal operations, and it is presumed that should he tell all he knows some sensational disclosures would result.

It is not certain that Heymans will be returned to Portland without extradition, but Mr. Manning says he is making an attempt to have the man return. If he does not do so he will be extradited. Mr. Manning says he does not know just when he will be able to get the man back in Portland, but that he will have him here as soon as possible.

EASTERN INQUIRY FOR IMPROVEMENT BONDS

That New York brokers have recovered from the recent money flurry of last fall is shown in the numerous requests received by City Auditor Barbur in regard to the time of the sale of Portland city improvement bonds amounting to $172,000. The sale will be held a week from today and it is expected that all of the bonds will be taken up at that time.

Mr. Barbur has communications from several of the leading brokers of Gotham who want to bid on the bonds. Not only do the letters show the easement of the money market, but also show the confidence of financiers in Portland's credit.

The bonds have a tenure of 10 years subject to recall a year after their issue. They pay 6 per cent interest and usually sell at a premium of more than 1 per cent. Their average life is about three years.

PROTECT ALPINE PEAKS.

Great Petition in Switzerland Against Matterhorn Tunnel.

Over 100,000 signatures have been attached in Switzerland to the petition that the Swiss league has prepared to present to the federal council. The first lines in the petition read:

“The high summits of our Alps are the ideal possession of the whole Swiss people and the symbol of Swiss freedom. They are not for sale.”

The petition is a protest against the threatened assaults which, many thousands of the Swiss say, speculators in the tourist industry propose to make upon the scenery of the high Alps. It is in behalf of the hundreds of thousands of foreign visitors to Switzerland that various construction companies are trying to get permission from the Swiss parliament to build mountain railroads and hotels and residences in the Alps.

The project of greatest importance, the one which is exciting the bitterest opposition, is the proposed tunnelling of the Matterhorn for a line to be part railroad and part elevator. It is proposed to convert the summit of the wonderful mountain shaft into a series of grottoes with windows and balconies where the tourist may smoke or sip his tea and enjoy the panorama of the Alps under conditions of warmth and comfort.

Another project that the Swiss are opposing with almost equal vigor is a curious scheme relating to the Aletsch glacier, the largest glacier not only of the Alps but of the whole of Europe. It moves down its long valley to the Rhone river and its ice covers an area of nearly 40 square miles. It is a curious fact that the largest glacier of Europe moves down the southern slope of the mountains facing the sun. The proposition is to lay down on the virgin snow of the Aletsch glacier a kind of sledge railroad which shall traverse the whole length of that marvelous solitude.

The Swiss league was formed to work for the preservation of Swiss scenery and it is utterly opposed to the invasion of the Alps by any engineering works above the snow line. It has asked the moral support of all the Alpine clubs of Europe, and none has responded more heartily than the Alpine club of London, which at a large meeting indorsed the protest of the Swiss league.

Sir Martin Conway, the president, said that both the Matterhorn and the Aletsch glacier project ought to be defeated and all British mountaineers should enter the heartiest possible protest against them. The speakers regarded the policy of no railroad above the snow line as sound and practical, and a letter was read from Mr. Whymper, who headed the first party to ascend Matterhorn, in which he said that a railroad up that mountain would not benefit Switzerland, and it would be injurious to the guides of the Zermatt Piline and of the Val Tournanche.

Successful Poultry Show.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

The Dalles, Or., Mar. 2.—The officers of The Dalles Poultry association are pleased with the success of the first annual poultry show given in this city. It is considered that poultry raising will be greatly advanced by this exhibit. F. W. Breed of College Place, Washington, won the sweepstakes. His birds have appeared at many northwest shows.

SCRUB BRUSH ON ALL FOOD HOUSES

Eighteen City Restaurants Warned Against Unsanitary Conditions.

In her monthly report to the health board this morning Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, city market inspector, stated that in a sympathetic investigation of restaurants begun in February, 18 restaurants were warned in regard to poor plumbing, and nine in regard to unventilated toilets. In two of the restaurants persons had been sleeping in the kitchens where the food to be served to the patrons was cooked.

Mrs. Evans reported that the investigation, in which she is assisted by Deputy City Health Officer Dr. H. G. Parker, had extended only on First and Washington streets, and that the bad conditions were found only in the cheap restaurants.

Restaurant keepers are complying with the rat ordinance, and many hundreds of the rodents are being killed.

Other features of the report were the number of copies of the new market ordinance distributed and its enforcement. More than 600 copies were handed to the marketmen and grocers, and gratifying results have been accomplished, but Mrs. Evans stated to the members of the board that there still remains much to be enforced.

In referring to the market block, Mrs. Evans said:

“The use to which the market block is put, with surrounding conditions, still gives annoyance, as the excavation on the north side serves as a dumping ground for all sorts of refuse. I have had it cleaned out once this month, but am told by the manager that things are thrown into it at night. The plumbing and drainage, however, has been much improved.”

MORE NAMES DRAWN FOR MARCH JURY LIST

Thirty-one out of 51 members of the March trial jury venire reported for service when their names were called in the circuit court this morning. Of the remaining 20, 15 had been excused in advance by Judge Cleland, and three more presented valid reasons this morning why they should not be required to serve.

The jury list was thus so far depleted that Judge Cleland ordered 25 additional names to be drawn to complete the regular panel. These 25 will serve through the term, which will last two weeks or longer. Following are the additional jurors:

J. W. Brown, M. F. Brady, I. Buell Thomas J. R. Cox, H. A. Chapman, S. E. Carnahan George W. Cummings, P. E. Clinkett, H. M. Clinton, H. Diamond, J. H. Dietz, Frank Damein, W. D. Davis, H. S.
