

DEATH'S SUMMONS COMES QUICKLY

J. D. Meyer Expires After Illness Lasting Only Few Days.

J. D. Meyer, for 20 years prominently identified with the business interests of Portland, died at his residence, 653 Washington street, last night from an acute attack of angina pectoris, from which he had suffered for several years. He had been ill for 10 days, but was believed to be improving yesterday. Last night, however, he suffered a relapse and died at 9:30 o'clock.

Mr. Meyer began business in Portland 25 years ago as a retail cigar dealer, but for the past 15 years had been engaged in the wholesale cigar trade. He was a native of Alabama, where he was born in Selma, 66 years ago. In his early youth he went to California and there married Miss Tilley Levy, who with two children—Selma, a daughter, and a son, Oscar—survive him. He was an active member of the Concordia society, and took a great interest in its affairs. He was also a member of the Elks and of the Knights of Pythias.

In politics Mr. Meyer was a Democrat, and represented the Third ward in the city council during Mayor Penney's administration, and was elected to the second time from the Third ward. He was appointed by Mayor Williams a member of the park board, and served in that department until two years ago.

The funeral will be held at his late residence, 653 Washington street, at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, interment in the Jewish cemetery.

CHILD DIES IN AGONY OF BURNS

7-Year-Old Marion Catto Overturns Stove and Is Burned to Death.

An overturned stove set fire to the clothes of 7-year-old Marion Catto at the home of her parents in St. Johns yesterday afternoon and the child was badly burned, but not before the early hour this morning.

A stove had been erected in the yard back of the Catto residence, and in this a fire had been built to heat water for laundry purposes. Little Marion, with a number of other children of her own age, were playing in the yard near the stove when it overturned.

The blazing wood set fire to the child's thin cotton dress and in a moment she was enveloped in flames. She succeeded in smothering the flames with a heavy blanket, but not before the child had been badly burned about the body and face.

As soon as possible Dr. Joseph McChesney was summoned and everything possible done to relieve the suffering of the unfortunate child. The physician saw at once that the burns were of the nature of a severe case of scalding, and decided that it would be unnecessary to hold an inquest.

The Catto home is at 317 Leonard street, St. Johns. The child's father, James Catto, is employed as a time-keeper at the woolen mills in St. Johns. The father and mother are prostrated with grief over the death of their child.

WAYMIRE-RADDING COMES UP TODAY

The effort of E. E. Radding and Mrs. Belle Waymire to secure a new trial on the charge of attempting to blacken the reputation of Mayor Lane will come to a focus before Judge Gantenben in the circuit court this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

The motion for a new trial was made by attorneys for the defense, who claim that newly discovered evidence and an error in the proceedings entitles them to another chance.

The motion for new trial will be vigorously resisted by the attorneys for the state and for Mayor Lane. The defense relies largely upon statements which Patrick Bruin, the former detective chief, is said to be ready to make concerning what the mayor told him. Another point is the claim that the defendants were deprived of their legal rights in receiving the verdict of the jury when neither the defendants nor their counsel were present.

Check Thief Sentenced. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Astoria, Or., March 7.—In the circuit court, F. Sherman, who was arrested a few days ago, charged with forging checks which he stole from W. A. Goodin, the contractor, was sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary, after pleading guilty.

EXPERTS GATHER LATEST PARIS-LONDON FASHIONS

An interesting incident in the career of a famous illustrator was recorded when Harrison Fisher said some months ago: "I drew a lot of pretty pictures a short time ago and sent them to my magazine. The pictures were in my usual style except that I got my models from a certain well-known costumer—rather extraordinary, was it not? Those pictures were followed to the mark by nearly every woman in New York. It seemed to me I never was so thoroughly impressed with the keenness of women for new fashions. Women are always looking out for something new."

Women read newspapers more closely than men and pay particular attention to pictures. Of course women look for those particular kind of illustrations that please the eye at first glance and which portray lovely femininity in all its charming ways of being well-dressed.

Probably it was Mr. Fisher's reference to his drawings of the American dress and later relations to the fashion of the day that put a bright idea into an editor's head. This editor was the man who thinks clever things for the Philadelphia North American and its league of contemporaries, of which The Oregon Sunday Journal is a part.

Wires were sent in every direction to the various members of the North American syndicate for views as to what the combine of big Sunday newspapers thought of the scheme of putting together one of the finest magazine sections for women on the 22d day of next March that shall ever have been turned out on a Kos press.

The Journal was one of the first papers to respond and announce that it was willing to go to the big expense involved in giving its women readers the benefit of this great composite fashion production such as no newspaper has ever before attempted.

In politics Mr. Meyer was a Democrat, and represented the Third ward in the city council during Mayor Penney's administration, and was elected to the second time from the Third ward. He was appointed by Mayor Williams a member of the park board, and served in that department until two years ago.

The funeral will be held at his late residence, 653 Washington street, at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, interment in the Jewish cemetery.

BAR CHECKS BAR EXPLANATION OF ANCIENT MONEY DRAWER MYSTERY

Ira H. Shattuck, proprietor of the Central hotel at Central, Washington, and who was formerly connected with the Nicollet hotel, Minneapolis, where he was associated with Nathaniel K. Clarke of the Hotel Portland, was in the city recently on a visit. When Mr. Shattuck was a boy his father ran the Nicollet. Twenty years ago Mr. Clarke was a clerk at the Nicollet.

The Nicollet is an old-timer, and some time ago the task of remodeling it was begun. When Mr. Clarke was with the elder Shattuck at the Nicollet the office had an old-fashioned money drawer, the combination of which was worked from underneath by placing the fingers against certain buttons attached to wires. This old-fashioned drawer did service until torn out just a few days ago. Mr. Shattuck, who is here, was telling Mr. Clarke what was found back of the drawer when it was taken out.

"There was something like $200 in silver and paper," Mr. Shattuck said to the Portland man, "all of which had worked its way out of sight during these 20 years."

But there were more bar checks belonging to a certain man than all the money and everything else combined. The names on all these checks were K. Clarke. They had been there all these years.

"Now, what I want to know is, were those checks of yours ever paid for?"

FIFTY PENNIES GIVE OFFICERS SCENT TO LOCATE ROBBERS

Fifty pennies, a package and several letters are missing from Station B, Upper Albina, the result of a robbery. The postal authorities of two states are looking for the boys who are supposed to have done the job.

The branch postoffice was broken into Thursday night. The thieves sneaked an entrance to the building by breaking in the back door. Once inside they began ransacking among the packages of mail which had been intrusted to the postal carrier for delivery.

The safe where the stamps are kept was not tampered with apparently. J. H. Steffen is superintendent of Station B, the office being located at 234 Russell street.

Boys are thought to have done the work owing to the fact that every detail of the robbery indicates novices.

CAPTAIN McELGIN UNDER ARREST

Port Townsend Officer Will Be Courtmartialed at Vancouver.

Port Townsend, Wash., March 7.—Captain McElgin, commanding the one hundred and sixth company, coast artillery stationed at Fort Worden, is under arrest and confined to his quarters pending instructions from department headquarters at Vancouver barracks setting a date for court martial proceedings. No particulars of the case have been given out, but it is rumored that Captain McElgin's arrest followed a recent stormy interview between that officer and Colonel Cummins, who had called the former to the carpet relating to the turning in of a report which was to be existing in the company and said to be due to the fact that Captain McElgin is such a strict disciplinarian that the most minor infractions of the rules, usually followed in other companies with a warning or reprimand, always precipitate guard house sentences in the one hundred and sixth.

THOMPSON FIGHTING FOR SON'S RELEASE

Seattle, March 7.—Will H. Thompson, attorney and lawyer for Chester Thompson, the youth who shot Judge Emory, and is now seeking release from the insane ward at the state penitentiary, is busy preparing papers to be presented before the supreme court of the state, asking that body to compel Judge Snell of Pierce county to set his son's petition down for hearing.

According to Mr. Thompson the statement of Judge Snell, that the case should be heard in King county is erroneous.

Fire Drills at Astoria. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Astoria, Or., March 7.—All the public schools of Astoria had fire drills yesterday. The school board has ordered that such drills shall be held more frequently in future. All school buildings are being inspected with respect to the outward opening of the doors.

Flats Will Go Unfilled. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Aberdeen, Wash., March 7.—The city council has tabled the proposition to fill the tide flats, which has been the subject of long and anxious consideration. The checks that had been tendered by bidding firms anxious to do the work were returned to the makers.

GREEN LOVE IS LOSER TO HAVE

Cupid's Colored Namesake Must Also Turn Building Over to Lessee.

By a decision handed down this morning Judge Bronough in the circuit court holds that C. C. Nave has not forfeited his lease on a First street building owned by Green C. Love. The story of the case shows peculiar complications over rent, resulting largely from the tenancy feeling during the recent bank crisis.

Nave secured a lease on the property for five years at $200 per month, and sublet the same to Green C. Love. His custom was to collect the rent from the tenants early each month and then to pay Love about the 15th. Under the lease it was to be forfeited if the rent became 10 days in arrears, rent being due on the first day of each month.

For many months Green C. Love was out of the state, and Nave was in the habit of going out to the residence of Mrs. Love on the Mount Scott line, paying the rent with a check on the Merchants' National bank. This worked smoothly until November, November 8 Nave went out to pay the rent, but no check was received. He returned, two days later, he again went to the house, and as no one answered the door he slipped the check under the door. The following day Tuesday he went back again to secure his receipt.

Mrs. Love was not satisfied to give a receipt, the "shaky" feeling was in the air, and that very day the Merchants' bank, on which the check was drawn, closed its doors. She finally gave a receipt endorsed "subject to the approval of Green C. Love." That night her husband returned from his trip, and offered to return the check Nave had offered to return the check for the rent, claiming that the lease had been forfeited.

Judge Bronough said that while the plaintiff might at any time object to payment by check and demand "lawful money," there was no effort in this case to obtain the cash. The check was not cashed, and the bank not closing until the following morning. The court also held that the defendant had not waived the right to a formal demand for the payment of the rent, and that the conduct of the defendant had not been such as to justify the forfeiture of the lease.

NO LAW AGAINST GRAIN BROKERS

Boards of Trade Convince the President Legislation Would Hurt Farmers.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, March 7.—So vigorous have been the protests made to President Roosevelt, Speaker Cannon and both houses of congress against legislation restricting the dealing in grain and other agricultural futures that no laws affecting these interests will be enacted at this session.

Frantic appeals have come from boards of trade at Chicago and other large cities declaring that farmers will be the greatest losers, that the widows will have no place in which to invest their savings, and that the price of farm products will be increased to the consumers if present methods are changed.

NEW NOTARIES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, Or., March 7.—The following have been appointed notaries public: J. W. Smith, Aurora; Iva M. Harrington, Oregon City; Oak Nolan, Tillamook; C. W. MONEY TO FIGHT SALOONS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Aberdeen, Wash., March 7.—At a meeting of the anti-saloon league, with delegates in attendance from all over the county, it was voted to raise a fund of $1,000 to carry on the work. Ed Koehler, former member of the legislature from this county, has announced his intention to give $100 toward a fund to fight for the suppression of boxes in saloons and restaurants.

NO DRUGS! NO MEDICINES!

Mrs. M. Hathaway of Milwaukie, Oregon, Was Perfectly Cured After 25 Years' Suffering.

Here is one of the strongest testimonials ever written, and it tells how Mrs. Sarah Hathaway, of Milwaukie, Oregon, was cured of an affliction of 25 years' standing, without a morsel of medicine, and same as a NEW WOMAN, through Naturopathic (according to Nature) treatment.

Milwaukie, Feb. 27, 1908.—For 25 years I suffered from inflammation and rheumatism of the joints. When I began several times during the last 12 years was unable, for months, to be on my feet, and was in bed the greater part of the time for 18 months before I went to Doctor Fulton. At that time I had come to the conclusion that my rheumatism was incurable. When I began treatment with the doctor last May I was bloated, had throbbing pains in my head, and at times a searing pain in the region of my heart. I also was exceedingly nervous and my lower limbs seemed heavy and lifeless and were much swollen. After the first few Naturopathic treatments I was less nervous than I had been for years, and I felt a great relief.

NEW WOMAN! Now I can do all kinds of work, and lately WALKED FIVE MILES IN ONE DAY.

MRS. SARAH HATHAWAY. HUNDREDS OF OTHER WOMEN, AND HUNDREDS OF MEN.

In Portland, could write just as strong endorsement of Dr. Fulton as Mrs. Hathaway has written, and in fact HAVE done so, because the doctor ACCURATELY DIAGNOSED her patients, and not one ever has been dosed with drugs that nearly always do as much harm as good, and often 10 times more.

DR. FULTON'S TREATMENT IS NATURAL REMEDY. Nothing more and nothing less. It is a system now coming into vogue in all the GREAT HOSPITALS of Christendom, and its efficacy is the wonder of the medical profession.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, NEURALGIA, BACKACHE, STOMACH TROUBLES AND ALL OTHER DISEASES OF MALE OR FEMALE.

Are speedily eradicated by this system, and CURED TO STAY CURED. There are no drug bills to pay, either.

IT MADE MILWAUKEE FAMOUS.

On another page is a large advertisement of Schlitz, the beer that made Milwaukee famous. You may order this excellent beer for home use by merely telephoning the address given in the advertisement. In the winter season Schlitz beer is particularly good tonic and general builder. The malted barley is digested food. The bitter of the hops spurs sluggish appetites. The carbonic acid gives it a tonic effect. It flushes the body of its waste matter.

Schlitz beer does not cause biliousness or indigestion. It is pure and healthy. It is the clean, filtered, sterilized beer. Schlitz is best for your home because there is all of the good stuff, and none of the harm, in it. For Schlitz at cafes or on dining cars and see for yourself how good it is.

JUDGE FARRINGTON GRANTS GOLDFIELD CO. INJUNCTION TO RESTRAIN PICKETS.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Carson, Nev., March 7.—Judge Farrington in the United States district court today granted the Goldfield Consolidated Mines company an injunction restraining the Western Federation of Miners from picketing mines and intimidating non-union miners. This is a terrific judicial blow at the rights of the mining unions.

The matter has been pending in court for several days. The court rules that the injunction becomes effective as soon as the operators file a $1,500 bond.
