

EVELYN GETS BIG SUM

Thaw's Wife Demands That She Be Paid Annuity and $200,000 in Cash When She Secures Divorce From Her Husband.

(United Press Special Wire.)
New York, March 14.—Evelyn Thaw will demand even more money than has been suggested in her action for annulment of her marriage to the Pittsburgh millionaire, now in the state hospital for the insane at Matteawan. One of her confidants says she will get it.

It is declared openly Evelyn will have an easy task winning her case. The Thaws will not oppose her very strenuously. If they do, well, according to persons who know the former Mrs. Thaw, the real work will be done some time they will hardly resist.

The parallel between the Thaw and the Molins case grows stronger as the divorce case progresses. The Thaw, who was stuck close to her husband during the weary days that he was in the death-house in Sing Sing prison, sat by his side at the second trial, and finally heard the words "not guilty" ringing in her ears. Then she was away to Dakota and divorced the man she had so nobly aided in saving from an ignominious fate. And Evelyn Nesbit-Thaw has done the same thing.

The reports that she is in fear of her life and believes Thaw will attack her if he is released, are ridiculed by those who have seen her in the last few days. There is nothing in it, they say. But one thing she is determined on, it is said, is that she will have her divorce and be left free to pursue her own sweet way. And she intends that the Thaw family shall provide well for her before the marriage ties are dissolved.

The latest sum, according to rumor, that Evelyn is demanding in lieu of alimony, is $200,000 cash and a good substantial annuity. So soon as the matter is finally disposed of, she will go abroad, it is said. She is anxious to enter the literary lists and really believes she could write a very readable story. She will try this after she has regained her freedom.

New that the issue in the case has been joined, Justice O'Gorman will give a speed-hearing to the case and dispose of it. In the meanwhile Daniel O'Reilly, Evelyn's counsel, formerly of Thaw's staff, and A. Russell Feabody are conferring daily to arrange matters.

BOOSTERS WILL COME IN CARLOAD LOTS

Californians Will Invade Portland During Rose Carnival Week.

Thirteen carloads of boosters for Oregon roses will be Sacramento's contribution to the Portland Rose Festival. Secretary R. I. Dasset of the Portland Rose Festival association received a letter yesterday from the Sacramento Development association saying that the Sacramento club had arranged to run a special excursion to Portland during the convention of the Pacific coast admen during festival week next June.

All arrangements for the excursion have been made and the club will come to Portland with a special composed of eight standard Pullmans, two diners, an observation car and two baggage cars.

The number of excursionists will be limited to 200, and already 240 applications have been filed with the secretary of the club—which gives a fair idea of the popularity of the excursion that is being evinced by the Californians. Although the number of excursionists has been limited to 200, it is possible those who will not be able to secure accommodations on the original special will write and secure a second special with which to journey to Portland.

The Portland Musician's union is planning for a free band festival during the Rose Festival week and it is probable that a concert or concerts will be given by the musician's union in the Armory, for the benefit of the thousands of strangers who will be in the city.

SPLIT MAINE INTO FACTIONS

Lewis Barker Now in Portland, Was Attorney in Famous Case.

Lewis A. Barker, of Bangor, former member of the Maine legislature and one of the best known attorneys in New England, is at the hotel Portland, having come west for the purpose of locating. It is possible that Mr. Barker will decide to make Portland his home.

Mr. Barker's most famous case and one which became known and talked about all over the United States and which caused the people of Maine to be divided into two factions for years, was that of Strain and Crowell, whose acquittal he secured in 1906 after the defendants had spent 12 years in the penitentiary on a charge of having robbed the Dexter bank and murdered the cashier, Charles Wilson Barrett.

February 28, 1878, the cashier of the bank was found gagged and with his hands handcuffed behind him. Evidently he had been drugged, and he never regained consciousness. Later it was claimed that Barrett had defaulted, that the bank was about to fail and that the cashier himself had arranged the details and gagged himself to make it appear that the bank had been robbed.

Some years later a young man in jail confessed to the robbery. His confession was proven to be false. He maintained that his father, Strain, and Crowell had committed the deed. The men were arrested.

Mr. Barker's father, then one of the foremost attorneys in Maine, took up the case for the defendants. He tried the case three times without success. Some years afterward the elder Barker died and Strain and Crowell continued to serve time in prison.

As soon as the Mr. Barker now in Portland was admitted to the bar he took up the case of Strain and Crowell. Twenty-two years after the Dexter bank had been robbed and after the two men had served 12 years in jail, Mr. Barker proved alibis for both Strain and Crowell.

In Maine the people are still talking of the case. It was the greatest criminal trial ever held in that state. For years the people were divided, took sides on the question and argued pro and con.

Mr. Barker goes to Seattle today or tomorrow and will return to Portland during the week.

DEBATERS TO GO NORTH TO ARGUE

U. of O. Students Will Be Pitted Against U. of W. Oratorical Ability.

Debaters from the law school of the University of Oregon will be pitted against an oratorical team of the University of Washington law school, April 24. The Evergreen state law students are the challengers, and the contest will take place in Seattle.

The challenge of the Washingtonians was received here late last week and little time was lost in deciding that Oregon should send champions northward. Each debating team will consist of three members. The expense of the debate will be borne by the associated students of the Washington university.

They had their first contest last year in an annual feature hereafter, the debaters to be held alternately in Portland and Seattle.

The subject of debate has not been chosen, but it will be some question of general public interest which at the same time has a definite legal aspect. Students of the Oregon law school are pleased with the idea of an annual debate, believing that this will stimulate interest in the law and to local pride.

The manner of selecting the judges agreed on is somewhat novel. The visiting team will submit the names of eight persons, and from this list the challengers will choose the three who will act. A meeting of committees of the Oregon law school was held last night to perfect arrangements for the debate.

Minnesota Republicans will assemble at Minneapolis April 16, to select delegates to the national convention and at St. Paul July 1 to choose a state ticket.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL WILL BE SEASON'S GREATEST OFFERING

JAN VAN OORDT FRANZ WAGNER
CHICAGO SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA.

A musical affair that looms up large in the horizon is the April festival of three days with the Chicago Symphony orchestra at the Armory under the Helms management. On April 10, 11 and 12 large orchestral and choral concerts will be given. A large chorus of 250 voices is now practicing weekly under the leadership of W. H. Boyer for the oratorio and cantata work.

Friday night the grand opening concert will be given, with orchestral numbers and the presentation of Max Bruch's "Fair Ellen," the story of the siege of Lucknow. Saturday afternoon there will be a popular orchestral concert. Saturday night A. Loring Thomas' "The Swan and the Skylark" will be given with the orchestra. Sunday afternoon Handel's "Messiah" will be sung, and in the evening a grand orchestral concert presenting all the soloists will be given.

The orchestra has with it some soloists of more than ordinary fame. The singers have all won fame in Chicago. They are Genevieve Clark Wilson, soprano; Rose Luitger Gannon, contralto; John Miller, tenor; and Arthur Middleton, basso. The instrumental soloists include Jan Van Oordt, the well-known Dutch violinist; Franz Wagner, first cellist and assistant conductor.

The orchestra, now in its ninth year, has been augmented to 65 members, and has been engaged for a third tour to the Pacific coast. The important Colorado points, Salt Lake City, Spokane, Pullman (the seat of the state college of Washington), the University of Oregon at Eugene, have already secured the orchestra. The important cities of California, Arizona and Texas and Kansas will be visited. The University of Illinois has engaged the orchestra for this year's festival, the fourth consecutive season; Knox college, at Galesburg, for its sixth engagement at this point.

INLAND WHEAT TO COME BY BOAT

North Bank Will Transfer Portland-Bound Grain at Vancouver.

Because the water in the Columbia river above Vancouver is lower than it has been for a number of years, the north bank road has arranged to handle inland empire wheat shipments by rail to Vancouver and thence to Portland by boat. A freight tariff has been issued, effective March 16 from Lyle, and April 15 from Speda, Granddalle and Skadat, via Vancouver to Portland.

The Regulator line has been handling these shipments from Lyle, to which point they were brought from the interior by the north bank road and the Northern Pacific via Pasco, and by the C. R. & N. railroad from Goldendale to Lyle. The low water has made trouble for the boats at some of the up-river points, and the wheat will now be carried through to Vancouver by rail and thence to Portland by boat.

The north bank road's new passenger schedule shows the following stations and mileage from Vancouver eastward: Image, 5.3; Fisher, 9.4; Camas, 14.5; Washougal, 17.6; Cruzat, 27.5; Butler, 32.7; Cascade, 33.9; Stevenson, 44; Ash, 47.5; Collins, 54.4; Cooks, 56; Hood, 61; Binzen (White Salmon), 65.7; Vila, 70.1; Lyle, 75.5; Skadat, 80.3; Granddalle, 84.2; Spedia, 88.5; Avery, 93; Tamm, 99.1; Columbus, 104.1; Cliffs, 109.1; Towal, 116.1; Harbin, 120.8; Fountain, 125.7; Sandal, 131; Roosevelt, 137; Moon-

RISKS HIS LIFE TO SAVE DOG FROM DEATH

Young Man Ties Rope About the Animal After Daring Descent of Perpendicular Cliff.

Paterson, N. J., March 11.—Robert Walker, 19 years old, a silk worker living at Totowa, near this city, risked his life this afternoon to save the life of an old bulldog, that some one had thrown into the Passaic Falls basin last night. Walker descended the face of the perpendicular cliff on the west side of the basin and tied a rope around the dog that had been marooned on an ice floe 50 feet off shore. It was impossible to launch a rowboat in the basin on account of the broken ice.

About 300 persons saw the rescue. A small rope was tied around the dog and it was brought safely to the surface. It had been a prisoner for about 18 hours.
