

PASSIONATE AFRAID TO LOVE CRIME FACE TRIAL

Rich Landowner of Italy, His Daughter, Her Baby and Young Man Murdered Gruesome Find in a Cemetery.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Rome, March 19.—Giovanni Avellone, a rich land owner, his daughter Lucy, the latter's baby, and Andrew Campanile, one of the leading young men of Gerace, Calabria, are dead, as a result of a passionate love crime, which has shocked even this city of hot blooded people. The officers are today preparing to bring charges against a young peasant, the only living actor in the tragedy, whose confession revealed a wonderful tale that might have been suggested but for the rooting of a herd of hogs. Most horrible of all, the features of the case was the burial alive of a man to satisfy the revenge of a woman scorned. A farmer residing near the village of Gerace saw his pigs in the village cemetery.
Hesitating to drive them out he noticed them feeding on two human arms stretched upward through the earth. He summoned officers, and when the body was examined it was found to be that of Campanile, who had been missing mysteriously for some time. The grave, however, was not in which the body of Giovanni had been interred. Investigation revealed the entire story. Campanile had wooed the beautiful Signorita Avellone successfully only to break off the courtship at a time when to do so meant disgrace to the girl. Lucy retained the conditions of her betrayal to her aged father after having tried vainly to keep concealed a bright eyed baby girl. The shock killed the old man.
The night before the funeral the girl induced her betrayer to call at her home. Then, with the assistance of a young peasant who was passionately devoted to the girl, she administered a powerful narcotic. While Campanile was asleep he was placed in the coffin from which the pair had removed the body of Avellone. The casket was closed, and sealed, and the next day Campanile was buried alive. The Avellone was buried the following night in a hastily constructed grave in his own dooryard. Apparently Campanile was not suffocated, but recovered consciousness after he had been buried, and because of his great strength was able to break the casket and crawl out with that of the baby, which was found at the bottom of an old well.

WILL NOT ALTER ANTI-TRUST LAW

Congressmen Do Not Believe There Is Enough Time Left for Action.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, March 19.—Republicans and Democrats alike agree that action looking to a modification of the Sherman anti-trust law cannot be taken during this session of congress because of the length of time such a process would require.
Members of the house committee on foreign commerce say that any effort to amend the law would necessarily be followed by a prolonged discussion which would not be ended when congress adjourns. A congressman who is opposed to the picking to pieces of the anti-trust law at this time said today that even President Roosevelt would feel compelled to vote on the matter in the time left.

PENDLETON FIREMEN WANT BETTER SYSTEM

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.)
Pendleton, Or., March 19.—A committee of Pendleton firemen has appealed to the city council for some improvements in the department's system, the chief being an electric alarm system and a combination auto hose wagon and chemical engine. It is the opinion that the council will pass favorably upon the matter at the next meeting.

Heirs to Get Money.

A decree has been issued in the circuit court in accordance with the mandate handed down some time ago by the supreme court in the estate of Caroline H. Roach, of which James Humphrey was executor. Eva M. Roach, George H. Roach and Grace A. Roach were objecting heirs, and Humphrey is ordered to divide $19,326 between them besides paying them 6 per cent interest from July 20, 1905.

Woman Held as Witness.

C. L. Tankley, the clerk arrested a few days ago for stealing $175 from his employer, Paul Strain, was given a preliminary hearing in the police court this morning. At the conclusion of the hearing he was held in the city jail on the grand jury, bail being fixed at $1,000. Jennie Sharp, the young woman who was arrested with Tankley, was held as a witness under bonds of $250.

Heavy Damage Suit.

John Carey's suit for $10,000 damages against the Portland Lumber company went to trial before a jury in Judge Bronough's department of the circuit court this morning. In a former trial a verdict was granted. Carey was a slab-wagon driver and alleges that he was thrown from a wagon and permanently injured by reason of defective plank on the defendant's property.

District Attorney Intimates Wreckers of Title Guar- antee Are Playing for Time in Forcing New Demurrers on Court.

Declaring that all the questions raised by the defense in the new demurrers in the cases of J. Thorburn Ross and other accused officials of the Title Guarantee & Trust company have practically been passed upon heretofore, District Attorney Manning this morning informed Presiding Judge Cleland in the circuit court that he will not file a brief in reply to the formidable looking list of authorities submitted by the defense.
Mr. Manning had appeared to represent the state in the argument of the new demurrers, but he refrained from argument, saying he did not think it necessary.
"Your honor well knows the purpose of this demurrer," said the district attorney. "If the defendant were a poor man there would be no delay of three or four months. I want to get these cases ready for trial."
Harrison Allen, who represents T. T. Burkhardt and John E. Atchison, was notified by the district attorney's remarks.
Says Information Is Faulty.
"The defendants are not here to be abused for standing up for their rights," he said. "The district attorney ought really to prove his authorities here instead of pitching into the defendants. I don't like it and I don't think Brother Manning needs to put the court through any such exhibition."
Wallace McCamant, attorney for Ross, did nearly all the talking that was done, and he covered the points in the demurrers very briefly. In short, he said the allegations in the informations are not precise and direct as to how the demurrers are alleged to have held the money of the state that they are accused of misusing.
The information is not clear, he said, as to whether it intends to charge them with having the money in possession individually or officially. He said he apprehended that if the court holds the information sufficiently definite it will have to be held that the money was held officially. This being the case, he said, the state has reached another fatal dilemma, for if the money is held in possession of the bank and no crime is charged in the informations.
Demurrers Under Adjudication.
"Do not say that these defendants are not guilty if they stole the money," said McCamant, "but if they are guilty of grand larceny they should be charged."
Mr. McCamant then gave attention to the additional point advanced in one of the cases, in which refusal to return $250,000 to the state treasurer is demanded as alleged. The informations show, he said, that the demand was made on a legal holiday, when no legal demand can be made on a bank. Business voluntarily done on a holiday will not be held against the bank, but persons cannot be compelled to transact it on that day.
District Attorney Manning called the attention of the court to the fact that the defendants did all they could to comply with the demand by turning the less of the legal holiday, he declared, that practically everything argued has been passed up by Judge Cleland hereunder under advisement.

FEW VOTERS ADD NAMES TO THE ROLLS

Within the last few days there has been a serious falling off in registration. The cause is not easy to ascertain, but probably lies in apathy and lack of general appreciation of the fact that the days for registering are numbered. April 7 the last voters will be registered, for the primaries, and the last days are likely to be days of rush and inconvenience.
Yesterday 358 names were added to the roll. The total this morning stood at 21,846, of whom 17,128 are Republicans, 3,645 Democrats and 1,076 independents or members of other parties.

MADAME ANNA GOULD ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, March 19.—Madame Anna Gould, formerly the Countess de Castellane, arrived here today with her three children for a visit with her family, expected to last several months. Her name appeared on the passenger list as Mrs. Miller.
Prince de Sagan, avowed suitor for her hand, is expected in New York within about a week.

Reduce Rates on Sacks.
(Special Dispatch to the Journal.)
Pendleton, Or., March 19.—Umatilla county farmers are rejoicing over the announcement made by the Northern Pacific and O. R. & N. railroads of a 40 per cent rate per hundred on grain bags. This is a reduction of 67 cents, or 25 per cent from the present rate.

RAILROAD MEN TO ENTER RACE

Clark Urges Corporation Employes to Organize Political Party.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Chicago, March 19.—To check the wave of anti-corporation sentiment J. H. Clark, general counsel of the Nickel Plate railroad today urged the organization of the railroad employes of the country into a powerful political party.
Clark was the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the American Railway Engineering and Maintenance of Way association. With the 300,000 men who have been thrown out of employment by the business depression, fighting to better their condition and the employed striving to retain their present places and wages Clark predicted that the organization into political party would prove strong enough to elect sufficient congressmen and legislators to turn the tide of sentiment. Such a move, he held out as the most hopeful solution of the present situation.

WOMEN'S HATS TO BE TWO FEET HIGH

New "Campaigner" Will Cost Hundred Dollars but Will Be the "Rage."

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Chicago, March 19.—The new "campaign hat" which Dame Fashion has decreed for women, is black, two feet high, composed of fine lace, and has an English cockade as its chief distinguishing feature. It is the last expression of the art of millinery. In short, it is "it" on which you gaze. This, at any rate, is what was declared today by milliners from all parts of the country, who have come here for the annual convention of the National Milliners' association. It is admitted that the "campaign hat" will cost anywhere from $40 to $100, but it is pointed out, it always has cost money to be in fashion, and present spring is no exception.

"JOKER" STARTS PANG IN MILL

Visitor at Washburn-Crosby Flour Mill Calls Out the Fire Department.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Minneapolis, Minn., March 19.—The police today are searching for an unidentified visitor to the Washburn-Crosby flour mill, the largest plant of its kind in the world, who threw the 5,000 employes of the establishment into a panic and brought the entire fire fighting apparatus of the twin cities to the mills on a false alarm. In his rounds the establishment the stranger espied a fire call and pulled it "as a joke."
Des Moines, Iowa, March 19.—A cribbage game for a million points, which has already extended over a period of seven years, is being played in this city by Colonel John C. Loper and Milo Ward. The score to date is 460,234 to 455,234. The players estimate that they will live to finish the exciting contest in 1915.
Both men are prominent here, Mr. Loper being sheriff of Polk county, and Milo Ward secretary of the commercial exchange. The men play one a week, from 7:30 to 11 o'clock in the evening. They have played 376 consecutive weeks and religiously keep their weekly engagement. The average number of points made each night for the first seven years is 2,150.
It is undoubtedly the longest card game ever ventured upon in this country. It was suggested by Mr. Loper and Mr. Ward took him on. Just what the stakes are neither of the players will divulge.
The players have worn out a number of cribbage boards and about 250 packs of cards so far in their contest. These are carefully preserved as relics of the contest.

Victor Metcalf Declares Bill Pending Before Congress Does Not Force Him to Buy Exclusively From Electric Company.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, March 19.—Victor Metcalf, secretary of the navy, testifying today in the congressional investigation of charges against the Electric Boat company, gave testimony which contradicted at least one of the accusations made by Representative Lilley of Connecticut, who is responsible for the inquiry.
The navy secretary branded as false the charge that the pending naval bill compelled him to purchase exclusively submarine boats built by the Electric Boat company, and that the measure gave the Lake company, which also builds submarines, an easy chance to bid for contracts. Secretary Metcalf, in reply to one question, declared that submarines are a necessity.
When asked why the department contracted for one Lake submarine boat when the appropriation bill last year provided for the purchase of eight submarines, he replied that Attorney-General Bonaparte informed him that he could buy the Lake boat, although in fact it had proved inferior to the boats built by the Electric Boat company. He added that former Senator Thurston, attorney for the Lake company, suggested that Bonaparte be consulted in the matter.
"No member of congress urged the purchase of any particular boat," said the secretary.
During today's proceedings Representative Lilley sat in a remote corner of the room indicating that he would take no further active interest in the inquiry.
Representative Boutell, a member of the investigation committee, submitted a letter from William Dulles of New York declaring that the latter had not resigned from the board of directors of the Electric Boat company because he believed the concern was engaging in corrupt practices in getting favorable legislation.
