

TRADE SCHOOLS
GAIN GOOD HANDS

Board Engages Prof. Hamilton
of Harrisburg, Pa., to Fill Chair.

Upon the recommendation of Superintendent Rigger of the city schools, George W. Hamilton, principal of the technical high school of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, was engaged yesterday afternoon by the school board to have charge of the establishment of trade schools as part of the Portland public school system. Mr. Hamilton's salary will be $300 monthly for 10 months each year. He will be notified of his election at once and is expected to begin his work in Portland some time during April.

Principal Hamilton is a married man about 32 years of age and has had much experience in industrial training schools. He includes everything but glass and plumbing. The Central Door Lumber company was awarded the contract for the glass, and Ruedy Bros. the plumbing. Work will begin at once so that the additions may be ready for the opening of the fall term.

A proposition was considered for the purchase of property in the vicinity of East Seventh and Fremont streets upon which to erect an additional building for the Highland, Vernon and Irvington schools. The property on East Seventh is not desired so much as another location west of Grand avenue as it is thought the latter location would be farther away from the schools which are desired at the site. Other work was referred to the building committee.

EFFORTS FAIL TO LOCATE MISSING MAN

Richard Cornell Left Family
Penniless—Police Are Unable to Find Him.

Richard Cornell has left his wife and two boys almost destitute at their home, 802 East Yamhill street. Every effort of the police to locate Cornell has failed. His wife is at a loss to account for the mysterious disappearance of the man, while a brother, William Cornell, living at Fifth and Jefferson streets, believes that he has met with foul play.

Cornell left home a week ago Saturday evening. He had been drinking heavily and had left his family penniless. Mrs. Cornell is prominent in many organizations, being clerk of Mount Hood circle, Women of Woodcraft, and lady commander of Portland No. 7, Ladies of the Macabees. She is also the daughter of an old pioneer, Colburn Barrill, who laid out from his donated land what is now the Lone Fir cemetery. She has two sons, Warren and Elwin Cornell, aged 14 and 9 years respectively.

A MUSEMENT HOUSE
WORK

Tonight, Twice Tomorrow. Grand Vaudeville. The distinguished actor, Charles B. Hanford, supported by Miss Alice Wilson and a capable company of players will present "The Merchant of Venice" at the Heilig theatre, Fourteenth and Washington streets, tonight and at the special matinee tomorrow afternoon. Anthony and Cleopatra will be the bill tomorrow night for the closing performance.

"The Black Crook" Next Sunday. The big spectacular musical extravaganza, "The Black Crook" will be the attraction at the Heilig theatre, Fourteenth and Washington streets, next Sunday and Monday nights, March 15 and 16. The advance ticket sale will open next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at box office at the theatre.

"Merry Widow" Pictures. The craze of Europe and the east is "The Merry Widow," the latest operatic success. The first life motion picture of this famous opera and the noted waits in it are being presented at the Marquam this week. Two other long films represent "The Butterflies," a Japanese dance, and "The Two Orphans," reproduction of the famous opera of the same name. There is an illustrated song as well as the pictures. Performances continuous from 2 until 10:30 p. m.

"The Three of Us." A new sort of a western play is Rachel Crother's "The Three of Us," which has been chosen to be the opening attraction at the Heilig theatre, the charming new leading woman of the Baker stock company this week, and her opening has been attended with constant and ever increasing applause at every performance. The role of Rhy Macchenee is an ideal one. Matinee Saturday.

"Our New Girl" Tonight. If you never laughed before in your life you are sure to if you go to the Lyric this week when the Allen stock company is presenting that side-splitting farce, "Our New Girl." Verma Felton plays the plucky, German servant girl and makes her so funny that you simply can't help laughing at her. Forrest Seabury as the prevaricating husband and Irving Kennedy as the funny Frenchman are a "scream."

"A Royal Slave." Clarence Bennett, who wrote "The Holy City," has taken advantage of his limited knowledge of Mexican history and customs and framed a powerful play founded upon Lew Wallace's "The Sign of the Cross," which is attracting unusual attention at the Empire theatre all this week. Matinees tomorrow and Saturday.

GERMAN CARP FROM COLUMBIA
TAKES THE CAKE IN GERMANY

An imitation is often better than the original, it is said. Many years ago German carp were imported to this country from Germany. These fish have thrived in the waters of Oregon and in fact all over the country.

As an illustration of how they have thrived and to what an extent the fish have grown, Samuel Elmore, the Astoria cannery dealer, was telling how he had captured one giant carp and sent it back to Germany just to show them there how their carp are getting along over here.

"The carp in question was about the fattest and the broadest thing that I have seen of this species," Mr. Elmore said at the Hotel Portland. "Attention was called to this big fish which had been caught in the salmon net and I decided to send it to Germany where its descendants hailed from."

"Accordingly, I had the fish frozen and eventually it was sent to Germany with an address where it was to be sent. My agent there sent a letter, telling him that the fish was merely for exhibition purposes."

"Word came back that it was the largest German carp ever seen in Germany and that the people there marveled and wondered how in the world we in this country raised fish to such size."

sage right now," declared Mr. Cellars. Mr. Vaughn started into a discussion of the measure and Mr. Cellars interrupted him by saying: "Well, Mr. Vaughn, I want the ordinance passed and you do not. That's all there is to it, so you might as well lay it over until the next meeting."

"This angered Mr. Vaughn who replied by telling Mr. Cellars that he did not know what he was talking about, if he said that Vaughn was against the ordinance. Mr. Cellars then threatened to get up and leave the room if Vaughn insisted on talking.

Vaughn and Cellars Throw Mud at Each Other at Council Session.

Councilmen Vaughn and Cellars livened matters at the meeting of the judiciary committee yesterday afternoon and for a time spectators thought the affair would go further than the usual verbal battle. The heated discussion was over the ordinance introduced by Councilman Driscoll to keep women out of saloons.

Mr. Vaughn wished to postpone action on the measure yesterday afternoon and Mr. Cellars wanted to report on the ordinance at tomorrow's meeting of the council. Inasmuch as they were the only members of the committee present their respective opinions blocked any kind of action save a wordy war. Mr. Cellars started the fireworks by saying that the ordinance had been held over once before at the request of Councilman Vaughn. Mr. Vaughn replied that he had had time to study the measure and he would therefore like to have it go over until the next meeting.

"You will stand right where you do now," replied Mr. Cellars. Then Mr. Vaughn asked Mr. Cellars how he felt in regard to the measure. "I want to recommend it for passage," he replied.

It is not necessary to praise the vaudeville entertainment at the Grand this week, for the patrons of the house are attending to that. The bill is considered one of the best seen here in several weeks and there is not an actor in the collection which does not fill its place on the program with satisfaction to the audience. The headlining act is the animal circus of Carlisle who introduces a talking donkey.

Thousands of American women in our homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty. In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo. A female weakness or displacement is often brought on and they suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden. It is to these faithful women that comes as a boon and a blessing, as it did to Mrs. F. Ellsworth, of Mayville, N. Y., and to Mrs. W. P. Boyd, of Beaver Falls, Pa., who say:

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S

"I was not able to do my own work, owing to the female trouble from which I suffered. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me wonderfully, and I am so well that I can do as big a day's work as I ever did. I wish every sick woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

CITY WILL HAVE TO
TACK ON PREMIUM

City Attorney Kavanaugh Rules Bids for Bonds Must Show Confidence.

By a ruling of City Attorney Kavanaugh yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the ways and means committee, the city will have to offer premiums in the future if it wishes to purchase city improvement bonds. City Treasurer Werlein took an opposite view of the matter when he bid for $40,000 worth of the bonds at par. Mr. Werlein says the city's bid is equivalent to an outsider's bid with a premium of 1 1/2 per cent.

Mr. Werlein contends that the decision will shorten the life of the bonds and have a tendency to lower premiums. He says the city's participation in bidding tends to strengthen the premiums. Mr. Kavanaugh based his opinion on a provision of the city charter which says that the bonds shall be sold to the highest bidder.

That the financiers of the country have confidence in Portland's credit as well as money to invest was shown by the fact that the issue of $173,000 was bid for several times over. Altogether, bids aggregating about $625,000 were received and the following awards were made: Merchants National bank, $105,000 at 1 1/2 per cent premium; Lumber insurance company of New York, $50,000 at 4 1/4 per cent premium; A. H. Manly, $2,000 at 2 1/4 per cent premium, and Mrs. Dora Frazer, $15,000 at 1 1/2 per cent premium. Another bond sale of about $50,000 will be held within a short time.

BAUER SEAT SALE
OPENS SATURDAY

Nothing in the way of advance notices about Harold Bauer, who plays with Fritz Kreisler at the Heilig on Tuesday evening, March 17, can be half so convincing as to quote from the press comments on his previous appearances here. Here is what The Journal said after his concert in 1905: "Nothing that the critics in other cities have said about the wonderful skill of this great musician has been overdrawn. In tone production, delicacy of interpretation, in the breadth of his musical conceptions, Bauer is an artist of the very first rank."

The seat sale will open next Saturday morning at the Heilig box office, under the direction of Lois Steers-Wynn Coman.

Slide in Waiting Room. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Olympia, Wash., March 10. Francisco Salvatore, a stranger here, shot and killed himself yesterday while seated in the waiting room of the Northern Pacific station. The man who was fairly well dressed, had hung around the station all morning acting queerly. He left his bookbag, note addressed to a brother at Los Angeles. It is believed he was demented.
