"My son John had epilepsy for years, and after having him treated by specialists for over 2 years he still continued to have spells. I had almost given up in despair, but knowing the virtue of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for sick headache, I got a bottle to try the Nerve. During June, 1906, I gave him a teaspoonful three times a day, then in July I gave it as directed, and I could see that he was improving, and he has not had a spell since August 23, 1906, and has taken no medicine since Jan. 1907. I am writing the case just as it is hoping it will induce others to try it."

LAWYER FIGHTS WITH WOMAN

Attempt to Collect Board Bill Ends in Spirited Fisticuff.

A personal encounter between Attorney Forrest E. Melvin and Mrs. Clara B. Metzger, which occurred in the office of the former in the Worcester building, Third and Oak streets, yesterday afternoon, resulted in the issuance of a warrant for the arrest this morning of the attorney on a charge of assault and battery. The complainant in the case is G. B. Cline, Mrs. Metzger's son. He explained to the prosecuting attorney that the latter's request for the purpose of collecting $26 which the attorney is said to owe her for board and lodging at her house, 1025 Hawthorne avenue.

A dispute arose over the payment of the bill, and according to the sworn allegations of the complainant, Melvin called the woman vile names, choked her, tore her clothes, broke a locket she was wearing and knocked her purse from her hand, scattering its contents over the office floor.

Mrs. Metzger finally escaped from the clutches of her assailant and sought sanctuary in the office of Attorney King on the same floor of the building. Her purse, money, locket and a portion of her torn apparel she left behind her in Melvin's office.

Young Cline says Melvin has owed the bill for board and room for about four weeks, and that Mrs. Metzger has been holding the lawyer's trunk and some of his books as security for the payment of the money. He also says

STRUCK BY CAR; NECK IS BROKEN

S. V. Fansher of Medford Killed at Second and Main Streets.

S. V. Fansher, a young man whose home is in Medford, Oregon, was killed by being struck by a streetcar at the corner of Second and Main streets shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The conductor and motorman of the car were placed under arrest and are being held pending the verdict of the coroner's jury at the inquest to be held tomorrow afternoon.

At the time of the accident Fansher was walking east on Second street. He started to cross Second street he passed behind a covered truck and stepped out on the car track just as car No. 119 of the Fulton line was passing the spot. The car was traveling at a good rate of speed and before the young man could get out of its way or the motorman check its speed the car struck Fansher, throwing him violently to the ground. His body was thrown slightly to one side of the track and the top of the car caught in his clothing, dragging him for a distance of 50 feet before the car could be brought to a standstill.

Fansher was carried to a nearby drug store and a physician summoned to attend his injuries. He was beyond the aid of human hands, however, as his skull had been fractured and his spine dislocated by the impact of the blow from the rapidly moving car. He died 15 minutes later without regaining consciousness.

Conductor J. Wark and Motorman R. G. Read were placed under arrest by the police as soon as they were notified that Fansher was dead. A charge of manslaughter was placed against them and they were later released on a bond of $1,000 to await the action of the coroner's jury. Both men state that the car was going at an ordinary rate of speed at the time of the accident and that every effort was made to stop the car. If it can be shown that the car was not run at an unlawful rate of speed the men will probably be exonerated.

Since coming to Portland young Fansher had been living with his brother, Arthur E. Fansher, at 205 Madison street. His father, L. W. Fansher, is a prominent citizen of Medford and is a candidate for the nomination for assessor of Jackson county. He has been notified of the death of his son and is expected to arrive here some time today to take charge of the remains.

Coroner Pinley has in charge of the body and will hold an inquest tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

COMPANY ADMITS ITS NEGLIGENCE

Although James J. Brown several months ago secured a verdict for $2,750 damages against the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph company, the case is being tried over again before Judge Gantenbein in the circuit court. Judge Frazer presided in the former trial, but did not sign the verdict. The result was death, and this made a new trial necessary.

The case was simplified today by a stipulation, in which the defendant company admitted liability for the accident in which Brown's injuries were sustained, he had admitted that a telegraph pole that was lying in the street. This leaves only the question of the amount of damages to be determined, and the case is being tried before the court without a jury. Brown sued for $10,000.

How Syracuse Woman Took Her Wrinkles Out In Three Nights AFTER MESSAGE AND BEAUTY SPECIALISTS HAD FAILED

"Made Me Look Twenty Years Younger" Says Cincinnati Lady Who Tried It. "Now Past Forty, but My Complexion Is Smoother and Better Than in Girlhood," Writes a Kentucky Woman Who Used This Wonderful Process for Removing Wrinkles.

The Discoverer Offers to Give Particulars Free of Charge to All Who Write Her Within Next Ten Days—Exact Promise of Secrecy—Treatment Very Simple and Absolutely Harmless—May Be Used Without the Knowledge of Your Most Intimate Friend.

Ever since woman's beauty held sway over man and brought her power, influence and wealth, she has sought a way to stay the processes of old age and banish deep lines and furrows from her brow.

Chemists, beauty doctors, and skin specialists have for centuries vainly tried to fathom the sealed secrets of nature and find a way to keep the beauty of youth in a woman's face and form.

Harriett Meta was no exception to the general rule of women. Trouble and worry left their unsightly lines and marks upon her face. She saw the beauty of her youth giving way to the heavy imprints of coming age.

Her first resort was to face massage, cold creams, and steaming pots; then to beauty specialists, but all in vain. The wrinkles seemed, if anything, to grow deeper and deeper. Massage even appeared to stretch the skin, more wrinkles came. She had spent all the money she could afford to spend, and was ready to give up in despair, when one day a friend made a happy suggestion.

This gave her a brilliant idea. She set to work on the thing herself, and after several months' hard labor and almost endless experimenting, she succeeded in producing a wrinkle remover entirely different from anything she had seen or heard of. She tried it on herself, and lo! and behold, it worked a wonderful transformation in a single night; she tried it the second night, and her wrinkles were practically gone. A third night—three treatments in all—and her wrinkles had entirely disappeared, and her skin was soft, clear, rosy, and smooth.

skin foods, and various advertised wrinkle removers, but they all failed absolutely, and I confess I was very skeptical about your treatment, but in one night my skepticism had entirely vanished. When I looked at my face on the following morning and saw what a wonderful transformation had taken place I was sure at last I had found the right thing.

In speaking of her discovery, Miss Meta says: "Yes, I know it sounds too good to be true, but really I do not think removing wrinkles is half so wonderful as the telephone. Before the telephone was invented it appeared ridiculous to think of talking from New York to Chicago.

"Those who have used cold creams, etc., cannot understand how my treatment can act so quickly. Yet, after all, it is very simple, and I wonder that some one did not discover the process long ago. My letters from patients tell the whole story. Here is one from a lady who says my treatment made her look 20 years younger, also letters from many others. I do not see how anyone can doubt in the face of such testimony as this. I tried cold creams, massage, etc., myself, without results, and I can thoroughly sympathize with those who have tried to get rid of wrinkles, and I am truly glad that I feel I can now offer womankind a surer and a shorter way.

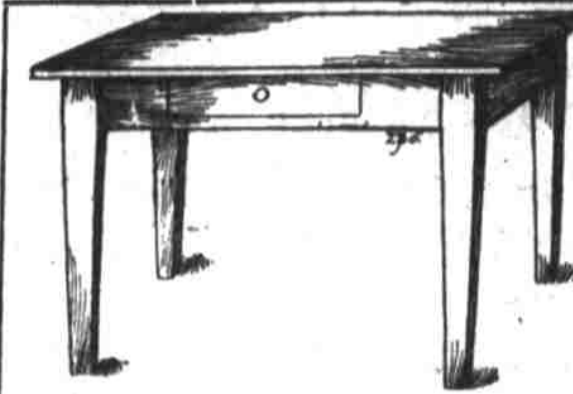

"I will give further particulars to all those who write me within the next 10 days. I must exact a promise of secrecy from every one for my own protection before I give full information—you can use my treatment on yourself or in your own family, but you must not tell what it is to outsiders.

"I guarantee my treatment will in no way injure your skin. On the contrary, it will give it a soft, velvety feeling, and greatly improve your complexion, and as well as banish unsightly lines and wrinkles. It takes only a few minutes to use it.

"Address Harriett Meta, Suite 1020A, Syracuse, N. Y. I will send everything in plain sealed envelope so that your correspondence will be strictly private."

$30,000 SCHOOL FOR MARSHFIELD

Plans to Be Drawn After Conference With Portland Architects.

Dr. J. T. McCormac, a member of the Marshfield school board, and his daughter, Miss Alice McCormac, a teacher, are at the Hotel Portland for the purpose of inspecting the different school buildings of the city and to consult Portland architects with reference to a $30,000 school building which is to be erected during the summer in the city on Coos bay.

Bonds for the expenditure of $50,000 on a school were voted by the citizens of Marshfield last Saturday. Of this amount $20,000 is to be spent for a site. The new school is to be used partly for high school classes.

"Marshfield is growing so rapidly we found it was absolutely necessary to erect another school," Dr. McCormac said this morning. "Only a short time ago the board spent $10,000 in building an addition to another school, but this was soon filled and now we are arranging to put up another first-class and modern building in every way.

Marshfield's population is now in the neighborhood of 5,000 persons, nearly 800 of these are school children. Dr. McCormac is president of the Marshfield chamber of commerce. For 23 years Dr. McCormac has lived in Marshfield, and in the exception of two years, he has practiced medicine. Some time ago he retired from practice and is now engaged in the lumber business.

Miss McCormac is a teacher in the school there and is accompanying her father for pleasure and to assist him in deciding upon the style of the new school. From Portland they will go to British Columbia for a short visit.

NAVAL PIGEONS.

No Longer Needed in These Days of Wireless Telegraphy.

From the London Daily Graphic. An admiralty official has confirmed the statement that the British naval pigeon service is to be allowed to fall in disuse. "Think of it!" he remarked. "Not so very many years ago people were filled with wonderment at a bird that could fly with messages at the rate of 60 miles an hour and reach its destination with safety. Today a wireless message can be sent at the rate of hundreds of miles in a few seconds.

"It was a wise step to establish, as the admiralty does, a carrier pigeon service in connection with the navy; they are equally wise to abandon the stations now that telegraphic facilities have been brought to such a state of perfection.

BOY AT MUTE SCHOOL CRUSHED TO DEATH

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, Or., March 20.—Conrad Hagen, a 9-year-old student at the state mute school, was run over by a heavy roller yesterday afternoon and instantly killed. The roller was drawn by two horses and had started down the grade near the school. The driver and two larger boys were riding on the machine, when Conrad tried to climb on from behind and was carried over and thrown under the crushing weight of the machine. His neck was broken and he was killed instantly in the presence of the superintendent, two teachers and the supervisor. He has two sisters in the school. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hagen of Canby. They say he was always a venturesome child, having had several narrow escapes, and two years ago fell down two stories off a balcony.
