HEAD GONE FROM SEVEN MILES OF RUSTY RAILS

Completion of North Bank Decapitates General Superintendent of Cascade Railway — Official Held Every Job on Line Which Ran Up Hill and Down Again.

With the epening of the north bank ing the clay off of the track the com-line a railroad general superintendent engine, one flatcar and one boxcar of the has lost his official head. The decapttated magnate is H. J. O'Neill, formerly Looks and running up the bill and fading out in the direction of Stevenson.

Until the Spokane, Portland & Seattle railroad became a reality Mr. O'Nell enjoyed the singular distinction of beting only railroad main in the country who eccupied absolutely all of the offitial positions on an operating line of railway. The Cascade Railroad complany dates back to the early days of navigation on the Columbia river. It was built as a portage road for carrying freight around the lower Cascades.

When the mavigation company passed finto possession of the O. R. & N. company to develop wate transportation on the upper river, nor to operate the north bank portage road fin competition with its own rallway on the south bank, so the Cascade railway could be wiped off of the track.

When the Harriman companies two years ago engaged in their celebrated fight to prevent the construction of the Hill railroad down the north bank rights Hill railroad down the north bank rights of way along the narrow shelf between the river and the cliffs suddenly became very precious possessions. It then occurred to the minds of the O. R. N. people that the Cascade railroad was too good a plece of property to be permitted to rust away.

Mr. O'Neill, who was at that time in the car service department of the O. R. & N. company, is said to have been the most surprised man in Portland when, without warning, one day he was called into the presence of the general manager of that company and handed the appointment of general superintendent

Much of the district is above the water line, and can not secure water unless it is pumped into a reservoir and redistrib-uted by gravity, as is now being planned for the Portland Heights district. The committee was informed, however, that nothing could be done for the Council Crest district until after the comple-tion of the Portland Heights reservoir, bids for which were authorized at the meeting.

erday afternoon in the city hall when he regular meeting was held. A large of children attending the Ockley Green school informed the board that there were no fire escapes or standpipes on the building, and that the 400 children attending the institution would be in danger should fire break out in the building. They asked for the erection of a standplpe with suitable fire hose on each floor. The delegation was directed to take up the matter with the school board. parts of the city were on hand with United States Governschool board.

A delegation representing the Albina Improvement association headed by A. B. Manley asked that a main be laid on Albina avenue between Tremont and Prescott streets. The matter was discussed and laid over to a following meeting. In this connection it was decided that the board prepare a list of applications for new mains in the order in which they had been filed, and that these applications then be acted on in the order of their receipt, unless some reason existed why immediate action should be taken.

Wilmington Board of Trade Tackles Big Task and Women

Wilmington, Del., March 13.-Having taken measures to preserve the nightly seace of the residents of this place by losing the saloons early, the board of trade has set itself to a mightier probem. This is the extermination of the cats of Wilmington, which not only carry on at night, but also are said to carry diphtheria germs around with them.

When it is realized that the estimated number of cats in Wilmington is 300,000 and that each is supposed to have nine lives, the magnitude of the undertaking will be realized. Women are aroused, and contemplate sending a round robin to the board, protesting against such a catastrophe.

Miss Emily Webb, who is recognized as the champion of dumb beasts in Wilmington, has suggested that the men who talk of such things should be chloroformed. One prominent woman, asked for her opinion on the project, said, sententiously: "Rats!"

SET ON FIRE AT WAKE, HE DROWNS IN RIVER

Texan Grows Sleepy, Falls Against Hot Stove, Rushes Into Monongahela.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 13 .- Andy Sheehan, a Texan, who arrived in the city a week ago, attended a wake over the body of a mill man in Homestead last night, and late in the night became sleepy and fell against a red hot stove. Crazed with pain, Sheehan ran from the house, which stands on the banks of the Monongehela river, with his clothes aflame and leaped into the water

Every effort was made to drag the man out of the water, and ropes were thrown to him, but he sank.
Following the recovery of the body, several persons who had been at the wake were held in connection with the death, but the stories of the accident were fully corroborated.
Sheehan was 55 years old, and has a family in Texas. The man was terribly burned before he reached the water.

Governor Johnson of Minnesota, Governor Hughes of New York and Secretary Taft are announced to speak in New York next week at the annual dinner of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

ST. VITUS' DANCE

Proof of the Remarkable Power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in This Severe Nervous Disorder.

That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured obstinate cases of St. Vitus' dance is the best evidence that they will cure all lesser nervous disorders. Here is all lesser nervous disorders. Here is evidence that will stand thorough investigation. Mrs. James Wilkle of 707 Spruce street, Cherokee, Iowa, Says: "I was of a very nervous temperament even when a child. As I grew to girlhood, more and more of the work in our family fell to me. At the same time I tried to keep up my studies in schoof. The strain was too great and at the age of fourteen I had to leave school because of the run-down and nervous condition I was in. I gradually grew worse, becoming extremely irritable and worse, becoming extremely irritable and suffering terribly from melancholy. It was first noticed that I had St. Vitus dance, when I began to lose control of the muscles of my face. The disease soon spread all over my body and my head and arms seemed to tremble constantly.

They are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Expected That Cedar Rapids Church Will Extend Call to Portland Pastor.

A dispatch has been received from Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where Rev. Ben-Ezra Stiles Ely Jr. of this city preached last Sunday, stating it is expected he will receive a call to that city.

Members of Calvary Presbyterian church, of which Rev. Ely is pastor, say that nothing was known among the congregation of a call to any other field when he left here. He has gone east with his family, but expected when he left to be back to occupy his pulpit the last Sunday in March.

Mr. Ely came here from Rockford, Illinois, about two years ago. His pastoral work here has been most efficient and his congregation is a united and loyal one.

HEARST LEAGUE TO RUN THIRD TICKET

Will Nominate Candidate for President and "Go It Alone."

New York, March 13 .- The authoritative anouncement by William R. Hearst that the National Independence league, of which he is the controlling spirit, will not in the approaching presidential battle support either Theodore Rooseyelt, William J. Bryan or Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, but is "to go it alone," nominating its own presidential ticket, was food for political gossip hereabouts today.

In addition to naming its own presidential ticket, the Independence leagues of the different states are to name state tickets as well.

Hearst's National Independence league is to be known as the National party. Mr. Hearst made this announcement:

"The Independence party is going to nominate its own candidate for president and is going to vote for him with that the National Independence league of which he is the controlling spirit, nominate its own candidate for presi-dent and is going to vote for him with a strength and a heartiness of numbers that is likely to be a revelation to the older and sadder political organizations. If it does not elect this candidate of its own in this particular election, it is going to lay the solid foundation for doing so in the next."

An effort is said to be making in North Dakota to sidetrack the proposed Bryan resolutions. The state conven-tion is to be held this month in Grand
