

FINDS CURE FOR ITCHING PALM

Councilman Cattel Again Rouses Religious Com-punctions of Members.

When the city executive board ap-praises the franchise asked for by the National Automatic Fire Alarm com-pany they will have a valuable sug-gestion offered by Councilman W. I. Cattel at yesterday's meeting of the street committee, to the effect that it would be no more equitable for the com-pany to give each councilman who votes for the ordinance a life annuity of $1,000 upon which to base their appraisement.

Dr. Cattel contends that the franchise is the most valuable that the city has had to consider for many years and says that he does not believe it right for the city to allow the company to receive it.

Chief Campbell and City Electrician Sevastian both say that the use of the city's electric wires by the company would be a menace to the public safety.

Dr. Cattel, and for that reason too, am I opposed to the measure.

Dr. Cattel's statement regarding the $1,000 annuity provoked comment, coming as it did on the heels of the sen-sational utterance the other day of W. H. Beharrell, who ascribed the "itching palm" to the councilmen. Councilman Kellarer, also an opponent of the measure, made reference to the re-ment with following Dr. Cattel's state-ment with:

"An annuity of $1,000 would stop the itching."

Councilman Redding, who was present as a spectator at the committee meeting, took umbrage at the remark of Dr. Cattel and told him to take the annuity if he wanted it and could get it from the company, but not to include the rest of the councilmen in the list of the company's benefactors.

Although it is confidently expected that the ordinance will eventually pass, the measure was referred to City At-torney Kavanagh, Chief Campbell and City Electrician Sevastian.

The street committee also made a change in the franchise of the United Railway company's franchise by reduc-ing the amount of revenue to be paid the city from $500 a year to $200 a year for the first five years, and rais-ing the amount for the second five years from $700 to $1,000 a year. This gives the city the same amount of money in the 10 years, and the change was made so as not to burden the com-pany at the outset.

SACRAMENTO PEOPLE TO TAKE IN CARNIVAL

Special Excursion Party From California Will Be Here in June.

A big excursion party of Sacramento valley boosters will come to Grandland the first week in June. An elegantly appointed special train will be furnished by the Southern Pacific railroad, and a round-trip fare of $22 will be made for the excursion, without stopovers, or $27 with a 30-day limit and stopovers returning. The Sacramento Valley De-velopment association is organizing the project and arrangements are being made by Charles S. Fee, passenger traf-fic manager, and William McMurray, general passenger agent.

It is proposed to run a train similar to the one furnished for the inland em-pire excursion with electric light and telephone equipment and other conven-iences. The train will consist of tight Pullman sleepers, coaches and baggage cars. The Sacramento boosters propose to reciprocate recent visits by Pacific northwest excursionists and try to convince the northwest that the Sacramento valley is the place of all others to live. Portland men believe they can change the ideas of a good many of the Sacra-mento boosters while the latter are here.

The excursionists will take side trips to Walla Walla, Spokane and Puget sound and an excursion on the Colum-bia river.

Tom Richardson, manager of the Portland Commercial club, who has spent two weeks in southern California, is homeward bound by slow stages, stop-ping at many points in southern Oregon to visit the commercial bodies. He will reach Portland March 15. In letters written from southern California points he emphatically states that the north-west is in much better condition than the southwest.

NO PORTABLE HOMES BUILT IN PORTLAND

Philadelphia Man Wants Knock-Down Cottages Shipped to Goldfield.

Numerous inquiries have come to the Portland chamber of commerce from eastern people wanting portable or "knock-down" cottages, either for local use or in car lots to be shipped to dis-tant points. So far as known there is no building in Portland a manufacturer of such buildings.

The following inquiry was received yesterday: Detroit, Michigan, 36 Philadelphia avenue, Feb. 24.—Gentlemen:—If there are a few lumber manufacturers in your city that manufacture portable or take-down cottages and small buildings, will you ask them to send me catalogues and prices, with freight rates, in car lots to Goldfield, Nevada. Send cat-alogue to Detroit. Thanking you in advance for the courtesy of handling my inquiry to the proper parties, yours truly, CHARLES N. GRAY.

Parcels of cheap lots in the out-lying suburbs frequently desire a tem-porary home and would purchase a small cottage that could be put up in a few hours, or taken down and sold to another lot buyer when the first purchaser has completed preparations for building a permanent home. In the mining camps of Nevada there has for some years been a steady demand for portable cottages. Portland is the near-by lumber manufacturing point where cheap lumber and direct transportation facilities are available.

We frequently receive inquiries from people desiring to buy portable houses," said Secretary Giltner. "It seems a good business in this line of industry could be worked up in Portland."

JAPANESE PROGRAM AT Y. W. C. A. ROOMS

A Japanese program is to be rendered at the Young Woman's Christian asso-ciation Monday evening, March 9, at 8 o'clock. It is the March educational entertainment, free to members of the association. Stereopticon views, the latest private collection of Japanese slides in Portland, will be shown by one who has given much attention to photography; in fact, is one of the lead-ing cameramen in the northwest. The pictures are colored and were personally collected in a visit to Japan. Miss Delta Watson will sing a Japanese se-lection. Miss Kobachi, a Japanese maiden, will render several numbers of the program. Perhaps no entertainment of the year at the Y. W. C. A. has promised greater delight than this one.

FORCE PUBLIC TO OWN CITY LINES

San Francisco Official Says Portland Ultimately Will Possess Streetcar System.

"The Portland Railway, Light & Power company will have to do business sooner or later with the amal-gamated association of streetcar men of which I am a member. The only alterna-tive is public ownership and that would be victory for the union. A strike is not imminent in Portland, but at the same time I want it understood that the members of the amalgamated never sleep."—Statement of Richard C. Cornelius, president of the San Fran-cisco streetcar men's union and a member of the executive committee of the amal-gamated with which the Portland union is affiliated.

Mr. Cornelius is at the Oregon hotel having come to Portland, as he says, on a vacation. He has consulted sev-eral officers of the Portland streetcar union, however, and makes no hesi-tancy in saying that it is the intention of the amalgamated association to keep up the fight to the end.

Mr. Cornelius says the fight against the streetcar company in San Francisco has not been lost by any means and he says emphatically that in the end the result will be a winning fight for the union.

Brotherhoods, such as have been or-ganized in Portland, have nothing what-ever to do with the amalgamated asso-ciation of streetcar men. Mr. Cor-nelius said this morning, "and if the officials of the Portland company imag-ine for a minute that they are fooling the people of the union in any way that they are greatly mistaken."

Public Ownership Foreshadowed.

"We will either force the Portland Railway, Light & Power company to come to our terms in the near future or the result will be the same as with other companies—the lines will pass into the control of public own-ership."

"If this should come about the union will be satisfied. We would rather do business with the people than with the officials of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company and this is in-evitable unless the wishes of the union members are conceded."

Mr. Cornelius was asked if a street-car strike in Portland was a question of the near future.

"No," he replied, "a strike is not im-minent at present. But the union has not given up its fight in San Francisco or in Portland. It is only a matter of time until we shall win our fight one way or the other."

"The fight being made by the union men of San Francisco against the United Railroads has cost the company more than $13,000,000. And we have not finished yet. Eventually we will win out beyond a question, not only in San Francisco but right here in Port-land. Mark my word for it and remem-ber that the amalgamated association of which I am a member never sleeps."

Mr. Cornelius will remain in Portland several days.

According to the provisions of State-ment No. 1 I will vote for the candidate for United States senator who has re-ceived the highest number of the peo-ple's votes at the election next preced-ing the election of a senator in con-gress."

The ABC and XYZ of ADVERTISING No. 1

A SERIES OF TEN TALKS ON AD-VERTISING written by Seymour Eaton of Philadelphia for the readers of The Journal

A story is told of a prisoner who called the judge a fool. The judge fined him $10. He paid the fine but asked: "Do you fine people for thinking, your Honor?" The judge answered in the negative. "Well," he said, "I think you're a fool still."

If I should print my personal opinion of some big advertisers like as not I'd get fined; but it is perfectly safe to think.

If a traveler came to you and talked off the stuff which his house prints as advertising you would put him down at once as an idiot.

The talk is unnatural; sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal; unreal, insincere, dead. The reader feels that it isn't the advertiser who is talking; that there really isn't anybody talking; that the words are just printing.

Good advertising is good talk; the frank honest kind that convinces.

An advertisement of one hundred words should make the reader think five thousand words; and herein is the whole secret of good copy. It isn't what you say that counts but the chain of thought which your advertising creates.

The more you fuss over your advertising copy the poorer the result. It isn't a job to stutter about or to apologize for or to burn midnight oil over. If you want to make an advertising hit all you need to do is to talk to the reader of the newspaper as you talk across the counter to a customer.

Two Irishmen chased a wildcat up a tree. Pat went up to shake him off while Mike remained below to catch him when he fell. Both were success-ful, but Mike and the wildcat were soon in a rough and tumble scrap below. Pat called out, "Shall Oi come down an' help you howld him, Mike?" "Naw! Begorra, come down, Pat, an' help me let him go."

Advertising is a wildcat up a tree. Once you have shaken him off the problem of "letting go" is quite as difficult as the problem of "howlding on." But what you need in either case is nerye; and a reasonable assurance regarding the future.

It rarely pays to splurge. Make your approp-riation deliberately and carefully. Prepare good copy. Advertise continuously; every day or at least every other day. Your store is the seed or the plant. The advertising is the rain and the sun-shine. You can't rush the growth. It may take weeks or months to produce flowers or fruit.
