

H. R. ALBEE STANDS FOR STATE SENATE

Well-Known Business Man Becomes Candidate for the State Senate—Much Dissension in Camp of the Antis—Jaeger for the Lower House.

Senator Dodges Question Whether He Will Abide by the Decision of the People in the June Election—Here for Canvass.

"I do not care to discuss a thing that is an improbability. There is going to be no Democrat endorsed for the United States senate by the people of Oregon in June. I believe I am going to be given the nomination and if this is so I will be elected in June. Therefore I do not care to discuss a contingency that is not at all likely to arise."

This is the manner in which Senator Charles W. Fulton, just returned from Washington, disposed of a direct question put to him in which he was asked whether or not he would allow his name to go before the legislature as a senatorial candidate in the event he did not receive the popular election.

Senator Fulton has returned to the state to make a rapid canvass of Oregon on his own behalf between this time and the primary election. His plans will be snatched out within a couple of days and it is probable that he will make his first appearance in Portland. He will cover the entire state as completely as time and circumstances will permit.

Time and political developments have made no change in his political position. Senator Fulton says, and reiterates that he still stands on the plank laid down by him in his speech at Corvallis last year. He still maintains a definite attitude in relation to Statement No. 1, holding that it is a matter of principle with the members of the legislature and should be left to their judgment.

Whether he has changed his attitude regarding his becoming a possible candidate before the legislature in the event of his defeat in June, however, is a question which the senator seems to evade.

"I do not know that I have any important thing to tell," said the senator, in discussing his home coming. "I will center with my friends in Portland, and will then know what my course will be. I intend to make out with my friends and visit the different sections of the state insofar as the short time between now and the primaries will allow. I will make some speeches by the way."

At last about this time the telephone rang, as it seemed to have a habit of doing most of the time, and Mr. Fulton held the receiver with some friend, which quickly turned to his attitude on Statement No. 1.

"Statement No. 1 seems to be the bone of contention," it was suggested when the senator had hung up the receiver. "Yes," he said, "and then continued on the subject. I have not changed my attitude regarding Statement No. 1," he said. "I am not unfriendly to Statement No. 1, but I have in the election men of senators by the direct vote of the people and have always advocated it. I hold, however, that the United States senator to attempt to direct legislative candidates to take an oath and pledge themselves to anything which is a matter of principle is not my place. But I am not opposed to Statement No. 1. I am in the same attitude announced by me in the conversation turned to the reported change in the senator's attitude regarding his possible candidacy before the legislature in the event of his defeat in June. It was here that he made his evasive answer, hiding behind the argument that he was not in a position of contingency not at all likely to arise."

Senator Fulton says he is not considering the danger of any further attacks from Francis J. Heney. "I am feeling pretty fit," he said, "and I don't know what Mr. Heney is going to do. I am not in communication with him."

It is indicated, however, that the senator will be his respects to the prosecutor when he starts out on his campaign tour through the state.

BUNCO GAME WORKED BY PROFESSIONAL PUGS

Two alleged prize-fighters out of a job were arrested this morning by Patrolman Goltz on a charge of vagrancy. Letters found in their possession throw a more or less vivid light on the methods and motives of a certain class of professional pug who earn a precarious livelihood by working a bunco game on the sport-loving public.

The men when arrested gave their names as Clyde Miller and Charles Langley, though they were known to travel under various aliases as suits the purpose of the game by which they live. This game is for one to publish a challenge to meet all comers in a prize ring at a certain weight. After the lapse of sufficient time the challenge will be met by one of the two conspirators. An attempt will then be made to get some athletic club to stage the proposed bout with the stipulation that a certain percentage of the gate receipts be given the winner of the fight.

The nature of the contest that follows such an arrangement, as well as the manner in which the spoils are divided, need not be pointed out. The whole performance is a game set up to get away with a little easy money.

When Miller and Langley were taken before Judge Cameron this morning they asked that the hearing on the vagrancy charge be postponed until tomorrow.

M'CROSKY FINED AND TAKES AN APPEAL

E. P. McCroskey, the employment agent who was arrested yesterday on a charge of having sent two laborers to Tacoma, Washington, to accept positions which he had no intention of filling, and convicted in the police court this morning, Judge Cameron sentenced him to a fine of $25. McCroskey gave notice of appeal from the judgment and sentence.

Free Fight in Saloon.

A free fight which occurred in the saloon conducted by George W. and William Smalley at 25 Fourteenth street last evening resulted in the arrest of three of the participants on a charge of disorderly conduct. The participants in the fight were the two small boys on one side and A. D. and M. La Fountain, brothers on the other.

An officer arrested the La Fountain brothers and George Smalley, William Smalley succeeded in sliding the police and is still at large. The case will be heard in the police court next Monday.

E. P. Solomon in Hospital.

E. P. Solomon, a well-known traveling salesman, was removed to the Good Samaritan hospital today for an operation.

H. R. Albee, another of Portland's best-known business men, has decided after the urgent requests of many people after Portland and Multnomah county to enter the race for the legislature as a candidate for the senate. He has taken his stand square on a Statement No. 1 platform and will fill out the place left vacant by the withdrawal of Fred Dresser. His position is being circulated this afternoon and he will take an active part in the coming campaign.

Ed. J. Jaeger, a well-known jeweler of this city, has also announced his candidacy for the house of representatives on a Statement No. 1 ticket. Both Mr. Albee and Mr. Jaeger were both to plunge into the turmoil of the political campaign with its consequent interruption of business but were at last persuaded by the combined pleas of a large number of prominent business men of the city to enter the race.

From the indications of today the Statement No. 1 supporters in Multnomah county are not nearly so few as the Hodson-Beach-Balley-Reed machine leaders have been setting out. From their camp words of encouragement are coming in to the candidates who have come out on a Statement No. 1 platform and are being encouraged by some of the opposition that the candidates of the Statement No. 1 platform are now in the lead.

Business Men Refuse.

The soliciting committee of the Portland Republican club is having a hard task in finding men who are willing to announce themselves on the ticket suggested a few days ago. W. C. Mackay, Charles E. Lockwood and McKinley Mitchell, the committee, have been visiting the different men urged to become candidates and so far have not been able to get one of them to enter the race. Several of the prominent business men of the city have come out openly for the Statement No. 1 candidates and as a result the Lockwood-Chapin-Mitchell ticket seems to be about to finish out.

A great unrest is gnawing at the bosom of the Hodson-Beach-Balley-Reed machine. The members of the party have come to the conclusion that they are up against the hardest kind of a fight and accordingly have begun to try to make combinations with other parties. A. B. Manley, who was about to become a candidate for the senate as a running mate with Drake and Colwell, has been called off, so it is said, by the Hodson machine influence. A strong effort was made to force Colwell and Drake out of the race but they say they are in the fight to stay.

"The Hodson leaders have made overtures to the Union Republican club asking for the endorsement of the organization. The leaders of the club have replied that the organization will support no one. The machine has sent out feelers to the Idleman branch of the party seeking to secure some concessions from the central committee. The Idleman contingent want to elect a ticket of their own and they came back both sides have done nothing but talk. The Idleman contingent want to elect a ticket of their own and they came back both sides have done nothing but talk. The Idleman contingent want to elect a ticket of their own and they came back both sides have done nothing but talk.

Fight in Main Tent.

Inside the main tent there is a still more secret fight. Part of the contingent objects to being hooked up publicly with Ferdinand E. Reed and his record, while others think him necessary to the manipulation of things. Together the Hodson bunch seems to be making a noise like an internal dissension.

To date the Statement No. 1 candidates who have come out under the persuasion of the business men of the city are: For the senate—Ben Selling, H. R. Albee, C. W. Nottingham, Dan Kellner and A. H. Waldert. For the house of representatives—J. C. Bryant, Charles J. McDonald, Fred Brady, K. C. Couch, A. W. Orton, J. E. Smith, J. C. Clemens, James D. Abbott, L. M. Davis and Ed. J. Jaeger.

It is probable that Luther D. Mahone, a young attorney who stepped the state bar to the municipal election of 1907, and who two years ago, may also become a candidate. Mahone was sent to the northwest several years ago to make an investigation on behalf of President Roosevelt of conditions in the government service in Oregon. He has since returned to the state and is now practicing law in Portland.

Fred Brady has been endorsed by the Republican voters of Sunnyside where he resides. J. F. Cassidy is backed by the Federated Trades council, whose representative he is. Mr. Abbott is a candidate for the primary and is being supported by the Hodson machine. A strong effort was made to force Colwell

FOUR STORY BRICK SECOND AND YAMHILL

Moy Back Hin and son, Moy Back Wing, have acquired control of the property at the southwest corner of Second and Yamhill streets, and on Saturday the first of April will make the first of a four-story brick building covering 75 by 95 feet on this corner. Moy Back Hin has owned the corner lot at Second and Yamhill for several years, and recently his son leased from Samuel McKee, a 25-foot lot adjoining the corner, the terms of the lease being that the old brick buildings occupying the place were to be removed and a new structure, which will be under way by the middle of the month.

POLICE RAID ON NEGRO HOUSE IN NORTH END

At 6 o'clock this morning eight detectives and four patrolmen in plain clothes, all under command of Acting Captain of Detectives Ratz, raided the Golden West hotel, Seventh and Everett streets, a rooming and boarding house for negroes. Half an hour later the same squad of officers made a raid on the Raymond house at Third and Ankeny streets, also a place resorted to by colored people.

At the Golden West hotel two men and two women were placed under arrest and taken to the police station. No one was arrested at the Raymond house. Many complaints have been received by police of late regarding petty crimes committed by negroes and it was reported that the Golden West hotel was the headquarters of some of the persons under suspicion. Efforts of individual officers to obtain information concerning persons known to frequent the place were so unsatisfactory that a wholesale raid was arranged. Every room in the house was searched and the occupants subjected to a searching investigation. While the raid was in progress the exits were all guarded and no one was permitted to leave the place.

GREEK INSTANTLY KILLED IN SEWER

A Greek laborer, known to his fellow-workmen as James Sticopolas, was instantly killed at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon by being struck by a heavy iron bucket which fell into an excavation in which the man was working. The excavation is being made at East Sixteenth and target streets by Paquet, Gleibsch & Joplin, contractors for the new Brooklyn sewer.

The hole at the bottom of which Sticopolas was working is 20 feet deep. The bucket, which is used to hoist the earth taken from the hole, caught on one of the timbers and the bucket fell into the hole. Sticopolas was badly crushed and death must have been instantaneous.

M'CROSKY RECEIVES HIS COMMISSION

The commission of John McCourt, the newly-appointed United States district attorney for Oregon, arrived this morning. It is signed by Theodore Roosevelt and Charles Bonaparte, attorney-general of the United States.

Negro Is Bound Over.

William Dell, the negro arrested yesterday for the murder of a woman, was bound over to the grand jury. Articles of value from the room of M. C. Branan, 412 Alder street, was given to the police this morning. The evidence against Dell was of a convincing nature and Judge Cameron bound him over to await the action of the grand jury. Bonds were fixed at $750.

CARELESS SURGEON LEAVES INSTRUMENT IN GASH AND KILLS MAN.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Vancouver, B. C., March 26.—William Argyle Campbell, laboring man, aged 40, died last night as a result of the carelessness of a surgeon who performed an operation on him several months ago. Campbell suffered from appendicitis, and an operation being performed he recovered. After recovering he was attacked by a disease in his side which increased so that he nearly became insane. A new operation was performed by a surgeon, but the first operation had been left in the wound. Campbell died from the shock of the second operation.

The location which the local committee has in view for the Chicago firm is along the water front near the Columbia river bridge of the north bank railway and almost opposite the proposed site of the Swift plant. It is believed to be equally as good a location as the Swift have purchased and much better than the location desired by the Chicago company. Manager Helsey, accompanied by a local committee, will visit the Vancouver site this week and a report will be made to the Chicago office.

CALHOUN MAY TAKE NORTHERN ELECTRIC

(United Press Leased Wire.) Sacramento, Cal., March 26.—A report is being discussed in railroad and financial circles today to the effect that Patrick Calhoun, the San Francisco street railway president, and his associates are planning to acquire control of the Northern Electric road.

THE BAG ON THROAT OF HAWKER'S TOOTERS

An ordinance will be introduced in the city council this afternoon compelling peddlers and peddlers to remove obnoxious signs whistles from their carts. The ordinance is really a section of the hawkers' ordinance which is practically dead in the license committee. It was because of this fact that the section was taken up and incorporated into a separate ordinance.

FARMERS ARE ESPECIALLY OUTSPOKEN IN VIEWS—POSSIBLE INDEPENDENT TICKET.

McMinnville, Or., March 26.—Sentiment is growing in favor of Statement No. 1 in Yamhill county. The members of the grange and other farmers are especially outspoken in favor of the principle. There are good prospects that an independent ticket uniting all the elements in favor of Statement No. 1 will be nominated by convention after the primary election.

OLD FURNITURE FACTORY SITE SOLD

Abe Tichner and A. H. Mealy closed a deal this morning for the purchase of the old Oregon furniture factory property on First street, near Salmon. The consideration involved in the transaction was $47,500. The roof of the building is now occupied by the Pacific Mail Supply company.

CLACKAMAS COUNTY IS FREE FROM DEBT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oregon City, March 26.—It is a source of congratulation to the present officers of Clackamas county that the county is now, for the first time in a quarter of a century, out of debt.

ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN REAPS HEAVY RESULTS

John H. Whyte, manager of the Astoria chamber of commerce, has in the last 12 months received 15,000 letters in reply from people in all parts of the world who are considering removal to the Pacific coast. The letters were in response to an advertising campaign planned and executed by Mr. Whyte in newspapers in various countries, and especially in the eastern and middle states of America.

MANLEY RESIGNS AS ADMINISTRATOR

A. B. Manley gracefully resigned and retired without contest as administrator of the estate of Omer E. Wirt, when the case was called before Judge Webster in the county court this morning. He had been cited to appear to show cause why he should not be ousted as administrator. Mrs. Sarah A. Wirt, the widow, objecting that he had obtained his appointment by falsely representing that he was insane.

NEGRO IS BOUND OVER.

PROPOSED SITE WILL BE ACROSS RIVER FROM SWIFT PLANT.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Vancouver, Wash., March 26.—Although nothing definite has been done, Vancouver stands in a good position to secure the big packing plant of Schwartzschild & Sulzburger, the independent packing firm of Chicago. A committee of prominent Vancouver business men headed by Ira Swartz, president of the Columbia club, has waited upon Manager J. H. Helsey of the packing firm while nothing is yet given out, it is known the proposition to locate at this city was well received.

The location which the local committee has in view for the Chicago firm is along the water front near the Columbia river bridge of the north bank railway and almost opposite the proposed site of the Swift plant. It is believed to be equally as good a location as the Swift have purchased and much better than the location desired by the Chicago company. Manager Helsey, accompanied by a local committee, will visit the Vancouver site this week and a report will be made to the Chicago office.

AMENDMENTS TO ALDRICH BILL

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, D. C., March 26.—Three more amendments to the Aldrich bill passed today by the senate finance committee.

The first one provides for including bonds of the Philippine government and the city of Manila in the list of securities acceptable for emergency circulation. Another requires that banks accepting deposits of government bonds direct from the treasury must pay a tax of one per cent annually on the amount, and the third and last amends the present regulations regarding banking reserves.

TEACHER PAYS FINE FOR SPANKING BOYS

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, March 26.—Five years ago Charles E. Ziegler, a teacher in Bronx school No. 27, spanked Tommy Gallagher good and hard. They fined him three days' pay for that. "I was right," insisted Ziegler. "That boy deserved the spanking," and rather than pay the fine, after allowing George Pell, the district attorney, to sue him, he quit teaching at the school.

SEEK AMENDMENT TO FULTON RESOLUTION

(Washington Bureau of The Journal.) Washington, March 26.—A report is being circulated that there is a movement on foot to have the senate ask the house to send the Fulton resolution in the Harrison land grant case back to the senate for amendment.

WOODLAWN TRAVELERS USE VANCOUVER CARS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Vancouver, Wash., March 26.—The question that is being asked by Vancouver people and others who have frequent occasion to travel over the Vancouver-Portland line of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company is, "Why can't we use the cars of the Woodlawn Travelers?"

MISS GRAF, DEBTOR FOR 1 HUBBY, $500

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) New York, March 26.—"I taught her such music that when she played on her violin she played on a man's heartstrings as well, your honor. I worry my shoes out seeking a suitable husband for her. I could only find one if my father promised me $500, and what did I get? When they were married a mental doctor came and said that the girl was a little bit little. Now I want the balance of $350."

FUNERALS ON SKATES.

From Popular Mechanics. "Among the Wends, a remnant of the ancient Slavonic race inhabiting the Spreewald, a region enclosed by an arm of the Spree River, about 50 miles south of Berlin, are seen the most curious funeral processions of the civilized world. As in Holland the thoroughfares are frozen over, the funeral processions pass along the ice on skates. The coffin is carried on a sled, drawn by six mourners on skates. The immediate relatives of the dead, men and women alike, skate along behind the coffin, surrounded by their friends. The women carry a Bible in one hand and wear the ancient national costume."

HOW AN ANARCHIST FIRED AT KING.

This is a photo diagram of the attempted assassination of King Haakon of Norway. Standing in the road near the palace the assassin, who is believed to be insane, fired shot after shot through the windows until he was seized by the police. Neither the king nor the queen was in the palace at the time, and it is believed that he mistook an attendant for King Haakon.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR CHAUTAQUA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oregon City, March 26.—The executive committee of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua met yesterday afternoon in H. E. Cross' office and after a long session the plans for the Chautauqua park at Gladstone and also to have the ball ground plowed up and rolled.

Arrangements have been made for series of fireworks, in which some new ideas in pyrotechnic art will be exhibited for the first time.

The program is mapped out, will cost about $5,000 for its performance. The main portion of the program is already made up, and all contracts for speakers, lecturers, singers, music and other talent are completed.

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, March 26.—Late today Detective Rocca, who arrested Bignani, presented three "tamed anarchists" in police court. The men gave the names of Joseph Truetti, Angelo Nocchi and Charles Galiboni. Following the arrest of Bignani, who had declared he would never be taken alive, the three Italians drank something which did not agree with them.

With their artificial courage screwed up to the proper point, the police say, the three drank until they were in a state and upon it wrote Rocca's name. The trio then joined hands and took a solemn, if somewhat intemperate, vow to defend each other to the death. Rocca's word of the threat against his life. He pointed at three under arrest.
