McAllen & McDonald
Corner Third and Morrison Streets

MUSICAL events are the chief attraction in society now. The first week of Lent is usually the quietest of the entire season and the past week has been no exception to that rule. There were several prominent society people out for the Blauvelt concert Friday evening; but noticeably less than usual at these concerts. The usual fashionable audience is expected, however, at the Bauer-Kreiser concert Tuesday evening.

The Portland Symphony Orchestra concert a week from Friday is also interesting since its support has been principally contributed to by prominent society folk. These affairs promise to be social events of prominence as well as musical.

A pretty luncheon was given by Mrs. B. F. Weaver at her home, Twelfth and Broadway streets, Wednesday, in honor of Mrs. Anna L. Boss of Kansas City. The rooms were attractively decorated. Toasts were given by the hostess and responses by Mrs. Egbert, Mrs. Neilson, Mrs. Dunaway, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Moffett, Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Latimer. Following there was a national game of the states of the union. The prize, a cut glass oil cruet, was won by Mrs. W. Wynn Johnson. The guests were Mrs. Anna L. Boss, Mrs. Frederick Egbert, Mrs. J. J. Mann, Mrs. Abigail Scott Dunaway, Mrs. W. Wynn Johnson, Mrs. James P. Moffett, Mrs. William Latimer, Mrs. Meister, Mrs. Sarah Evans, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. August Stalger, Mrs. Harold Stalger, Mrs. Charles Boss and Mrs. B. F. Weaver.

A pretty dinner was given by Mrs. C. H. Woodward and Miss Allie Morgan Thursday afternoon at 760 Gilman street, at the home of Mrs. E. E. Morgan. Mrs. Woodward, who is a clever china painter, has just come here from the east and Miss Morgan, whose home is here, completed several years of work east but is more recently from San Francisco, where she has had a studio and added water color work to her accomplishments. The work of the two women was displayed in the dining room. A large number of interested friends called. There was music. Those assisting in receiving and serving were Mrs. E. E. Morgan, Mrs. J. L. Travis, Mrs. F. I. Hall, Mrs. David Williams, Miss Annie Bullivant and Miss Lora Townsend.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Fleischner were hosts at a pretty yellow dinner last Sunday night in honor of their niece, Miss Flora Fleischner, who was then being elaborately entertained in compliment to her birthday and to her first season out. Rich clusters of yellow daffodils made the table pretty. The other guests were the host's daughter, Miss Minnie Fleischner, Miss Flora Stern, Miss Amy Seller and Miss Virginia Ackerman of San Francisco. Dr. Joseph B. Wise, Henry Metzger, Fred Jacobs and Will Ehrman.

Consul H. B. Miller of Yokohama, Mrs. Miller and their two daughters, Miss Laura and Miss Winifred, are expected to return to the states next month. The Millers formerly made their home in Eugene but they have often visited in Portland and are very well known here. They plan to spend the spring and summer in Eugene and at various Oregon resorts in the mountains or at the sea and will later make their plans for the winter.

Mrs. A. L. Maxwell gave a small tea Friday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. Edward Powers of Decatur, Iowa. Mrs. Powers was formerly Miss Belle McKee and she has been here attending her father, who was seriously ill. She left for her home yesterday. At Mrs. Maxwell's tea the young women friends of the guests were invited to meet her. Mrs. C. E. S. Wood and Mrs. Harriet K. McArthur poured tea and assisting in receiving were Mrs. David C. Lewis, Mrs. E. C. Means, Miss Hazel Crocker and Miss Leslie Knapp.

Good wishes are being extended to Miss Estelle Ford Linehan and Lloyd Rittenhouse Smith, whose engagement was announced recently by Mrs. D. Linehan. The wedding is to be celebrated in early April, but will be very quiet because of the recent death of Miss Linehan's father.

Miss Linehan is a handsome blonde and a charming young woman who has many friends. She has a soprano voice of sweetness and good training and is choir director at the First Christian church. Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Smith who have a handsome Portland Heights home. He was formerly assistant cashier of the Oregon Trust & Savings bank and is a prominent club man.

The plans for the honeymoon are unique. After the marriage they will go at once to Mr. Smith's timber claim in the mountains to live till next winter. Consequently Miss Linehan's trousseau includes only mountain apparel and her "going-away" suit is a jaunty brown corduroy with short skirt, high boots, a sweater and sombrero.

Mrs. Isaac White entertained, elaborately with bridge Friday afternoon for Mrs. Ackerman of San Francisco. There were about 50 guests and the card tables were set in the handsome hall room upstairs. Palms and various potted plants and choice cut flowers made the hall a beautiful scene. Mrs. Baruh, Mrs. Albert Feldensheimer and Mrs. Isaac Sichel won the prizes and there was a very handsome guest prize for Mrs. Ackerman. An elaborate menu was served at the card tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius L. Meier entertained with a theatre party at the Baker Thursday night in honor of Miss Virginia Ackerman of San Francisco. An elaborate supper followed at the Concordia club. The other guests were: Miss Florence White, Miss Frances Jacobs, Miss Mildred Rheinstrom, Miss Flora Stern, Miss Flora Fleischner, Leopold Hirsch, Lloyd Frank, Henry Metzger, Adolph Jacobson, John Flanagan and William F. Lipman.

The monthly Patton home tea will be held at the home, 975 Michigan avenue, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. F. M. Branch will have charge of the program. Mrs. A. E. Fattall, Mrs. James Nichol, Mrs. George Stapleton and Mrs. J. T. O'Donnell will receive the guests. In the dining-room, Mrs. M. De Blauvelt and Mrs. G. D. Tomasini will pour tea. Take L. car.

A reception was given Madame Blauvelt at the Commercial club in Eugene Thursday afternoon prior to her concert there. The women who served were Mrs. Charles S. Williams, Mrs. Irving M. Glen, Mrs. George H. Smith, Mrs. Luke LaDore Goodrich, Miss Lulu Renshaw and Miss Minnie Schwarzschild.

Miss Dorothea Nash has taken apartments at 864 Flanders street, corner of Eighteenth, and opened there her piano studio. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallis Nash, have gone to the coast for the spring and summer.

Mrs. F. M. Branch entertained Tuesday with a yellow luncheon of 12 covers. A musical program followed. Her guests were Mrs. Anna Boss of Kansas City, Mrs. C. L. Boss, Madame D'Auria, Mrs. Whiting, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. E.

B. Glase, Mrs. McGowan, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. B. F. Weaver and Mrs. Kiddle.

Mrs. Frederick Egbert, president of the Woman's club, has made preparations for an invitation concert to be given at the Hellig Friday afternoon, May 15. Her guests will be the members of the Woman's club and their friends. Pianists, will be the soloist, assisted by Mrs. Clyde T. Atchison, soprano.

The marriage of Miss Frances Meacham, the charming southern girl, to W. Frank Whiteley of Seattle will be celebrated at the First Christian church Tuesday evening. Miss Meacham has made many friends during her short stay in Portland and has been extensively entertained.

Mrs. Hugh Hume left Thursday night for George De Forest Brush, the famous artist. Mrs. Hume will be gone several weeks and will put in a good deal of time picking up art and crafts work for the spring exhibit here.

Miss Anna Shea is spending a few weeks with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMillan of Los Angeles. Miss Shea is a member of the K. K. sorority and a number of party affairs are being given for her by the sorores.

Norman Lang has returned to Oregon City from a three weeks stay in Oakland, California, where he was called by the serious illness of Mrs. Lang. Their friends will be glad to learn of Mrs. Lang's improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Lipman returned yesterday from southern California bringing with them their niece, Miss Daisy Rosner of San Francisco, for a visit. Their son, Will F. Lipman, leaves this morning for Europe.

Miss Frances Jacobs gave a small bridge party Tuesday afternoon, entertaining several of the out-of-town visiting girls. Prizes were won by Miss Germaine Samuels, Miss Florence Wolfe and Miss Bella Fein.

Mrs. S. Julius Mayer has invitations out for bridge next Thursday afternoon for Mrs. I. Ackerman of San Francisco. Tuesday Mrs. Henry Hansman and Mrs. Philip Masserman will entertain for her at the Norton.

Among the Seaside visitors last week were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Durham, Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Hanson and their family, C. E. S. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Bates and Judge C. H. Carey.

George F. Holman is to be the speaker on "The Art of Illumination" before the Arts and Crafts society at the Art Museum next Thursday evening.

The auction of water colors at the Portland for the benefit of the Arts and Crafts society has attracted a good deal of attention in society.

Miss Amy Seller of San Francisco is visiting her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Seller. She is being much entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Peters are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a small daughter last Monday.

Mrs. William Kerr Scott and her daughter, Jannette, were at the beach last week for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Wolfe will leave this week for a visit to southern California.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK

An enjoyable event of the season was a birthday party given in honor of Miss Vesta M. Young at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Young, 560 Tacoma avenue, Wednesday evening. Their house had been artistically decorated with flowers, ferns and crepe paper. After dinner the birthday cake was cut by the hostess and Miss Frances Reed received the dime. The remainder of the evening was spent in music and dancing. The guests were: Misses Frances Reed, Blanche Allen, Katie Nolan, Edythe Young, Bernice Coffman, Jennie Gray, Idella Young and Vesta Young, Earl Walker, Harry Reed, Clem Clark, Dale Young, R. E. Taylor, Carl Lyle, S. C. Lyle, Mr. and Mrs. Young and the Messrs. Ernest Lyle and Howard Young.

The Tuesday Afternoon club was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. H. J. Jackson. The following program was in charge of the hostess: Quotations from Victor Hugo in response to roll call; "Classification of and History in Scott's Novels," Mrs. A. J. Stiles; "Historical Settings of Scott's English Novels," Mrs. G. C. Eselman; "Historical Settings of Scott's Scottish Novels," Mrs. J. D. Hayes; "Character Sketch of Jeanne Leam," Mrs. George Brynton; character sketch of "Old Morality," Mrs. A. W. Whitmer; "Pen Pictures of Scottish Scenery," Mrs. Mary Scott Myers. Refreshments were served during the social hour. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. Merwin Pugh, March 17, "M.-V." or "E.-A." cars.

A pleasant surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Rossiter of 940 Commercial street in honor of Miss Hazel Rossiter. A pleasant evening was passed in games, after which refreshments were served. Those present were: The Misses Maud Malott, Madeline Crandall, Matilda Oberg, Mary Wynn, Mildred Eddy, Edith Ryden, Ruby Haas, Vera Crandall, Ruth and Hazel Rossiter; Jefferson Crandall, Hubert Beattie, Claude Crosby, Harry Grayson, Frank Bradley, Floyd Stark, Roy Malott, Paul Crandall, Byron Beattie, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Crandall, Mrs. Beattie, Mr. and Mrs. Malott, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Rossiter.

The E. S. A. C. Girls will give a dancing party tomorrow evening at Ringling hall with Stiles' orchestra playing. The committee consists of Miss Juliet Johnson, Miss Margaret Browne, Miss Margaret Boyd, Miss Esther Edwards, Miss Frieda Pfander, Miss Ella Stiles, Miss Anne Gray, Miss Mina Hoffman, Miss Edith Elkington, Miss Mabel Brown, Miss Gertrude Voteler, Miss Bernice Fitzgerald, Miss Lenta Stahley. The patronesses are: Mrs. M. M. Ringling, Mrs. W. R. Lottman and Mrs. L. C. Asler.

Mrs. Ida Heintz of 213 Thirteenth street, gave a birthday tea to the women of the White Temple Wednesday afternoon for the benefit of a charity in which they are interested. The program was under the direction of Mrs. Millie G. Perkins and was as follows: Piano solo, "Ecstasy," Miss Elizabeth Hobert, song with violin obligato, "Returned" (Millard), Mrs. Perkins and Miss Cornelia Baker, violinist; violin solo, "Ave Maria," Miss Baker; recitation, "Katrina in New York," Mrs. Perkins. The home was prettily decorated with Oregon grape and fern and jonquills. The table where Mrs. H. D. Gates and Mrs. James Failing served lunch was attractively decorated with festoons of asparagus fern from which was suspended a basket of flowers. There was a good attendance of the church women and a substantial sum was realized.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Madsen entertained delightfully last Sunday evening at their home on Third street, for Mrs. W. H. Jervard and her son, Lyle S. Metcalf, who have gone on an extended trip through southern California. The home was prettily decorated with Oregon grape and carnations in the parlors and violets in the dining room. Supper was served late in the evening and a bunch of violets was at each place. Music formed the entertainment of the evening and violin and guitar selections by Mr. Madsen and Harry Hall were especially enjoyed. There were 13 in the company and the guests left on the 12th of the month.

Mrs. F. W. Graves entertained the Wednesday Evening club. Five hundred was played at six tables. Refreshments were served in the dining-room, where pains and pains of difficulties made the room attractive. The prizes were won by Dr. L. B. Smith and Mrs. J. C. Hare.

The Ohio Society of Oregon will hold its regular monthly meeting next Tuesday evening, W. C. Bristol will preside over the meeting. Miss Watkins, the blind clairvoyant of the Patton home, is numbered among those who will bring entertainment. A social hour and refreshments will follow the program.

Mrs. Max Hirsch entertained at bridge last Saturday afternoon for several of her young girl friends. The prizes were won by Miss Amy Seller of San Francisco, Miss Germaine Samuels and Miss Frances Jacobs.

The home department of the Port-nomah Study club will meet at the home of Mrs. F. Sherman, 442 East Fifteenth street north, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Take L. car.

WEDDINGS

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. White, 442 First street, in Corvallis, at high noon Sunday, when their daughter, Nellie Mae, became the wife of Jesse Brown of Albany.

The home was prettily decorated with white. At 12 o'clock the wedding march was played by the bride's grandfather, N. W. White, who composed the music. The bride was gown in pale blue silk with a veil. They were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Bertha White, and Frank White, the bride's uncle. Rev. T. T. Vincent pronounced the ceremony, after which a wedding dinner was served. The guests, who were the relatives and near friends of the bride and groom, numbered about 60. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will be at home to their friends after April 1 in Albany.

Senator and Pullman Porter. From the San Francisco Call.

Great minds sometimes seek trivial relaxation. I once saw Tom Carter, then and now United States senator from Montana, work diligently for 30 minutes in order to have a little fun at the expense of a colored servant. It was one afternoon in Northern Pacific train. Carter, sitting in the smoking apartment of one of the coaches, wet the sides of several boxes containing Pullman car matches and rubbed on the sole of his shoe the composition that ignited the lucifers. Then he held up his foot for a quarter of an hour while the smoking apartment was present. Carter was dried, after which he summoned Sam, the colored porter, and asked him to do some small service. While the dark-skinned servant was present Carter tried to light one of the Pullman car matches on his shoe.

"Yuh kahn't," Sam expostulated. The senator protested that he could, and Sam declared with ardor that such a thing was not possible. The discussion ended in a bet of $3, and I was made stakeholder. Then the senator

Partridge's Devotion.

From the London Globe. Few birds are so devoted to one another as partridges, but like other much loved creatures they seem to get over their bereavements in a remarkably short space of time.

When a covey in September takes a fancy to visit in a particular bit of clover or a little patch of rough grass and thistles you may be almost sure of finding them there at certain times of the day, and unless they are disturbed too frequently there will be found no longer at any of them are left. They are devoted alike to each other and to particular spots, but their fondness is only existent so long as the object of their affection is visible.

Miss Frances Meacham, Who Will Be Married This Week to W. Frank Whiteley.
