CHICAGO POLICE FEAR TROUBLE WITH "REDS"

ANARCHISTS DECLARE THEY WILL HOLD MEETINGS DESPITE THREATS

Emma Goldman Defies Authorities and Causes Subtle Attack on President to Be Spread Broadcast—City Excited, Fears Bloodshed When Bombthrowers Attempt to Set Aside Law and Order—Department Ready for Emergencies

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Chicago, March 6.—Police and civilians are active today. There is a feeling of unrest among the better classes and a strange quietude among those who fraternize with the "reds." Police are everywhere and precaution is being taken to prepare for emergency in the anarchists' meeting tonight which has been flauntingly advertised by Emma Goldman and others who believe that the hand of society is against them and that the bomb is the only cure for their imaginary ills.

Emma Goldman has announced again that she will address the meeting. The memory of Haymarket and its bloody aftermath spurs every bluecoat to action and in far and near parts of the city the plain-clothes man and the uniformed patrolman are holding little secret conferences and consulting as to the "suspects" on their beats.

The woman anarchist has said that all the talk about the authorities deporting her is rot. She brazenly declared that she did not feel bad over the dastardly murder of Father Heinrichs at Denver, and she expressed regret at the death of Averbuch. "This was a cruel murder," she repeats when speaking of the would-be assassin's death. She said that Olga Averbuch has greatly assisted the anarchists, the woman being one of the many female terrorists, who are more bitter and more cold blooded than the men.

An attack on President Roosevelt containing veiled threats calculated to inflame the ultra-radical anarchists of the country to whom the article was sent, is said to have been contained in a paper written by Emma Goldman. Today the trend of these writings was made public and as a result feeling is running high against all anarchists in general and Miss Goldman in particular. The police admit that serious trouble is likely to result if the Reds attempt any demonstration.

All the hatred engendered by the famous Haymarket riots has been called up by the attempt to assassinate Chief of Police Shippy, the anti-clerical demonstrations, the recent activity of the Red leaders and more especially by the alleged tirade of Emma Goldman hurled at President Roosevelt.

The last feature of the trouble has attracted the attention of the federal officers and Miss Goldman is today said to be under constant surveillance of the secret service men. So far no authentic copy of Miss Goldman's article, said to have been writen only for the eyes of the inner circle of the anarchists, has been obtained by the officers, but detectives are scouring the city and if a copy can be found and its authorship proved an effort will be made to lodge a charge against the "Queen of the Reds," against whom the police admit they have to date nothing on which to make an arrest.

STRAIGHT SALARY, ALL WORD ASKS

Democratic Candidate for Sheriff Would Keep Hands Off of Profit-Paying Fare for County Prisoners if Elected.

Believes County Commissioners Should Provide Board for Jail Occupants —Ex-Sheriff Seeks Only Legal Pay.

Tom Word, Democratic candidate for sheriff of Multnomah county, does not want to feed the county prisoners. He does want to give the county a good clean business administration of the office, and does intend to enforce the laws against gambling in the event of his election.

Mr. Word discussed the cardinal principles of his platform yesterday, and outlined in a general way what he will stand for when he goes out before the people on his campaign.

"I would not ask the people of Multnomah county for one cent more than my salary as provided for by law in the event of my election to the sheriff's office," said Mr. Word.

"I do not want to make anything off the feeding of the county prisoners, and am willing that that should be done by the county court. I do not want any fees or emoluments other than those provided for by the statutes of the state, preferring to take the office and run it for the salary compensation and nothing more.

"Should the people of the county elect me to the office for another term I would pledge myself to give them a clean and honest business administration of the office. I shall insist upon the collection of every dollar of tax listed against all property-holders in the county and shall conserve the interests of the people of the county in every way possible in so far as the conduct of the office touches the interests of the people. I shall run the office as a business should be run, strictly, honestly and without fear or favor to any person or any interest.

"Gambling is now being carried on in Portland quietly, and should I be elected these games will have to stop. I would enforce the laws against gambling impartially, stamping out the evil wherever I could find it existent in the county, allowing no person to remain unmolested who was violating the law.

"In my campaign against gambling during my first term of office I spent more than $800 of my own money in fighting the evil, and this has not been repaid me by the county. But should I be elected I would still carry on the fight against the evil, irrespective of whether I am repaid for past expenses or for new ones."

Mr. Word will begin his active campaign within a short time and between the opening and the closing of his campaign will cover the entire county in the interests of his candidacy.

POLICE VS. SHERIFFS AT TACOMA GABFEST TONIGHT

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Tacoma, March 6.—Mayor Wright and Charles Drury, the two warring Democratic candidates for mayor of Tacoma, will meet again tonight at the Tacoma theatre. The mayor will be backed by a squad of city policemen, Drury by deputies from the sheriff's department. Drury declares the mayor shall not have an opportunity of replying to the charges of graft and dishonesty, which he will make against the mayor and if he attempts to disturb the meeting the deputy sheriffs will assert their power.

Mayor Wright declares he will demand an opportunity of refuting any charges against his personal character and integrity Drury may make and that in the interests of fair play Drury has no right to deny him a hearing. He relies upon the sense of fair play of those present to back him up in his demand for a chance to defend himself. Policemen will be asked to preserve order and give the deputies a trip to the city jail if they interfere.

"Mr. Drury is going there tonight to malign my character," said the mayor this morning after he had read Drury's statement that the mayor would not be permitted to speak, "and I have a right to appear and demand a chance to deny his charges and refute them. And the chairman of the meeting in all fairness must give me a chance. It is a right any man always has in any public gathering, when he is assailed and charged with crime. Drury charges me with being a thief and grafter, and I have a perfect right to reply. If Drury says he pays for the hall I will say that I will pay my full share, or pay it all, but I demand a chance to reply to his charges, and it is up to the audience to appeal from the decision of the chair if the chairman refuses to allow me to be heard.

"I don't believe any crowd that will assemble anywhere in Tacoma would deny any man charged with a crime a chance to reply to the charges. We are not going there to create disturbance, but to demand our rights. The fact that Drury would deny me a chance to refute his contemptible charges in itself is an indictment of his honesty. No man would deny another a chance to be heard when charges are made against him."

The meeting will be the second held by Drury, the first breaking up in a rough house last Monday night, when the mayor's supporters stormed the hall and compelled the chairman to give Wright a chance to speak.

Drury at that meeting made a direct and specific charge of graft against Wright, declaring that the mayor had received $6,000 from a paving contractor on one paving job.

A warm session is certain tonight.

CARRIES HIS SEVERED LEG

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Vancouver, Wash., March 6.—Carrying his severed right leg with him, Daniel Stetson, a logger crawled through two miles of bush to tidewater at Toby inlet, got into a boat and rowed another two miles down the coast to a logging camp before finally collapsing.

Stetson was logging in the country back of Toby inlet. He was working alone and Monday, while felling a tree, was caught by the timber. It crushed his right leg into a shapeless mass, practically tearing it off, and Stetson completed the work by cutting the shreds of skin which remained. He was taken to Van Anda hospital, where he died on Tuesday from loss of blood.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, March 6.—"If William Tevis were an innocent man he would not have fled the state while the condition of his Bay Cities Water company was being looked into," declared Attorney Sullivan for the defense when the Older-Crothers libel trial was resumed this morning.

The declaration followed the announcement by the prosecution that its efforts to locate Tevis had not met with success.

BURGLARS CAN'T GET AT THE COIN

Woodburn Postoffice Safe Resists Cracksmen—Stamps Stolen.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Woodburn, Or., March 6.—The Woodburn postoffice was robbed last night of $200 in stamps and possibly two or three dollars from the till. The burglars entered the postoffice by the back door and punched the combination of the safe until they got the outer door open, but could not open the burglar-proof vault containing the money. They left by the front door, which they pried open from the inside.

SMALLPOX MOWS DOWN THOUSANDS

Hundreds Dying Daily in Yokohama and Kobe — Ports Closed to Vessels.

Smallpox in a virulent form is killing off the people of Japan by the thousand every day, according to advices brought here last night by the Portland & Asiatic liner Numantia, Captain Feldtmann. The liner was not permitted to land at any of the Japanese ports coming this way from Hongkong owing to the epidemic, and the officers and all the orientals on board were vaccinated when in the roadstead off Kobe.

A small quantity of freight was brought here from Japan, but the steamer carries a clean bill of health and hence was not detained at the quarantine station upon reaching the Columbia yesterday morning, after a run of 17 days and five hours from Yokohama.

Die by Hundreds.

An idea of the severity of the disease is apparent in the report that in Yokohama alone, the daily deaths number about 150, while Kobe reports about 100 deaths a day. These were the only ports visited by the Numantia, and it is supposed the percentage of deaths in other cities on the islands is as disastrous. Not being allowed to land the officers were unable to gain any information as to the rumor of war.

The Numantia encountered fairly good weather coming across the ocean. When about 100 miles off the mouth of the Columbia, a three-masted bark in ballast was seen heading for the river. A couple other sailing vessels were sighted standing out to sea, but their identity could not be established.

Coming up the river yesterday afternoon the Numantia ran a race with the Coos Bay liner Alliance, and in bringing up steam burnt the paint off her big funnel. The engineers blame this to a poor quality of coal, as they had to force the draft so that it drove the flames through the stack until it got red hot with heat. The Numantia beat the Alliance by several minutes after having entered the Willamette, although

HALF-CENT FIXES SNUG CONTRACT

Long Trainload of Box Material Is Lost by Portland Mills.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

La Grande, Or., March 6.—The Grand Ronde Lumber company of Perry has secured from the Colorado Fruitgrowers union the largest contract for fruit boxes ever let in eastern Oregon. The contract calls for 250,000 boxes, or enough to fill 50 cars to their capacity. This contract would have been given to Portland mills but for the half-cent a pound difference in freight rates to Colorado in favor of this city. Another contract for 15 carloads of boxes has just been received from the Fruitgrowers' union at Union. The prices of fruit boxes are down 20 per cent this year on account of the reduced price of all grades of lumber.

JAPANESE CITY IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Tokio, March 6.—Fire today attacked the city of Nodasov and 400 houses are known to have been destroyed. No loss of life has been reported, but it is not improbable that many have been burned to death.

Estimates on the total damage done has been placed as high as $2,000,000.

KING EDWARD CALLS ON FRENCH PRESIDENT

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Paris, March 6.—King Edward arrived here today on his way to Corfu. He paid an unofficial call on President Fallieres.

The king is traveling incognito as the Duke of Lancaster. Extra precautions are being taken by the police.

TO PROBE ALLEGED GRAFT

House Adopts Report of Rules Committee Recommending Investigation of Charges Against Electric Submarine Boat Company.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, March 6.—The house today adopted the report of the rules committee recommending an investigation of the charges of corrupt practices on the part of the Electric Boat company in securing legislation favorable to the purchase from that company of submarines. A special committee was named to conduct the investigation.

The charges were brought to a focus by the action of the United Press, which has been chiefly instrumental in gathering facts that may show that there was something wrong in the efforts to put the submarines through at a large expense to the government. Congressman Lilley has collected much data which he thinks will prove his allegations that graft was rampant when the hired lobby tried to throw its influence to help carry the appropriation.

TWO DEAD; THREE INJURED IN FIERCE MINNESOTA BLIZZARD

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Minneapolis, March 6.—Minnesota was visited today by the worst blizzard that has been experienced in years. Reports from all parts of the state are that much damage has been done and traffic badly impeded. Two persons are dead and three others are suffering from injuries. Eight inches of snow fell within a few hours and in this city street car traffic has come almost to a standstill. Wires have been prostrated by the high winds and sleet and those who are able to do so are remaining indoors, having abandoned business until the storm is over.

TICKETS: BRYAN VS. TAFT

Commoner Will Undoubtedly Be Chosen at Denver National Convention.

Secretary of War Gradually Overcoming All Opposition to His Candidacy.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Washington, D. C., March 6.—Democratic leaders here after reviewing William J. Bryan's platform as outlined for the Nebraska delegation to the national Democratic convention at Denver, predict that Bryan will surely be the nominee of the Democrats for president. Attention is called to the many phases of the platform which are identical with the Roosevelt policy and which were original with Mr. Bryan many years ago. The tickets will undoubtedly be Bryan, Democratic, Taft, Republican.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Washington, D. C., March 6.—Taft will be nominated by the Chicago national Republican convention is the belief of Republicans here. News of Taft gains throughout the west and middle west have been received by party leaders and the secretary appears to be making gains in the east. The Taft organization is strong and is being well handled. There are indications of a falling off of Hughes men and some talk of a compromise. Much of the feeling against Taft due to enemies of the president is subsiding in New York
